Rules

Fed. R. Civ. P. 30(b)(6).....12, 20

Plaintiffs respectfully request that the Court issue an order clarifying that the administrative stay in this matter is limited to the three discovery orders that are the subject of Defendants' pending petition for mandamus. Those orders directed the production of three categories of documents Defendants withheld on the basis of the deliberative process privilege ("DPP"). In ordering their production, the District Court found that, even assuming these documents all qualified for the DPP, their relevance and Plaintiffs' corresponding need for those categories of documents overcame Defendants' general claims of a "chilling" effect on future deliberations under this Court's four-factor balancing test in FTC v. Warner Communications, 742 F.2d 1156 (9th Cir. 1984). See Pet., Dkt. 1, at Add. 1–85.

Since Defendants filed their mandamus petition and the Court issued an administrative stay, Defendants have repeatedly and improperly invoked the stay to broadly foreclose discovery and the District Court's consideration of issues well beyond those raised in Defendants' petition. For example, Defendants have invoked the administrative stay to block:

(1) Proceedings before the District Court, including in camera review of individual documents, concerning the separate, threshold question whether documents withheld by Defendants are subject to the privilege in the first place—that is, whether they are both "pre-decisional" and "deliberative." See Nat'l Wildlife Fed'n v. U.S. Forest Serv., 861 F.2d 1114, 1117 (9th Cir. 1988). Defendants' petition does not address this threshold issue. Instead, Defendants challenge the District Court's determination that any privilege has nevertheless been overcome under FTC v. Warner, supra.

(2) The District Court's in camera review of individual documents Defendants withheld on DPP grounds to determine whether the privilege has been overcome under FTC v. Warner. The orders at issue in the mandamus petition found the privilege was overcome for specific categories of documents, and Defendants' petition asks this Court to vacate those orders and "order the district court to conduct a more granular analysis." Pet. at 5, 32. In camera review on a document-by-document basis is the most "granular" review possible. It makes no sense to apply the stay to foreclose the very relief Defendants seek.

(3) The deposition testimony of government witnesses. Defendants' petition, which concerns document production, does not even address deposition discovery. Nevertheless, Defendants have taken the position that the stay forecloses, and that they will instruct their witnesses not to answer, any questions concerning the three subject areas addressed in Defendants' petition, which are central to this dispute.

In short, Defendants are misusing the administrative stay to significantly interfere with discovery and the preparation of this case for trial. The Court should therefore enter an order clarifying what should be clear from the face of the stay and the context in which it was entered: that it is limited to the three discovery “orders challenged in [Defendants’] petition.” Dkt. 3. This clarification will prevent Defendants’ misuse of a narrow and temporary order to thwart discovery and remedy the District Court’s understandable reluctance to take any action that Defendants threaten will violate this Court’s administrative stay.¹

RELEVANT BACKGROUND

For over two years, Defendants have withheld over 40,000 relevant documents on the basis of DPP, and over 25,000 of those documents solely on the grounds of DPP. Currently before the Court is Defendants’ most recent petition for mandamus challenging the District Court’s determination that Plaintiffs have overcome the privilege as to three discrete categories of documents: (i) information concerning the “Mattis Policy” and transgender issues outside the so-called “Panel of Experts” (“Panel”) formal meetings, including the various working groups that “supported” the Panel and determined what information it would—and would not—receive; (ii) communications related to the development of the post hoc and anonymous February 2018 Report, which Defendants have represented is the exclusive statement of the purported justifications for the “Mattis Policy”; and ¹ Before filing this motion, counsel for Plaintiffs informed counsel for Defendants of the relief requested in this motion and asked for Defendants’ position. Defendants’ appellate counsel responded by stating that they could not provide their position without first seeing the full motion. See App. 978–979.

(iii) information concerning the Carter Working Group, which considered the exact same governmental interests Defendants rely on here, but reached the exact opposite conclusion—that open service by transgender persons promotes, rather than harms, unit cohesion and military readiness—less than two years before.

On February 12, 2020, this Court entered an administrative order that “temporarily stayed” the three specific discovery “orders challenged in this petition.” Dkt. 3. Since then, there have been a number of significant developments in the District Court that bear directly on the need for an order clarifying the administrative stay.

In late February 2020, Plaintiffs moved to compel the production of documents withheld by Defendants as non-responsive that were part of an otherwise responsive “family group” and bore obvious indicia of responsiveness in their subject lines or file names. App. 032. Defendants opposed the motion, including on the ground that “the relevance of attachments may have to be reconsidered” depending “on the Ninth Circuit’s consideration of the mandamus petition.” App. 043. On March 4, 2020, the Court ordered the attachments produced. App. 062–067. While the Government had not previously asserted privilege as to any of these documents, when it came time to produce them, Defendants withheld a significant subset, claiming that “during the course of preparing these . . . documents for production, Defendants have discovered” they were privileged. App. 069. The Court ordered that the Government submit this subset to the Court for in camera review. App. 077–081. After a document-by-document review, the Court determined that of the 113 documents submitted in camera that were deemed relevant and not subject to other privileges, the Government erroneously withheld 96 documents as subject to the deliberative process privilege, or 85 percent of the total documents submitted. App. 164–422; see also Ex. 1, Decl. of J. Heinz. The Court determined that “the Government has been overbroad in its privilege assertions, straying far outside the bounds of the deliberative process privilege,” and explained that “[t]his blanket assertion of privilege without close analysis or articulated rationale must stop” and that “[t]he Government can and should do better.” App. 166, 168.

Plaintiffs’ subsequent review of these documents confirmed that the Court’s conclusions were, if anything, an understatement. Defendants had systematically invoked the DPP as to documents that were not even remotely or arguably privileged. This included communications about news articles covering transgender military service that lacked any conceivable policy deliberations, e.g., App. 167; talking points drafted and disseminated by the Australian and British Governments, App. 097, 154; and preparation notes for interviews and hearings designed for public consumption, e.g., App. 167.

Plaintiffs also moved for the production of third-party communications that the Government withheld pursuant to the DPP, because the privilege generally does not apply to communications with third parties. App. 002–010. Although Defendants’ pending mandamus petition has nothing to do with the application of the DPP to third-party communications, they nonetheless objected that “at least some of those communications are ... the subject of the Ninth Circuit’s administrative stay.” App. 021. The District Court granted Plaintiffs’ motion. App. 056–061. In compliance with that order, on March 14, 2020, Defendants produced 307 documents previously withheld under the DPP. When Defendants attempted to continue withholding approximately 1,500 pages of documents containing communications with two outside consultants to the Department of Defense (the RAND Corporation and Kennell & Associates), the Court ordered that these documents be produced in camera. After conducting another document-by-document review, the Court found only one document was properly withheld pursuant to the deliberative process privilege. App. 143–152. The Court ordered all other documents produced to Plaintiffs.

That Defendants objected to whether these in camera reviews occur at all (even though such “more granular” review is precisely the relief they seek in their current petition) and that their results revealed only a small portion of the documents withheld were, in fact, privileged, heightened Plaintiffs’ concern that Defendants had been broadly misapplying the privilege to documents that never should have been withheld in the first place. To further test this suspicion, Plaintiffs moved to compel Defendants to produce for in camera review 350 randomly selected documents withheld solely on the basis of DPP (a statistically significant sample of the documents withheld solely on the grounds of the DPP). App. 083–087. Once again, Defendants opposed the motion, arguing “[t]o now conduct in camera review and potentially order production of nearly the same documents would circumvent the Ninth Circuit’s stay.” App. 088; see also App. 094–096.

On May 14, 2020, the Court granted that motion, finding “significant and legitimate concerns that Defendants are improperly withholding documents where no colorable claim of privilege exists.” App. 155. The Court noted that Defendants’ conceded estimated error rate alone “would suggest that Defendants have erroneously withheld 1,300 documents.” Id. But even that figure understated the magnitude of the error, as the Court had “recently found that Defendants had erroneously asserted the privilege over hundreds of pages of documents submitted to the Court for in camera review at a much higher error rate.” Id. However, even though the Court’s review was limited to the separate, threshold question of whether the privilege even applied, the District Court allowed Defendants to identify documents they believed were “implicated by the Ninth Circuit’s stay” and “provide a replacement document for the Court’s in camera review.” App. 156.

On June 24, 2020, the District Court provided a preliminary report on its review of these documents. It found that “Defendants have inappropriately asserted the privilege over many of the submitted documents.” App. 425. As to other documents submitted, the Court noted that it was “unable to ascertain whether the privilege was appropriately asserted without additional information.” Id. To further assess Defendants’ privilege claims and “to provide guidance to Defendants on any patterns of erroneous assertions of the privilege,” the Court ordered Defendants to submit for in camera review “an additional 500 randomly selected documents that were withheld solely on the basis” of DPP. Id.

Significantly, when Defendants reviewed this batch of 500 additional documents, they concluded that 90, or approximately one in five, were so clearly not privileged that they withdrew their privilege claims and produced them to Plaintiffs. App. 432 n.1. For good reason. Many of these documents were not remotely deliberative, including purely factual Excel spreadsheets; calendar invitations without substantive information; an email from 2014—years before the relevant policies in this case—circulating an outside study; and a schedule of meetings without substantive information. Others were both non-deliberative and clearly post-decisional, such as copies of the Carter Policy and Mattis memoranda, and documents implementing existing policy.²

Moreover, in assembling the documents submitted to the Court, Defendants took the position that the stay prohibited them from including, in either the initial group of 350 documents or the additional batch of 500 documents, any documents that were responsive to the two RFPs that were the subject of their mandamus petition. See App. 088, 094–096; App. 432 n.1 (stating that, in selecting the 500 documents for review, “Defendants removed 321 documents” from the initial random sample of 500 “because they were subject to RFP Nos. 15 or 29” and submitted replacement documents). Thus, the samples reviewed by the District Court did not include any documents concerning the three critically relevant subject matters included in those RFPs, which Defendants represent in their petition “comprise nearly all the deliberative documents still withheld in this case.” Pet. at 13. This includes the documents that are likely most relevant to whether the “Mattis Policy” was prompted by, and implements, the ban on open service by transgender persons directed by the President in his August 25, 2017 Memorandum, as Plaintiffs contend, or, instead, was developed by the military completely independent and separate from the President's directives, as Defendants assert.

On July 15, 2020, the Court reported on the results of its in camera review. It noted that it had previously reviewed more than 3,500 pages of documents withheld for privilege, and that “[i]n very few instances was the Government’s assertion of the DPP sustained.” App. 684. It also noted that, in reviewing the initial batch of 500 randomly-selected documents, Defendants themselves had concluded that 90, or 18 percent of the total, were not privileged, which “does not give the Court much, if any, confidence that the Government is properly asserting the DPP privilege.” App. 687.

The Court then reported on its review of the 850 randomly selected documents. It began by noting that, for a document to be privileged, it must be both pre-decisional and deliberative, and that the “Government has asserted the DPP over many documents that do not meet this definition.” App. 685. The Court attached two lengthy schedules (one for the first batch of 350 documents and a second for the additional batch of 500 documents) that listed as to each of the documents it reviewed, the Court’s determination whether the privilege applied and a brief explanation of its decision. The Court found that 87 percent of the documents were not privileged.³ See App. 693–852, 980–1054; see also Ex. 1, Decl. of J. Heinz.

The Court noted that many of the documents “contain no deliberative process thoughts or opinions” and, instead, “fall into the ‘factual’ arena”; that “these ‘factual’ documents do not amount to ‘previews’ of the policies or otherwise reveal the deliberative thought process of the Department of Defense.” App. 690–691. More generally, and citing this Court’s prior opinion in this case, 926 F.3d 1180, 1204 (9th Cir. 2019), the Court found that Defendants had “fail[ed] to segregate portions of documents which may be partially protected by the DPP from those that are not, despite its obligation to do so, . . . instead simply tossing this responsibility to the Court.” App. 687.

Accordingly, the Court ordered the Government (1) to produce the specific documents it had determined were not privileged, and (2) to review the remainder of the documents withheld solely on grounds of DPP and produce those documents outside the applicable pre-decisional periods determined by the Court, subject to Defendants' ability to withhold and submit for in camera review documents that it nevertheless maintained were pre-decisional and privileged. App. 687–688, 692. Finally, even though the order related to an issue that is not addressed in Defendants' petition (the threshold issue whether the privilege applies, as opposed to whether it has been overcome), in response to Defendants' argument that the administrative stay nevertheless applied, the Court excepted from its order “any documents specifically subject to the pending appeal to the Ninth Circuit.” App. 683.

Defendants have also invoked the administrative stay to block deposition testimony on some of the most important subject areas in this case. On March 9, 2020, Plaintiffs served notice of nine Rule 30(b)(6) deposition topics. App. 949–951. Defendants objected that “at least six of those subjects implicate the deliberative process privilege issues currently pending before the Ninth Circuit” and “therefore Plaintiffs may not inquire into these areas nor may the DoD provide responses until or unless that stay is lifted.” App. 954. While Defendants subsequently narrowed their objection to four topics, App. 117, those topics continue to concern central issues in this case, including: the “Transgender Service Policy Working Group” supporting the Panel, the February 2018 DoD Report, and the February 22, 2018 Mattis Memorandum. On April 17, 2020, the Government advised Plaintiffs that it objected to questioning of government witnesses concerning these subject matters, and that it “expect[ed] to instruct its witness not to answer [] questions” concerning these subjects. App. 957.

Finally, on May 8, 2020, Defendants moved for a protective order limiting deposition testimony and “deferring any deposition as to Plaintiffs’ topics implicated in the Government’s pending mandamus petition until the Ninth Circuit has ruled on that petition.” App. 110. Out of “an abundance of caution,” the District Court granted Defendants’ motion, allowing them to “instruct their witnesses not to answer where Defendants believe the response is implicated by the Ninth Circuit’s stay.” App. 162.

ARGUMENT

Defendants are misusing this Court’s administrative stay, which was entered without briefing and has now been in effect for more than five months, to broadly foreclose unrelated and critically important discovery in the District Court. That, coupled with Defendants’ insistence that “if Plaintiffs believe the Ninth Circuit’s stay would permit [in camera, document-by-document] review and potential disclosures, the proper recourse is to ask the Ninth Circuit for relief,” App. 096, requires that Plaintiffs seek this Court’s clarification of its prior stay order. The need for such relief was recently heightened by this Court’s notice setting this matter for oral argument on October 14, 2020. Dkt. 21. This means that absent relief, the current stay—and Defendants’ misuse of that stay—may continue for at least another three months, in addition to the period between argument and disposition. Accordingly, Plaintiffs request that the Court promptly enter an order clarifying that the administrative stay applies only to “[t]he district court’s December 18, 2019, February 3, 2020, and February 7, 2020 orders challenged in [Defendants’] petition.” Dkt. 3. Such an order is necessary to make clear that the stay does not apply to other discovery, such as the discovery discussed below, which is not subject to the pending mandamus petition.

I. The Stay Should Not Prevent the District Court from Addressing the Separate Question Whether the Privilege Applies.

Defendants’ petition assumes that the DPP applies to the documents that were ordered produced in the three discovery orders it challenges, and focuses on the separate question whether the privilege has been overcome under the Warner balancing test. See generally Pet.; see also id. at 5 (requesting an “order that plaintiffs are not entitled to any further deliberative documents from the two requests for production (RFPs) at issue in these orders—RFP 29 and RFP 15—given plaintiffs’ inadequate showing of need under the proper standard for overcoming the deliberative process privilege”) (emphasis added); id. at 31–32 (same). As described above, since Defendants’ petition was briefed, the District Court has conducted proceedings, including in camera reviews of individual documents, with respect to the separate, threshold issue of whether the privilege applies. Those reviews revealed that Defendants have massively over-applied the DPP to documents that are clearly not privileged. That includes documents the Government now admits are not privileged, even though Defendants “vigorously defended [those documents] as privileged for nearly three years,” including in “two petitions for writs of mandamus to the Ninth Circuit.” App. 854 n.1.

Defendants’ petition does not provide any basis for staying such in camera reviews on this entirely separate issue. To date, however, Defendants have insisted that these reviews and proceedings must exclude any documents responsive to the two requests (RFP Nos. 15 and 29) that are the subject of Defendants’ petition, which Defendants concede “comprise nearly all of the deliberative documents still withheld in this case.” Pet. at 13; App. 088 (same); see also App. 432 n.1 (removing documents from initial 500-document random sample “because they were subject to RFP Nos. 15 or 29”). And, out of an abundance of caution, the District Court has acceded to their demand. App. 156 (allowing Defendants to withhold from in camera review “documents responsive to RFP Nos. 15 and 29”). Accordingly, both the initial set of 350 documents and the additional set of 500 documents recently reviewed by the District Court in camera excluded any documents responsive to these requests, even though they concern subject matters that go to the heart of this dispute. The same is true as to the District Court’s order that Defendants promptly review the rest of the documents they have withheld solely on grounds of DPP and produce those documents that are outside the pre-decisional periods determined by the Court (subject to Defendants’ ability to withhold and submit for in camera review individual documents they contend are nevertheless privileged). That order excludes “any documents specifically subject to the pending appeal to the Ninth Circuit.” App. 683.

There is no legal or logical basis for this exclusion and these limitations. If the District Court finds the privilege does not apply in the first place for a specific document, it by definition falls outside the application of the Warner balancing test that is the subject of Defendants’ petition. The clarifying order requested by Plaintiffs will make this clear.

II. The Stay Should Not Prevent the District Court from Performing the “More Granular” Review That Defendants Seek.

The stay should also not prevent the District Court from performing a document-by-document review to determine whether the privilege has been overcome applying the Warner balancing test. Indeed, a more “granular” review is the very relief Defendants seek in their petition. It strains credulity for Defendants to argue the administrative stay should prevent the very type of relief they seek in their petition. See, e.g., App. 088 (Defendants arguing that “[t]o now conduct in camera review and potentially order production of nearly the same documents would circumvent the Ninth Circuit’s stay”).

In its June 14, 2019 decision with respect to Defendants’ first petition for mandamus, this Court found that two of Warner’s four factors “favor Plaintiffs,” and remanded to the District Court for further consideration of the remaining two factors. Karnoski, 926 F.3d at 1206. The Court noted that, “[a]lthough we do not mandate any particular course of action,” “[t]he district court appears to have conducted a single deliberative process privilege analysis covering all withheld documents, rather than considering whether the analysis should apply differently to certain categories.” Id. Accordingly, “[i]f Defendants persuasively argue that a more granular analysis would be proper, the district court should undertake it.” Id.

On remand, the District Court did exactly that. Without requiring any showing from Defendants, it instituted a process whereby it analyzed the relevance and need for, and chilling effect from production of, documents responsive to individual discovery requests, on a request-by-request basis, organized by priority, after extensive briefing and lengthy in-person hearings. See Pls.’ Answer, Dkt. 10, at 14–16. Nevertheless, on February 11, 2020, in the middle of this process, Defendants filed a second petition for mandamus challenging the District Court’s orders that the privilege had been overcome as to three categories of documents responsive to two of Plaintiffs’ document requests. Defendants complained that the District Court’s analysis was still not “granular” enough and asked this Court to “vacate the district court’s orders and order the district court to conduct a more granular analysis” still. Pet. at 5, 32.

As discussed above, to date, the District Court's subsequent orders and in camera review have been limited to the separate and threshold question whether the privilege applies. However, Plaintiffs have requested, and the Court's July 15, 2020 order contemplates, future proceedings and in camera review of documents determined to be privileged to determine whether the privilege has been overcome, applying the Warner balancing test. See App. 683. Plaintiffs' requested clarification is necessary to make clear that the administrative stay does not foreclose such further proceedings, including the District Court's in camera review of individual documents withheld on grounds of privilege that are the subject of Defendants' pending petition, to determine, on a document-by-document basis, whether the privilege is overcome pursuant to the Warner balancing test.

Such in camera, document-by-document review is extremely burdensome and time-consuming, particularly when applied to the large volume of documents withheld here. Accordingly, the District Court's willingness to date to conduct such reviews as to some of the individual documents that it determines to be privileged does not moot the need for a decision by this Court denying Defendants' petition challenging the District Court's orders that the privilege has been overcome as to particular categories of documents. But in the meantime, the current stay should not prevent the District Court from performing the still "more granular" review Defendants seek. Indeed, such a document-by-document review is the most “granular” review possible. It also will allow the District Court to test the accuracy of Defendants’ unsupported assertions as to the nature of these and other documents withheld. Such review is also likely to better inform the District Court’s evaluation of Defendants’ privilege claims as to other documents in that class or category.

III. The Stay Should Not Foreclose Deposition Testimony Concerning the Subject Matters Addressed in Defendants’ Petition.

Both the Government’s petition and the administrative stay relate only to the District Court’s orders that Plaintiffs overcame the deliberative process privilege for, and the Government must produce, documents responsive to two of Plaintiffs’ document requests. They do not seek or purport to halt any other discovery. See Pet. at 5 (requesting an “order that plaintiffs are not entitled to any further deliberative documents from the two requests for production (RFPs) at issue in these orders—RFP 29 and RFP 15”) (emphasis added); see also id. at 31–32 (same). Nevertheless, Defendants have taken the position that the administrative stay applies to any questioning concerning the three subject matters that these documents address, which they will instruct witnesses not to answer. App. 123–125. Since these subject matters go to the heart of this dispute, see Pls.’ Answer, at 25–37, Defendants’ invocation of the stay has significantly limited Plaintiffs’ ability to take depositions other than those of a handful of less important or Rule 30(b)(6) depositions as to which these subject matters are not relevant or less important.

Defendants’ petition provides no legal or logical basis for foreclosing any questioning on these critically important subjects. At most, the claims of privilege that underlie Defendants’ petition might provide the basis for a specific privilege objection during a deposition to a particular question that reasonably calls for the disclosure of deliberations concerning a specific, identifiable decision to which the Government claims the privilege applies. But any such objection would arise from the law concerning privilege and not this Court’s stay.

Plaintiffs’ requested clarification is necessary to allow the depositions described above to proceed. It will make clear that the administrative stay does not foreclose or limit Plaintiffs’ questioning of witnesses at depositions. Nor does the stay provide a basis for counsel to instruct the witness not to answer questions, including concerning the subject matters addressed in Defendants’ petition.

CONCLUSION

For all of the foregoing reasons, Plaintiffs respectfully request that the Court enter an order clarifying that the administrative stay entered on February 12, 2020 is limited to the three “orders challenged in [Defendants’] petition,” Dkt. 3, and thereby make clear that the stay does not foreclose other discovery and discovery-related proceedings, including those described above.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON, Respondent,

RYAN KARNOSKI, et al.,
Real Parties in Interest-Plaintiffs,

STATE OF WASHINGTON,
Real Party in Interest-Plaintiff-Intervenor.

DECLARATION OF JORDAN M. HEINZ IN SUPPORT OF REAL PARTIES IN INTEREST-PLAINTIFFS' MOTION TO CLARIFY THIS COURT'S ADMINISTRATIVE STAY

I, Jordan M. Heinz, swear under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States to the following:

1. I am counsel of record for Plaintiffs in this action, am over the age of 18, and am competent to be a witness. I make this declaration in support of Real Parties in Interest-Plaintiffs' Motion to Clarify this Court's Administrative Stay ("Motion") based on facts within my personal knowledge.

2. The email chain at App. 978–979 of the Appendix to Plaintiffs' Motion is a true and correct copy of my communications with Defendants' counsel regarding the relief requested in this Motion.

3. On May 29, 2020, the District Court for the Western District of Washington reported on its review of the documents that Defendants had initially withheld as non-responsive, but that Defendants subsequently claimed were privileged and submitted for in camera review after the Court ordered them produced. The District Court attached a spreadsheet that identified on a document-by-document basis whether the privilege applied. App. 170–422. The Court indicated that documents were not privileged by noting an "N" in the column labeled "Priv. Y/N." Plaintiffs have counted the number of "N" designations and determined that the Court found that 96 of the 113 documents submitted by Defendants for this review were not privileged.

4. On July 15, 2020, the District Court reported on its initial review of 850 documents randomly selected from the over 25,000 documents that Defendants are withholding solely on the basis of the deliberative process privilege. App. 682–692.

5. The District Court attached two lengthy schedules describing each of the 850 documents reviewed and listing, on a document-by-document basis, the Court’s determination whether the privilege applied. The District Court reviewed these 850 documents in two batches: as a set of 500 documents, and as a set of 350 documents. Documents designated with “N” in the column labeled “Priv. Y/N” were found to be not privileged. App. 693–765; App. 766–852.

6. Regarding the 350 documents that the District Court reviewed, Plaintiffs have determined that 329 of them included an “N” designation for not privileged. On July 21, 2020, the District Court issued an Amended Order that revised the number of non-privileged documents to 321 of 350 documents—or 91.7%. App. 980–1054.

7. Regarding the initial sampling of 500 documents that the District Court reviewed, 417 of them (or 83.4%) included an “N” designation for not privileged. App. 766–852. However, this review did not include certain documents in the batch of 500 because Defendants omitted their Bates numbers.

8. On July 28, 2020, the District Court finished its review of the sample of 500 documents after Defendants provided the missing Bates numbers. App. 857–858. The Court again attached a spreadsheet identifying on a document-by-document basis the Court’s determination whether the privilege applied. App. 859–945. Of the 500 documents, 430 of them (or 86%) included an “N” designation for not privileged. See id.

9. In total, the District Court determined that 751 of the 850 reviewed documents—or 88.35%—were not privileged.

10. The below chart summarizes Plaintiffs’ calculations of the District Court’s privilege determinations.

Total Claimed DPP	Number of “N” Findings	Percentage
113 (Dkt. 522)	96	84.96%
350 (Dkt. 545)	329	94%
500 (Dkt. 545)	417	83.4%
350 (Dkt. 549)	321	91.7%
500 (Dkt. 551)	430	86%

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
AT SEATTLE

RYAN KARNOSKI, et al.,

Plaintiffs, and

STATE OF WASHINGTON,

Plaintiff-Intervenor,

v.

DONALD J. TRUMP, in his official capacity as President of the United States, et al.,

Defendants.

Case No. 2:17-cv-01297-MJP

LCR 37 JOINT SUBMISSION
REGARDING THE GOVERNMENT'S WITHHELD COMMUNICATIONS WITH THIRD PARTIES

NOTE ON MOTION CALENDAR:
February 27, 2020

PLAINTIFFS' STATEMENT

Plaintiffs are the moving party for this submission. Pursuant to Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 26, 34, and 37, and Local Rule 37, Plaintiffs request an order compelling Mark Esper, in his official capacity as Secretary of Defense, and the United States Department of Defense (“DoD”) (together, “the Government”) to produce third-party communications that the Government is improperly withholding pursuant to certain privileges. The parties have met and conferred telephonically numerous times over the past four-and-a-half months in good faith to resolve this dispute, but the Government continues to use shell game delay tactics, and accordingly, Plaintiffs request the Court’s intervention.

The Government—despite its obligation under the Federal Rules to describe withheld communications with sufficient particularity to enable Plaintiffs to assess the Government’s privilege claims—refuses to produce communications with third parties that have been withheld wrongfully under claims of Attorney-Client Privilege and Deliberative Process Privilege (“DPP”). The Government itself has conceded in other court filings related to this litigation that DPP does not apply to communications with third parties. As such, Plaintiffs ask the Court to order Defendants to review the list of potential third parties provided by Plaintiffs in their December 13, 2019 letter (see, e.g., February 27, 2020 Declaration of Vanessa Barsanti (“Barsanti Decl.”)) ¶ 2, Ex. 1.), and by March 13, 2020 (1) produce all communications with individuals who are confirmed to be third parties, or, in the alternative, should the Court adopt the consultant corollary theory, (a) require the Government to amend its privilege logs and serve a declaration attesting to the elements of the consultant corollary doctrine with respect to each third party for whom it continues to withhold communications, and (b) produce communications with all other third parties; (2) for individuals confirmed to be government employees, amend its privilege log entries to identify the employer and job title for each individual as of the date of the communication.

FACTUAL AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

Plaintiffs offer the below brief history of the parties’ dispute over third-party communications in order to provide the Court a full understanding of how the parties reached

1 their current posture. In the spring of 2018, after the Government had objected to producing 2 documents in response to each and every one of Plaintiffs' then-issued RFPs on the basis of 3 DPP, Plaintiffs began serving third parties with Rule 45 subpoenas directly. On May 3, 2018, 4 Plaintiffs issued a subpoena to third party Center for Military Readiness ("CMR") and were 5 subsequently forced to move to compel production of these documents on July 3, 2018 in the 6 U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan.¹ See Karnoski, et al. v. Trump, et al.,
7 Case No. 2:18-mc-51013 (E.D. Mich.) ("CMR Dkt."). The Government subsequently intervened
8 in the subpoena enforcement action in an attempt to shield production. The Government
9 primarily argued that its communications with CMR were irrelevant, despite substantial
10 similarities between CMR's July 2017 report titled "The President, Defense Department &
11 Military Services Should Revoke Problematic Transgender Policy Directives and Instructions"
12 and Secretary of Defense James Mattis' September 2017 memorandum to the Deputy Secretary
13 of Defense and the Vice Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff (see CMR Dkt. No. 45, at 8–9), 14 and argued only in a passing footnote that its communications with CMR could be "potentially 15 subject to privilege." (CMR Dkt. No. 29, at 9 n.2 (emphasis added).) Indeed, the Government 16 conceded that "as a general matter revealing privileged information to non-governmental third-17 parties can waive the deliberative process privilege" (Id.) Plaintiffs argued that the 18 Government waived DPP by communicating with third parties. (See CMR Dkt. No. 31, at 4–7.)

19 On November 6, 2018, Magistrate Judge Stafford agreed with Plaintiffs, holding that 20 "[s]ince CMR is a private organization, documents reflecting communication between it and the 21 government do not enjoy an executive or deliberative process privilege."² (CMR Dkt. No. 34, at 22 28–29 (citing In re Sealed Case, 121 F.3d 729, 741–42 (D.C. Cir. 1997); UnitedHealthcare Ins.
23 Co. v. Azar, 316 F. Supp. 3d 339, 349 (D.D.C. 2018); In re Grand Jury Proceedings Oct. 12,

26 ¹ CMR is a lobbying organization whose public materials and statements contain numerous examples of hostility 27 towards LGBT people. (See e.g., CMR Dkt. No. 1, at 3, 6; CMR Dkt. No. 31, at 15.) Subsequent discovery has 28 determined that CMR communicated with and distributed its policy suggestions regarding excluding transgender service members directly to members of the Trump Campaign, the Office of the President and Vice President, and high level officials and other employees at the DoD. (Barsanti Decl. ¶ 3, Ex. 2, CMR-0000176.)

² The court also found that "[t]he government asserted at the hearing that this privilege applies to its communication with anyone from whom it sought advice. The controlling precedent states otherwise." (CMR Dkt. No. 34, at 29.)

1 1995, 78 F.3d 251, 254 (6th Cir. 1996)).) On September 28, 2019, District Judge Edmunds
2 affirmed the order, explaining that “[t]he Court . . . reviewed the Ninth Circuit’s opinion and 3 agrees with Plaintiffs that the Magistrate Judge correctly concluded the deliberative process
4 privilege does not apply here.” (CMR Dkt. No. 62, at 18.) Neither CMR nor the Government
5 appealed this decision.

6 On August 22, 2018, Plaintiffs served a subpoena on Dr. Paul McHugh, a Professor of 7 Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences at Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine.³ On 8 October 3, 2018, Plaintiffs moved to compel the production of documents responsive to the 9 subpoena in the U.S. District Court for the District of Maryland. See Karnoski, et al. v. Trump, et
10 al., Case No. 1:19-mc-00674 (D. Md.) (“McHugh Dkt.”). On July 10, 2019, the Government
11 stated that it would consider “waiv[ing]” (and later did waive) its DPP objection with respect to 12 communications with McHugh. (Barsanti Decl. ¶ 4, Ex. 3.) On or around August 6, 2019, 13 Plaintiffs received communications between the Government and McHugh that were previously 14 withheld under DPP. These documents revealed that William Bushman of the Office of the 15 Undersecretary of Defense consulted with McHugh regarding the Ban in February 2018—after 16 the so-called “Panel of Experts” (the “Panel”) had finished deliberating—and sought additional 17 written sources of information regarding transgender healthcare⁴ and additional witnesses with 18 whom to speak regarding transgender military service. (See id. ¶ 6, Ex. 5.) At least some of the 19 articles provided by McHugh were cited in Secretary Mattis’ February 23, 2018 Memorandum 20 and the accompanying DoD Report and Recommendations, even though Dr. McHugh never 21 presented or provided information to the Panel. Dr. McHugh recommended that Bushman also 22 speak with Drs. Thomas Wise and Chester Schmidt. (See id.)

23 On August 23, 2019, Plaintiffs sent a letter to the Government requesting that the

27 3 McHugh is a well-known critic of lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender issues, and whose views on medical 28 treatment of transgender people have been widely discredited by the medical community, including his own co-workers. (See McHugh Dkt. No. 3, at 5–6.)

⁴ Indeed, one of the articles McHugh forwarded Bushman was from 1995 and titled “Witches, multiple personalities, and other psychiatric artifacts.” (Barsanti Decl. ¶ 5, Ex. 4.)

Schmidt. (Id. ¶ 7, Ex. 6.) On September 13, 2019, the Government responded that it would waive its DPP arguments and produce the withheld communications. (Id. ¶ 8, Ex. 7.)

One of these documents produced by the Government contained a January 29, 2018 exchange between retired Lieutenant General Greg Newbold and Secretary James Mattis.

[REDACTED]
(Id. ¶ 9, Ex. 8.) [REDACTED]

(id.)⁶ On September 20, 2019, Plaintiffs requested that the Government produce all communications with Greg Newbold and Woody Woodruff, as those communications could not be properly withheld under DPP as they involve third parties. (Id. ¶ 11, Ex. 10.) After almost a month of delay, on October 18, 2019, the Government agreed to “waive” its DPP arguments and later produced these communications. (Id. ¶ 12, Ex. 11.)

After discovering that the Government had improperly withheld many communications with third parties subject to claims of DPP and learning how critical these wrongfully withheld documents were to Plaintiffs’ claims, Plaintiffs requested that the Government produce all communications with third parties still being withheld on the basis of privilege. On October 7, 2019, Plaintiffs sent a letter to the Government explaining that their communications with third parties were not subject to DPP, and that the Government’s privilege logs failed to provide enough information for Plaintiffs to ascertain whether the individuals listed on the logs were third parties. (Id. ¶ 13, Ex. 12.) Plaintiffs attached to this letter a list of names for whom, based on the Government’s privilege logs, insufficient information was provided for Plaintiffs to assess whether the Government had waived applicable privileges by communicating with third parties. The names identified by Plaintiffs either: (1) did not contain an email address or job title on the privilege log, thus making it impossible for Plaintiffs to determine if an individual was a third

⁶ Defendants’ communications with Woodruff indicate that [REDACTED]

(Id. ¶ 10, Ex. 9, USDOE00285187.)

1 party; or (2) were associated with third-party email addresses, indicating that the communication
2 was sent outside of the DoD and federal government.⁷ (Id. at Ex. A to the letter.) Plaintiffs’ list
3 contained approximately 825 names of potential third parties, demonstrating the scope of the 4 Government’s inadequate log entries.

5 Three weeks later, during an extensive meet and confer on October 29, 2019 regarding this
6 and other discovery issues, the Government agreed to review Plaintiffs’ list of potential third 7 parties and provide additional information regarding who was a third party. (Id. ¶ 14, Ex. 13.) On 8 November 4, the Government responded and reversed course. According to the Government, 9 because a handful of the 825 names were government employees, “Defendants need not 10 undertake a burdensome review of the hundreds of entries in Exhibit A where Plaintiffs appear 11 not to have . . . determine[d] whether the individuals they have supposed are third parties are, in 12 fact, employees or officials of the Department of Defense or Military Services.” (Id.) In addition,
13 the Government refused to produce the communications containing the hundreds of remaining
14 third-party names that were not and were never government employees. (Id.)

15 Despite it being the Government’s burden to sufficiently identify the recipients of its 16 communications on its privilege logs, Plaintiffs attempted to re-review the list of compiled 17 names to eliminate those that Plaintiffs could determine were government employees. Plaintiffs 18 spent many hours comparing individual names from interrogatory and other discovery responses
19 to the names in their letter, ultimately reducing the list from 825 to 487 names. On December 13, 20 2019, Plaintiffs sent another letter to the Government reiterating that while the burden remains 21 on the Government to adequately describe their privilege bases to shield against production, 22 Plaintiffs significantly narrowed its list of potential third parties and requested that the 23 Government produce all wrongfully withheld third-party communications. (Id. ¶ 2, Ex. 1.)

24 On December 19, 2019, the Government stated that it would review the list of names in 25 Plaintiffs’ December 13 letter and provide “additional identifying information” by January 17, 26 2020. (Id. ¶ 15, Ex. 14.) On January 17, 2020, more than three months after Plaintiffs’ first letter

28 ⁷ Many of these privilege log entries contained email address domains belonging to private universities, hospitals, and corporations, and also included popular public email domains such as gmail.com, hotmail.com, and yahoo.com.

1 and one month after Plaintiffs' second letter, the Government once again reversed course and 2 refused to provide additional information as promised. (Id. ¶ 16, Ex. 15.) Although the 3 Government's letter made apparent that it did in fact review Plaintiffs' narrowed list, rather than 4 agree to produce withheld documents from custodians who were clearly third parties or agree to 5 further refine the list by excluding government employees, the Government refused to update its 6 privilege logs or produce improperly withheld documents.⁸ (Id.) Instead, the Government again
7 attempted to shift the burden of providing sufficient privilege bases to Plaintiffs by bizarrely
8 arguing that Plaintiffs have not provided an adequate list of third parties. And, although the 9 Government previously agreed to produce wrongfully withheld communications with Paul 10 McHugh, Thomas Wise, Chester Schmidt, Greg Newbold, and Woody Woodruff by name, and 11 in this letter agreed to produce communications with eight other individuals mentioned by name, 12 the Government stated that it could not produce additional communications without reference to 13 specific privilege log entries. (Id.)

14 After four months of string-a-long delay tactics, Plaintiffs now respectfully ask the Court
15 to compel the Government to review the list of potential third parties provided by Plaintiffs in 16 their December 13, 2019 letter (Barsanti Decl. ¶ 2, Ex. 1 at Ex. A.) and by March 13, 2020 (1) 17 provide information indicating whether each person is a third party or a government employee;
18 (2) produce all communications with individuals who are confirmed to be third parties, or, in the 19 alternative, should the Court adopt the consultant corollary theory, (a) require the Government to 20 amend its privilege logs and serve a declaration attesting to the elements of the consultant 21 corollary doctrine with respect to each third party for whom it continues to withhold 22 communications, and (b) produce communications with all other third parties; and (3) for 23 individuals confirmed to be government employees, amend its privilege log entries to identify 24 the employer and job title for each individual as of the date of the communication.

27 ⁸ Defendants agreed to produce communications for eight of the hundreds of names listed on Exhibit A to Plaintiffs' 28 December 13, 2019 letter. Defendants did not explain why documents for these eight individuals, but no others, would be produced. The Government produced these communications on February 21, 2019. Two of these communications are attached to the Barsanti Decl. ¶¶ 17-18, Exs. 16 & 17.

LEGAL STANDARD

“The party who resists discovery has the burden to show that discovery should not be allowed, and has the burden of clarifying, explaining, and supporting its objections.” Brown v. Warner, No. C09-1546RSM, 2015 WL 630926, at *1 (W.D. Wash. Feb. 12, 2015) (citation omitted). Under Rule 26, a party who withholds discoverable information due to privilege has the burden to “expressly make the claim; and describe the nature of the documents, communications, or tangible things not produced or disclosed—and do so in a manner that, without revealing information itself privileged or protected, will enable other parties to assess the claim.” FED. R. CIV. P. 26(b)(5)(A)(i–ii)); see also Weil v. Inv./Indicators, Research & Mgmt., Inc., 647 F.2d 18, 25 (9th Cir. 1981) (“As with all evidentiary privileges, the burden of proving that the attorney-client privilege applies rests not with the party contesting the privilege, but with the party asserting it.”); Greenpeace v. Nat’l Marine Fisheries Serv., 198 F.R.D. 540, 543, 545 (W.D. Wash. 2000) (“The initial burden of establishing . . . the [deliberative process] privilege is on the government.”).

The Government has previously conceded in court filings related to this litigation that “as a general matter revealing privileged information to non-governmental third-parties can waive the deliberative process privilege, see In re Sealed Case, 121 F.3d 729, 741–42 (D.C. Cir. 1997); UnitedHealthcare Ins. Co. v. Azar, 316 F. Supp. 3d 339, 349 (D.D.C. 2018)” (CMR Dkt. No. 29, at 9 n.2.) Indeed this is true, as attorney work product, attorney-client privilege, and DPP do not apply to communications with third parties. See Hernandez v. Tanninen, 604 F.3d 1095, 1100 (9th Cir. 2010) (noting that disclosure of attorney client and attorney work product information to third parties results in waiver); *Friends of the Earth v. [d]isclosure may also be required . . . if the government agency waives its right to the exemption by voluntarily sharing the document with third parties.”) (citing Mobil Oil Corp. v. U.S. EPA, 879 F.2d 698, 700–01 (9th Cir. 1989)); Lucaj v. FBI, 852 F.3d 541, 548 (6th Cir. 2017) (noting the Supreme Court

4 judge “correctly concluded the deliberative process privilege does not apply” to the 5 communications with third party Center for Military Readiness); see also In re Subpoena of Ctr.

8 communication between it and the government do not enjoy an executive or deliberative process
9 privilege.”).

10 ARGUMENT

11 The Government’s deficient privilege logs fail to establish that communications with third 12 parties are appropriately covered by privilege. Plaintiffs created a list of potential third parties 13 and provided that list to the Government—twice. This list was created by identifying names in 14 Government privilege logs entries that either: (1) did not contain an email address or job title on 15 the privilege log, thus making it impossible for Plaintiffs to determine if an individual was a third
16 party; or (2) were associated with third-party email addresses, indicating that the communication
17 was sent outside of the DoD and federal government. Because communications with third parties 18 are not privileged, the Government should be compelled to review this list of individuals and 19 produce its communications with those confirmed to be third parties and amend its privilege log 20 information for those confirmed to be government employees.

21 A. The Government’s privilege log entries that do not readily identify a custodian as a 22 government employee do not establish that all recipients of the communications were 23 properly covered by privilege.

24 Because communications with third parties are not privileged, the burden is on the 25 Government to demonstrate that it was not communicating privileged information to third 26 parties. Numerous of the Government’s privilege log entries contain names without an email 27 address, employment information, or any other information that would establish the recipient of 28 the communication as a government employee. Therefore, these entries either do or may contain third parties and the Government has failed to meet its burden of establishing that the withheld communications are privileged. See Bess v. Cate, No. 2:07-cv-1989, 2008 WL 5100203, at *2 (E.D. Cal. Nov. 26, 2008) (holding that failure to serve an adequate privilege log waives privilege) (citing Burlington N. & Santa Fe Ry. Co. v. Kapsner, 408 F.3d 1142, 1149 (9th Cir. 2005)).

The names without sufficient information are included in Exhibit A to Plaintiffs' December 13, 2019 letter without highlight. (Barsanti Decl. ¶ 2, Ex. 1 at Ex. A). These names are associated with privilege log entries that do not provide email addresses, employment information, or other information to establish that the custodian is a government employee. As such, the Government has not satisfied its burden of demonstrating that these individuals are not third parties. The Government should be ordered to either produce these documents if the communication involves third parties, or supplement its privilege logs to identify the individual's employer and job title as of the date of the communication. Bess, 2008 WL 5100203, at *5 ("Because defendants failed to provide a privilege log, lodged blanket and dilatory objections, and unreasonably delayed discovery, this court finds they have waived any such privilege.") (citing Ritacca v. Abbott Labs., 203 F.R.D. 332, 336 (N.D. Ill. 2001) (finding the defendant's five-month delay in providing adequate privilege logs "a clear case of foot-dragging; and [defendants'] cavalier attitude towards discovery, an attitude we sharply discourage, warrants a finding of waiver.")).

B. Privilege log entries that clearly contain third-party names or email addresses are not privileged and must be produced.

With respect to privilege log entries that contain third-party email domains, the face of the Government's privilege logs alone evidence that the Government was communicating with a third party. The entries excerpted from the Government's privilege logs that contain third-party email domain names—such as @gmail.com, @deloitte.com, @aol.com, @univplastics.com, @nycbar.com, and @NMMI.edu, among others—are those that were highlighted in Plaintiffs' Exhibit A. (Barsanti Decl. ¶ 2, Ex. 1 at Ex. A). These domain names demonstrate that the communications are with third parties, are not privileged, and must be produced.

DEFENDANTS' STATEMENT

After months of refusing to take basic steps to narrow this dispute, Plaintiffs now file an unnecessary and legally untenable motion for production of all of DoD's communications with third parties, despite clear case law demonstrating that such communications can be privileged. As with their prior discovery motions, rather than focus on particular documents or privilege log entries, Plaintiffs ask this Court to order blanket disclosure of privileged material without any particularized or granular analysis.

And they do so with arguments that are entirely threadbare. Plaintiffs assert that Defendants have "conceded" that their communications with third parties are not privileged. But Defendants have made no such concession. To the contrary, Defendants have repeatedly and consistently maintained in this and the related litigation that their confidential communications with non-government third parties are privileged, pursuant to the "consultant corollary" doctrine. That doctrine—which is regularly applied by courts in this circuit—provides that when the Government solicits third parties to aid in its decision making process, its communications with those third parties are privileged. See, e.g., All. for the Wild Rockies v. Pena, 2017 WL 8778579, at *4–5 (E.D. Wash. Dec. 12, 2017). Plaintiffs assert Defendants have "conceded" something different only by cherry-picking a single clause of a single sentence from a single brief, reading it wholly out of context, and ignoring the very next clause of the very same sentence.

In other words, when subjected to only the lightest scrutiny, Plaintiffs' sole argument that DoD must produce its third-party communications collapses. Plaintiffs do not offer any other explanation for why the consultant corollary would not apply in this case to protect DoD's communications with third parties. Nor do they explain how production of all third-party communications could be proper when at least some of those communications are responsive to RFP Nos. 15 or 29, and thus at issue in Defendants' mandamus petition and the subject of the Ninth Circuit's administrative stay.

Finally, Plaintiffs assert that Defendants have improperly refused to review lists of hundreds of names and/or email addresses and provide Plaintiffs with more information about which individuals are third parties. But that also is incorrect. What Plaintiffs leave out is that the lists they have provided reflect no serious effort to narrow the dispute, given that they contain numerous individuals who obviously are government officials, such as the current Secretary of Defense and one of the currently serving Plaintiffs herself. While Defendants bear the burden of justifying any claim of privilege, they are not required to spend hours providing information that Plaintiffs already know or can easily determine. Nevertheless, in the interest of expediting resolution of this dispute, and to avoid the need for any further extensions of the discovery schedule, Defendants agree to complete their review of Plaintiffs' most recent list of purported third parties, and to provide Plaintiffs with additional information by March 13, 2020.

Accordingly, there is only one live question before the Court: whether, for those individuals whom Defendants ultimately identify as third parties, all communications between them and DoD must be produced. For the reasons set forth herein, the answer plainly is no. Plaintiffs' motion should be denied.⁹

A. Prior Disputes Unrelated To The Instant Motion

Plaintiffs' statement discusses several prior disputes between the parties that largely have already been resolved and for which Plaintiffs do not seek relief in this motion. Nevertheless, in their discussion of these prior disputes, Plaintiffs mischaracterize Defendants' positions and the relevance of the materials Defendants produced. Below, Defendants correct the record.

1. The CMR Subpoena

Since May 2018, Plaintiffs have served at least a dozen Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 45 subpoenas on individuals and organizations not party to this case, seeking essentially any communications those individuals and organizations may have had with the Government related to transgender individuals and policies regarding transgender individuals.

⁹ Local Civil Rule 37(a)(2) provides that the parties may "by agreement" decide to resolve discovery disputes through an expedited joint motion procedure. Plaintiffs requested that Defendants agree to utilize this expedited procedure, but given the importance of this case in challenging a national military policy and Defendants' desire to build a fully developed record, Defendants declined to consent to those procedures. Nevertheless, without obtaining Defendants' consent, the Court, on February 3, 2020, issued an oral ruling that the parties must utilize the L.C.R. 37(a)(2) joint motion procedures for all future discovery motions in this case. See Hr'g Tr. (Feb. 3, 2020) at 68:9–19. Defendants respectfully object to the Court's ruling, but will of course adhere to it, as they do here.

1 In July of 2018, Plaintiffs moved in the Eastern District of Michigan to compel compliance
2 with a Rule 45 subpoena served on the Center for Military Readiness (“CMR”), a non-profit
3 organization. (CMR Dkt. No. 1.) Defendants participated in the subpoena enforcement action, 4 repeatedly arguing, among other things, that any communications between CMR and the 5 Government were potentially subject to government privileges under the consultant corollary
6 doctrine. (See CMR Dkt. No. 29 at 9 n.2; CMR Dkt. No. 37 at 13–14; CMR Dkt. No. 47 at 8– 7 10.)

8 Notwithstanding Defendants’ consistent position, Plaintiffs state that Defendants have 9 “conceded” that “DPP does not apply to communications with third parties.” Supra, p. 1. That 10 assertion is flatly incorrect. Plaintiffs point to Defendants’ statement in the CMR litigation that 11 “as a general matter revealing privileged information to non-governmental third-parties can 12 waive the deliberative process privilege.” Supra, p. 2 (quoting CMR Dkt. No. 29 at 9 n.2). But 13 Plaintiffs omit the very next clause of the very sentence they quote, where Defendants state that, 14 nevertheless, “under the consultant corollary the privilege itself extends to communications with 15 non-governmental entities where the entity aids the agency’s decision-making process, . . .”
16 CMR Dkt. 29 at 9 n.2 (citations omitted). Only by isolating a single clause from a single 17 sentence and reading it out of context do Plaintiffs conclude that Defendants somehow concede
18 “DPP does not apply to communications with third parties.” Supra, p. 1. Quite the opposite, 19 Defendants have consistently (and correctly) maintained in this and the related cases that their 20 communications with third parties can be protected by privilege. (See, e.g., CMR Dkt. No. 37 at 21 13 (“It is true that, as a general matter, when the Government voluntarily discloses privileged 22 information to non-governmental third parties, such disclosure can result in waiving privilege.
23 But that general rule yields to specific exceptions. For example, under the ‘consultant corollary’
24 doctrine, Government privileges like the presidential communications privilege extend to 25 communications with non-governmental third parties when such communications ‘aid the 26 agency’s decision-making process.’”) (citations omitted).) Plaintiffs’ mischaracterization of 27 Defendants’ position should be rejected outright.

1 Ultimately, the district court in the CMR subpoena dispute ordered CMR to produce its
2 communications with the Government. (CMR Dkt. No. 62.) Although Defendants disagreed
3 with that decision, they did not pursue relief in the Sixth Circuit.

4 2. The McHugh Subpoena

5 In addition to the subpoena directed to CMR, Plaintiffs also sought to enforce a subpoena
6 in the District of Maryland served on Dr. Paul McHugh, a professor of psychiatry and behavioral 7 sciences at Johns Hopkins University. In an attempt to resolve that subpoena without further
8 litigation, DoD ultimately withdrew its objection to Dr. McHugh producing his communications 9 with DoD. Defendants, however, specifically maintained that they “d[id] not concede that those 10 communications are not subject to the deliberative process privilege.” (Barsanti Decl. ¶ 4, Ex. 3, 11 Email from Skurnik to Barsanti (July 29, 2019).) Moreover, Defendants maintained their 12 objection to Dr. McHugh producing his communications with the White House, which are 13 potentially subject both to the deliberative process privilege and the presidential communications
14 privilege.¹⁰ (Id.)

15 Plaintiffs appear to suggest that DoD’s communications with Dr. McHugh call into 16 question its decision making process and provide a basis for further discovery into Defendants’
17 communications with other third parties. But setting aside the fact that, as noted, such 18 communications can be privileged, DoD’s consultations with Dr. McHugh merely reflect the 19 agency’s efforts to consider input from medical professionals with a variety of views as part of 20 its policy process. Indeed, Plaintiffs ignore that DoD considered the opinions and studies of 21 multiple experts, including Plaintiffs’ own expert, Dr. George Brown, see Defs.’ Interrog.
22 Resps., Dkt. No. 373 at 9–10, as well as military mental health specialists, surgeons, 23 endocrinologists and general practitioners from the Army, Navy and Air Force who had 24 collectively advised on more than 250 transgender service member medical treatment plans, see 25 AR 002830-5, Dkt. No. 381-2. There is nothing nefarious or indicative of bad faith about 26

27 ¹⁰ Plaintiffs’ miscellaneous action regarding Dr. McHugh’s remaining communications—any between him and the 28 White House—was subsequently transferred to this district and consolidated with this case. See Order, Dkt. 367. That dispute, however, is not at issue here. Dr. McHugh’s communications with the White House are not raised in this

receiving input from experts with differing views. See Gibson v. Collier, 920 F.3d 212, 220, 222 n.6 (5th Cir. 2019) (citing Dr. McHugh among other medical experts in finding that “there is robust and substantial good faith disagreement dividing respected members of the expert medical community” concerning the necessity and efficacy of sex reassignment surgery). This is underscored by the fact that another of Plaintiffs’ own experts, retired Major General Margaret Wilmoth, recommended that the Carter Transgender Working Group (“TGWG”) speak with Dr. McHugh. (See Dkt. No. 381-8, Wilmoth email of Oct. 15, 2015 (recommending Dr. McHugh and stating “I would rather [the TGWG] get to a decision knowing how we got there by hearing from all sides of this important decision rather than just hearing from advocates”).)

Nor does it matter that a DoD official consulted with Dr. McHugh after the Panel completed its deliberations. See supra, p. 3. As Plaintiffs admit, DoD’s 44-page Report and Recommendations reflects the pertinent information Dr. McHugh provided. See id. In any event, Secretary Mattis adopted the Panel’s recommendations in full, see Defs.’ Mot. for Clarification 8–9, Dkt. No. 405, so it is not as if consultations with Dr. McHugh somehow changed the policy. Accordingly, the prior dispute concerning Dr. McHugh’s communications has no bearing on the instant motion, and certainly does not provide a basis for blanket disclosure of privileged third-party communications without regard to time period or topic.

3. Communications With McHugh, Newbold, and Woodruff

In response to inquiries from the Plaintiffs, Defendants have elected to waive the deliberative process privilege over certain communications between DoD and several non-government individuals, including Dr. McHugh himself, retired Lieutenant General Greg Newbold, and William Woodruff.¹¹ Defendants’ decision to waive privilege over these communications is consistent with the general approach they have taken across the related cases—namely, that where Plaintiffs have identified particular documents for which they believe they have a particularly strong need, Defendants have considered whether to waive privilege over the documents, and in many cases have done so. Indeed, every time Plaintiffs have requested that Defendants provide DoD's communications with a specific third-party individual, Defendants ultimately have agreed to waive the deliberative process privilege over DoD's communications with that individual. See, e.g., Barsanti Decl. ¶ 8, Ex. 7, Letter from Carmichael to Barsanti (Sept. 13, 2019).

However, Defendants' decision to waive privilege over particular documents does not amount to an admission that those documents were not subject to privilege in the first place. Nor can Defendants' waiver of privilege with respect to communications with certain third parties act as a waiver of communications with all third parties, as Plaintiffs' focus on Defendants' "waivers" appears to suggest. The case law on this point is crystal clear: the subject matter waiver concept has no applicability to the deliberative process privilege. See Agility Public Warehousing Co. K.S.C. v. DoD, 110 F. Supp. 3d 215, 222 n.4 (D.D.C. 2015) (holding that "there is no authority for applying the broad, subject-matter waiver rule to [the deliberative process] privilege; indeed, the cases suggest that the rule does not apply in this context") Rather, the "release of a document only waives [executive] privileges for the document or information specifically released, and not for related materials." In re Sealed Case, 121 F.3d 729, 741 (D.C. Cir. 1997); cf. Mobil Oil Corp. v. EPA, 879 F.2d 698, 700 (9th Cir. 1989) (disclosure of documents does not waive Government's ability to assert FOIA exemption 5—which encompasses the deliberative process privilege—as to "related documents").

B. Current Dispute Before The Court

Defendants turn now to the dispute that is the subject of Plaintiffs' motion, which centers on Defendants' communications with additional individuals Plaintiffs allege are third parties.

1. Plaintiffs' First List Of Purported Third Parties

On October 7, 2019, Plaintiffs provided Defendants with a list of approximately 824 names, email addresses, or name and email address combinations, that they claimed belonged to non-government third parties, and requested that Defendants produce all communications with these individuals within eight days. (Barsanti Decl. ¶ 13, Ex. 12, Letter from Barsanti to Carmichael (Oct. 7, 2019).) Plaintiffs stated that they had created this list of names and email addresses based on Defendants' privilege logs. Importantly, however, Plaintiffs did not identify any particular privilege log entries to which they objected to Defendants' invocation of privilege. Plaintiffs just provided a long list of names and email addresses—without even a citation to where on the logs they were located.

Nevertheless, in an effort to resolve the dispute, Defendants agreed to review the list and provide Plaintiffs with additional information about whether it contained non-government third parties. Upon beginning that review, however, it quickly became apparent that Plaintiffs had made no serious effort to narrow the dispute in formulating their list. The list contained, for example:

- The current and most recent former confirmed Secretaries of Defense (“Esper, Mark T.” and “Jim Mattis”);
- Two DOJ former counsel of record in this case (“Brinton Lucas” and “Ryan Parker”); and
- Numerous attendees at meetings of the Panel of Experts, all of whom have been previously identified in Defendants' discovery responses.

A cursory review of the list would have revealed to Plaintiffs that it was replete with government officials, not third parties. As Defendants explained to Plaintiffs, they were not required to undertake a burdensome review of the hundreds of entries in Plaintiffs' list where Plaintiffs appeared not to have made even a passing effort to review the names themselves. Indeed, apart from obvious names like that of the Secretary of Defense, even for less obvious entries on the list, in many cases a simple Google search or glance at Defendants' responses to Plaintiffs' interrogatories would demonstrate that the particular name in fact belonged to a government official. Defendants informed Plaintiffs that given the nature of the list, they would not devote the significant attorney time and resources necessary to review it and provide additional information. Id. ¶ 14, Ex. 13, Letter from Carmichael to Barsanti (Nov. 4, 2019).

2. Plaintiffs' Second List Of Purported Third Parties

In response, Plaintiffs removed more than 300 entries from their list, reducing it in size from approximately 824 names and/or email addresses down to approximately 487. Id. ¶ 2, Ex. 1, Letter from Barsanti to Carmichael (Dec. 13, 2019). In doing so, Plaintiffs essentially confirmed Defendants' objection—that the initial list included numerous obvious government officials and did not represent a serious effort to narrow the dispute. Defendants agreed to review Plaintiffs' second list and provide additional information about whether the listed individuals were government officials.

However, after devoting numerous attorney hours to reviewing approximately half of the entries on Plaintiffs' second list, it again became apparent that Plaintiffs still had not made a serious effort to narrow the dispute. The second list of purported third parties still contained, for example:

- At least two references to Plaintiff Lindsey Muller, who Plaintiffs allege in their complaint is a member of the Armed Forces, and thus a government official;
- References to numerous individuals who hold or previously held senior Executive Branch positions, including former Deputy Secretary of Defense Robert Work, former Secretary of Homeland Security and DoD General Counsel Jeh Johnson, retired Army General Carter F. Ham, and DoD Deputy General Counsel Ryan Newman.¹²
- Entries corresponding to numerous employees of the federal government whose email addresses indicate that fact.

Once again, Plaintiffs failed to detect names of persons—including their own client—that obviously were not third parties. Accordingly, Defendants informed Plaintiffs that they would not continue to undertake the burdensome task of reviewing Plaintiffs' second list. Id. ¶ 16, Ex. 15, Letter from Powers to Barsanti (January 17, 2020). Plaintiffs to date have not agreed to provide a list reflecting a serious effort to narrow this dispute.

ARGUMENT

A. To Expedite Resolution Of This Dispute, Defendants Agree To Complete Their Review Of Plaintiffs Second List Of Names.

As set forth above, this is not a dispute about whether Defendants bear the burden to claim privilege over third-party communications, but whether Plaintiffs should make a reasonable effort to identify the names of persons they could reasonably contend may be third parties. To date they have not done so. In such circumstances, Defendants are not obligated to devote hours

¹² Although some of these individuals are no longer government officials, because Plaintiffs have insisted on conferring over a context-free list of names rather than actual entries on Defendants' privilege logs, the parties' meet and confer efforts have not involved discussions of whether any particular official was in government service at the time of any particular communication.

1 to providing Plaintiffs with information they already know, should know, or could know with 2 minimal efforts. Indeed, this dispute likely could have been resolved or substantially narrowed
3 months ago if Plaintiffs would have simply identified particular privilege log entries, or provided 4 a reasonable list of purported third parties.

5 Plaintiffs are thus incorrect that Defendants have not sufficiently justified their claims of 6 privilege. Defendants do not have to specify to Plaintiffs that Mark T. Esper is in fact a 7 government official for Plaintiffs to know that he is the Secretary of Defense and a named 8 Defendant, and that his deliberative and pre-decisional communications are privileged.
9 Defendants' privilege logs contain information on the date, author, recipient, title/description, 10 privilege, and privilege basis of withheld documents. Defendants accordingly have provided 11 more than sufficient information to satisfy Rule 26's requirements. See FED. R. CIV. P.
12 26(b)(5)(A).

13 Nonetheless, in order to expedite resolution of this dispute and avoid any need for further 14 extensions of the discovery schedule, Defendants will agree to complete their review of 15 Plaintiffs' second list of individuals, and to do so by March 13, 2020. By that date, Defendants 16 will provide Plaintiffs with additional information about the individuals on the list, including 17 whether or not the individuals listed are government officials. Accordingly, the Court need not 18 order any relief as to whether the Defendants must complete their review of Plaintiffs' list of 19 purported third parties—Defendants already have agreed to do so.

20 Finally, private email accounts should not be used as a proxy to determine third parties, as 21 Plaintiffs suggest. See supra, p. 9–10. Government officials occasionally will use private email 22 accounts for official business, as they are permitted to do under federal records laws so long as 23 they also forward or copy relevant documents and communications to their official email
24 accounts. See 44 U.S.C. § 2911. But using a private email address cannot transform a 25 government official into a non-government third party. For example, one of the @gmail.com 26 addresses on Plaintiffs' lists belongs to Sasha N. Baker, who served as a Deputy Chief of Staff to 27 former Secretary of Defense Ashton Carter. Just because Ms. Baker may have forwarded a 28 document or communication to her private email address does not mean that she herself was not a government official or that the document or communication she may have forwarded is not privileged. In any event, Defendants have agreed to review Plaintiffs' list and identify which of the entries belong to third parties, so there is no need to attempt that same inquiry based on private email addresses.

B. Communications Between Defendants And Third Parties Are Privileged Where Those Communications Are Solicited And Aid Defendants' Decision Making Process.

In light of Defendants' agreement to complete review of Plaintiffs' second list of purported third parties, the Court need address only one question: whether, for any individuals Defendants ultimately identify as non-government third parties, DoD may in certain cases withhold its communications with those individuals.

The answer plainly is yes. Although as a general matter, the Government's voluntary disclosure of privileged information can result in waiving privilege, see, e.g., In re Sealed Case, 121 F.3d at 741–42, under the “consultant corollary” doctrine, communications between the Government and third parties are privileged where the Government solicits them in order to “aid the agency's decision-making process,”¹³ Judicial Watch, Inc. v. DoT, 950 F. Supp. 2d 213, 218–19 (D.D.C. 2013). This doctrine is well-established, and has been applied by numerous courts in this circuit. See, e.g., All. for the Wild Rockies v. Pena, 2017 WL 8778579, at *6 (E.D. Wash. Dec. 12, 2017) (communications between Forest Service and private subcontractor were properly withheld as deliberative pursuant to consultant corollary); Sakamoto v. EPA, 443 F. Supp. 2d 1182, 1191–92 (N.D. Cal. 2006) (documents authored by non-government consultants hired by EPA properly withheld as deliberative pursuant to consultant corollary); Friends of the Earth v. Army Corps of Engineers, 374 F. Supp. 3d 1045, 1053–54 (W.D. Wash. 2019) (applying the consultant corollary doctrine but concluding that document at issue did not come within its protections); Ctr. for Biological Diversity v. Office of U.S. Trade Representative, 450 F. App'x 605, 609 (9th Cir. 2011) (unpublished memorandum disposition) (noting the existence of ¹³ The consultant corollary doctrine is also restricted to situations where the third-party does not have “an outside interest in obtaining a benefit that is at the expense of competitors,” but that condition is not at issue in this litigation. Judicial Watch, Inc., 950 F. Supp. 2d at 218–19; see Department of Interior v. Klamath Water Users Protective Association, 532 U.S. 1 (2001).

1 consultant corollary and remanding for further factual development on the relationship between 2 third party and the agency).

3 The consultant corollary is particularly important in a case like this, where the Government
4 hired an outside consultant (the RAND Corporation) as part of its policy development process
5 (for the Carter policy). Unsurprisingly, Plaintiffs' lists of purported third parties include multiple 6 individuals with RAND email addresses, including Agnes Schaefer, RAND's lead researcher on 7 its study of service by transgender individuals. See RAND Report, Dkt. 144-2. While RAND
8 itself may be subject to examination as to the basis for its conclusions, its actual communications
9 with the Government are protected as privileged. See Nat'l Inst. of Military Justice v. DoD, 512
10 F.3d 677, 685 (D.C. Cir. 2008) ("[T]he expectation that communications will remain confidential 11 is crucial to eliciting candid and honest advice from outside consultants."); Ryan v. DoD, 617 12 F.2d 781, 789–90 (D.C. Cir. 1980) ("[C]onsultations [with temporary consultants] are an integral 13 part of [an agency's] deliberative process; to conduct this process in public view would inhibit
14 frank discussion of policy matters and likely impair the quality of decisions.").¹⁴

15 Indeed, it would be one thing if Plaintiffs argued that particular communications were not 16 in fact solicited as part of Defendants' decision making process, and thus did not come within the 17 consultant corollary doctrine. But Plaintiffs instead act as if the doctrine does not exist at all, by 18 requesting production of every third-party communication. Their motion does not even mention 19 the consultant corollary, let alone explain why it would not apply to DoD's communications with 20 consultants. Nor does it explain how production of all third-party communications could be 21 proper when at least some of those communications are responsive to RFP Nos. 15 or 29, and 22 thus at issue in Defendants' mandamus petition and the subject of the Ninth Circuit's 23 administrative stay. See Order, Dkt. 415. Finally, Plaintiffs do not even try to argue that their 24

25 ¹⁴ Although DoD here paid RAND to conduct its study, a third party need not be paid or have a formal consulting
26 relationship with the Government in order for the Government's communications with the third party to be protected.
27 It is sufficient that the communications at issue were solicited for the purpose of aiding the Government's decision 28 making process. See Nat'l Inst. of Military Justice, 512 F.3d at 683 ("[A]lthough the individuals DoD consulted are . . .
private citizens rather than government employees or paid contract consultants, we see no reason why the absence of a contract or compensation should differentiate them from the 'typical' outside agency consultants.").

1 need for certain third-party communications has overcome the deliberative process privilege.
2 See FTC v. Warner Comm'ns Inc., 742 F.2d 1156 (9th Cir. 1984). To the contrary, in Plaintiffs 3 view, they simply should get everything, with little argument or analysis.

4 The Court should reject this overbroad and legally incorrect approach. Instead, consistent
5 with case law in this and other circuits, the Court should conclude that DoD may withhold as 6 privileged its communications with third parties where they were solicited to aid in the agency's 7 decision making process.

8 Finally, if the Court disagrees with Defendants' position and orders production en masse of 9 communications with third parties, in no event should it extend its ruling to third party
10 communications with the President or his close advisors. Plaintiffs have not requested 11 production of such communications in their motion, see supra, p. 1 (requesting an order
12 compelling "Mark Esper, in his official capacity as Secretary of Defense, and the United States
13 Department of Defense ('DoD') (together, 'the Government') to produce third-party 14 communications"), and to order their production at this stage would raise serious separation-of-15 powers concerns, see Karnoski, 926 F.3d at 1205.

16 CONCLUSION

17 Defendants will complete their review of Plaintiffs' second list of purported third parties
18 and provide Plaintiffs with additional information by March 13, 2020. As to DoD's 19 communications with third parties, the Court should hold that DoD may properly withhold such 20 communications as privileged where they were solicited and aid in the agency's decision making 21 process. Accordingly, Plaintiffs motion should be denied.

22 PLAINTIFFS' REPLY

23 The Government's attempts to shift its discovery burden as a tactic to delay and obstruct 24 the discovery process should be tolerated no more. The Government has repeatedly refused to 25 cooperate with Plaintiffs throughout the meet and confer process and has done nothing to cure its 26 deficient privilege log entries, even after it "devot[ed] numerous attorney hours to reviewing 27 approximately half of the entries on Plaintiffs' second list... of purported third parties." Def's.
28 Stmt. at 17, supra. Only now, after imposing a substantial burden on Plaintiffs and the Court to

1 resolve a dispute that could have been resolved between the parties months ago, has the 2 Government finally agreed to Plaintiffs' initial October 7, 2019 ask to review Plaintiffs' list of 3 potential third parties. The Government has had sufficient time to review this list (and indeed has 4 already reviewed half), and any further delay severely prejudices Plaintiffs.

5 Third-party communications are not subject to DPP, as the Ninth Circuit has never adopted
6 the consultant corollary theory. But, even if it had, the Government's deficient privilege log 7 entries do not justify that its communications are protected by this theory. Beyond that, the 8 Government's extreme and unjustified delay in remedying its deficient privilege log entries 9 warrants a finding that any meritless privilege claims over these documents have been waived.

10 A. The consultant corollary theory does not protect the Government's third-party 11 communications.

12 The Government's argument that the consultant corollary exception protects its third-party
13 communications from production fails for at least three reasons. First, the Court need not apply
14 the consultant corollary exception to waiver because it has never been adopted by the Ninth Circuit.
15 See Rojas v. Fed. Aviation Admin., 927 F.3d 1046, 1054 (9th Cir. 2019), reh'g en banc 16 granted, No. 17-55036, 2020 WL 520853 (9th Cir. Jan. 30, 2020) ("We have yet to adopt the 17 consultant corollary in this Circuit . . .").¹⁵ None of the Government's cited case law regarding 18 consultant corollary theory is controlling on this Court.

19 Second, even if the Court found that the consultant corollary doctrine could potentially 20 apply to the Government's third-party communications, the Government has done nothing to 21 support the application of that doctrine here. The burden to establish consultant corollary 22 protection is high. The Government must prove not only that the "consultant" (1) was solicited to 23 "aid the agency's decision-making process . . .," Def's Stmt. at 19, supra, but also that it (2)
24 was "hired or solicited by the agency to provide neutral advice" that "does not represent an 25 interest of its own, or the interest of any other client, when it advises the agency that hires it," 26

27 ¹⁵ The Government attempted to argue that consultant corollary theory prevented waiver of DPP over its 28 communications with CMR before Judges Edmunds and Stafford. The Sixth Circuit—like the Ninth Circuit—never adopted the consultant corollary theory and both judges declined to apply that exception to waiver over Defendants' communications with CMR.

1 such that the “private individual was acting just as a government employee would be expected to
2 do,” Friends of the Earth, 374 F. Supp. 3d at 1053-54 (internal quotations, alterations, and
3 citations omitted), before proving (3) that the communications are covered by DPP, for example,
4 that they are indeed deliberative and pre-decisional. The Government has woefully failed to meet
5 this burden by never formally invoking consultant corollary theory prior to this filing. Indeed, its 6 privilege log entries never indicate that it claims “consultant corollary” over any particular
7 communications or even attempt to establish the theory’s strict legal requirements. (See Barsanti
8 Decl. ¶¶ 19-21.)

9 Neither has the Government met the consultant corollary theory’s strict legal requirements 10 for claiming protection over documents with RAND Corporation. For example, although 11 RAND’s report was published and the Carter policy was announced on June 30, 2016, rendering 12 documents after this date no longer deliberative or pre-decisional, the Government has withheld
13 documents with RAND members after this date without explanation or justification. (Id. at ¶ 20.)

14 In addition, Government communications with third party individuals or interest groups are 15 not protected when they appear to receive preferential treatment relative to other members of the 16 public. Friends of the Earth, 374 F. Supp. 3d at 1055. The Government’s originally-withheld but 17 now produced communications with at least Greg Newbold, Woody Woodruff, Paul McHugh, 18 and CMR demonstrate that these individuals received preferential treatment when 19 communicating their own self-interests or the interests of anti-transgender advocacy groups to 20 the Government, such that these communications were never properly subject to DPP. The 21 remaining withheld documents also likely contain self-interested communications, too.

22 In fact, the Government’s recent production of third-party documents previously withheld
23 under the guise of DPP further emphasizes its inappropriate and overbroad application of DPP, 24 even if the consultant corollary theory applied. Included within its recent de-designation
25 production were, for example, an email from a reporter [REDACTED]
26 [REDACTED] and an [REDACTED] email from the head
27 of the New York City Bar Association’s Military Affairs and Justice Committee [REDACTED]

1 [REDACTED]. (Barsanti Decl. ¶¶ 17-18, Exs. 16-17.)

2 Neither is deliberative, and both were improperly withheld.

3 Third, as discussed supra, the Government's extreme and unjustified delay in remedying its 4 deficient privilege log entries warrants a finding that any meritless privilege claims over these 5 documents has been waived. E.g., Bess, 2008 WL 5100203, at *5; Ritacca, 203 F.R.D. at 336.

6 B. The Government's mandamus petition does not apply here.

7 The Government's argument that third-party communications are tied up in its mandamus
8 petition is a red herring. At issue in that petition is whether Plaintiffs have overcome the 9 Government's claims of DPP with respect to certain categories of documents. Here, Plaintiffs 10 need not overcome DPP with respect to these third-party communications because DPP does not
11 apply to third-party communications. And, even if DPP could apply, the Government has not met 12 their burden to show that it does. Thus, the issues in the mandamus petition have no bearing on 13 this dispute, the requested third-party communications are not subject to the Ninth Circuit's
14 administrative stay, and Plaintiffs need not establish the Warner factors over these documents.

15 CONCLUSION

16 In light of the Government's inexcusable delay and refusal to meaningfully cooperate in 17 discovery, combined with its continued failure to support its privilege assertions, Plaintiffs 18 request the Court order the Government to review the list of potential third parties provided by 19 Plaintiffs, and by March 13, 2020 (1) provide information indicating whether each person is a 20 third party or a government employee; (2) produce all communications with individuals who are 21 confirmed to be third parties, or, in the alternative, should the Court adopt the consultant
22 corollary theory, (a) require the Government to amend its privilege logs and serve a declaration 23 attesting to the elements of the consultant corollary doctrine with respect to each third party for 24 whom it continues to withhold communications, and (b) produce communications with all other
25 third parties; and (3) for individuals confirmed to be government employees, amend its privilege 26 log entries to identify the employer and job title for each individual as of the date of the 27 communication.

CERTIFICATION

I certify that the full response by the responding party has been included in this submission, and that prior to making this submission the parties conferred to attempt to resolve this discovery dispute in accordance with LCR 37(a).

[PROPOSED] ORDER GRANTING LCR
37 JOINT SUBMISSION REGARDING THE GOVERNMENT’S WITHHELD
COMMUNICATIONS WITH THIRD PARTIES

NOTE ON MOTION CALENDAR:
February 27, 2020

This matter comes before the Court on the foregoing LCR 37 Joint Submission Regarding the Government’s Withheld Communications with Third Parties (the “Joint Submission”). The Court, having considered the parties’ arguments and finding good cause therefor, GRANTS the Joint Submission.

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED:

1. By March 13, 2020, the Government must review Plaintiffs’ list of potential third parties, attached as Ex. A to Ex. 1 to the Declaration of Vanessa Barsanti in Support of the Joint Submission, and provide information indicating whether each person is a third party or a government employee.

2. By March 13, 2020, the Government must produce all communications with individuals who are confirmed to be third parties.

3. [IN THE ALTERNATIVE] By March 13, 2020, for all communications with individuals who are confirmed to be third parties, the Government must:

a. Amend its privilege logs to adequately assert the consultant corollary doctrine and serve a declaration attesting to the elements of the consultant corollary doctrine with respect to each third party for whom it continues to withhold communications;

b. Produce all withheld communications with all other third parties.

4. By March 13, 2020, for individuals confirmed to be government employees, the Government must amend its privilege log entries to identify the employer and job title for each individual as of the date of the communication.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

Dated this _____ day of _____, 2020.

LCR 37 JOINT SUBMISSION
REGARDING DOCUMENTS WITHHELD BY THE GOVERNMENT AS NON-RESPONSIVE

NOTE ON MOTION CALENDAR:
February 28, 2020

1 PLAINTIFFS' STATEMENT

2 Plaintiffs are the moving party for this submission. Pursuant to Federal Rules of Civil 3 Procedure 26, 34, and 37, and Local Rule 37, Plaintiffs request an order compelling Mark
4 Esper, in his official capacity as Secretary of Defense, and the United States Department of 5 Defense ("DoD") (together, "the Government") to produce documents being withheld as non-6 responsive belonging to otherwise responsive document families. The parties have met and 7 conferred over the past four months in good faith to try and resolve this dispute without Court
8 action, but with little to no progress made towards resolution, this dispute is now ripe for 9 resolution by the Court. Plaintiffs respectfully request that the Court grant Plaintiffs' motion in 10 full.

11 PLAINTIFFS' OPENING ARGUMENT

12 In a letter dated October 4, 2019, Plaintiffs identified for the Government discovery 13 deficiencies related to the Government's withholding of documents from its production on the 14 basis of purported "non-responsiveness," even though the withheld document was part of a 15 responsive family group (e.g., the Government produced a responsive email, but withheld the 16 email attachments based on a purported "non-responsiveness" objection). (See February 28, 17 2020 Barsanti Decl. ¶ 2, Ex. 1.) For each withheld "non-responsive" document, Plaintiffs 18 provided the document metadata and highlighted several examples of withheld documents with 19 notable indicia of responsiveness, such as email subject and/or file name information referring 20 to the Government's policy regarding transgender service members and the cost of transgender 21 healthcare. By way of example, such email subjects and file names of withheld documents
22 include "Transgender Question," "How much does a hysterectomy cost.docx," and "How Much 23 Does an Orchiectomy Cost.docx." (Id.) On October 29, 2019, the parties met and conferred, and 24 the Government agreed to re-review the handful of withheld document exemplars that Plaintiffs
25 had specifically identified in their October 4 letter, but refused to take any steps to review
26 documents beyond Plaintiffs' examples or rectify the broader issue. (See Barsanti Decl. ¶¶ 3-4, 27 Ex. 2.) Worse, the Government attempted to shift its discovery burden by insisting that 28 Plaintiffs sift through the limited metadata available for all 15,000 withheld documents and

1 identify specific Bates numbers that the Government should re-review for responsiveness.
2 (Barsanti Decl. ¶ 3.)

3 Though the burden is not on Plaintiffs to ensure the Government's production is 4 complete, to facilitate the discovery process and narrow the dispute, Plaintiffs agreed to provide
5 a list of specific Bates numbers that plainly warranted re-review. On November 26, 2019, 6 Plaintiffs provided a list of approximately 4,000 out of the 15,000 withheld documents with 7 obvious indicia of responsiveness such as email subject lines or file names that expressly 8 reference the DoD's policy regarding transgender personnel and asked the Government to re-
9 review this smaller subset. (See Barsanti Decl. ¶ 5, Ex. 3.)

10 Several weeks later, in an email dated December 2, 2019, the Government indicated that 11 it was now declining to review the subset of documents identified in Plaintiffs' November 26 12 letter. (Barsanti Decl. ¶ 6, Ex. 4.) Instead, the Government merely performed a sampling and 13 concluded that "the vast majority (I would estimate over 95%) of the documents with the 14 extension .msg in the file name were Outlook delivery or read receipts" and that such "delivery 15 and read receipts are not responsive to any discovery request and are plainly irrelevant to 16 Plaintiffs' claims." (Id.) The Government noted that the remainder of the withheld documents
17 reflected discussions between medical professionals regarding the treatment of service members 18 for gender dysphoria. Again, the Government concluded that these documents, despite being a 19 part of otherwise responsive families, are non-responsive. (Id.) In yet another attempt to 20 facilitate a resolution, Plaintiffs asked the Government to produce additional information
21 regarding the content of a random sampling of 50 documents in order for the Plaintiffs to test
22 the responsiveness of these withheld documents. (See Barsanti Decl. ¶ 7, Ex. 5.)

23 Over a month later, on January 17, 2020, the Government provided a spreadsheet with 24 additional information concerning the random sampling. (See Barsanti Decl. ¶ 8, Ex. 6.) After 25 taking several weeks to respond and several more weeks to review a mere sampling of 50
26 documents, it became clear from the limited information the Government did provide that the 27 withheld documents are indeed independently responsive, and Plaintiffs once again requested 28 their production. (See Barsanti Decl. ¶ 9, Ex. 7.) To date, the Government has not agreed to

1 produce these wrongfully withheld documents, or otherwise review the other withheld
2 documents. Plaintiffs now move to compel the Government's documents wrongfully withheld
3 as non-responsive that are part of responsive document families.

4 LEGAL STANDARD

5 The Government has wrongfully withheld documents that, as indicated by their metadata
6 and relationship to other responsive documents, are responsive and relevant. Under the Federal 7 Rules, the Government carries the burden of collecting and producing all non-privileged,
8 responsive documents. Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(b); see also Putterman v. Supreme Chain Logistics,
9 Ltd., No. C18-376RSM, 2018 WL 6179325, at *2 (W.D. Wash. Nov. 27, 2018) (“[T]he party
10 who resists discovery has the burden to show that discovery should not be allowed, and has the 11 burden of clarifying, explaining, and supporting its objections.”) (citation omitted).

12 ARGUMENT

13 Despite its obligation under the Federal Rules to produce all non-privileged, relevant
14 documents in their entirety, the Government is improperly withholding documents in otherwise 15 responsive families on the alleged ground of non-responsiveness.¹ For example, the 16 Government has produced a responsive parent email but not produced one or more attachments 17 to the email and instead produced a slipsheet that says “Withheld for Non Responsiveness.” The 18 Government has already acknowledged that the withheld documents belong to responsive 19 families because the Government produced the withheld documents’ family members.
20 Moreover, the metadata of the withheld documents strongly indicates that the documents are, in 21 fact, independently responsive. In response, the Government argues that the withheld
22 documents are categorically non-responsive because they primarily reflect: (i) email read 23 receipts related to responsive documents; and (ii) medical professionals’ discussions related to 24 service members’ treatment plans for gender dysphoria. The Government’s own assertions of 25 deliberative process privilege (“DPP”) over other members of the documents’ families and its 26 various explanations regarding the substance of this withheld material strongly indicate that the

28 ¹ A document family is a group of related documents that includes parent and child documents. The most common example is an email, known as the parent document, and its attachments, known as its children.

1 withheld documents are responsive and relevant. The law demands that these withheld
2 documents be produced.

3 A. The withheld documents are, in fact, relevant and responsive because they are 4 members of responsive families.

5 The rule of completeness—Federal Rule of Evidence 106—requires that a party produce
6 all non-privileged documents in a family when it determines that any one member of the family
7 is responsive, as is the case here. See Fed. R. Evid. 106 (“If a party introduces all or part of a
8 writing or recorded statement, an adverse party may require the introduction, at that time, of any 9 other part—or any other writing or recorded statement—that in fairness ought to be considered 10 at the same time.”). Courts hold that “[t]he logic of this evidentiary rule extends backwards to 11 discovery which often leads to a conclusion (or at least a presumption) that if something was 12 attached to a relevant e-mail, it is likely also relevant to the context of the communication.” Abu
13 Dhabi Commercial Bank v. Morgan Stanley & Co., No. 08 Civ. 7508(SAS), 2011 WL 3738979, 14 at *5 (S.D.N.Y. Aug. 18, 2011), adopted without objection, 2011 WL 3734236 (S.D.N.Y. Aug.
15 24, 2011).

16 This approach recognizes the practical importance of producing all documents in a 17 family to provide the necessary context for each family member. See Sanchez Y Martin, S.A. de 18 C.V. v. Dos Amigos, Inc., No. 17cv1943-LAB (LL), 2019 WL 581715, at *11 (S.D. Cal. Feb.
19 13, 2019) (holding that “emails produced in discovery should be accompanied by their 20 attachments” and that doing otherwise is “effectively a redaction of responsive discovery”);
21 Virco Mfg. Corp. v. Hertz Furniture Sys., No. CV 13-2205 JAK(JCx), 2014 WL 12591482, at 22 *5–6 (C.D. Cal. Jan. 21, 2014) (“Further, by failing to produce email attachments, plaintiff has 23 effectively redacted, based upon relevance, portions of documents it otherwise apparently views 24 to be discoverable/relevant/responsive to defendants’ discovery requests.”); see also Families
25 for Freedom v. U.S. Customs & Border Prot., No. 10 Civ. 2705(SAS), 2011 WL 4599592, at *5 26 (S.D.N.Y. Sept. 30, 2011) (“Context matters. The attachments can only be fully understood and 27 evaluated when read in the context of the emails to which they are attached. That is the way
28 they were sent and the way they were received. It is also the way in which they should be

1 produced.”); Doe v. Trump, 329 F.R.D. 262, 275–76 (W.D. Wash. 2018) (“It is a rare document
2 that contains only relevant information; and irrelevant information within an otherwise relevant 3 document may provide context necessary to understand the relevant information.”).

4 Producing full families is such an accepted eDiscovery practice that the Department of 5 Justice’s own standard production specifications require the production of entire families of 6 documents. (See Barsanti Decl. ¶ 10, Ex. 8. (delineating that the production of email repositories
7 shall include “all parent items (mail, calendar, contacts, tasks, notes, etc.) and child files 8 (attachments of files to email or other items) with the parent/child relationship preserved”). That 9 the Department of Justice would apply a different standard now than it utilizes in other cases is 10 striking.

11 B. The withheld documents’ metadata show that they are independently responsive to 12 Plaintiffs’ discovery requests.

13 Moreover, even if the law did not demand production of the withheld documents 14 because they are part of responsive family groups, it is clear based on their metadata that they 15 are otherwise independently relevant and responsive. Though the onus is not on Plaintiffs to 16 parse the limited metadata associated with withheld documents for improperly withheld
17 documents, Plaintiffs did identify to the Government specific entries for which the email subject
18 line or file name explicitly refers to transgender military service or healthcare. See Barsanti 19 Decl. ¶ 5, Ex. 3. This is not to say that the other documents not included within Plaintiffs’ 20 narrowed list are being properly withheld as non-responsive, but rather that Plaintiffs are unable 21 to determine the documents’ independent relevance based on the information available to them.
22 The Government, after all, is the only party with access to the documents’ contents.

23 The likelihood that these documents are responsive is further heightened by the fact that 24 they were shared amongst the members of the so-called “Panel of Experts” (the “Panel”) or 25 those directly supporting the Panel. For example, senders and recipients of the withheld 26 documents include Panel members such as Mr. Anthony Kurta, General James McConville, and 27 Admiral William Moran. (See Barsanti Decl. ¶ 11.) Colonel Mary Krueger, who supported the 28 Panel, is also amongst the senders and recipients. (Barsanti Decl. ¶¶ 11-12, Ex 12 at 57:16.) As

1 is Mr. Lernes Hebert, who provided a December 15, 2017 declaration in this matter stating that 2 he was “responsible for overseeing the human resource policies impacting the sustainment of 3 the all-volunteer-force for the Department of Defense” and opined on the implementation 4 of transgender accessions. (Dkt. No. 107 ¶ 1; Barsanti Decl. ¶¶ 11.) Moreover, the majority of 5 the withheld documents are attachments to communications withheld on the basis of DPP,
6 which is further evidence of their relevance to Plaintiffs’ claims. (Barsanti Decl. ¶ 13.)

7 C. Discussions between medical professionals regarding service members’ treatment
8 plans for gender dysphoria are relevant because the documents were considered in 9 connection with the formation of the ban.

10 The Government also fails to articulate why communications between medical 11 professionals regarding individualized treatment of a service member for gender dysphoria are 12 not responsive. The Government previously detailed their collection and searching 13 specifications for this Court (Dkt. No. 371-1, 8/29/19 Easton Decl.), and nowhere does it
14 indicate that the Government collected documents from the DoD’s general repository of service
15 members’ medical records or from individual treating physicians. Instead, the DoD collections
16 focused on custodians involved in the formation of the Ban. (Id. at 2 (explaining that “DoD’s 17 search and review efforts were focused on material reasonably related to the formation and 18 implementation” of the Ban).) To the extent the documents and communications regarding the 19 medical treatment of a service member for gender dysphoria were reviewed in connection with 20 the formation and implementation of the Ban, they are relevant and responsive. Moreover, the 21 responsiveness of these withheld documents becomes all the more clear in light of the fact that 22 many of them are attachments to communications between individuals supporting the Panel and 23 even members of the Panel itself—communications that, in large part, the Government 24 affirmatively recognizes are related to the development of the Ban because it is withholding 25 them on the basis of DPP.

26 The Government’s argument that documents relating to the treatment of gender
27 dysphoria are categorically non-responsive is its attempt to have it both ways: the Government 28 has withheld the parent communications between members of the Panel on the basis that they reveal the specific formation of the Ban itself, but at the same time, the Government argues that

1 the documents considered in conjunction with those communications—including the medical
2 records of service members treated for gender dysphoria and medical professionals’ analyses—3 are somehow non-responsive. This is yet another example of the Government improperly using 4 DPP as both a shield and a sword.

5 D. The relevance of email read receipts cannot be separated from the relevance of the 6 underlying communications.

7 The Government, citing to no authority, asserts that “delivery and read receipts are not
8 responsive to any discovery request and are plainly irrelevant to Plaintiffs’ claims.” (Barsanti 9 Decl. ¶ 6, Ex. 4.) Attempting to justify its position, the Government argued that the “substantive 10 content was produced to Plaintiffs (or, if applicable, withheld for privilege), whereas the non-11 responsive delivery and read receipts were not.” (Id.) This position has no support in the law.
12 Courts routinely determine that electronic read receipts are relevant as to whether an individual 13 received a certain document or to confirm that an organization issued certain guidance. See
14 Azeveda v. Comcast Cable Commc’ns LLC, No. 5:19-cv-01225-EJD, 2019 WL 5102607, at *2 15 (N.D. Cal. Oct. 11, 2019) (citing, inter alia, read receipt to find that plaintiff received opt-out 16 materials); Solomon v. Jacobson, No. ED15CV01453VAP (JPRx), 2016 WL 6156189, at *2 17 (C.D. Cal. May 25, 2016) (citing, inter alia, read receipts to refute defendant’s claim that his 18 email was not functioning and that he had not received motion to compel); see also Lee v.
19 Metro. Gov’t of Nashville & Davidson Cty., 432 F. App’x 435, 452 (6th Cir. 2011) (citing 20 police officers’ read receipts for police department training email as evidence that department 21 actively trained officers).

22 Read receipts directly relate to the substance of a responsive communication and can 23 show whether an intended recipient of an email received the communication if disputed.
24 Because each of the read receipts at issue is a family member of a responsive document, the 25 read receipts are presumptively also responsive and must be produced.

DEFENDANTS' OPENING ARGUMENT²

The documents Plaintiffs seek to have produced are ones that Defendants individually reviewed to determine responsiveness and subsequently withheld from production as not responsive. The largest categories of documents are: (1) "delivery notifications," "read receipts," and "journal reports" which are automatically generated when an e-mail is delivered, opened, or in the case of a journal report, when the Microsoft Exchange server is journaling; and (2) communications between medical professionals regarding individualized treatment of a service member for gender dysphoria. These documents are not relevant to the dispute before the Court, and the burden of producing them tilts the balancing test required by Rule 26 towards Defendants. Plaintiffs try to confuse the issue by arguing that these non-responsive documents should nonetheless be produced because of their "family" relationship with documents Defendants have already produced, or because they have metadata that suggests the documents are relevant despite Defendants' previous review of the documents. The Civil Rules do not mandate this slavish approach to family documents, and Plaintiffs have not articulated why the metadata alone establishes the relevance of the documents. Accordingly, the Court should not direct re-review and production of these records.

LEGAL STANDARD

A party may "obtain discovery regarding any nonprivileged matter that is relevant to any party's claim or defense and proportional to the needs of the case." Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(b)(1). Proportionality hinges on "the importance of the issues at stake in the action, the amount in controversy, the parties' relative access to relevant information, the parties' resources, the importance of the discovery in resolving the issues, and whether the burden or expense of the proposed discovery outweighs its likely benefit." Id. The court must limit discovery that "is unreasonably cumulative or duplicative, or can be obtained from some other source that is more convenient, less burdensome, or less expensive." Id. 26(b)(2)(C)(i).

² The expedited procedures of Local Rule 37(a)(2) for resolving discovery disputes are only available upon "agreement" of the parties. Defendants have not given their consent to the expedited procedures and reiterate their objection to Plaintiffs' use of Local Rule 37(a)(2) without their consent.

ARGUMENT

A. Production of Read Receipts, Delivery Notifications, and Journal Reports Is Not Proportional to the Needs of this Case.

The vast majority of the documents deemed not responsive are read receipts, delivery notifications sent automatically by Microsoft Outlook, and journal reports. “Read receipts” are sent to confirm an e-mail was opened by its recipient, and “delivery notifications” are sent to confirm delivery of the email message to the recipient’s mailbox. See Microsoft Office Support, “Add and Request Read Receipts and Delivery Notifications,” <https://support.office.com/en-us/article/Add-and-request-read-receiptsand-delivery-notifications-a34bf70a-4c2c-4461-b2a1-12e4a7a92141>. Likewise, sd.mil email accounts reside on journaled Exchange servers, which create a journal report when the server is journaling. “A journal report is the message that’s recorded by journaling. The journal report contains the original message as an unaltered file attachment.” Microsoft Office Support, Journaling in Exchange Server, “<https://docs.microsoft.com/en-us/exchange/policy-and-compliance/journaling/journaling?view=exchserver-2019#journal-reports>. Where relevant here, the original substantive message was attached to the journal report. These automatically generated records do not contain any substantive information responsive to Plaintiffs’ discovery requests. Nonetheless, Plaintiffs speculate that these notifications might be “relevant as to whether an individual received a certain document or to confirm that an organization issued certain guidance,” although Plaintiffs do not point to any communications for which they need confirmation that the e-mail was actually received by its addressees. See Plaintiffs’ Submission, supra, at § B.2.d.

That absence of specificity is telling. There is no dispute in this case as to whether Defendants’ e-mail systems were functioning during the relevant time period. Absent such a dispute, Plaintiffs cannot explain to what issue the read receipts and delivery notifications are relevant. Nor do they explain why the e-mails themselves are not adequate to understand who received documents or guidance. The read receipts, delivery notifications, and journal reports are, at best, cumulative to what the e-mail address fields already indicate. Because Plaintiffs

1 “ha[ve] not provided sufficient information to show that” producing these documents “would 2 reveal any more relevant information” than what the e-mails themselves show, the Court should 3 not grant Plaintiffs’ motion. Weidenhamer v. Expedia, Inc., 2015 WL 7158212, at *6 (W.D.
4 Wash. Nov. 13, 2015) (denying motion to compel defendant to search the e-mail of account
5 representatives for approximately 170 different airlines because it had already searched the 6 individual who served as a liaison for baggage fee complaints).

7 Moreover, Plaintiffs’ focus on the possible relevance of the read receipts loses sight of 8 the inquiry Rule 26(b) demands. Under circumstances that do not maintain here, an individual 9 read receipt could be relevant information, particularly when the provision of notice is critical to 10 the claims or disputed by the parties, as the cases Plaintiffs cite demonstrate. See Azeveda v.
11 Comcast Cable Comm’cs LLC, 2019 WL 5102607, at *7 (N.D. Cal. Oct. 11, 2019) (holding that 12 a valid arbitration agreement existed because defendant had shown plaintiff “was given 13 meaningful opportunity to opt out of the agreement,” as demonstrated, inter alia, by the fact that 14 defendant possessed a read receipt of an e-mail containing opt-out information); Solomon v.
15 Jacobson, 2016 WL 6156189, at *2 (C.D. Cal. May 25, 2016) (introducing read receipts to 16 rebut plaintiff’s claim that his e-mail was not functioning); Lee v. Metro. Gov. of Nashville &
17 Davidson Cnty., 432 F. App’x 435, 452 (6th Cir. July 18, 2011) (citing read receipts to show 18 that police department had sent training bulletin on taser use to two of its officers). But all these 19 cases do is acknowledge the possible relevance of read receipts as an evidentiary matter. None 20 of these cases addresses the issue of proportionality in discovery—that is, the weighing of the 21 benefits and burdens of producing particular sets of documents. That analysis, mandated by 22 Civil Rule 26, favors Defendants here. Producing thousands of read receipts, delivery 23 notifications, and journal reports when there is no issue concerning notice as to e-mail, or 24 dispute as to the functioning of Defendants’ e-mail system, is precisely the sort of 25 “unreasonably cumulative or duplicative” discovery the Court “must limit.” Fed. R. Civ. P.
26 26(b)(2)(C)(i); see also Thompson v. HAL Nederland N.V., 2018 WL 6696689, at *2 (denying 27 motion to compel discovery regarding accidents “on other ships in Defendants’ fleet over the 28 past 10 years [as] cumulative and duplicative” and limiting discovery to ship where the disputed

1 accident occurred).

2 B. Production of Individual Treatment Plans for Transgender Service Members Is Not
3 Proportional to the Needs of this Case

4 Plaintiffs' argument to compel production of the individual treatment plans of service
5 members is also meritless. Unsurprisingly, although Defendants made an effort to focus their 6 search on custodians involved in the formation of the Mattis Policy, the custodians searched and 7 the search terms used necessarily swept in documents that are not related to the formation of the 8 Mattis Policy. Plaintiffs argue that, "[t]o the extent the documents and communications 9 regarding the medical treatment of a service member for gender dysphoria were reviewed in 10 connection with the formation and implementation of the [Mattis Policy], they are relevant and 11 responsive." See Plaintiffs' Submission, supra, at § B.2.d. But Defendants have already 12 produced or agreed to produce the inputs to the Panel of Experts, including all deliberative
13 documents and communications related to the work of the Panel of Experts that were sent, 14 received or presented to any member of the Panel during the decision-making process.³ Unless 15 the Panel considered it as a part of its deliberations, the course of treatment for a particular 16 service member has no bearing on programmatic decisions regarding military policy towards 17 transgender service members.

18 Moreover, while Plaintiffs argue that the chart the Government prepared for the 19 Plaintiffs indicated "that the withheld documents are indeed independently responsive," id., they 20 fail to explain why that is the case for any of the documents at issue here, including the sample 21 set of documents on which Defendants provided comments. For instance, the document "How

23 ³ Defendants recently discovered two sets of documents subject to the prior Doe order that they intend to produce by 24 February 28. First, following inquiries from Doe plaintiffs' counsel, Defendants discovered that 126 family
25 members of Air Force documents released in response to the Doe order were mistakenly still being withheld under 26 the deliberative process privilege. Second, Defendants recently conducted a supplemental collection from a 27 Department of Defense intranet site used by members of the Panel of Experts in relation to their work on the Panel.
28 Defendants made this collection in the interest of ensuring completeness of the record. Defendants are planning to release 42 documents arising from this collection (although, Defendants note that a number of these documents have been previously produced in discovery pursuant to Defendants' prior collections. See USDOE0028908, USDOE00289508, USDOE00288103, USDOE00289261 (production no. 39)). In addition, Defendants are releasing 36 documents that on re-review Defendants have determined contain largely factual information and therefore DOD is withdrawing its prior deliberative process privilege claims. Defendants are not currently aware of any other documents responsive to the Doe order that are being withheld as deliberative in relation to the Panel deliberations.

much does a hysterectomy cost.docx” contains outside analysis of how much these procedures cost in the private sector, not the military. It was attached to an e-mail currently being withheld for deliberative process privilege that postdates the Panel’s deliberations, and as such, implicates the mandamus petition currently pending before the Ninth Circuit. Other documents in the fifty-document sample upon which Defendants provided comment included a 2016 press release announcing the Carter policy, a photocopy of a service member’s passport, a curriculum vitae for a plastic surgeon, an incomplete draft attendance roster for a medical conference, and Cigna’s insurance coverage criteria for gender surgery. Such documents are not relevant to the formation and implementation of the Mattis Policy and were properly marked nonresponsive.

Plaintiffs argue that Defendants are trying “to have it both ways” by withholding parent communications that must “reveal the specific formation of the” Mattis Policy because they were withheld on deliberate process grounds, while arguing that “documents considered in conjunction with those communications . . . are somehow non-responsive.” See Plaintiffs’ Submission, supra, at § B.2.d. That reasoning is flawed. First, it is not the case that every document withheld on deliberative process privilege grounds necessarily relates to “the formation and implementation of” the Mattis Policy. Second, because relevance is contextual, it matters whether a record is being considered for relevance as an attachment to a communication that is being produced, or on its own because the parent communication is privileged and not discoverable, as Plaintiffs claim to be the case for many of these documents. Despite asserting privilege over the parent document, Defendants individually reviewed the attachments to such communications to determine if privilege extended to the attachments and to consider whether, despite being attached to privileged materials, the attachments were responsive. If the parent document is eventually produced, the relevance of attachments may have to be reconsidered, see Fed. R. Evid. 106, but whether that reevaluation should occur hinges on the Ninth Circuit’s consideration of the mandamus petition that is now pending.

C. Plaintiffs’ “Responsive Families” and Metadata Arguments Are Without Merit

Given the flimsiness of Plaintiffs’ argument that Rule 26 requires production of these documents, Plaintiffs opened their submission with a broader, categorical argument about

1 relevance: that “all non-privileged documents in a family” should be produced when a member
2 of that family is deemed responsive, even if (as explained above) there would be no justification
3 for producing those documents in isolation. Plaintiffs’ Submission, supra, at § B.2.a. But the 4 key case this argument relies upon is not categorical. In Abu Dhabi, it was unclear whether the 5 plaintiff had reviewed attachments identified by defendants separately for relevance purposes
6 and decided to withhold them on that basis. Abu Dhabi Commercial Bank v. Morgan Stanley &
7 Co., 2011 WL 3738979, at *6 (S.D.N.Y. Aug. 18, 2011), adopted without objection, 2011 WL
8 3734236 (S.D.N.Y. Aug. 24, 2011). The Court ordered those unreviewed documents produced, 9 but reserved judgment on remaining attachments pending consideration of those records. Id. at 10 *8. The Special Master recognized that, “[c]onceptually, there is a good basis for considering 11 each item (each e-mail and each attachment) separately,” and that “if an e-mail attaches three 12 disparate items in one communication package, that does not mean that all three items relate to 13 the same thing or would be equally relevant to a discovery request.” Id. at *5. And he found that 14 “simply requiring [plaintiff] to produce all non-privileged attachments that were not produced
15 but were attached at some point in time to relevant e-mails that [plaintiff] has already produced 16 may be inefficient, and its benefit may not be justified by the burden and expense to Plaintiffs.”
17 Id. at *7. Although he recognized a “prevailing practice,” based on “anecdotal evidence and 18 secondary materials,” that parties should “produce any non-privileged attachment to an e-mail if 19 the e-mail is determined to be relevant,” that is clearly not a categorical rule, as the rest of the 20 order demonstrates. Id. at *5. Nothing in Abu Dhabi suggests that the relevance and 21 proportionality considerations of Rule 26(b) no longer apply when considering attachments.⁴

22 The limitations of Plaintiffs’ categorical rule become particularly apparent when 23 considering the documents at issue here. Read receipts, delivery notifications, and journal 24 reports have virtually negligible relevance, and do not need to be introduced to understand the 25 communications Defendants produced. Such an analysis is applicable to other types of

28 ⁴ Similarly, while the production specifications from DOJ’s Civil Division Plaintiffs cite in their submission are consistent with these general principles, that guidance does not stand for the proposition that the balancing test of Rule 26(b) requires production of all email attachments, in all circumstances, no matter their relevance.

1 attachments to relevant e-mails which Defendants already reviewed for responsiveness, as well.
2 As to attachments to e-mails withheld under a privilege assertion, which Plaintiffs claim
3 constitute many of the documents which concern them, Abu Dhabi only addressed “responsive,
4 non-privileged attachments to emails [the plaintiff] produced.” Abu Dhabi, 2011 WL 3738979
5 at *1 (emphasis added). It does not suggest that the non-responsive attachments to e-mails that 6 have been withheld for privilege are subject to production. Neither do the other cases Plaintiffs
7 rely upon. Sanchez Y Martin, S.A. de C.V. v. Dos Amigos, Inc., 2019 WL 581715, at *10–11
8 (ordering defendant to “reproduc[e] . . . emails with their attachments in consecutive order” and 9 holding that “emails produced in discovery should be accompanied by their attachments”); 10 Virco Mfg. Corp. v. Hertz Furniture Sys., 2014 WL 12591482, at *5–6 (granting defendants’ 11 motion to compel production of “attachments to emails that have previously been produced”).⁵
12 Again, if the communications to which these documents were attached are eventually produced, 13 the relevance determination may need to be reassessed to see if it is necessary to understand a 14 produced document. Fed. R. Evid. 106. But until such a production is made, there is no basis to 15 countermand Defendants prior determination of relevance.

16 Finally, Plaintiffs argue that the metadata Defendants have already provided shows that 17 many of the documents in question should be produced, either because “the email subject line or 18 file name explicitly refers to transgender military service or healthcare,” or because the 19 documents were shared among members of the Panels of Experts or those directly supporting 20 the Panel. Plaintiffs’ Submission, supra, at pt. B.2.b. But Plaintiffs again make no attempt to 21 show why this is “clear” from either the metadata accompanying Defendants’ production, or 22 from the supplemental explanations of non-responsiveness Defendants provided. Plaintiffs 23 concede that, despite the metadata, that “other documents not included within Plaintiffs’ 24 narrowed list are being properly withheld as nonresponsive.” Nonetheless, Plaintiffs would have 25 Defendants conduct a second responsiveness review of documents already so reviewed, in the

28 ⁵ The remaining cases Plaintiffs cite deal with the redaction of nonresponsive information from otherwise responsive records, which is not at issue here. Families for Freedom v. U.S. Customs & Border Prot., 2011 WL 4599592, at *2 (S.D.N.Y. Sept. 30, 2011) (FOIA); Doe v. Trump F.R.D. 262, 275–76 (W.D. Wash. 2018).

1 hope of identifying some marginally responsive document that, in any event, is not germane to 2 the legal question the Court must answer in this case. As the special master in Abu Dhabi
3 recognized, such a review risks being “inefficient” and “burdensome,” without conferring any 4 meaningful benefit on the Plaintiffs, particularly since Defendants already reviewed the 5 attachments for relevance (which was not true in the Abu Dhabi case). Abu Dhabi, 2011 WL
6 3738979, at *7.

7 For these reasons, the Court should not compel production of these documents.

8 PLAINTIFFS’ REPLY⁶

9 The Government fails to combat Plaintiffs’ arguments that the withheld documents are 10 responsive, and foregoes any attempt to meet its burden to specifically allege why additional 11 production would be unduly burdensome. Moreover, the Government misleadingly misquotes 12 Plaintiffs’ argument and misrepresents Plaintiffs’ efforts to facilitate progress and identify 13 withheld documents with obvious indicia of responsiveness. Because the withheld documents
14 are relevant and responsive, and their production would entail minimal effort and cost, the Court
15 should direct the production of all withheld documents produced to Plaintiffs as non-responsive 16 slipsheets.

17 A. The Government fails to combat the argument that the withheld read receipts are 18 responsive.

19 The Government asserts a strawman argument that the withheld read receipts, all of 20 which are related to responsive communications, are not responsive because Plaintiffs have not 21 questioned the soundness of the Government’s email system. As indicated by the cases cited by 22 Plaintiffs, courts regularly find read receipts relevant as to whether individuals reviewed emails, 23 absent disputes over the integrity of email systems. See Azeveda v. Comcast Cable Commc’ns
24 LLC, NO. 5:19-cv-01225-EJD, 2019 WL 5102607, at *7 (N.D. Cal. Oct. 11, 2019); Lee v.
25 Metro. Gov’t of Nashville & Davidson Cty., 432 F. App’x 435, 452 (6th Cir. 2011). The 26

27 ⁶ The issues addressed by the parties in this submission relate to global issues touching on each and every one of 28 Plaintiffs’ requests for production. Plaintiffs note that LCR 37(a)(2)(D), which sets a one-half page reply limit per disputed discovery request, does not anticipate such global submissions. In line with the intent of the rule, Plaintiffs have limited their contribution to this submission to twelve pages in accordance with LCR 37(a)(2)(E).

1 Government has not distinguished this case law.

2 The Government also fails to acknowledge the relevance of the withheld read receipts in 3 the context of the upcoming witness depositions. To the extent any of the Government's 4 witnesses deny or cannot recollect reviewing certain sent emails, read receipts and the like may 5 assist a witness's memory or combat a denial. Plaintiffs need not be required to, nor can they,
6 predict whether these read receipts are important because of their relation to a particular email 7 for a particular witness. The relevancy of these documents simply cannot be separated from 8 their parent communication.

10 B. The Government misrepresents Plaintiffs' efforts to build a non-exhaustive list of improperly withheld documents.

11 The Government egregiously misquotes Plaintiffs in an attempt to convince the Court
12 that Plaintiffs have conceded that certain non-responsive slipsheets are not relevant, rather than 13 accurately depict the parties' meet and confer history, during which Plaintiffs narrowed the list 14 of withheld documents in the hopes of facilitating progress. Plaintiffs' Submission, supra. The 15 Government writes, "Plaintiffs concede that, despite the metadata, that 'other documents not 16 included within Plaintiffs' narrowed list are being properly withheld as nonresponsive.'" Government's Submission, supra, at Section I.A. Yet this is entirely the opposite of what 17 Plaintiffs have repeatedly asserted in both their correspondence with the Government and this 18 very submission. Plaintiffs' Submission, supra, at Section I.B ("This is not to say that the other 19 documents not included within Plaintiffs' narrowed list are being properly withheld as non-20 responsive, but rather that Plaintiffs are unable to determine the documents' independent 21 relevance based on the information available to them." (emphasis added)). Plaintiffs' previous 22 communications with the Government have clearly conveyed Plaintiffs' position that the 23 narrowed list of withheld documents is not exhaustive, that it reflects Plaintiffs' best efforts to 24 work with the limited data available to them, that the presentation of the list does not waive the 25 Government's duty to produce all responsive documents, and that each of these withheld 26 documents is, in fact, relevant and responsive based on its association with a responsive record.
27 (See Barsanti Decl. ¶ 5, Ex. 3.) The Government's misleading quotation reflects not the clarity

1 of Plaintiffs' submission and these communications, but rather the Government's efforts to 2 avoid its obligations under discovery.

3 C. The withheld medical treatment plans for service members with gender dysphoria
4 bear numerous independent indicia of responsiveness.

5 The Government's now labors to argue that the withheld documents related to the 6 medical treatment of transgender individuals are somehow irrelevant and non-responsive. It
7 seems to willfully ignore the likelihood that service members' gender dysphoria medical 8 treatment plans—particularly those exchanged by members of or individuals supporting the 9 Panel of Experts and particularly those for which the Government claims DPP over the parent
10 email—are responsive to Plaintiffs' RFPs.

11 Similarly, with respect to the sampling of documents for which the Government 12 provided Plaintiffs' additional information, it summarily dismisses their relevance despite the 13 obvious relation to the claims at issue in this case. For example, the Government concludes 14 without support that a withheld document relating to the cost of a gender transition surgery is 15 non-responsive simply because it discusses private sector costs. Likewise, the Government
16 dismisses a withheld document discussing the coverage criteria for gender transition surgeries
17 of Cigna, a major insurance carrier. The Government does not and cannot explain why 18 documents related to the cost of gender transition surgeries or insurance coverage for such 19 surgeries are categorically non-responsive to Plaintiffs' RFPs simply because they focus on 20 private sector practices. In fact, this Court has previously determined that medical documents 21 are relevant to the formulation of the Mattis Policy. (Dkt. No. 412, Hr'g Tr. (Feb. 3, 2020) at 22 50:1–14.)

23 Bizarrely, the Government contends that the relevance of a document is contextual based 24 on whether or not its associated communications are being withheld for privilege or have been 25 produced. Notably the Government cites no authority for this illogical proposition. While the 26 associated communication may color or provide context to its attachments, which is precisely 27 Plaintiffs' point regarding the rule of completeness—Federal Rule of Evidence 106—an 28 attachment cannot suddenly be considered irrelevant because the parent communication is being

1 withheld for reasons other than relevance.

2 D. The Government puts forth no evidence regarding the burden of production.

3 Completely absent from the Government's submission is any information supporting its 4 argument that production of the withheld material would be burdensome, such as evidence of 5 the associated time or cost. The Government merely vaguely alludes to the burden of producing 6 read receipts, but as evidenced by the Government's own submission and previous 7 communications with Plaintiffs, it has already collected and reviewed the requested documents,
8 thus the burden of production is minimal at best. (Government's Submission, supra; Barsanti 9 Decl. ¶ 6, Ex. 4 (12/2/19 email).) This is in stark contrast to the case law cited by the 10 Government, Weidenhamer v. Expedia, Inc., in which the parties' dispute centered on the 11 burden of searching the accounts of an additional 170 entities that had not already been 12 collected and reviewed. No. C14-1239RAJ, 2015 WL 7158212, at *6 (W.D. Wash. Nov. 13, 13 2015).

14 Just as in the case of the withheld read receipts, the Government fails to provide specific 15 facts supporting the assertion that the production of the individual treatment plans would pose 16 an undue burden. The Government has already gathered the medical treatment plans at issue and 17 produced a slipsheet. As early as December 2, 2019, the Government's counsel reviewed the 18 withheld medical treatment plans. (See Barsanti Decl. ¶ 6, Ex. 4.) Furthermore, the 19 Government's submission and its discussion of individual documents within the withheld group
20 indicate that the Government further reviewed the documents. Government's Submission, 21 supra. The marginal cost and time associated with simply producing these documents are 22 negligible. Moreover, the Government unilaterally elected to withhold responsive documents 23 and produce a slipsheet, creating for itself any supposed burden. That the Government must 24 now go back and reproduce the actual documents instead of slipsheets is its own doing, and 25 should have no impact on Plaintiffs' ability to obtain the wrongfully withheld documents.

26 For all these reasons, the Government's burden arguments should be given no weight.
27 See e.g., Hawkins v. Kroger Co., No. 15cv2320-JM(BLM), 2019 WL 4416132, at *13 n.7 (S.D.
28 Cal. Sept. 16, 2019) (overruling a burden objection and finding that the objecting party failed to

1 “allege (1) specific facts, which indicate the nature and extent of the burden, usually by affidavit
2 or other reliable evidence,” and “(2) sufficient detail regarding the time, money and procedures
3 required to comply with the purportedly improper request”) (quoting Daisy Trust v. JP Morgan
4 Chase Bank, N.A., No. 2:13-cv-00966-RCJ-VCF, 2017 WL 3037427, at *2 (D. Nev. July 18, 5 2017)).

6 E. The Government’s mandamus petition does not apply here.

7 The Government once again confuses the issue and asserts that certain of these withheld
8 documents are subject to the mandamus petition pending before the Ninth Circuit. Not one of 9 the non-responsive withheld documents are withheld for privilege. The Government has never 10 claimed privilege over these documents, nor has it provided any associated privilege log 11 information. The Government has asserted DPP over other documents in these families—by the 12 Government’s own admission here, sometimes improperly. The Government strangely 13 acknowledges in its submission that it is withholding an email “for deliberative process 14 privilege that postdates the Panel’s deliberations. . . .” Government Submission, supra, at 15 Section I.B. As DPP does not protect post-deliberation communications, the Government should 16 produce the withheld email immediately. Aside from this admission, the documents actually 17 subject to DPP are not at issue here. Thus, the issues in the mandamus petition have no bearing 18 on this dispute, the requested documents are not subject to the Ninth Circuit’s administrative 19 stay, and Plaintiffs need not establish the Warner factors over these documents.

20 CONCLUSION

21 Because each of the documents withheld for non-responsiveness is a member of an 22 otherwise responsive family and therefore responsive, because thousands of the documents bear
23 independent indicia of responsiveness, and because the Government has failed to assert any 24 detail regarding the supposed burden of reproduction, Plaintiffs request the Court order the 25 Government to produce all documents previously withheld and produced to Plaintiffs only as 26 slipsheets bearing the text “Withheld for Non Responsiveness.”

[PROPOSED] ORDER GRANTING LCR
37 JOINT SUBMISSION REGARDING DOCUMENTS WITHHELD BY THE GOVERNMENT AS NON-RESPONSIVE

NOTE ON MOTION CALENDAR:
February 28, 2020

This matter comes before the Court on the foregoing LCR 37 Joint Submission Regarding Documents Withheld by the Government as Non-Responsive (the “Joint Submission”). The Court, having considered the parties’ arguments and finding good cause therefore, GRANTS Plaintiffs’ portion of the Joint Submission.

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED:

1. By March 6, 2020, the Government must produce all documents previously withheld as non-responsive and for which the Government produced a slipsheet with the text “Withheld for Non-Responsiveness.”

2. In future productions, where one document in a family is responsive, the Government must produce each and every non-privileged document in the family. The Government shall not slipsheet documents in responsive families as non-responsive.

IT IS SO ORDERED

Dated this _____ day of _____, 2020.

CASE NO. C17-1297 MJP

ORDER ON MOTION TO COMPEL
REGARDING THE GOVERNMENT'S WITHHELD COMMUNICATIONS WITH THIRD PARTIES

The above-entitled Court, having received and reviewed the LCR 37 Joint Submission Regarding the Government's Withheld Communications with Third Parties (Dkt. No. 440), the Government's Surreply to Plaintiffs' Reply (Dkt. No. 443), along with relevant portions of the record, rules as follows:

IT IS ORDERED that the Government's motion to strike Plaintiffs' reply for violation of LCR 37(a)(2) is DENIED.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the motion to compel the Government's Withheld Communication with Third Parties is GRANTED as follows:

(1) The Government will complete their review of the list of 487 individuals provided in Plaintiffs' December 13, 2019 letter, responding directly to Plaintiffs with information about individuals listed who are government officials; those individuals identified as government employees shall be identified by their employer and job title (as of the date of the communication). This review is to be completed and the information provided to Plaintiffs by March 14, 2020.

(2) For every individual for whom the Government intends to invoke a privilege under the consultant corollary exception, the Government will provide evidence in camera establishing that:

- a. The individual identified as a consultant was solicited to aid in the Government's decision-making process (i.e., the letter or email or other communication which solicited the individual's participation),
- b. The individual identified as a consultant was hired or solicited by the agency to provide neutral advice that did not represent an interest of its own or the interest of any other client upon providing the requested advice,
- c. The communications are otherwise covered by the deliberative process privilege (e.g., the communications with the consultant were pre-deliberative).

This evidence must be provided to the Court no later than March 14, 2020.

(3) Communications from all other third parties (those who are not identified as either consultants or government employees) shall be disclosed to Plaintiffs by no later than March 14, 2020.

Motion to strike

The Government moves, pursuant to LCR 37(a)(2)¹, to strike Plaintiffs’ reply section because it is three pages in length. The motion is denied.

The length of Plaintiffs’ reply appears necessitated by the obligation to respond substantively to the Government’s introduction of its intent to claim the “consultant corollary” exception as a privilege to withhold the production of documents. In the first place, the Court notes that the Government’s claim that it has “repeatedly and consistently maintained... that their confidential communications with non-government third parties are privileged, pursuant to the ‘consultant corollary’ doctrine” (Dkt. No. 440, LCR 37 Submission at 11) is unsupported by any citations to the record, and flatly contradicted both by Plaintiffs (“The Government has ... never formally invoke[ed] consultant corollary theory prior to this filing;” Id. at 24) and the Court’s own recollection. The consultant corollary doctrine is a substantive legal concept which the Government asserts but goes to no lengths to describe, necessitating an explanatory reply by Plaintiffs. Simply listing the elements of the privilege takes half a page.

Additionally, the Court notes that LCR 37 indicates: “The total text that each side may contribute to a joint LCR 37 submission shall not exceed twelve pages.” LCR 37(2)(E). Including their three-page reply, Plaintiffs’ total submission does not exceed twelve pages. The Court finds Plaintiffs’ pleadings within the spirit, if not the exact letter, of the rule. The motion to strike is denied.

Motion to Compel

The Court will not reiterate the lengthy procedural history that brings us to this juncture. The basic facts do not appear to be in dispute (even if the characterizations differ) and the Court

1 incorporates by reference the factual statements found in the LCR 37 joint submission. Dkt. No.
2 440 at 2-9, 12-18.

3 Plaintiffs seek by this motion an order requiring the Government to review the list of 487
4 potential third parties provided by Plaintiffs in their December 13, 2019 letter and, alternatively:

- 5 (1) Produce all communications with individuals who are confirmed to be third parties; or 6 (2) Require the Government to amend its privilege logs and provide declarations attesting to 7 the elements of the consultant corollary doctrine with respect to each third party for 8 whom communications continue to be withheld, produce all communications for non-9 consultant, non-government employed third parties, and identify the employer and job
10 title (as of the date of the communication) for all individuals designated as government 11 employees.

12 The Government seeks to shield its communications behind the “consultant corollary”
13 doctrine, which states that communications with third parties solicited by the Government to aid
14 in its decision-making process are privileged. All. For the Wild Rockies v. Pena, 2017 WL 15 8778579, at *4-5 (E.D. Wash. Dec. 12, 2017). Plaintiffs initially attempt to argue that the 16 consultant corollary exception has never been adopted by the Ninth Circuit, but the case which 17 they cite for that proposition (Rojas v. Fed. Aviation Admin., 927 F.3d 1046, 1054 (9th Cir.
18 2019)) has been granted an en banc rehearing and, by order of the Ninth Circuit, “shall not be 19 cited as precedent by or to any court of the Ninth Circuit.” Rojas v. FAA, 2020 U.S. App.
20 LEXIS 3042; ___ F.3d ___ (January 30, 2020).

21 The Court agrees with Plaintiffs, however, in the following regard: “[T]he Government 22 has done nothing to support the application of that doctrine here.” LCR 37 Memo at 23. The 23 Defendants are required to establish, for every third party claimed under the consultant corollary

1 doctrine, that (1) the third party was contacted to assist the agency in its decision-making
2 process; (2) “the consultant[] [was] hired or solicited by the agency to provide neutral advice and 3 did not... ‘represent . . . the interest of any other client, when it advise[d] the agency that hire[d]
4 it.’” (Friends of the Earth v. United States Army Corps of Eng'rs, 374 F. Supp. 3d 1045, 1054
5 (W.D. Wash. 2019))(quoting (Department of Interior v. Klamath Water Users Protective Ass'n, 6 532 U.S. 1, 11 (2001))); and (3) that any communications the Government seeks to protect are 7 indeed deliberative and pre-decisional.²

8 That is the burden the Government must discharge in order to successfully invoke the 9 consultant corollary privilege. Additionally, for any persons on the list claimed to be privileged 10 as government employees, the Government must produce evidence which identifies the employer
11 and job title (as of the date of the communication) for all individuals so designated. If it does not 12 go without saying, communications to any third party not falling into either the consultant or 13 government employee category must be turned over.

14 The Government must review the list of 487 names and (1) provide the information and 15 discovery relative to any invocation of the consultant corollary privilege described above to the 16 Court for in camera review; (2) provide the information relative to job title and employer of any 17 claimed government employee to Plaintiffs; and (3) produce all non-consultant, non-government 18 employee third party communications to Plaintiffs; all this must be accomplished by March 14, 19 2020.

23 ² The Court believes this should not be an overly-burdensome task for the Government, which presumably 24 performed a similar search and analysis in order to determine that the third-party communications could be withheld under the consultant corollary exception in the first place.

1 The clerk is ordered to provide copies of this order to all counsel.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
AT SEATTLE

RYAN KARNOSKI, et al.,

Plaintiffs,

v.

DONALD J TRUMP, et al.,

Defendants.

CASE NO. C17-1297 MJP

ORDER ON LCR 37 JOINT
SUBMISSION REGARDING DOCUMENTS WITHHELD BY THE GOVERNMENT AS NON-RESPONSIVE

The above-entitled Court, having received and reviewed the LCR 37 Joint Submission Regarding Documents Withheld by the Government as Non-Responsive (Dkt. No. 449), the Government's Surreply to Plaintiffs' Reply (Dkt. No. 452), all attached declarations and exhibits, along with relevant portions of the record, rules as follows:

IT IS ORDERED that the Government's motion to strike Plaintiffs' reply for violation of LCR 37(a)(2) is DENIED.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the motion to compel the production of documents withheld by the Government as non-responsive is GRANTED:

(1) The Government will produce, by March 14, 2020, all documents previously withheld from families of responsive documents and for which the Government produced a “Withheld for Non-responsiveness” slipsheet.

(2) Going forward, the Government will be required to produce every non-privileged document in a family of one or more responsive documents; the practice of inserting “non-responsiveness” slip sheets will be discontinued.

Motion to strike

The Government moves, pursuant to LCR 37(a)(2)¹, to strike Plaintiffs’ reply section because it is over-length. The motion is denied.

The rule permits “one half page for each reply” – although this is a unified pleading and Plaintiffs are requesting essentially a single remedy (production of the withheld documents), the motion spans multiple requests for production, each (as will be seen below) with their own separate issues and rationale for withholding. Plaintiffs could have brought separate motions for each of the discovery requests; they did the Court the courtesy of uniting them in a single pleading. The Court will permit Plaintiffs separate allocations of space for their reply to each of the issues, finding it inequitable and impractical to limit the entirety of their arguments to a half page only.

Additionally, the Court notes that LCR 37 indicates: “The total text that each side may contribute to a joint LCR 37 submission shall not exceed twelve pages.” LCR 37(2)(E). Including their reply, Plaintiffs’ total submission does not exceed twelve pages. The Court finds

Plaintiffs’ pleadings within the spirit, if not the exact letter, of the rule.² The motion to strike is denied.

Motion to Compel

This motion concerns the Government’s practice of withholding, on the grounds of “non-responsiveness,” documents which are part of an otherwise responsive “family group” of produced material; e.g., producing a responsive email, but withholding attachments to the email on grounds of “non-responsiveness.” See, e.g., Dkt. No. 450, Barsanti Decl. ¶ 2, Ex. 1.

The Federal Rules of Evidence favor the complete production of non-privileged evidence if some portion of the evidence is deemed responsive. (“If a party introduces all or part of a writing or recorded statement, an adverse party may require the introduction, at that time, of any other part – or any other writing or recorded statement – that in fairness ought to be considered at the same time.” FRE 106.) At least one court has found that the federal evidentiary rules create, at minimum, a “presumption... that if something was attached to a relevant e-mail, it is likely also relevant to the context of the communication.” Abu Dhabi Comm’l Bank v. Morgan Stanley & Co., No. 08 Civ. 7508(SAS), 2011 WL 3738979 at *5 (S.D.N.&. Aug. 18, 2011), adopted without objection, 2011 WL 3734236 (S.D.N.&. Aug 24, 2011).

To hold otherwise is to permit the producing party to essentially unilaterally redact otherwise responsive discovery. See Sanchez Y Martin, S.A. de C.V. v. Dos Amigos, Inc., 2019 WL 581715 at *11 (S.D. Cal. Feb. 13, 2019); Vireco Mfg. Corp. V. Hertz Furniture Sys., 2014 WL 12591482 at *5-6 (C.D. Cal. Jan. 21, 2014); Families for Freedom v. U.S. Customs & Border Prot., 2011 WL 4599592 at *5 (S.D.N.Y. Sept. 30, 2011)(“Context matters. The

1 attachments can only be fully understood and evaluated when read in the context of the emails to 2 which they are attached. That is the way they were sent and the way they were received. It is
3 also the way in which they should be produced.”)

4 In reviewing the documents provided to them by Plaintiffs which Plaintiffs believed
5 showed “obvious indicia of responsiveness,” the Government responded that “the vast majority
6 (...over 95%) of the documents with the extension .msg in the file name were Outlook delivery
7 or read receipts,” and argues then and now (without citation to authority or further explanation)
8 that such “delivery and read receipts are not responsive to any discovery request and are plainly 9 irrelevant to Plaintiffs’ claims.” Barsanti Decl., ¶ 6, Ex 4. This Court disagrees and joins a 10 plethora of other courts which have found that electronic read receipts have relevance on the 11 issue of whether someone received information which was sent (a highly relevant issue when 12 examining a witness at deposition or trial who denies or claims no recollection of having read a 13 particular communication). See Azeveda v. Comcast Cable Communic’s LLC, 2019 WL 14 5102607 at *2 (N.D. Cal. Oct. 11, 2019); Solomon v. Jacobson, 2016 WL 6156189 at *2 (C.D.
15 Cal. May 25, 2016); Metro Gov’t of Nashville v. Davidson Cty, 432 F.App’x 435, 452 (6th Cir.
16 2011).

17 A portion of the withheld material concerns service members’ gender dysphoria medical 18 treatment plans and documents related to the cost of gender transition surgeries or insurance 19 coverage for such surgeries. Regarding the individual treatment plans, Defendants object on the 20 grounds that they “have already produced or agreed to produce the inputs to the Panel of Experts
21 [involved in the formation and implementation of the Ban], including all deliberative documents
22 and communications related to the work of the Panel of Experts that were sent, received or 23 presented to any member of the Panel during the decision-making process.” Dkt. No. 449, LCR

37 Joint Submission at 12. But the documents which Plaintiffs received from Defendants and then reviewed were culled from “material reasonably related to the formation and implementation” of the Ban. Dkt. No. 371-1, 8/29/19 Easton Decl. (Plaintiffs describe them as “attachments to communications between individuals supporting the Panel and even member of the Panel itself.” LCR 37 Joint Submission at 7.) If individual treatment plans were transmitted to Panel members in advance of the creation of the Ban, they are relevant and responsive. Additionally, this Court has previously found that medical documents such as these are relevant to the formation of the policy. Dkt. No. 421, Hearing Transcript at 50:1-14.

Regarding the evidence (found in file names of withheld attachments, etc.) that documents related to the cost of gender transition surgeries or insurance coverage for such surgeries were withheld as “non-responsive,” the Government defends its decision by explaining that the documents related to the “private sector,” with no further explanation of how that renders them categorically non-responsive when it appears that they were considered in the formation and implementation of the Ban. If they were exchanged and analyzed in the course of developing the policy at issue in this lawsuit, they are relevant and responsive.

Defendants interpose, at several points in their argument, the FRCP 26 argument that the discovery requested by Plaintiffs is overly burdensome. The Court is not persuaded. In the first place, the Government makes no attempt to detail in what way the production of the withheld material would be burdensome (e.g., evidence of associated time or cost). As regards both the read receipts and individual treatment plans, it appears to the Court that the Government has already gathered the material, thus the burden of producing it should be relatively de minimis.

Conclusion

Defendants’ motion to strike is denied. Plaintiffs’ motion to compel the production of documents previously withheld by the Government as non-responsive is granted. The Government will produce, by March 14, 2020, all document previously withheld from families of responsive documents and for which the Government produced a “Withheld for Non-responsiveness” slipsheet. Going forward, the Government will be required to produce every non-privileged document in a family of one or more responsive documents; the practice of inserting “non-responsiveness” slip sheets will be discontinued.

The clerk is ordered to provide copies of this order to all counsel.

CONSENT MOTION FOR CLARIFICATION OR RECONSIDERATION

NOTED FOR CONSIDERATION:
March 13, 2020

On March 4, 2020, the Court entered an order directing Defendants, among other things, to “produce, by March 14, 2020, all documents previously withheld from families of responsive documents and for which the Government produced a ‘Withheld for Non-responsiveness’ slipsheet.” Dkt. 455 at 2. Defendants are complying with the Court’s order. By March 14, 2020, Defendants anticipate producing to Plaintiffs thousands of documents previously withheld as non-responsive. See Ex. A, Declaration of Robert Easton ¶ 7.

As Defendants have noted, a large proportion of these documents are non-substantive, such as journal reports automatically generated by Microsoft Outlook. See Dkt. 449 at 9. Some are also medical documents. Id. at 11. However, during the course of preparing these non-responsive family documents for production, Defendants have discovered that a small subset of the documents are subject to privilege. These privileged documents—which include attorney-client communications, attorney work product, pre-decisional Government deliberations, and advice to the President or his senior advisors—were generally not previously withheld for privilege. Easton Decl. ¶ 6. Instead, because the documents were coded as non-responsive, they were withheld on that basis. Id.

Defendants respectfully request that the Court clarify that its March 4, 2020 order does not require Defendants to produce non-responsive family documents that are subject to the attorney-client, work product, deliberative process, or presidential communications privileges.¹ Such documents understandably were not addressed in the Court’s order. And now that Defendants have discovered that these documents are privileged, the Court should clarify that its order does not require them to be produced at this time. Instead, the Court should make clear that Defendants are required to produce only the non-privileged non-responsive family documents, of which there are thousands. In the event that the Court’s order properly is read to compel disclosure of even privileged documents, Defendants request that the Court reconsider its order.

1 For each non-responsive family document that is subject to privilege, Defendants will
2 produce to Plaintiffs, by Friday, March 20, 2020, privilege logs explaining the privilege basis
3 and justification for the withholding.

4 Defendants have consulted with counsel for Plaintiffs and the State of Washington, and 5 both Plaintiffs and the State consent to this motion.

DECLARATION OF ROBERT E.
EASTON IN SUPPORT OF DEFENDANTS' MOTION FOR CLARIFICATION OR
RECONSIDERATION IN THE ALTERNATIVE

DECLARATION OF ROBERT E. EASTON

I, Robert E. Easton, do hereby declare as follows:

1. I currently serve as Director, Office of Litigation Counsel, in the Department of Defense ("DoD") Office of General Counsel ("OGC"). I have held this position since 2006. In this capacity, I supervise the conduct and oversight of litigation of Departmental significance, including matters involving senior DoD leaders, and coordinate litigation among the Military Departments, Defense Agencies, and Field Activities.

2. In the exercise of my official duties, I have been made aware of this lawsuit and the three other cases involving the DoD Policy on Military Service by Transgender Persons and Persons with Gender Dysphoria.

3. I submit this declaration in support of Defendants' Motion for Clarification of the Court's March 4, 2020 Order regarding documents withheld by the Government as non-responsive or in the alternative for reconsideration of that Order. Dkt. 455. I base this declaration on my personal knowledge and information made available to me in the performance of my official duties.

4. The Court's Order requires the Department of Defense to "produce, by March 14, 2020 all documents previously withheld from families of responsive documents and for which the Government produced a 'Withheld for Non-responsiveness' slipsheet." Id. at 2.

5. As explained in detail in a previous declaration,¹ DoD conducted a thorough and in-depth search and collection of files and documents potentially relevant to the claims and defenses in response to this and the three other lawsuits challenging DoD's policies regarding military service by transgender individuals and individuals with gender dysphoria. This process involved identifying custodians likely to have relevant information and working with them and DoD information technology personnel to gather these records. Once the responsive information was gathered, both through digital collections at the server level and with supplemental self-collections, the records were sent to Department of Justice ("DOJ") attorneys for processing in their eDiscovery software, Relativity. This information was then organized within Relativity as it was collected and as it would appear in the ordinary course of business—by DoD or Military Service component and custodian. After the data were de-duplicated and batched, DoD's responsiveness and privilege review began.

6. Reviewers were trained on the review process, responsiveness, privilege, and how to code documents in Relativity. They were further informed that responsiveness and privilege determinations should be made in succession while reviewing a document and should be completed before moving to the next document unless there were questions. Privilege determinations were made only after a document was determined to be responsive. When a document was determined to be non-responsive, it was marked accordingly and no privilege determination was made.

7. In response to the Court's Order of March 4, 2020, attorneys from my office and DOJ identified approximately 10,878 documents previously withheld from families of responsive documents and for which the Government produced a "Withheld for Non-responsiveness" slipsheet. Of those documents, approximately 10,552 are not privileged and will be released in full pursuant to the Court's Order. In addition, attorneys have identified approximately 61 documents that are properly subject to the attorney-client privilege or attorney work product doctrine and approximately five documents subject to the presidential communications privilege. Further, attorneys have identified approximately 260 documents containing deliberations on matters wholly unrelated to the Department's current or previous policies on transgender service members and service members diagnosed with gender dysphoria. For example, some documents marked as non-responsive contain deliberations on the Department's Military Accessions Vital to National Interest Program ("MAVNI"), a program whereby the Secretary of Defense authorizes the Military Services to recruit certain non-citizens whose skills are considered to be important to national security. These documents are properly subject to the deliberative process privilege. In all instances where DoD now claims a privilege over a particular document or portion of a document previously marked as non-responsive, the claim of privilege will be expressly made on a privilege log that Defendants will produce to Plaintiffs by March 20, 2020.

Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746, I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

EXECUTED this 13th day of March 2020, in Arlington, VA.

CASE NO. C17-1297 MJP

ORDER ON AGREED MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION OF
ORDER ON MOTION TO COMPEL
(DKT. NO. 455)

THIS MATTER comes before the Court on the Parties' Agreed Motion for Clarification or Reconsideration of the Court's March 4, 2020 Order (Dkt. No. 455). (Dkt. No. 463.) Having reviewed the Motion and the related record, the Court GRANTS the Motion.

The Court's Order granted the Plaintiffs' motion to compel the production of documents Defendants previously withheld as non-responsive although part of a family that included responsive documents. (Dkt. No. 455 at 2.) While these documents were withheld as non-responsive, Defendants now assert that "during the course of preparing these non-responsive family documents for production, Defendants have discovered that a small subset of the documents are subject to privilege." (Dkt. No. 463 at 2.) Defendants now ask the Court to

1 clarify that its Order does not require privileged documents to be produced. (Id.) Defendants'
2 Motion is GRANTED; Defendants are not required to produce privileged documents. The Court
3 therefore ORDERS Defendants to:

- 4 (1) Produce privilege logs to Plaintiffs and the Court specific to the privileged 5 documents Defendants discovered while preparing the family of documents for 6 production. The privilege logs must describe: (a) each and every privilege asserted
7 for these documents and (b) an explanation for why Defendant believes each 8 privilege applies to each document or class of documents. The privilege logs shall be 9 produced by Friday March 20, 2020;
- 10 (2) Produce the privileged documents to the Court for in camera review by Friday 11 March 27, 2020.

13 The clerk is ordered to provide copies of this order to all counsel.

CASE NO. C17-1297 MJP

ORDER REQUIRING ADDITIONAL INFORMATION TO COMPLETE IN CAMERA
PRIVILEGE REVIEW RE DOCUMENTS WITHHELD AS NON-RESPONSIVE (DKT. NOS.
449, 455, 464)

THIS MATTER comes before the Court pursuant to the Defendants' submission of documents for in camera review following the Court's March 17, 2020 Order granting the Parties' agreed Motion for Clarification or Reconsideration. (Dkt. No. 464, 467.) Finding that Defendants' submissions make the Court's in camera review unnecessarily difficult, the Court ORDERS Defendants to file the following documents by May 1, 2020:

- (1) The "root" documents to which the claimed privileged family documents were attached;
- (2) A privilege log that contains the document number of the root document, matching it with the corresponding document number of the family documents submitted for in

1 camera review. This log will also contain the corresponding “PrivWithhold” page ranges
2 of the documents submitted for in camera review.

3 Background

4 On March 4, 2020 the Court ordered Defendants to produce documents withheld on the 5 grounds of “non-responsiveness” which are part of an otherwise responsive “family group” of 6 produced material; e.g., Defendants produced a responsive email, but withheld attachments to the 7 email on grounds of “non-responsiveness.” (Dkt. No. 455 at 3.) On March 13, 2020, the 8 Defendants submitted a Motion for Reconsideration, informing the Court that “during the course
9 of preparing these non-responsive family documents for production, Defendants have discovered
10 that a small subset of the documents are subject to privilege.” (Dkt. No. 463 at 2.) The Court
11 granted the Motion, clarifying that Defendants are not required to produce privileged documents.
12 (Dkt. No. 464.) To evaluate the Defendants’ new privilege claims, the Court ordered Defendants 13 to produce privilege logs describing each and every privilege asserted and an explanation for 14 why the Defendants believe each privilege applies. (Id. at 2.) The Court also ordered
15 Defendants to produce the privileged documents for in camera review. (Id.)

16 The Court now finds that Defendants’ privilege log and production lack certain 17 information to facilitate in camera review. (Dkt. Nos. 465, 467.) In reviewing the family group 18 of documents submitted for in camera review, the Court has discovered that Defendants failed to 19 produce the underlying root document to which the family documents were attached. Thus, the 20 Court is unable to conduct a complete review of the issue of compliance and privilege review. In 21 addition, each page of the family documents submitted for in camera review bears a sequentially
22 numbered “Priv.Withhold” page number. However, the privilege log does not contain a column
24

1 with a “PrivWithhold” page range. Because the privilege log is 57 pages long, the lack of 2 reference to the sequential “PrivWithhold” page range makes review unduly difficult.

3 Conclusion

4 Accordingly, the Court ORDERS Defendants to produce by May 1, 2020: (1) the “root”
5 documents to which the claimed privileged family documents were attached, and (2) a revised 6 privilege log that includes the document number of the root document and the corresponding 7 document number of the family documents submitted for in camera review. The privilege log
8 should also include the “PrivWithhold” page ranges of the documents submitted for in camera
9 review. Further, any future privilege logs for documents withheld based upon an assertion of 10 privilege will contain a column designated “PrivWithhold” which will identify the page range of 11 any documents withheld pursuant to a claim of privilege.

LCR 37 JOINT SUBMISSION
REGARDING DEFENDANTS' DELIBERATIVE PROCESS PRIVILEGE CLAIMS

NOTE ON MOTION CALENDAR:
May 5, 2020

PLAINTIFFS' OPENING STATEMENT

Plaintiffs are the moving party for this submission. Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26 and 53, and Local Rule 37, Plaintiffs request that the Court order the Special Master to conduct an in camera review of a random sample of 350 documents withheld solely on the basis of the deliberative process privilege and identify any documents as to which he believes the Government erroneously claimed privilege.¹ The parties have met and conferred in good faith several times over the course of many months in an attempt to resolve their disputes about the Government's deliberative process privilege claims. The parties remain at an impasse over whether the Government's privilege claims are impermissibly overbroad and asserted as to documents for which there is no colorable claim of privilege. Thus, this dispute is ripe for resolution by the Court and Special Master. Plaintiffs respectfully request that the Court grant Plaintiffs' motion.

A. Procedural History

Over the course of two years, the parties have spilled substantial ink—and the Court has invested a substantial amount of its time—addressing the Government's assertion of the deliberative process as a basis to withhold tens of thousands of responsive documents. (See Dkt. Nos. 245, 266, 273, 299, 364, 380, 385, 394, 398, 399, 408, 410, 434, 454, 469, 476.) As Plaintiffs have chipped away at certain aspects of the Government's privilege claims and finally seen some of the documents the Government has been withholding based on deliberative process privilege, they have grown increasingly concerned that the Government has been broadly misapplying the privilege to documents for which there is no colorable claim of privilege.

The Government recently produced over 300 documents previously withheld on the basis of the deliberative process privilege. (Dkt 472.) After reviewing those documents, Plaintiffs identified dozens of documents for which no colorable claim of privilege exists, because the documents are post-decisional, non-deliberative, or both. This includes numerous communications about news articles covering transgender military service that do not contain any conceivable policy deliberations (e.g., Dkt. 473, Exs. 1–10); talking points or preparation notes for teleconferences, interviews, or confirmation hearings that do not reflect policymaking (e.g., id., Exs. 11–18); post-decisional and nondeliberative documents about the Carter Policy (e.g., id., Exs. 19–25); and emails/invitations regarding speeches and events (e.g., id. Exs. 26–27).

On April 9, 2020, the Court appointed retired United States Magistrate Judge James P. Donohue as Special Master to “assist the Court in reviewing Defendants’ privilege assertions” and “identify to the Court those documents over which he believes the Defendants erroneously made privilege assertions.” (Dkt. 479 at 3-4.)

B. Legal Standard

“Like all evidentiary privileges that derogate a court’s inherent power to compel the production of relevant evidence, the deliberative process privilege is narrowly construed.” Greenpeace v. Nat’l Marine Fisheries Serv., 198 F.R.D. 540, 543 (W.D. Wash. 2000). “The initial burden of establishing the applicability of the privilege is on the government.” Id.; accord Thomas v. Cate, 715 F. Supp. 2d 1012, 1019 (E.D. Cal. 2010); N. Pacifica, LLC v. City of Pacifica, 274 F. Supp. 2d 1118, 1122 (N.D. Cal. 2003).

“A document must meet two requirements for the deliberative process privilege to apply. First, the document must be predecisional—it must have been generated before the adoption of an agency’s policy or decision.” F.T.C. v. Warner Commc’ns Inc., 742 F.2d 1156, 1161 (9th Cir. 1984). “Material which predates a decision chronologically, but did not contribute to that decision, is not predecisional in any meaningful sense.” Assembly of State of Cal. v. U.S. Dep’t of Commerce, 968 F.2d 916, 921 (9th Cir. 1992). “Second, the document must be deliberative in nature, containing opinions, recommendations, or advice about agency policies. Purely factual material that does not reflect deliberative processes is not protected.” Warner, 742 F.2d at 1161 (internal citation omitted). “The key inquiry in determining whether particular information is ‘deliberative’ is whether disclosure of the information would expose the decision making process in such a way as to discourage candid discussion within the agency and thereby undermine the agency’s ability to perform its functions.” Thomas v. Cate, 715 F. Supp. 2d at 1019. Moreover,

1 “the deliberative process privilege does not protect documents in their entirety; if the government
2 can segregate and disclose non-privileged factual information within a document, it must.”
3 Karnoski v. Trump, 926 F.3d 1180, 1204 (9th Cir. 2019).

4 Last week, Magistrate Judge Copperthite in Stone v. Trump ordered the Government to 5 produce nearly the same categories of documents that this Court ordered produced in February,
6 and in doing so, explained the metes and bounds of the deliberative process privilege:

7 The takeaway from the language here is that it is the deliberative process itself
8 that is being protected, not the documents which are a byproduct of that process.
9 Further, the privilege covers opinions, it does not cover facts. In application, it
10 is not how the opinion was formed that is protected (the facts). It is the generated 11 opinion itself. The facts relied upon as well as the facts regarding the process are 12 not protected by the privilege. So by way of example, the factual information 13 provided to the decisionmakers along with how those facts came to exist and 14 how they were applied (absent the opinion itself) remain outside the scope of the 15 privilege. Did the President tweet his ban without factual support? Were there 16 truly no Generals or experts consulted? Did the President give his own
17 “marching orders” or in this case, non-marching orders to deny transgender 18 service? What was relied upon and what was the true impetus of the ultimate 19 ban? These are critical areas that are of great value in determining the outcome 20 of these constitutional challenges.

21 Stone v. Trump, No. CV GLR-17-2459, 2020 WL 1820082, at *3 (D. Md. Apr. 9, 2020) (internal 22 citations omitted). Plaintiffs believe the Government has misapplied these standards and 23 improperly withheld a significant volume of documents from production.

24 PLAINTIFFS’ ARGUMENT

25 The Government bears the burden to demonstrate that the deliberative process privilege
26 applies to each responsive document it has withheld from production. See, e.g., Greenpeace, 198
27 F.R.D. at 543. But as its recent production of previously-withheld documents confirm, it has 28 misapplied the privilege in many instances, including to plainly non-privileged information, such as news reports and post-decisional explanations of policies. Further inquiry is therefore warranted and indeed necessary to test the Government’s exceptionally broad—and now suspect—privilege claims.

Where, as here, the government has asserted the deliberative process privilege over a large volume of documents, courts frequently rely on an in camera review of a random sample of documents to determine whether the privilege has been appropriately invoked. See, e.g., Harrison v. Shanahan, No. 118CV641LMBIDD, 2019 WL 2216474, at *1 (E.D. Va. May 22, 2019) (conducting an “in camera review of a random selection” of documents withheld under the deliberative process privilege and finding the government had “asserted the privilege to at least some documents and portions thereof in an undifferentiated and untailored manner”); Coleman v. Schwarzenegger, No. C01-1351 TEH, 2008 WL 4415324, at *3 (N.D. Cal. Sept. 25, 2008) (affirming magistrate judge’s in camera review of a “randomly-drawn sample” of 313 documents withheld under the deliberative process privilege).

That approach is appropriate here. Plaintiffs respectfully move the Court to issue an Order:

1. Directing the Special Master to conduct an in camera review of a random sample of 350 documents from the Government’s privilege logs withheld solely on the basis of the deliberative process privilege. Plaintiffs will use a Relativity randomization algorithm to select the documents and will identify them for the Government within two business days of the Court’s Order, should it grant this Motion.
2. Within three business days of receiving the list of 350 documents from Plaintiffs, the Government shall produce the documents to the Court and Special Master in camera.
3. Following his review, the Special Master shall recommend to the Court (1) a list of those documents for which he finds the privilege has been improperly invoked (List 1), and (2) a list of those documents for which he finds the Government has validly asserted the privilege (List 2).
4. Each party shall have one week (seven calendar days) to file objections to the Special Master’s recommendations, and the opposing party will have three business days to respond
5. Consistent with the Court’s appointment of the Special Master (Dkt. 479), the Court shall review the Special Master’s determinations de novo. For those documents in List 2—those which the Government has validly asserted the privilege—the Court shall separately determine if the privilege has been overcome pursuant to the Warner factors.

- 1 6. The Court shall issue an Order identifying (a) those documents for which the 2 deliberative process privilege has been improperly invoked, (b) those documents for 3 which the privilege has been overcome pursuant to the Warner factors, and (c) those 4 documents that are properly withheld pursuant to the privilege.
- 5 7. Each party shall have one week (seven calendar days) to file a motion to reconsider
6 the Court's ruling and/or object to the production of any document the Court finds 7 should be produced, and the opposing party shall have three business days to respond.
- 8 8. The Government shall produce all documents, if any, which the Court orders 9 produced within one week after the Court's initial Order or Order on a motion to 10 reconsider, whichever is later.

11 If this review confirms Plaintiffs' fears that the Government has been improperly invoking 12 the privilege over documents to which it does not apply, the Court's orders above could provide 13 the basis for a further motion (and order) that the Government promptly review its privilege
14 claims as to the remaining documents withheld solely on the basis of the deliberative process
15 privilege and, on a rolling basis, produce any documents as to which the privilege is no longer
16 claimed, with the Special Master to conduct an in camera review of any documents as to which 17 the Government continues to claim the privilege. Plaintiffs respectfully submit that the above
18 process will efficiently assess the Government's broad application of the deliberative process 19 privilege and bring this long-lasting dispute to an end.

20 DEFENDANTS' OPENING STATEMENT²

21 Plaintiffs have made no showing that Defendants are "broadly misapplying" the 22 deliberative process privilege. Pls.' Statement 1. To the contrary, throughout this case, 23 Defendants have properly applied the privilege in conducting its review of documents. Plaintiffs 24 contend otherwise only by taking an overly constricted view of the privilege that misreads or 25 ignores applicable case law.

26 Plaintiffs point to a set of documents that they assert were improperly withheld. Pls.'

27 _____
28 ² The expedited procedures of Local Rule 37(a)(2) for resolving discovery disputes are only available upon
 "agreement" of the parties. Defendants have not given their consent to the expedited procedures and reiterate their objection to Plaintiffs' use of Local Rule 37(a)(2) without their consent.

Statement 1–2. But case law demonstrates that most of the documents identified by Plaintiffs in fact were properly withheld as deliberative. There is no need to review a random sample when Plaintiffs’ own handpicked examples do not show systematic discovery errors. And even if Plaintiffs were correct that their chosen documents should not have been withheld in the first instance (they are not), those documents amount to only a handful of the more than 1,500 deliberative documents that have been produced over the past year. After nearly two and a half years of discovery, the evidence Plaintiffs proffer of a purportedly misapplied privilege instead demonstrates that sampling and in camera review are neither necessary nor appropriate.

In any event, the Ninth Circuit has issued an administrative stay of the Court’s prior orders, which required production of nearly all deliberative documents still withheld in this case. To now conduct in camera review and potentially order production of nearly the same documents would circumvent the Ninth Circuit’s stay. Plaintiffs request that this Court disregard the Ninth Circuit’s stay should be rejected and Plaintiffs’ motion should be denied.

DEFENDANTS’ ARGUMENT

I. Defendants Have Properly Applied the Deliberative Process Privilege.

Contrary to Plaintiffs’ contention, Defendants have not broadly misapplied the deliberative process privilege. Pls.’ Statement 1. Rather, throughout this case, Defendants have endeavored to apply the privilege correctly according to applicable standards. Plaintiffs, on the other hand, have taken a cramped view of the privilege that is inconsistent with the case law in this and other circuits. As a result, Plaintiffs have failed to establish why a sampling review by this Court is warranted.

a. Plaintiffs Misread or Ignore Applicable Case Law.

In support of their argument that Defendants have consistently misapplied the deliberative process privilege, Plaintiffs point to 27 documents recently produced in discovery. See Dkt. 473, Exhs. 1–27. Out of these 27 documents, 26 were documents that Defendants previously withheld pursuant to the deliberative process privilege but subsequently disclosed.³ Plaintiffs’ assertion ³ Plaintiffs incorrectly assert that USDOE00132843_001 was previously withheld on the basis of the deliberative process privilege. See Dkt. 473, Exh. 27. That document, which contains a digital map screenshot showing the location of a foreign official’s residence, was previously withheld for non-responsiveness, not for privilege.

1 that there is “no colorable claim of privilege” as to these documents is rooted in an incorrect
2 understanding of applicable case law. Pls.’ Statement 1.

3 “To fall within the deliberative process privilege, a document must be both ‘predecisional’
4 and ‘deliberative.’” Carter v. Commerce, 307 F.3d 1084, 1089 (9th Cir. 2002). A “predecisional”
5 document is one that was “prepared in order to assist an agency decisionmaker in arriving at his 6 decision.” Id (citations omitted). Such documents may include “recommendations, draft
7 documents, proposals, suggestions, and other subjective documents which reflect the personal
8 opinions of the writer rather than the policy of the agency.” Id. (citations omitted). A 9 predecisional document is “deliberative” if disclosure of the document “would expose an 10 agency’s decisionmaking process in such a way as to discourage candid discussion within the 11 agency and thereby undermine the agency’s ability to perform its functions.” Id. (citations 12 omitted).

13 In applying these standards, the Ninth Circuit employs a “process-oriented” or “functional”
14 test, in which a document need not be deliberative in itself “in the sense that [it] make[s]
15 nonbinding recommendations on law or policy” to be subject to the privilege. Nat’l Wildlife
16 Fed’n v. U.S. Forest Serv., 861 F.2d 1114, 1119 (9th Cir. 1988). The Ninth Circuit thus rejects a 17 strict distinction between “factual” materials and “deliberative” materials. Id. Instead, any 18 document that is “a part of the deliberative process” and whose disclosure would expose that 19 process is covered by the privilege, even if the information contained therein is factual or 20 otherwise does not contain a “recommendation.”⁴ See id. at 1118–19. Plaintiffs’ misunderstand 21 this case law in several ways.

22 First, Plaintiffs fail to appreciate that draft documents and communications concerning 23 draft documents are core to the Ninth Circuit’s understanding of the deliberative process

25 ⁴ Plaintiffs cite a recent Magistrate Judge decision in the related case Stone v. Trump, 2020 WL 1820082 (D. Md.
26 Apr. 9, 2020), as evidence of the “metes and bounds” of the privilege. Pls.’ Statement 3. But the Magistrate Judge in 27 Stone relied on a distinction between factual and deliberative information that is inconsistent with the approach
28 taken in the Ninth Circuit. Compare id. at *3 (“[T]he privilege covers opinions, it does not cover facts”); with Nat’l Wildlife Fed’n, 861 F.2d at 1119 (holding that application of the privilege “should not turn on whether we label the contents of a document ‘factual’ as opposed to ‘deliberative’”). In addition, the Government has moved to stay the Stone Magistrate Judge’s decision and has filed objections with the district court. Stone v. Trump, No. CV GLR-17-2459 (D. Md.), Dkts. 301–302.

1 privilege. The Ninth Circuit specifically holds that the deliberative process privilege covers “all
2 recommendations, draft documents, proposals, suggestions and other subjective documents
3 which reflect the personal opinions of the writer rather than the policy of the agency, as well as 4 documents which would inaccurately reflect or prematurely disclose the views of the agency.”
5 Nat’l Wildlife Fed’n, 861 F.2d at 1118–19 (emphasis added) (citation omitted). This includes 6 draft documents containing “line edits, marginal comments, or other written material that expose
7 [] internal agency discussion.” Sierra Club, Inc. v. U.S. Fish & Wildlife Serv., 925 F.3d 1000, 8 1017 (9th Cir. 2019). Several of the 26 documents identified by Plaintiffs contain drafts that 9 unquestionably are covered by the deliberative process privilege. See, e.g., Dkt. 473, Exhs. 19– 10 21, 23.

11 Plaintiffs assert that these documents are “post-decisional.” Pls.’ Statement 1–2. But a draft
12 document, by its very nature, precedes the final version of the document at issue. See Agility
13 Public Warehousing Co. v. DoD, 110 F. Supp. 3d 215, 221 (D.D.C. 2015) (“[D]raft documents, 14 by their very nature, are typically predecisional and deliberative.” (citation omitted)). Drafts also 15 reflect the agency’s editorial judgments about the document in question—judgments which are 16 squarely deliberative. See Nat’l Wildlife, 861 F.2d at 1122 (“To the extent that [the requester]
17 seeks through its [] request to uncover any discrepancies between the findings, projections, and 18 recommendations between the draft[s] prepared by lower-level [agency] personnel and those 19 actually adopted, . . . it is attempting to probe the editorial and policy judgments of the 20 decisionmakers.”); Dudman Commc’ns Corp. v. Dep’t of Air Force, 815 F.2d 1565, 1569 (D.C.
21 Cir. 1987) (“[T]he disclosure of editorial judgments—for example, decisions to insert or delete
22 material or to change a draft’s focus or emphasis—would stifle the creative thinking and candid 23 exchange of ideas necessary to produce good historical work.”). Defendants’ application of the 24 deliberative process privilege to documents containing drafts was proper.

25 Second, Plaintiffs incorrectly attempt to draw a distinction between deliberations directly 26 relating to “policy” or “policymaking,” and other types of deliberations, such as 27 “communications about news articles” or “talking points or preparation notes for 28 teleconferences, interviews, or confirmation hearings.” Pls.’ Statement 2. The case law, however, expressly rejects this distinction. A document need not directly concern development of agency “policy” in order to be covered by the privilege. See Nat’l Wildlife Fed’n, 861 F.2d at 1118 (rejecting argument that deliberations had to contain “non-binding recommendations on law or policy” in order to be protected by the privilege); Ctr. for Biological Diversity v. Norton, 2002 WL 32136200, at *2 (D. Ariz. July 24, 2002) (holding that argument that the “privilege is limited to protecting only agency processes in which ‘policy’ is formulated, is inconsistent with Ninth Circuit precedent”). As just one example, in Maricopa Audubon Soc’y v. U.S. Forest Serv., 108 F.3d 1089 (9th Cir. 1997), the Ninth Circuit upheld the withholding of “portions of a letter from” an official accused of “illegal and unethical management” of a Forest Service office, who was “respond[ing] to the allegations that triggered the inquiry.” Id. at 1091. The document was deliberative, even though the official was not offering recommendations directly concerning a “policy” matter (such as management of national forests). Instead, he was “fighting to preserve his job and reputation” by offering his “candid and confidential responses . . . to the head of his agency in order to rebut the charges made against him.” Id. at 1095.

Other courts similarly conclude that documents are protected where they do not directly relate to so-called “policy” matters, and instead concern matters such as how best to advocate for a legislative proposal before Congress, how to manage public opinion, or how to respond to a media report. See, e.g., Access Reports v. DOJ, 926 F.2d 1192, 1196 (D.C. Cir. 1991) (memorandum contributing to the agency’s study of how to “shepherd [a] bill through Congress” was part of a protectable decisionmaking process); Nielsen v. U.S. Bureau of Land Mgmt., 252 F.R.D. 499, 522 (D. Minn. 2008) (protecting documents involving “how to address the possible public perception” of certain contemplated agency actions); CREW v. DOL, 478 F. Supp. 2d 77, 83 (D.D.C. 2007) (email conversation regarding possible response to media article was predecisional and deliberative).

Indeed, a litany of judicial decisions hold that briefing materials and talking points to prepare agency officials for interactions with the press, public, and/or Members of Congress are squarely covered by the privilege, whether in draft or final form. See, e.g., Protect Democracy Project, Inc. v. DoD, 320 F. Supp. 3d 162, 176–77 (D.D.C. 2018) (concluding that talking points

1 “designed to assist Executive Branch officials in responding to inquiries from the press and from 2 Congress” were “predecisional and deliberative” because “[r]evealing their contents would 3 expose the process by which agency officials crafted a strategy for responding to the press and to 4 Congress”); Competitive Enter. Inst. v. EPA, 12 F. Supp. 3d 100, 120 (D.D.C. 2014) (holding 5 that internal agency communications discussing “how to communicate with members of 6 Congress . . . and how to prepare for potential points of debate” are privileged (citation omitted));
7 ACLU v. DHS, 738 F. Supp. 2d 93, 112 (D.D.C. 2010) (“talking points” are pre-decisional and 8 deliberative; the “document itself suggests that a public statement was anticipated at the time of 9 its creation, and given that no official statement has yet been made, the talking points remain ripe
10 recommendations that are ready for adoption or rejection by the Department”).

11 Further, it is immaterial whether the talking points or briefings concern a policy that has 12 already been decided or promulgated, because such materials still precede the agency’s decision
13 about how to interact with the press, public and/or legislators. See Protect Democracy Project, 14 320 F. Supp. 3d at 177 (“[C]ourts have generally found that documents created in anticipation of 15 press inquiries are protected even if crafted after the underlying event about which the press
16 might inquire”). Judicial Watch, Inc. v. DHS, 880 F. Supp. 2d 105, 111–12 (D.D.C. 2012) 17 (holding that “discussions relating to how to respond to press inquiries are covered by the 18 deliberative process privilege” even where the “documents are created after the underlying 19 policy they discuss is finalized” because they “are generated as part of a continuous process of 20 agency decision making, viz., how to respond to on-going inquiries.”).

21 Many of the 26 documents identified by Plaintiffs contain opinions about how to interact 22 with members of the press or congress, or briefing materials or talking points. See, e.g., Dkt. 473, 23 Exhs. 2–7, 9–13, 18, 25. Although these documents do not contain so-called “policy”
24 recommendations, they nonetheless fall comfortably within the scope of the privilege.

25 Third, Plaintiffs appear to contend that documents post-dating the release of either the 26 Carter policy or Mattis policy cannot be pre-decisional. Pls.’ Statement 2. But “documents dated 27 after [a decision was made] may still be predecisional and deliberative with respect to other,
28 nonfinal agency policies[.]” Judicial Watch, Inc. v. FDA, 449 F.3d 141, 151 (D.C. Cir. 2006);

1 see also Judicial Watch, Inc. v. DHS, 841 F. Supp. 2d 142, 162 (D.D.C. 2012) (“[E]ven
2 documents dated after a decision has been made may still be eligible for protection under the 3 deliberative process privilege.”). For example, deliberations postdating a particular policy can 4 relate to later decisions about how to execute or modify that policy, and thus can be protected.
5 See Lahr v. Nat’l Transp. Safety Bd., 569 F.3d 964, 981 (9th Cir. 2009) (“[A]n agency’s issuance
6 of a ‘final decision’ with respect to a particular issue does not necessarily preclude the agency
7 from withholding documents prepared in a subsequent evaluation of the question . . .”); Bloche v.
8 DoD, 279 F. Supp. 3d 68, 83 (D.D.C. 2017) (concluding that DoD’s discussion of “how [a]
9 current policy is implemented and potential recommendations for changes are properly 10 characterized as predecisional and deliberative”).

11 In addition, documents post-dating a decision also properly fall under the deliberative
12 process privilege “when they recount or reflect pre-decisional deliberations.” Judicial Watch, 13 841 F. Supp. 2d at 163. In such instance, although the document itself may post-date the 14 decision, the deliberations recounted or reflected within the document are considered “pre-15 decisional” because they took place prior to the decision at issue. See, e.g., North Dartmouth 16 Properties, Inc. v. HUD, 984 F. Supp. 65, 68 (D. Mass. 1997) (holding that email that 17 “essentially re-state[d]” discussions had prior to the agency’s final decision were properly 18 withheld despite the email post-dating the decision). In light of the above principles, Plaintiffs 19 are incorrect that documents post-dating the release of either the Carter policy or Mattis policy 20 cannot be privileged.

21 In short, there is no basis to conclude that defendants have misapplied the deliberative 22 process privilege. Instead, it is Plaintiffs who misapprehend the proper scope of the privilege in 23 protecting confidential agency deliberations. Plaintiffs request for in camera review of a sample 24 of deliberative documents should thus be denied.

25 b. Plaintiffs Assert A Negligible Error Rate.

26 Even if, arguendo, Plaintiffs were correct that Defendants misapplied the privilege as to 27 the 26 documents they identify, that still would not demonstrate any systematic error on the part 28 of Defendants. Due to court orders and Defendants’ voluntary waivers of privilege, Defendants

1 have produced a significant number of documents that they previously withheld pursuant to the 2 deliberative process privilege, including more than 1,500 such documents over the past year. The 3 fact that Plaintiffs purport to have identified 26 errors out of more than 1,500 documents does
4 not show a widespread misapplication of the privilege. At best, it would demonstrate an error
5 rate of approximately 1.74%—an acceptable rate of error in a case involving tens of thousands of 6 documents. See Hunton & Williams LLP v. EPA, 346 F. Supp. 3d 61, 69 (D.D.C. 2018)
7 (declining to order reprocessing of documents “due to the low rate of error observed” by the 8 court); Schoenman v. FBI, 763 F. Supp. 2d 173, 188 (D.D.C. 2011) (court not aware of authority 9 providing that 12.9% error rate was sufficient to trigger duty to reprocess documents); CREW v.
10 DOJ, 48 F. Supp. 3d 40, 52 (D.D.C. 2014) (“Two mistakes out of 168 documents, []—an error
11 rate of just over one percent—does not come close to the kind of error rate that has prompted 12 courts to require further disclosures.”).

13 In any case, for the reasons discussed above, many of the documents Plaintiffs identify in 14 fact were properly withheld as privileged. At most, only three of the 26 documents chosen by 15 Plaintiffs were not properly subject to the privilege.⁵ After nearly two and a half years of 16 discovery, that is the sum total of Plaintiffs’ evidence that Defendants have broadly misapplied 17 the privilege—three documents. These three documents comprise approximately 0.2% of the 18 more than 1,500 deliberative documents that have been disclosed in the past year. Considering 19 Plaintiffs themselves concede that “errors occur during document review,” Pls.’ Response to 20 Special Master Notice 3, Dkt. 472, an error rate of 0.2 % is not cause for further review or 21 sampling of deliberative documents.

22 II. Plaintiffs’ Request Would Circumvent the Ninth Circuit’s Administrative 23 Stay.

24 The Court has already ordered disclosure of nearly all documents still withheld solely on 25 the basis of the deliberative process privilege, including the vast majority of the documents
26 Plaintiffs now seek to have sampled and reviewed. See Hr’g Tr. 40–41 (holding that deliberative

27 ⁵ One document should not have been withheld because it simply contained a news article. See Dkt. 473, Exh. 8.
28 One document should not have been withheld because it was a finalized policy guidance document. Id., Exh. 22.
And one should not have been withheld because it was simply a meeting invitation. Id., Exh. 26. Any such errors likely were the result of Defendants being required to review voluminous amounts of documents on short timelines.

process privilege had been overcome as to all Carter Policy working group deliberative documents); Order 7, Dkt. 401 (holding that deliberative process privilege had been overcome as to all documents “relating or referring” to the Department of Defense’s Report and Recommendations); Order 5, Dkt. 413 (clarifying that Defendants are required to produce even deliberative documents “never seen or reviewed” by the Panel of Experts). The Ninth Circuit has issued an administrative stay of those orders. See Order, Dkt. 415 (staying “[t]he district court’s December 18, 2019, February 3, 2020, and February 7, 2020 orders challenged in th[e mandamus] petition.”).

Nonetheless, Plaintiffs request that the Court review a sample of nearly the very same documents and potentially order their production, and that it do so as a predicate to a possible “further motion (and order)” concerning review and potential production of all deliberative documents. Pls.’ Statement 5. In doing so, Plaintiffs ask the Court to initiate a process that would effectively circumvent the Ninth Circuit’s stay order.

Moreover, as part of that process, Plaintiffs ask the Court to “determine if the privilege has been overcome pursuant to the Warner factors.” Pls.’ Statement 5. But the question whether the Warner factors permit such disclosure is now pending before the Ninth Circuit See Defs.’ Pet. for Writ of Mandamus 5, Dkt. 414-1 (seeking an “order that plaintiffs are not entitled to any further deliberative documents” from RFPs Nos. 15 and 29 “given plaintiffs’ inadequate showing of need”). Where the Ninth Circuit has issued a stay and may address the matter shortly, the Court should refrain from further action with respect to the same documents at issue.

Plaintiffs assert that courts “frequently” rely on in camera review and random sampling to “determine whether the privilege has been appropriately invoked.” Pls.’ Statement 3–4. But this argument misses the point. Here Plaintiffs ask the Court to review samples of documents after they have already ordered disclosure of nearly all of the documents at issue and those orders have been stayed by the Court of Appeals. See id. at 4 (citing no case involving prior disclosure order of the same material). And for purposes of the Ninth Circuit’s stay, it makes no difference that the Court’s prior orders compelled disclosure of broad categories of documents, while Plaintiffs’ current proposal involves review and possible disclosure of individual documents. The documents at issue are largely the same, and as to each of those documents the effect of a production order would be the same.

In any case, if Plaintiffs believe the Ninth Circuit's stay would permit such a review and potential disclosures, the proper recourse is to ask the Ninth Circuit for relief, as it is better positioned to interpret the breadth of its own stay order. In the meantime, this Court should not order review and possible disclosures when production of those same documents has been stayed and is subject to further proceedings before the Court of Appeals.

III. Conclusion

In sum, Defendants have appropriately applied the deliberative process privilege according to applicable case law. Among the documents Plaintiffs handpick as demonstrating a supposed broad misapplication of the privilege, all but three in fact were properly withheld. At best, Plaintiffs have shown that on rare occasions, the privilege did not apply to a particular document. But "the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure do not require perfection," Da Silva Moore v. Publicis Groupe, 287 F.R.D. 182, 191 (S.D.N.Y. 2012), and Plaintiffs themselves concede that "errors occur during document review," Pls.' Response to Special Master Notice 3, Dkt. 472. Here, the documents at issue amount to a negligible rate of error in a case involving thousands of documents. They simply do not provide a basis to order sampling or in camera review. And even if the Court were inclined to order such review, doing so would circumvent and disregard the Ninth Circuit's administrative stay. Accordingly, Plaintiffs' motion should be denied.⁶

⁶ Plaintiffs' counsel has represented to Defendants that, if their motion is granted, they will generate the sample of documents by applying the Fisher-Yates shuffle algorithm in the document review platform Relativity, which is that platform's randomization algorithm. Plaintiffs represent that they will apply this algorithm in Relativity to generate a randomly selected list of 350 documents from the universe of documents comprised solely of documents withheld only under the deliberative process privilege (as opposed to documents also withheld under one or more other privileges). However, if the Court determines that sampling and in camera review should take place (it should not for the reasons stated above), it should be Defendants who construct the randomized sample, not Plaintiffs. The documents, after all, are in Defendants' possession, and Defendants have the most accurate information about which documents are still being withheld. Plaintiffs' erroneous reliance on a document that was never even withheld for privilege, see supra, n.3, demonstrates that Defendants are better situated to provide information about their own documents.

1 PLAINTIFFS' REPLY⁷

2 The Government's opposition advances three arguments, all of which lack merit. First, the 3 Government's attempt to meet its burden of defending its privilege claims on the merits fails. For 4 eight of these documents, its only response is agreement with Plaintiffs or else silence. It
5 expressly concedes its privilege claims had no basis for three documents (Exs. 8, 22, and 26),
6 and does not even mention at least five others—Exhibits 1, 14, 15, 16, and 17. It is not difficult
7 to discern why: the privilege claims as to those documents are likewise indefensible. Exhibits 14
8 and 15, for example, contain talking points drafted and disseminated by the Australian and 9 British governments, respectively.

10 As to the documents the Government actually purports to defend, it fails to show how or 11 why the privilege applies to any of the documents at issue. Instead, it asserts broad principles 12 without demonstrating that those principles actually apply to the specific documents at issue.
13 Most fundamentally, the Government argues that the Ninth Circuit's adoption of a "functional"
14 approach to the privilege in National Wildlife Federation v. U.S. Forest Service, 861 F.2d 1114
15 (9th Cir. 1988), somehow extends the scope of the privilege to any deliberations on any decision 16 with the effect that any document that relates to any government decision in any way is 17 privileged. Opp. at 7. But Judge Pregerson explicitly warned against the Government's 18 overbroad reading of National Wildlife's holding in his concurrence, explaining that the adoption
19 of a "functional" test should not be read to confer "unrestrained discretion" to resist disclosure 20 based on the incorrect notion that "nearly everything an agency generates is somehow related to 21 the deliberative process." 861 F.2d at 1124 (Pregerson, J., concurring). Courts have heeded that 22 warning and uniformly rejected the overly broad reading the Government advances. See, e.g.,
23 Greenpeace v. Nat'l Marine Fisheries Serv., 198 F.R.D. 540, 544–45 (W.D. Wash. 2000) ("[A]
24 'functional' analysis does not obviate the need to determine whether agency policymaking is 25 implicated in the first instance. . . . That simply is not the case here where the process itself is 26

27 ⁷ Plaintiffs anticipate the Government may (as it has done before) move to strike this reply for exceeding one-half 28 page in length. (See Dkts. 443, 452.) As in prior cases where the Court rejected this argument, the issues raised in this motion concern numerous discovery requests and Plaintiffs' total contribution to the brief is within LCR 37's unrelated to any discretionary policy-making.”); Nw. Env'tl. Advocates v. U.S. EPA, 2009 WL 349732, at *6 (D. Or. Feb. 11, 2009) (“Applying the privilege to all documents which precede a governmental decision risks expanding the privilege beyond its purpose, to a point where it protects all documents which precede a governmental action.”).

Nevertheless, the Government applies its overbroad view of the privilege to three specific categories of documents. Moreover, it again misstates the law and likewise fails to explain with any specificity how the documents at issue are privileged.

Draft Documents. The Government broadly asserts that “draft documents” are at the “core” of the privilege such that all drafts “unquestionably are covered by the privilege.” Opp. at 7-8. But the law is to the contrary: the Ninth Circuit has rejected a per se rule that drafts are privileged, and courts recognize that draft documents are not privileged where they do not reveal the author’s deliberative opinions, the agency’s decisionmaking, or policy formulation. Sierra Club, Inc. v. U.S. Fish & Wildlife Serv., 925 F.3d 1000, 1018 (9th Cir. 2019) (holding “draft” opinions not privileged where they did not reveal agencies’ “internal deliberative processes”); First Resort, Inc. v. Herrera, 2014 WL 988773, at *4 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 10, 2014) (compelling production of draft press release because it was “not deliberative in that it would expose only a description of the legislation and quotes from Supervisor Cohen, not any decision-making process”). Thus, Exhibits 19 and 21, which the Government cites as examples, are not privileged simply because they are draft documents containing marginal, non-deliberative comments. Those comments do not reveal the “deliberative process” with respect to any agency policy or decision. This makes them readily distinguishable from the draft materials found privileged in the Government’s supporting authorities. For example, National Wildlife involved draft documents that were themselves statements of agency policy (a “Forest Plan” and “Environmental Impact Statement”). Even then, the privilege was limited to pages that discussed draft plans that included “a particular proposed course of action” as well as a “comparison of alternative plans.” 861 F.2d at 1121–22.

Talking Points and Briefing Materials. The same flaws pervade the Government’s sweeping assertion that the privilege protects all documents that contain talking points or

1 briefing materials. Opp. at 10. Where, as here, such documents do not disclose deliberations
2 concerning substantive agency policies or decisions, the privilege does not apply. See, e.g.,
3 ACLU of Mass., Inc. v. U.S. ICE, 2020 WL 1429882, at *6 (D. Mass. Mar. 24, 2020)
4 (compelling disclosure of three versions of “draft talking points”); Herrera, 2014 WL 988773, at 5 *5 (holding communications to “prepare for an interview” were not intended to “assist an agency
6 decisionmaker in arriving at a decision” contemplated by the deliberative process privilege.”
7 (quoting Renegotiation Bd. v. Grumman Aircraft Eng’g Corp., 421 U.S. 168, 184 (1975))); Fox
8 News Network, LLC v. U.S. Dep’t of Treasury, 911 F. Supp. 2d 261, 276 (S.D.N.Y. 2012)
9 (“[C]ommunications concerning how to present agency policies to the press or public, although 10 deliberative, typically do not qualify as substantive policy decisions protected by the deliberative 11 process privilege.”). And once again, the Government offers no explanation how its broad legal 12 assertion means the privilege applies to the documents it cites as examples. Opp. at 10. Exhibit 7
13 simply summarizes and reprints verbatim media coverage after the announcement of the Carter 14 Policy on June 30, 2016, and Exhibit 2 contains generic comments on a media article and 15 nothing that borders on revealing agency decisionmaking. Even taking the Government’s 16 position at face value, the Government makes no effort to square the substance of these 17 documents with the authorities it cites. Its principal case on this point—Maricopa Audubon
18 Society—found privileged communications from an official accused of misconduct to the Chief
19 of the Forest Service that were sent to aid in the agency’s official response to the misconduct 20 allegations. Nothing of that sort is presented in the documents the Government claims are 21 privileged here.

22 Post-Decisional Documents. Lastly, the Government takes issue with an argument
23 Plaintiffs do not make—that “documents post-dating the release of either the Carter policy or 24 Mattis policy cannot be privileged,” Opp. at 11—and does not explain how it bears on any of the 25 documents at issue. Plaintiffs do not dispute that a document that chronologically post-dates an 26 agency decision may qualify as privileged under certain circumstances. But the Government 27 carries the burden of identifying “a specific decision to which the document is predecisional” and 28 showing the discussions reveal the deliberative process. Maricopa v. Audubon Soc’y v. U.S.

1 Forest Serv., 108 F.3d 1089, 1094 (9th Cir. 1997); see also Coastal States Gas Corp. v. Dep’t of
2 Energy, 617 F.2d 854, 868 (D.C. Cir. 1980) (holding it “would be a serious warping of the 3 meaning of the word” to deem “predecisional” documents that “discuss established policies and 4 decisions” in an “ongoing audit process” of a policy).

5 At bottom, the Government has the burden to establish that these documents are privileged,
6 and nothing in its response comes close. Fortunately, the Court need not take either party’s word
7 for it, because these 26 documents speak for themselves—and speak volumes about the 8 Government’s approach to deliberative process privilege in this case. Put simply, the 9 Government’s attempt to defend its retracted privilege claims does not withstand scrutiny and 10 only underscores that it is the Government—not Plaintiffs—who “misapprehend[s] the proper 11 scope of the privilege.” Opp. at 11.

12 Second, the Government argues that in camera review is unwarranted and unnecessary 13 because Plaintiffs have identified only a “negligible” misapplication of the privilege. But that 14 assertion rests on a fundamental distortion of the facts that leads to incorrect (and ultimately 15 meaningless) calculations. For one, the Government argues that these are the only documents 16 that Plaintiffs could identify out of “more than 1,500 deliberative documents that have been 17 produced over the past year.” But Plaintiffs did not purport to identify every previously-withheld 18 document they believe was improperly claimed as privileged. Rather, as stated clearly in their 19 submission regarding the appointment of the Special Master, the examples cited are from the 20 Governments’ recent production of approximately 300 documents, which prompted this motion.
21 (Dkt. 472 at 2.) Thus, the Government’s denominator is wrong by a factor of five, making its 22 error rate “calculation” incorrect from the outset.

23 Moreover, the Government’s numerator is also wrong—it treats the documents that 24 Plaintiffs referenced as exhaustive when Plaintiffs made clear all along that these exhibits were 25 merely illustrative. Plaintiffs’ submission explained that they believed the “vast majority had no 26 colorable claim of privilege in the first place” and provided examples. Id. (emphasis added). The 27 Court should disregard the Government’s back-of-the-napkin math that purports to derive an 28 error rate. And more to the point, if the Government is confident that it made only a negligible

1 number of errors in its privilege review, it should have nothing to fear from in camera review of 2 a random sample of 350 documents, which would only confirm the correctness of their privilege
3 determinations.

4 Third, the Government asserts that Plaintiffs’ requested relief “circumvents” the Ninth
5 Circuit’s administrative stay relating to the Government’s pending mandamus petition 6 (“Petition”). Not so. Both the Petition and the Ninth Circuit’s order—which is administrative 7 only at this point and does not address the merits of the Government’s stay request—applies only 8 to this Court’s orders that the privilege claims as to documents responsive to two of the 9 Plaintiffs’ document requests (RFP Nos. 15 and 29) were overcome under Warner. The stay does 10 not purport to stay other discovery or this Court’s continued jurisdiction to consider other issues, 11 including the separate question whether the privilege even applies and was properly invoked, 12 with respect to the thousands of responsive documents withheld by the Government.

13 Moreover, the Government’s concerns are entirely theoretical and premature at this point.
14 The stay would not even arguably come into play unless and until the Court orders production of 15 documents that are responsive to RFP Nos. 15 and 29. And, in any event, Plaintiffs’ proposed 16 framework provides a process whereby the Government can raise such concerns, and invoke the 17 stay, should this hypothetical concern materialize. Plaintiffs’ proposed framework provides that, 18 if the Court orders any documents produced, the Government will have seven days to raise any 19 objection to such production, including that a document is responsive to RFP Nos. 15 and 29 and 20 subject to the stay.

21 In short, the Government’s pending Petition challenges only the Court’s finding that 22 Plaintiffs overcame the Government’s privilege claims under the Warner factors for documents
23 responsive to RFP Nos. 15 and 29. Moreover, even as to documents responsive to RFP Nos. 15
24 and 29, the application of Warner that the Government challenges in their Petition presupposed
25 the privilege applies, meaning the threshold question whether the Government is properly 26 invoking the privilege is not before Ninth Circuit. That issue can and should be considered by the 27 Special Master and the Court without encroaching on the Ninth Circuit’s administrative stay.
28 Moreover, even as to the Warner factor analysis, the Government’s complaint in its Petition is

1 that the Court did not assess the Warner factors on a sufficiently “granular” basis. See Pet. at 5,
2 32; Pet. Reply at 6. But Plaintiffs’ motion proposes the most “granular” review possible—a
3 document-by-document review under Warner of any documents the Court finds properly fall
4 within the privilege, to determine whether the privilege is overcome. The Government should not 5 be permitted to blockade the very type of relief it is seeking from the Ninth Circuit, nor claim to 6 be prejudiced by receiving it. The Court should grant Plaintiffs’ motion and address Plaintiffs’
7 concerns about production of any documents the Government claims are subject to the Ninth
8 Circuit’s administrative stay if and when those now hypothetical concerns materialize.

9 CONCLUSION

10 For the foregoing reasons, Plaintiffs respectfully move the Court pursuant to Federal Rule 11 of Civil Procedure 26 and Local Rule 37 for entry of the following Order:

12 1. The Special Master shall conduct an in camera review of a random sample of 350
13 documents from the Government’s privilege logs withheld solely on the basis of the deliberative 14 process privilege. Plaintiffs will use a Relativity randomization algorithm to select the 15 documents and will identify them for the Government within two business days of the Court’s 16 Order.

17 2. Within three business days of receiving the list of 350 documents from Plaintiffs, the 18 Government shall produce the documents to the Court and Special Master in camera.

19 3. Following his review, the Special Master shall recommend to the Court (1) a list of 20 those documents for which he finds the privilege has been improperly invoked (List 1), and (2) a 21 list of those documents for which he finds the Government has validly asserted the privilege (List 22 2).

23 4. Each party shall have one week (seven calendar days) to file objections to the 24 Special Master’s recommendations, and the opposing party will have three business days to 25 respond.

26 5. Consistent with the Court’s appointment of the Special Master (Dkt. 479), the Court 27 shall review the Special Master’s determinations de novo. For those documents in List 2—those 28 which the Government has validly asserted the privilege—the Court shall separately determine if the privilege has been overcome pursuant to the Warner factors.

6. The Court shall issue an Order identifying (a) those documents for which the deliberative process privilege has been improperly invoked, (b) those documents for which the privilege has been overcome pursuant to the Warner factors, and (c) those documents that are properly withheld pursuant to the privilege.

7. Each party shall have one week (seven calendar days) to file a motion to reconsider the Court's ruling and/or object to the production of any document the Court finds should be produced, and the opposing party shall have three business days to respond.

8. The Government shall produce all documents, if any, which the Court orders produced within one week after the Court's initial Order or Order on a motion to reconsider, whichever is later.

[PROPOSED] ORDER GRANTING LCR
37 JOINT SUBMISSION REGARDING
DEFENDANTS' DELIBERATIVE
PROCESS PRIVILEGE CLAIMS

NOTE ON MOTION CALENDAR:

May 5, 2020

This matter comes before the Court on the foregoing LCR 37 Joint Submission Regarding Defendants' Deliberative Process Privilege Claims (the "Joint Submission"). The Court, having considered the parties' arguments and finding good cause therefore, GRANTS Plaintiffs' portion of the Joint Submission.

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED:

1. The Special Master shall conduct an in camera review of a random sample of 350 documents from the Government's privilege logs withheld solely on the basis of the deliberative process privilege. Plaintiffs will use a Relativity randomization algorithm to select the documents and will identify them for the Government within two business days of the Court's Order.

2. Within three business days of receiving the list of 350 documents from Plaintiffs, the Government shall produce the documents to the Court and Special Master in camera.

3. Following his review, the Special Master shall recommend to the Court (1) a list of those documents for which he finds the privilege has been improperly invoked (List 1), and (2) a list of those documents for which he finds the Government has validly asserted the privilege (List 2).

4. Each party shall have one week (seven calendar days) to file objections to the Special Master's recommendations, and the opposing party will have three business days to respond.

5. Consistent with the Court's appointment of the Special Master (Dkt. 479), the Court shall review the Special Master's determinations de novo. For those documents in List 2—those which the Government has validly asserted the privilege—the Court shall separately determine if the privilege has been overcome pursuant to the Warner factors.

6. The Court shall issue an Order identifying (a) those documents for which the deliberative process privilege has been improperly invoked, (b) those documents for which the privilege has been overcome pursuant to the Warner factors, and (c) those documents that are properly withheld pursuant to the privilege.

7. Each party shall have one week (seven calendar days) to file a motion to reconsider the Court's ruling and/or object to the production of any document the Court finds should be produced, and the opposing party shall have three business days to respond.

8. The Government shall produce all documents, if any, which the Court orders produced within one week after the Court's initial Order or Order on a motion to reconsider, whichever is later.

IT IS SO ORDERED

LCR 37 JOINT DISCOVERY
SUBMISSION REGARDING
PLAINTIFFS' FRCP 30(B)(6)
DEPOSITION TOPICS

NOTE ON MOTION CALENDAR:
May 8, 2020

DEFENDANTS' INTRODUCTORY STATEMENT

Plaintiffs have served a Rule 30(b)(6) notice of deposition seeking testimony into a wide range of topics, many of which have nothing to do with the central issues in this case and have already been (or will soon be) fully probed through other means of discovery, including depositions of other officials. In addition, many of Plaintiffs' deposition topics specifically seek privileged information implicated in the Government's pending mandamus petition before the Ninth Circuit, including the mental impressions of senior Department of Defense ("DoD") officials. Although the Government plans to assert privileges at the deposition itself and, in light of the Ninth Circuit's administrative stay, instruct its witness not to answer, the broad scope of the requested topics and significance of the privilege issues likely will foreclose any meaningful inquiry. The parties have met and conferred in good faith in an attempt to resolve this dispute without Court action but are currently at an impasse.

Accordingly, Defendants seek entry of a judicial protective order to limit the identified topics of testimony to non-duplicative and non-privileged information regarding DoD's reasons and justifications for the challenged policy. In the alternative, Defendants request an order (a) limiting Plaintiffs to one 7-hour deposition of DoD officials (or former officials) currently scheduled for deposition where the Government has indicated that they have sufficient knowledge to answer non-privileged questions regarding Plaintiffs' proposed topics, and (b) deferring any deposition as to Plaintiffs' topics implicated in the Government's pending mandamus petition until the Ninth Circuit has ruled on that petition.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On March 9, 2020, Plaintiffs served DoD with a Rule 30(b)(6) notice seeking agency testimony as to nine topics. Declaration of Andrew E. Carmichael ("Carmichael Decl.") ¶ 2, Ex. 1. Plaintiffs accompanied that notice with a letter acknowledging "that this notice may implicate deliberative process privilege issues that may be impacted by Defendants' pending mandamus petition." Id. ¶ 3, Ex 2. The letter further stated that Plaintiffs were "willing to discuss postponing the deposition(s) for these topics until the Ninth Circuit rules on Defendants' petition, but we would like to proceed with the others in the meantime." Id.

1 On March 12, 2020, the Government responded, agreeing with Plaintiffs that many of the 2 topics of inquiry implicate deliberative process privilege issues currently before the Ninth
3 Circuit. The Government also informed Plaintiffs that many of the remaining topics of inquiry
4 could be pursued through the depositions of individual DoD officials whose depositions were 5 already being scheduled. Id. ¶ 4, Ex 3.

6 Plaintiffs responded to the Government's letter on March 18, 2020, stating that they
7 would take the noticed Rule 30(b)(6) deposition off calendar and work with Defendants on 8 rescheduling it for a mutually agreeable date in the future. Id. ¶ 5, Ex 4. Plaintiffs acknowledged 9 that the Ninth Circuit stayed "the district court's December 18, 2019, February 3, 2020, and 10 February 7, 2020 orders[,]" id., but clarified that they did not believe that the Ninth Circuit's
11 administrative stay applied to Plaintiffs' Notice. Further, Plaintiffs asserted that the Ninth 12 Circuit's stay did not apply to this Court's Order, also issued on February 3, 2020, "that 13 deponents should answer questions over any deliberative process objection, and the deposition 14 will be sealed until a determination can be made on the Government's purported objection." Id.
15 ¶ 5, Ex 4. (quoting 2/3/20 Hrg. Tr. at 64.). Moreover, Plaintiffs stated that "the Government is 16 free to designate as representatives witnesses who are already being deposed in their individual 17 capacity; however, these witnesses will need to sit for up to seven hours of questioning in their 18 individual capacity and for up to seven hours in their Rule 30(b)(6) capacity." Id. ¶ 5, Ex 4.

19 On April 17, 2020, the Government responded with a letter detailing its specific 20 objections to each of Plaintiffs' Rule 30(b)(6) deposition topics and proposing to narrow the 21 scope of those topics. Id. ¶ 6, Ex 5. The Government further noted that the Ninth Circuit had 22 stayed this Court's February 3, 2020 Order in its entirety and that, therefore, except where 23 otherwise noted, the Government expected to instruct its witness not to answer questions where 24 the answer would be protected from disclosure pursuant to the deliberative process privilege. Id.
25 Moreover, the Government identified DoD employees and former DoD employees whom 26 Plaintiffs were already scheduled to depose that could likely provide answers to the majority of 27 the non-privileged portions of Plaintiffs' identified topics. Id.

1 The parties met and conferred regarding the Government's letter on April 21, 2020 and 2 Plaintiffs declined to further narrow their Rule 30(b)(6) deposition topics. Accordingly,
3 Defendants now seek entry of a protective order to limit the identified topics of Rule 30(b)(6)
4 testimony sought by Plaintiffs to non-duplicative and non-privileged information regarding 5 DoD's reasons and justifications for the challenged policy.

6 STANDARDS GOVERNING A RULE 30(B)(6) PROTECTIVE ORDER

7 Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 30(b)(6) permits a party to name a government agency
8 or other entity as a deponent and "describe with reasonable particularity the matters for 9 examination." The agency must then "designate one or more officers, directors, or managing 10 agents . . . and it may set out the matters on which each person designated will testify." A party
11 may seek to limit a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition topic that seeks privileged material or is otherwise 12 burdensome, irrelevant, or otherwise inappropriate through a protective order. See, e.g., Adidas
13 Am., Inc. v. TRB Acquisitions Ltd. Liab. Co., 324 F.R.D. 389, 401 (D. Or. 2017). While privilege
14 may be protected by instructing a witness not to answer at a 30(b)(6) deposition, see generally
15 Rule 30(c)(2) ("A person may instruct a deponent not to answer . . . when necessary to preserve
16 a privilege"), courts should consider whether other grounds exist to resolve discovery
17 disputes before the need for, or consideration of, formal privilege assertions, including whether 18 the information sought is relevant and necessary to litigate the claims. See, e.g. Alexander v. FBI, 19 186 F.R.D. 188, 192 (D.D.C. 1999). A plaintiff may overcome the deliberative process privilege 20 "if his or her need for the materials and the need for accurate fact-finding override the 21 government's interest in non-disclosure." Karnoski v. Trump, 926 F.3d 1180, 1206 (9th Cir.
22 2019) (quoting FTC v. Warner Commc'ns Inc., 742 F.2d 1156, 1161 (9th Cir. 1984)).

23 DEPOSITION TOPICS AT ISSUE

24 Topic 1. Panel of Experts, including: its formation; its mission, purpose, assignment(s), and 25 deliverables; the potential courses of action and/or policy options it considered; the issues it
26 addressed; the information it requested and/or considered; its deliberations, conclusions, and 27 recommendations, including to whom those recommendations were made; and the Panel's Final
28 Report and Recommendation.

1 Defendants' Objection. Unduly burdensome and disproportionate to the needs of the case
2 because it is duplicative of material previously sought and provided through document
3 productions, interrogatory responses, and expected deposition testimony of other DoD personnel.

4 Scope of Response. Notwithstanding the above objections, DoD will identify an individual to 5 answer questions regarding the reasons and justifications of the challenged policy including the 6 meaning of acronyms, military phrases, and jargon that appear in the Administrative Record and 7 the Panel's meeting minutes that may not be readily understandable by individuals without a 8 military background.

9 Identified DoD Employee or Former Employee Who Plaintiffs Are Scheduled to Depose.
10 Mr. Anthony Kurta, Mr. Thomas Dee, Dr. Terry Adirim, Mr. Lernes Hebert, Ms. Stephanie 11 Miller.

12 Topic 2. The preparation, review, and approval of Panel meeting minutes, including: the identity
13 of any individuals who were responsible for documenting Panel meetings and drafting,
14 reviewing, finalizing and approving minutes before they were submitted to the Panel; the 15 process(es) these individuals followed for documenting Panel meetings; why minutes were 16 prepared for some, but not all, Panel meetings, including the Panel's last four meetings; and the 17 identity of any individuals who decided whether minutes would or would not be prepared and
18 the reasons why minutes were or were not prepared.

19 Defendants' Objection. Irrelevant, unduly burdensome, and disproportionate to the needs of 20 the case because it is duplicative of material previously sought and provided through document
21 productions, interrogatory responses, and expected deposition testimony of other DoD 22 personnel.

23 Scope of those Responding. Notwithstanding the above objections, DoD will identify an 24 individual to answer the questions raised in this topic (except where the topic calls for privileged 25 information) if other DoD officials who Plaintiffs already plan to depose are unable to speak to 26 these topics.

27 Identified DoD Employee or Former Employee Who Plaintiffs Are Scheduled to Depose.
28 Mr. Lernes Hebert.

Topic 3. 'Transgender Service Policy Working Group' or 'Transgender Personnel Policy
Working Group,' including: the identity of any individuals who served as chairperson, members, or presented at or participated in the Group's meetings; the Group's mission, purpose, and assignment(s); the potential courses of action the Group considered; the issues addressed by the Group; any information the Group requested and/or considered; the Group's deliberations, conclusions, and recommendations; any reports, presentations, recommendations, or other communications the Group had or shared with the Panel; and any records or other documents that reflect the Group's work, deliberations, conclusions, and/or recommendations.

Defendants' Objection. Unduly burdensome and disproportionate to the needs of the case as it is largely duplicative of discovery previously sought and provided through document productions, interrogatory responses that answer these same questions, and expected deposition

1 testimony of other DoD personnel. Further, portions of this topic call for information protected
2 by the deliberative process privilege and risks circumvention of the Ninth Circuit's stay order.

3 Scope of those Responding. Notwithstanding the above objections, DoD will identify an
4 individual to answer the questions raised in this topic (except where the topic calls for privileged 5 information) if other DoD officials who Plaintiffs already plan to depose are unable to speak to 6 these topics.

7 Identified DoD Employee or Former Employee Who Plaintiffs Are Scheduled to Depose.
8 Ms. Stephanie Miller.

9 Topic 4. Any discussion, consideration, conclusions or recommendations relating to gender
10 dysphoria, gender transition or accession into the military or military service by transgender
11 persons by the Department of Defense's Medical and Personnel Executive Steering Committee
12 (MEDPERS) during the period July 1, 2015 to the present.

13 Defendants' Objection. Except where this topic seeks factual information regarding the work
14 of MEDPERS on the challenged policy this topic is unduly burdensome, disproportionate to the 15 needs of the case, and outside of the temporal scope of the litigation. Further, portions of this 16 topic call for information protected by the deliberative process privilege and risks
17 circumvention of the Ninth Circuit's stay order.

18 Scope of those Responding. Notwithstanding the above objections, DoD will identify an 19 individual to answer the questions raised in this topic as far as they pertain to MEDPERS work
20 with the Panel of Experts (except where the topic calls for privileged information) if other DoD 21 officials who Plaintiffs already plan to depose are unable to speak to these topics.

22 Identified DoD Employee or Former Employee Who Plaintiffs Are Scheduled to Depose.
23 Mr. Lernes Hebert, Dr. Terry Adirim.

24 Topic 5. The meeting on or around December 15, 2017 at which the Panel presented its 25 recommendations to the Deputy Secretary of Defense ("DSD") and the Vice Chair of the Joint 26 Chiefs of Staff ("VCJCS"), including: the identity of all individuals present at the meeting; the 27 content of all presentations or written materials provided at the meeting; the reactions and/or 28 response(s) of the DSD and the VCJCS to the Panel's recommendations; any directions by or requests from the DSD and the VCJCS as to additional or further work the Panel should perform; any documents that reflect what was said, presented, discussed, or decided at the meeting; any follow-up or further work performed by the Panel or others in response to any concerns, reactions or other views or directions of the DSD and/or the VCJCS as a result of the meeting; and any subsequent meetings or communications with or between the Panel and the DSD and/or VCJCS.

Defendants' Objection. Irrelevant, unduly burdensome and disproportionate to the needs of the case because it is duplicative of material previously sought and provided through document productions, interrogatory responses, and expected deposition testimony of other DoD personnel. Further, as far as this topic calls for the "reactions" of the DSD and VCJCS that were not vocalized during the December 15, 2017 meeting DoD does not possess this information.

1 Scope of those Responding. Notwithstanding the above objections, DoD will identify an
2 individual to answer the questions raised in this topic (except where the topic calls for privileged
3 information) if other DoD officials who Plaintiffs already plan to depose are unable to speak to 4 these topics.

5 Identified DoD Employee or Former Employee Who Plaintiffs Are Scheduled to Depose.
6 Mr. Anthony Kurta, Mr. Lernes Hebert.

7 Topic 6. The February 2018 Department of Defense “Report and Recommendations on Military
8 Service by Transgender Persons” (the “Report”), including the identity of any individuals who
9 approved the Report before it was submitted to Secretary Mattis; the role, if any, of Secretary
10 Mattis in drafting, preparing, reviewing, revising and/or finalizing the Report before it was 11 presented to him; the process that was followed and the information and alternatives that were 12 considered in drafting, revising, finalizing, and approving the Report; the identity and role of any
13 persons who were not current employees of the Department of Defense or one of the branches of 14 the military who were involved in any way in providing information that was considered or used
15 in preparing the Report or in drafting, reviewing, revising, finalizing and approving the Report.”

16 Defendants’ Objections. Irrelevant, unduly burdensome and disproportionate as it is outside
17 of the scope of the lawsuit or duplicative of discovery previously sought and provided through 18 document productions and interrogatory responses that answer these same questions. Further, 19 this topic specifically calls for privileged information including the mental impressions of 20 senior government officials implicated in the Government’s pending mandamus petition and 21 seeks circumvention of the Ninth Circuit’s stay order.

22 Scope of those Responding. Notwithstanding the above objections the Department of Defense
23 will identify an individual to be deposed to answer any technical questions such as to the meaning
24 of acronyms, military phrases, and jargon that appear in the Report that may not be readily 25 understandable by individuals without a military background.

26 Topic 7. The February 22, 2018 Memorandum for the President from Secretary Mattis
27 concerning Military Service by Transgender Individuals (“Memorandum”), including: the 28 principal author(s) of the Memorandum; the identity of any individuals who were involved in
29 drafting and preparing, reviewing and revising, finalizing and/or approving the Memorandum
30 before it was submitted to Secretary Mattis; the role, if any, of Secretary Mattis in drafting,
31 preparing, reviewing, revising and/or finalizing the Memorandum; the process that was 32 followed and the information and alternatives that were considered in drafting, revising, 33 finalizing, and approving the Memorandum; and the identity and role of any persons who were 34 not current employees of the Department of Defense or one of the branches of the military who 35 were involved in any way in drafting, reviewing, revising, finalizing and/or approving the 36 Memorandum.

37 Defendant’s Objections. Irrelevant, unduly burdensome and disproportionate as it is outside
38 of the scope of the lawsuit or duplicative of discovery previously sought and provided through
39 document productions and interrogatory responses that answer these same questions. Further,
40 this topic specifically calls for privileged information including the mental impressions of senior government officials implicated in the Government's pending mandamus petition and seeks circumvention of the Ninth Circuit's stay order.

Scope of those Responding. Notwithstanding the above objections the Department of Defense will identify an individual to be deposed to answer any technical questions such as to the meaning of acronyms, military phrases, and jargon that appear in the Memorandum that may not be readily understandable by individuals without a military background.

Topic 8. Any requests for waivers, exceptions and/or Exceptions to Policy (ETPs) (a) between January 1, 2016 and April 11, 2019 and (b) since April 12, 2019 with respect to military accession or service by transgender persons, persons who have been diagnosed with or have gender dysphoria, and/or persons who have transitioned or need or seek to transition to a gender other than their birth-assigned gender, including: the number of such requests; the stated reasons for and in support of, and the facts and circumstances concerning, each such request; and the disposition of each such request, including whether it was granted or denied and the reasons provided for each such disposition.

Defendants' Objection. Unduly burdensome and disproportionate to the needs of the case because it is duplicative of material previously sought and provided through document productions and is outside of the temporal scope of the litigation.

Scope of those Responding. Notwithstanding the above objections the Department of Defense will identify an individual to answer any technical questions regarding ETPs under its current policy such as the meaning of acronyms, military phrases, and jargon that appear in the ETPs themselves and action on those ETPs that may not be readily understandable by individuals without a military background.

Topic 9. The statement, at page 33 of the Report, that "currently available in-service data already show that, cumulatively, transitioning Service members in the Army and Air Force have averaged 167 and 159 days of limited duty, respectively, over a one-year period," including: any data or other information on which this statement was based; how these averages were calculated and by whom; how "limited duty" was defined and determined for purposes of these calculations; and why such calculations were provided with respect to the Army and Air Force, but not the Navy and the Marine Corps.

Defendants' Objection. No objection.

DEFENDANTS' ARGUMENT

"A party who notices a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition should apply fairness and reasonableness to the scope of the matters that the witness is required to testify about," Madrigal v. Allstate Indem. Co., No. 14-4242, 2015 WL 12746225, at *5 (C.D. Cal. Apr. 22, 2015), as the task of making "a good faith effort to prepare . . . [one or more] 30(b)(6) witness[es] to 'fully and unequivocally answer questions about the designated [topics] . . . becomes less realistic and

1 increasingly impossible as the number and breadth of noticed subject areas expand.” Id.
2 (citations omitted); see also 8A Charles Alan Wright et. al., Federal Practice and Procedure §
3 2103 (3d ed.) (“[T]he burdens faced by the responding party [served with a 30(b)(6) notice] are 4 considerably more challenging than with an ordinary deposition.”).

5 Here, Plaintiffs’ proposed Rule 30(b)(6) topics should be limited for three main reasons:
6 1) several of Plaintiffs’ topics extend well beyond the scope of the litigation; 2) the majority
7 Plaintiffs’ their topics are duplicative of information they have obtained through other discovery
8 methods or the expected deposition testimony of other current or former DoD employees; and 3)
9 four of Plaintiffs’ topics (3, 4, 6, and 7) call for the same privileged deliberations that are currently 10 at issue in the Governments pending mandamus petition. Accordingly, this Court should issue a 11 protective order limiting the scope of Plaintiffs’ proposed topics to specific factual questions
12 regarding the reasons and justifications for the challenged policy. In the alternative, the Court 13 should issue an order (a) limiting Plaintiffs to one 7-hour deposition of DoD officials (or former 14 officials) currently scheduled for deposition where the Government has indicated that they have 15 sufficient knowledge to answer non-privileged questions regarding Plaintiffs’ proposed topics
16 and (b) deferring any deposition as to Plaintiffs’ topics implicated in the Government’s pending 17 mandamus petition until the Ninth Circuit has ruled on that petition.

18 A. Many of Plaintiffs’ Topics Fall Outside of the Scope of the Litigation.

19 As an initial matter, because the Ninth Circuit has previously ruled that the inquiry in this 20 case is limited to whether DoD “reasonably determined [its] policy ‘significantly furthers’ the 21 government’s important interests,” Karnoski v. Trump, 926 F.3d 1180, 1202 (9th Cir. 2019), and 22 specifically prohibited this Court from “substitut[ing] its ‘own evaluation of evidence for a 23 reasonable evaluation’ by the military,” id. (quoting Rostker v. Goldberg, 453 U.S. 57, 68 24 (1981)), any Rule 30(b)(6) deposition should be limited to DoD’s reasons and justifications for 25 the challenged policy. “In short the district court must apply appropriate military deference to 26 its evaluation of the 2018 policy.” Id.

27 Discovery requests must both seek relevant information and be “proportional to the needs 28 of the case, considering the importance of the issues at stake in the action, the amount in

1 controversy, the parties' relative access to relevant information, the parties' resources, the 2 importance of the discovery in resolving the issues, and whether the burden or expense of the 3 proposed discovery outweighs its likely benefit." Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(b)(2); see also Crystal Lakes
4 v. Bath & Body Works, LLC, No. 2:16-CV-2989-MCE-GGH, 2018 WL 533915, at *1 (E.D. Cal.
5 Jan. 23, 2018) ("Relevancy alone is, therefore, no longer sufficient to obtain discovery in the absence 6 of proportionality." (citing Lauris v. Novartis AG, 2015 WL 7178602 *2 (E.D. Cal. 2015)). And 7 the Court must limit discovery where "the discovery sought is unreasonably cumulative or 8 duplicative, or can be obtained from some other source that is more convenient, less burdensome, 9 or less expensive" and where "the party seeking discovery has had ample opportunity to obtain
10 the information." Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(b)(2)

11 Here, Plaintiffs' topics stray far afield from anything this Court would be permitted to 12 consider in its evaluation of the constitutionality of the challenged policy. The drafting of the 13 meeting minutes of the Panel of Experts (topic 2), discussions of DoD's Medical and Personnel 14 Executive Steering Committee ("MEDPERS") that occurred as early as July 1, 2015 and 15 extending to the present day (topic 4), details about a particular meeting involving the Deputy 16 Secretary of Defense ("DSD") and Vice Chairman of the Joint Chiefs ("VCJC") (topic 5), the 17 process of drafting DoD's Report and Secretary Mattis' Memorandum (topics 6 and 7), and 18 waiver and Exceptions to Policy Requests (topic 8) extending well after the formation of the 19 challenged policy, all have no bearing on whether the challenged policy "significantly furthers" 20 the government's important interests." Karnoski, 926 F.3d at 1202. "[A]though the standard of 21 relevance in the context of discovery may be broader than in the context of admissibility, 'this 22 often intoned legal tenet should not be misapplied so as to allow fishing expeditions in 23 discovery.'" Heller v. HRB Tax Grp., Inc., 287 F.R.D. 483, 485 (E.D. Mo. 2012) (quoting Hofer
24 v. Mack Trucks, Inc., 981 F.2d 377, 380 (8th Cir. 1993)). Accordingly, this Court should limit 25 the scope of Plaintiffs' proposed topics to specific factual questions regarding the reasons and 26 justifications for the challenged policy or at least limit the relevant time period to the actual 27 formation of the challenged policy. See Karnoski, 926 F.3d at 1202 (questioning the relevance
28

1 of the Presidential Memorandum because it was issued prior to the formation of the Panel of 2 Experts).

3 B. Plaintiffs' Topics Are Duplicative of Other Discovery.

4 Even if the Court permits some inquiry into the topics Plaintiffs have identified, it should
5 not permit questioning that is duplicative of other deposition testimony and other discovery
6 methods. Here, each of Plaintiffs' proposed topics 1 through 8 are "unreasonably cumulative or 7 duplicative" in some respect. Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(b)(2). For each, either Plaintiffs have already 8 obtained the same information through other discovery methods, or Plaintiffs are already 9 planning to depose the same individuals who DoD would designate to answer their Rule 30(b)(6) 10 topics.

11 For example, topic 1 encompasses virtually anything having to do with the Panel of 12 Experts process. Aside from being entirely too broad for a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition, this topic is 13 wholly duplicative of thousands of pages of documents and interrogatory responses Plaintiffs 14 have already obtained through other discovery methods. For instance, Secretary Mattis' Terms 15 of Reference—contained in the Administrative Record at 000330–000331—describes the 16 formation, mission, purpose, assignment, deliverables and to whom the recommendations of the 17 Panel would be made. See Dkt. 249-1; Dkt. 255-2. The Panel's meeting minutes, provided to 18 Plaintiffs on November 1, 2019, detail the potential courses of action and policy options it
19 considered, as well as the issues it addressed and its deliberations. See Dkt 398 at 2. The 3075-20 page Administrative Record provides the materials the Panel considered. See Dkt. 249-1. The 21 Administrative Record also contains the Panel's conclusions and recommendations. See Dkt.
22 249-1; Dkt. 405-4. DoD has also provided all communications of Panel members regarding their 23 work on the Panel from their time on the Panel. See Dkt. 405 at 2. Moreover, in its answer to 24 Interrogatory 18, DoD described in detail the information, statements, advice, opinions, or other 25 input of each current DoD employee who attended Panel meetings. Dkt. 458 at 4. To obtain this 26 information, DoD interviewed all current employees who attended Panel meetings, including 27 several senior military officials including the current Chief of Staff of the Army and Vice Chief 28 of Staff of the Air Force (the highest and second highest ranking uniformed officers in the Army

1 and Air Force). Simply put, through other discovery tools, Plaintiffs have already obtained the 2 most fulsome answer to this topic that DoD can provide. To prepare an agency official for the 3 Rule 30(b)(6) deposition on this topic, Defendants would simply have the official review the 4 information above and summarize or recite it at the deposition. As a result, any further testimony
5 would be entirely duplicative and therefore an unnecessary and unduly burdensome on 6 Defendants. See E.E.O.C. v. Boeing Co., 2007 WL 1146446, at *3 (D. Ariz. Apr. 18, 2007)
7 (finding topic duplicative where it requested information already provided).

8 Moreover, Plaintiffs have already sought, and Defendants have provided, dates for the 9 depositions of two Panel members—Mr. Thomas Dee and Mr. Anthony Kurta—and several 10 officials who attended Panel meetings, including Dr. Terry Adirim, Mr. Lernes Hebert, and Ms.
11 Stephanie Miller. Accordingly, the addition of a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition on the same topic 12 merely designed to obtain an additional deposition from a DoD official is entirely unnecessary.

13 For topics 6 and 7—information pertaining to the drafting of DoD’s Report and Secretary 14 Mattis’ Memorandum—what Plaintiffs seek is either (a) protected by privilege and at issue in 15 the Ninth Circuit’s mandamus petition (e.g., drafts of the Report and Memorandum); (b) 16 duplicative of information previously provided to Plaintiffs in discovery, where Defendants have 17 already produced all non-privileged documents relating to the Memorandum and Report, or (c) 18 duplicative of information Plaintiffs recently obtained through the Court’s Orders regarding 19 interrogatories 16 and 17 and third party communications. See Dkt 454 and 458.¹ It would be 20 burdensome and entirely unnecessary to have a DoD employee sit for a deposition just to provide 21 the same information to Plaintiffs again.

24 ¹ The Court’s Order regarding Plaintiffs’ Interrogatories 16 and 17 required DoD to identify the 25 “principal authors” of DoD’s Report and Recommendations and Secretary Mattis’ Memorandum 26 in addition to identifying all persons who “reviewed, revised, or commented on any drafts” of 27 those documents. See Dkt 458 at 1–2. The Court’s Order regarding third party communications 28 required DoD to disclose such communications or formally assert the consultant corollary exception. See Dkt 454 at 1–2. DoD asserted privilege as to communications with two of its contractors RAND Corporation and Kennell and Associates, Inc., and disclosed all other third party communications. Dkt. 460 at 2.

1 For topic 8—seeking requests for waivers, exceptions and/or Exceptions to Policy (ETPs)
2 (a) between January 1, 2016 and April 11, 2019 and (b) since April 12, 2019 with respect to 3 military accession or service by transgender persons—the topic itself seems to be a request for 4 production. But Defendants have already answered this very request and provided (or are in the 5 process of providing) the actual requests for waivers and exceptions to policy that Plaintiffs seek.
6 Dkt. 469 at 1, 10. In response to this request, Defendants have agreed to answer any technical 7 questions regarding ETPs under its current policy such as the meaning of acronyms, military
8 phrases and jargon that appear in the waivers, the ETPs themselves, and action on those ETPs, 9 all of which may not be readily understandable by individuals without a military background.
10 But beyond this purpose, it is unclear what purpose a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition on this topic could 11 serve.

12 Finally, for several other topics, Defendants do not object to providing the requested 13 information (despite the fact that much of it goes beyond the scope of the litigation). However,
14 Defendants do object to providing the information multiple times through various discovery
15 methods and multiple depositions of DoD personnel.

16 For topic 2—pertaining to the drafting of Panel meeting minutes—Plaintiffs already plan
17 to depose Mr. Lernes Hebert, who DoD previously identified in its response to Interrogatory 18 18 as one of the individuals responsible for reviewing, finalizing, and approving such minutes.
19 Carmichael Decl. ¶ 6, Ex 5.

20 For topic 3—pertaining to the Transgender Service Policy Working Group—Plaintiffs 21 already plan to depose Ms. Stephanie Miller, who the Government previously identified as the 22 chair of that committee. Carmichael Decl. ¶ 6, Ex 5; ¶ 7, Ex. 6.

23 For topic 4—pertaining to DoD’s Medical and Personnel Executive Steering Committee 24 (MEDPERS)—Plaintiffs plan to depose both Dr. Terry Adirim and Mr. Lernes Hebert, who the 25 Government previously identified as the co-chairs of that committee during the time period of 26 the Panel. Carmichael Decl. ¶ 6, Ex 5; ¶ 6, Ex. 6.

27 For topic 5—pertaining to a briefing given to the Deputy Secretary of Defense and Vice 28 Chair of the Joint Chiefs of Staff on December 15, 2017—Plaintiffs plan to depose Mr. Anthony

1 Kurta and Mr. Lernes Hebert, who the Government identified as the individuals who provided
2 the briefing and directly supported the briefer during the meeting, respectively. Carmichael Decl.
3 ¶ 6, Ex 5.

4 There is no reason why Plaintiffs cannot pursue the same lines of inquiry (where they do
5 not seek privileged information) during these forthcoming depositions. As explained by the 6 Advisory Committee Notes, Rule 30(b)(6) has three purposes: “reducing the difficulties . . .
7 encountered in determining, prior to the deposition, whether a particular employee or agent is a
8 ‘managing agent’. . . . ; curbing the ‘bandying by which officers or managing agents of a 9 corporation are deposed in turn but each disclaims knowledge of facts that are clearly known to 10 persons in the organization ; [and] assisting organizations which find that an unnecessarily 11 large number of their officers and agents are being deposed by a party uncertain of who in the 12 organization has knowledge.” See also Cates v. LTV Aerospace Corp., 480 F.2d 620, 623 (5th
13 Cir. 1973) (citing Advisory Committee Notes); Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. v. Butcher, 116 14 F.R.D. 196, 199 (E.D. Tenn. 1986) (Murrian, Mag. J.) (Rule 30(b)(6) is intended “to curb any 15 temptation a [litigant] might have to shunt a discovering party from ‘pillar to post.’”), aff’d, 116
16 F.R.D. 203, 205 (E.D. Tenn. 1987). Here, none of these authorized purposes of the rule are 17 served. Instead, Plaintiffs’ proposed Rule 30(b)(6) topics appear only to serve the purpose of 18 obtaining an additional deposition testimony on the same topics that can be addressed by DoD 19 employees (or former employees) in upcoming individual depositions. Accordingly, an 20 additional Rule 30(b)(6) deposition would not only be wasteful and an undue burden, it would 21 work against the purpose of the rule itself. Therefore, Defendants request an order from this 22 Court limiting Plaintiffs to one 7-hour deposition of DoD officials (or former officials) currently 23 scheduled for deposition where the Government has indicated that they have sufficient 24 knowledge to answer non-privileged questions regarding Plaintiffs’ proposed topics. See 25 Dongguk Univ. v. Yale Univ., 270 F.R.D. 70, 74 (D. Conn. 2010) (“Where the notice seeks 26 information which could more easily be obtained from another source, the court may refuse to 27 allow that topic to be the subject of a 30(b)(6) deposition.”)

C. Topics 6 and 7 and Portions of Topics 3 and 4 Seek Privileged Information.

Further, through much of Plaintiffs’ topics 6 and 7 (seeking information pertaining to the drafting of DoD’s Report and Secretary Mattis’ Memorandum) and topics 3 and 4 (seeking deliberations of two of DoD’s working groups), specifically seek the mental impressions of senior military decision-makers, including then-Secretary of Defense Mattis himself. Such areas of inquiry are properly subject to the deliberative process privilege and Plaintiffs may not use a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition to delve into such matters. Doe v. Shanahan, 917 F.3d 694, 737 (D.C. Cir. 2019) (Williams, J., concurring in result) (“[J]udicial inquires...into executive motivation represent a substantial intrusion into the workings of [a coordinate] branch [] of government.”) (quoting Vill. Of Arlington Heights v. Metro. Housing Dev. Corp., 429 U.S. 252, 268 (1977)); Dep’t of Commerce v. New York, 139 S. Ct. 2551, 2573–74 (2019) (“In reviewing agency action, a court is ordinarily limited to evaluating the agency’s contemporaneous explanation in light of the existing administrative record. That principle reflects the recognition that further judicial inquiry into executive motivation represents a substantial intrusion into the workings of another branch of Government and should normally be avoided.”) (internal quotations and citations omitted); see also J.P. Morgan Chase Bank v. Liberty Mut. Ins. Co., 209 F.R.D. 361, 363 (S.D.N.Y. 2002) (disallowing 30(b)(6) deposition topic that, “[u]nder the guise of requesting ‘facts,’” in fact sought “defendants’ mental impressions, conclusions, opinions, and legal theory”).

If a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition were to proceed on these topics, the Government expects to object and instruct its witness not to answer questions where the information sought would be protected by the deliberative process privilege. See Rule 30(c)(2) (“A person may instruct a deponent not to answer . . . when necessary to preserve a privilege”); SEC v. Nacchio, Civil Action No. 05-cv-00480-MSK-CBS, 2009 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 8365, at *8–9 (D. Colo. Jan. 29, 2009) (denying motion to compel Government Rule 30(b)(6) witness to answer questions the witness was instructed not to answer on the grounds of deliberative process privilege). And although there may be some meaningful inquiry as to the functioning of the Panel’s working groups (topics 3 and 4), including any factual information those groups considered and presented

1 to the Panel without delving into the working groups' deliberations, the same cannot be said for 2 Plaintiffs' topics 6 and 7. Topics 6 and 7 seek either information Plaintiffs have obtained through
3 other discovery, see Dkt. 454 (ordering the disclosure of third party communications with DoD)
4 and Dkt. 458 (ordering the disclosure of the identity of the "principal authors" of DoD's Report
5 and Secretary Mattis' Memorandum in addition to the identity of all persons who "reviewed,
6 revised, or commented on any drafts"), or information protected by the deliberative process
7 privilege (including deliberations of Secretary Mattis himself). Accordingly, because there can 8 be no meaningful inquiry as to topics 6 and 7, it is entirely too burdensome and disproportionate
9 to the needs of the case for DoD to prepare a witness to sit for a deposition where that witness
10 will be instructed not to answer the majority of questions within that topic. Therefore, this Court 11 should issue a protective order prohibiting a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition as to topics 6 and 7.

12 Plaintiffs' letter of March 18, 2020, argues that this Court's February 3, 2020 oral order
13 permits them to seek a deposition on topics 6 and 7 and the deliberative portions of 3 and 4. Yet 14 Plaintiffs acknowledged that the Ninth Circuit stayed "the district court's December 18, 2019, 15 February 3, 2020, and February 7, 2020 orders," Carmichael Decl. ¶ 5, Ex 4. See id. (citing one 16 of the district court's orders from February 3, 2020). Plaintiffs cannot evade this stay through a 17 Rule 30(b)(6) deposition. Nor may Plaintiffs seek to have this Court adjudicate the boundaries 18 of the Ninth Circuit's stay.

19 Next, Plaintiffs seem to suggest that this Court could simply enter a new order finding 20 that the deliberative process privilege is overcome as to their topics 3, 4, 6, and 7. However, the 21 deliberations of the working groups and the drafting process for both DoD's Report and Secretary
22 Mattis Memorandum are squarely at issue in the Government's mandamus petition, as Plaintiffs 23 themselves have recognized. Carmichael Decl. ¶ 3 and 5, Ex's 2 and 4. Allowing for the very 24 deliberations at issue in the documents before the Ninth Circuit to be disclosed through testimony
25 would be an impermissible circumvention of the Ninth Circuit's stay order.² At a minimum, this

26
27 ²As far as Plaintiffs' argue that the drafting of Secretary Mattis' Memorandum is not at issue in 28 the Government's mandamus petition, that is certainly not the case as the Memorandum both relates and refers to DoD's Report. See Dkt. 413 (clarifying that DoD must produce all

1 Court should require Plaintiffs to defer a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition as to any of the topics
2 implicated in the Government's pending mandamus petition until the Ninth Circuit has ruled on 3 that petition.

4 PLAINTIFFS' INTRODUCTORY STATEMENT

5 The Government's motion seeks to thwart Plaintiffs' legal right under the Federal Rules
6 to use a basic and common discovery device—the deposition of a party's designated 7 representative(s)—concerning subject matters that are not only indisputably relevant, but address
8 central issues and evidence in this dispute. The Government's motion is grounded on three 9 objections for which it offers no support and that are contrary to settled law:

- 10 • The Government's first objection—that “many of Plaintiffs' topics fall outside of the scope 11 of the litigation”—is premised on an argument both the Ninth Circuit and this Court have 12 already rejected: that military deference forecloses any discovery beyond “factual questions
13 regarding the reasons and justifications” the Government claims prompted the “Mattis
14 policy” and/or the time period in which it claims that policy was formed. See supra at 8–9.
- 15 • The Government does not cite any support for its second objection—that Plaintiffs' 16 Rule 30(b)(6) notice should be limited or denied because it is “duplicative of other 17 discovery,” supra at 10—because there is none. The law is well-settled that other discovery
18 concerning the same subject matter—whether by deposition of the same or other witnesses 19 in their individual capacity, document production, or interrogatories—is not grounds for 20 objecting to Rule 30(b)(6) testimony on the exact same topic and by the same exact witness.
- 21 • Finally, neither the Government's pending mandamus petition nor the administrative stay 22 relating to it purport to stay Rule 30(b)(6) depositions or other discovery. Moreover, to the 23 extent the Government thinks testimony by Rule 30(b)(6) witnesses is subject to the 24 deliberative process privilege, this Court has already ordered a process that avoids any 25 prejudice to the Government or use of privileged testimony: that testimony will be sealed and

27 _____
28 deliberative documents responsive to Plaintiffs' RFP 29 which is all documents relating or referring to its Report and Recommendations).

1 reviewed by the Court in camera to determine whether the privilege applies. (See 2/3/2020
2 Hr’g Tr.)

3 The Government’s motion should be denied.

4 PLAINTIFFS’ ARGUMENT

5 To obtain a protective order, the Government must show it will suffer “specific prejudice
6 or harm” absent the order. Phillips ex rel. Estates of Byrd v. Gen. Motors Corp., 307 F.3d 1206, 7 1210–11 (9th Cir. 2002); LVB-Ogden Mktg., LLC v. Bingham, 2018 WL 6830319, at *4 (W.D.
8 Wash. Dec. 28, 2018). This burden “cannot be met by conclusory statements.” Braun v. Primary
9 Distrib. Doe No. 1, 2012 WL 12895845, at *2 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 19, 2012). Even when good cause
10 is established, a court must weigh the interests in allowing discovery against the relative burden 11 of the discovery. Hard Drive Prods., Inc. v. Does 1–118, 2011 WL 5416193, at *2 (N.D. Cal.
12 Nov. 8, 2011). Here, the Government has not demonstrated it will suffer any prejudice or harm
13 if Plaintiffs are permitted to proceed with a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition on the noticed topics, let 14 alone the type of specific harm that would outweigh Plaintiffs’ legal right to discovery pursuant 15 to Rule 30(b)(6) on these clearly relevant subject matters.

16 A. Plaintiffs’ Rule 30(b)(6) Topics Are Clearly Relevant.

17 The Government first argues that “many of Plaintiffs’ topics fall outside of the scope of 18 the litigation.” Supra at 8–9. This argument is wrong as a matter of both law and fact.

19 Legally, the Government’s relevancy objections are premised on an argument the Ninth
20 Circuit has rejected—that due to military deference, discovery must be limited to “factual 21 questions regarding the reasons and justifications for the challenged policy or at least ... the 22 relevant time period [of] the actual formation of the challenged policy.” Id. at 9. In the 23 Government’s view, questioning would be limited only to: identifying and clarifying the reasons 24 and justifications the Government claims prompted the Mattis policy, such as “the meaning of 25 acronyms, military phrases, and jargon that appear in the Administrative Record that may not be 26 readily understandable by individuals without a military background,” and to the time period
27 covered by the “Administrative Record,” beginning with the Panel of Experts and excluding both 28 the events leading up to and immediately following the President’s August 25, 2018

1 Memorandum and the specific directives that led to the formation of the Panel and the Mattis
2 policy. See supra at 4, 6–7.

3 In “support” of this limitation, the Government offers an inaccurate and selective reading
4 of the Ninth Circuit’s holding in Karnoski v. Trump, 926 F.3d 1180 (9th Cir. 2019), which leaves
5 out two critical points. First, far from requiring blind deference, the Ninth Circuit instructed that 6 the Government’s justifications for its discriminatory classification must be closely examined to 7 ensure they are “exceedingly persuasive ... genuine, not hypothesized or invented post hoc in 8 response to litigation.” Id. at 1200. Second, the Ninth Circuit found that discovery need not be 9 narrowly limited to the “administrative record” the Government later created to support the 10 Mattis policy or to the time period in which the Government claims that policy was formulated.
11 Id. at 1204. To the contrary, the Court explicitly acknowledged that Plaintiffs may discover and 12 “present additional evidence” showing that the Ban was “not an exercise of independent military 13 judgment.” This includes evidence that the military was constrained by President Trump’s prior 14 directives when it developed the “Mattis policy.” Id. at 1201–02; accord Dkt. 235 at 2 (finding 15 “no reason for discovery to be confined to the administrative record” because Plaintiffs “do not 16 challenge the policy under the APA, but instead raise direct constitutional claims”).

17 As the Ninth Circuit recognized, this Court cannot subject the Ban to the requisite 18 heightened scrutiny without knowing whether the Panel’s decision-making process and the 19 Mattis policy were preordained or influenced by the President’s directives in his August 25, 2017
20 Memorandum or motivated by animus. Nor is it appropriate to force Plaintiffs, when challenging 21 the Government’s decision-making process and result, to rely exclusively on the information the 22 Government chose to present to the Panel of Experts (and produce to Plaintiffs) and the February 23 2018 DoD Report, and ignore all other evidence. To determine whether the Ban was indeed 24 created and adopted independent from the President’s directives, and based solely on the 25 military’s judgment and compelling government interests, discovery into the Government’s 26 decision-making process and actual reasons and justifications for the Ban, including testimony
27 from a Government representative about these core issues, is required. (Dkt. 235 at 2.)
28

1 In short, the only “relevance” standard and limitation that applies here is the usual, liberal
2 definition that applies to all discovery under the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. See, e.g., 3 Olberg v. Allstate Ins. Co., 2019 WL 6033699, at *2 (W.D. Wash. Nov. 14, 2019) (finding 4 relevance “construed broadly to encompass any matter that bears on, or that reasonably could
5 lead to other matter that could bear on, any issue that is or may be in the case”). The Government
6 does not (and cannot) argue that Plaintiffs’ proposed topics violate this standard, nor does it
7 articulate any burden from producing a witness to testify about these topics, let alone one that 8 outweighs the need for discovery. Nor could it. Each of the eight topics to which the Government
9 objects goes to core issues in this case. (The Government does not object to the ninth and final 10 topic in Plaintiffs’ Notice.) The Government’s responses to these topics border on the ridiculous.

11 Topic 1. Panel of Experts, including: its formation; its mission, purpose, assignment(s), and 12 deliverables; the potential courses of action and/or policy options it considered; the issues it
13 addressed; the information it requested and/or considered; its deliberations, conclusions, and 14 recommendations, including to whom those recommendations were made; and the Panel’s Final Report and Recommendation.

15 Other than its general “military deference” objection, which both the Ninth Circuit and 16 this Court have rejected, the Government has no response to the relevance of, and Plaintiffs’ need 17 for, this information. Nevertheless, it objects to any examination beyond “the reasons and 18 justifications of the challenged policy, including the meaning of acronyms, military phrases, and 19 jargon that appear in the administrative record and the Panel’s meeting minutes that may not be 20 readily understandable by individuals without a military background.” There is no basis for such 21 a limitation, and the Court should overrule the Government’s objections.

22 Topic 2. The preparation, review, and approval of Panel meeting minutes, including: the identity
23 of any individuals who were responsible for documenting Panel meetings and drafting,
24 reviewing, finalizing and approving minutes before they were submitted to the Panel; the 25 process(es) these individuals followed for documenting Panel meetings; why minutes were 26 prepared for some, but not all, Panel meetings, including the Panel’s last four meetings; and the
27 identity of any individuals who decided whether minutes would or would not be prepared and 28 the reasons why minutes were or were not prepared.

The Government does not make any relevance objections to this topic. Nor could it, given its heavy reliance on the minutes the Government has produced as a record of what the Panel

1 considered and what transpired at those meetings.³ Plaintiffs are entitled to discovery into 2 whether the minutes are accurate and complete, particularly because documents recently
3 produced pursuant to court order in the Doe case raise questions about the minutes' accuracy and 4 completeness. For example, at one meeting, the Panel heard from 10 commanders of units with 5 transgender persons serving openly. After reviewing the minutes for that meeting, at least one
6 Panel member complained that they did "not provide a balanced recording." (Dkt. 425.)
7 Although 9 of the 10 commanders did not identify "any unit cohesion or morale issues," "[o]nly
8 the negative comments were cited" in the minutes. (Id.)

9 Topic 3. 'Transgender Service Policy Working Group' or 'Transgender Personnel Policy
10 Working Group,' including: the identity of any individuals who served as chairperson, members,
11 or presented at or participated in the Group's meetings; the Group's mission, purpose, and 12 assignment(s); the potential courses of action the Group considered; the issues addressed by the
13 Group; any information the Group requested and/or considered; the Group's deliberations,
14 conclusions, and recommendations; any reports, presentations, recommendations, or other
15 communications the Group had or shared with the Panel; and any records or other documents
16 that reflect the Group's work, deliberations, conclusions, and/or recommendations.

17 Topic 4. Any discussion, consideration, conclusions or recommendations relating to gender
18 dysphoria, gender transition or accession into the military or military service by transgender
19 persons by the Department of Defense's Medical and Personnel Executive Steering Committee
20 (MEDPERS) during the period July 1, 2015 to the present.

21 The Government likewise does not contest the relevance and need for this testimony. The 22 Panel relied heavily on "working groups" to support its work, including determining what data, 23 evidence, and policy considerations the Panel would and would not receive. One of the few 24 working-group documents produced, a "Kickoff Meeting" presentation for the Transgender 25 Personnel Policy Working Group, amply demonstrates the relevance of this discovery.
26 Describing the "guidance" that would guide the group's deliberations, the presentation cited both 27 President Trump's July 26, 2017 tweets and August 25, 2017 Memorandum. (Dkt. 422 at 4, 11.)

³ The Government claims there are no minutes concerning the Panel's last four meetings, where its "recommendations" were apparently discussed and voted on. (See Dkt. 435-17.) This includes the three meetings held after the Panel issued its "Final Report" and presented its recommendations to the Vice Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff (VCJCS) and the Deputy Secretary of Defense (DSD), who rejected these recommendations. (Dkt.
429.)

1 The presentation further stated that the premise for the committee's work would be that all
2 "[p]roposed [courses of actions] address POTUS expressed end state." (Id. at 13.)

3 Topic 5. The meeting on or around December 15, 2017 at which the Panel presented its
4 recommendations to the Deputy Secretary of Defense ("DSD") and the Vice Chair of the Joint
5 Chiefs of Staff ("VCJCS"), including: the identity of all individuals present at the meeting; the
6 content of all presentations or written materials provided at the meeting; the reactions and/or
7 response(s) of the DSD and the VCJCS to the Panel's recommendations; any directions by or
8 requests from the DSD and the VCJCS as to additional or further work the Panel should perform;
9 any documents that reflect what was said, presented, discussed, or decided at the meeting; any
10 follow-up or further work performed by the Panel or others in response to any concerns, reactions
11 or other views or directions of the DSD and/or the VCJCS as a result of the meeting; and any
12 subsequent meetings or communications with or between the Panel and the DSD and/or VCJCS.

13 The Government does not even attempt to explain its bare, unsupported assertion that this 14 topic is "irrelevant." For good reason. Secretary Mattis directed the DSD and VCJCS "to lead"
15 "in developing an Implementation Plan on military service by transgender individuals, to effect 16 the policy and directives" in the President's August 25, 2017 Memorandum, and directed that the 17 Panel of Experts would report to and "support" them in recommending to Mattis a policy that 18 would effect the President's directives. (Dkt. 255-2.) A lone email recently produced in response 19 to the Doe order shows that the Panel presented its "Final Report" and recommendations to the 20 DSD and VCJCS on December 15, 2017, but that they rejected those recommendations:

21 VCJCS doesn't believe SECDEF can defend the recommendations on the Hill or 22 before the press. DSD believes that given the competitive economy we need to 23 compete for all people who can do the job and we need to be clear on the standards 24 we expect - if you can meet them, regardless of what class of person you identify 25 with, then you should be acceptable for military service.

26 (Dkt. 429.) This is the sole document the Government has produced concerning the VCJCS and 27 DSD's review and rejection or what actions were taken in response.

28 Topic 6. The February 2018 Department of Defense "Report and Recommendations on Military Service by Transgender Persons" (the "Report"), including the identity of any individuals who approved the Report before it was submitted to Secretary Mattis; the role, if any, of Secretary Mattis in drafting, preparing, reviewing, revising and/or finalizing the Report before it was presented to him; the process that was followed and the information and alternatives that were considered in drafting, revising, finalizing, and approving the Report; the identity and role of any persons who were not current employees of the Department of Defense or one of the branches of the military who were involved in any way in providing information that was considered or used in preparing the Report or in drafting, reviewing, revising, finalizing and approving the Report."

1 Topic 7. The February 22, 2018 Memorandum for the President from Secretary Mattis
2 concerning Military Service by Transgender Individuals (“Memorandum”), including: the
3 principal author(s) of the Memorandum; the identity of any individuals who were involved in
4 drafting and preparing, reviewing and revising, finalizing and/or approving the Memorandum
5 before it was submitted to Secretary Mattis; the role, if any, of Secretary Mattis in drafting,
6 preparing, reviewing, revising and/or finalizing the Memorandum; the process that was
7 followed and the information and alternatives that were considered in drafting, revising,
8 finalizing, and approving the Memorandum; and the identity and role of any persons who were
9 not current employees of the Department of Defense or one of the branches of the military who 10 were involved in any way in drafting, reviewing, revising, finalizing and/or approving the 11 Memorandum.

12 The Government also does not explain why it objects to these requests as “irrelevant.” In 13 fact, the Government previously told this Court that the February 2018 DoD Report sets forth its 14 complete justification for and defense of the discriminatory “Mattis policy.” (7/17/2018 Hr’g 15 Tr.) Secretary Mattis said the same thing when he forwarded the Report to President Trump, 16 along with his February 2018 Memorandum setting forth the Mattis policy. (Dkt. 405-6 at 3 17 (Report sets forth “the factors and considerations forming the basis of the Department’s policy 18 proposals.”).)

19 Despite its critical role in its defense, the Government has refused to produce any 20 documents related to the DoD Report, or the period from January 11, 2018 through February 22, 21 2018 during which it was prepared, including how it was prepared or what sources, information,
22 or alternatives were considered in its preparation. This is so notwithstanding: (1) it is undisputed 23 the Report was prepared after the Panel completed its deliberations, issued its final 24 recommendations, and was disbanded; (2) the Report itself shows it was based on sources that 25 were not presented to or considered by the Panel; and (3) third-party discovery, which the 26 Government unsuccessfully sought to quash, confirmed that in early February 2018 a special
27 assistant for Secretary Mattis, who was working on the DoD Report, solicited and received 28 information and published sources cited in the Report from several leading third party opponents of transgender service. For example, on February 5, 2018, Dr. Paul McHugh provided DoD a list of sources he believed support the Ban, (Dkt. 435-23), including a May 2014 Hayes Directory article, which the DoD Report cites five times as support for the “Mattis policy.” Compare Dkt.
435-25 with Dkt. 405-5 at nn. 26, 67, 72, 88–89; see also Dkts. 435-24, 435-26, 435-27, and 435-

28; Dkts. 430, 431, 432, and 433 (other correspondence with anti-transgender advocates and sources collected). Despite the indisputable relevance of the February 2018 DoD Report and the Mattis February 22, 2018 Memorandum, the Government has refused to produce any information concerning how these documents were prepared, information and alternatives considered, and whether third parties were involved and their role. Now, without any legal basis, the Government seeks to limit any Rule 30(b)(6) deposition to “technical questions such as to the meaning of acronyms, military phrases, and jargon that appears in [the report or the memorandum] that may not be readily understandable to individuals without a military background.”

Topic 8. Any requests for waivers, exceptions and/or Exceptions to Policy (ETPs) (a) between January 1, 2016 and April 11, 2019 and (b) since April 12, 2019 with respect to military accession or service by transgender persons, persons who have been diagnosed with or have gender dysphoria, and/or persons who have transitioned or need or seek to transition to a gender other than their birth-assigned gender, including: the number of such requests; the stated reasons for and in support of, and the facts and circumstances concerning, each such request; and the disposition of each such request, including whether it was granted or denied and the reasons provided for each such disposition.

The Government does not object to the relevance of this topic. Nor could it. In the past, it has taken the position that, in practice, the effects of the Ban can be, and have been, tempered by the grant of waivers and/or “Exceptions to Policy” for transgender individuals who seek to join (access) the military or who are currently serving. This request seeks information concerning the accuracy of that contention and whether any such waivers and/or exceptions have been granted, and if so, their frequency and the circumstances. Once again, however, Defendants seek to limit Rule 30(b)(6) testimony on this topic to “any technical questions regarding ETPs under [DoD’s] current policy such as the meaning of acronyms, military phrases, and jargon that appear in the ETPs themselves and action on those ETPs that may not be readily understandable by individuals without a military background.”

In sum, each of the objected-to topics is not only relevant, but also concerns a core issue as to which Plaintiffs’ need for discovery is clear. The Government’s relevance objections to these topics are baseless.

B. Existing Discovery Does Not Substitute For A Rule 30(b)(6) Deposition.

The Court should also reject the Government’s argument that a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition is unnecessary because it would “duplicate” other discovery, including “documents and interrogatory responses” and deposition testimony of Government witnesses in their individual capacities. See supra at 10, 12. The Government does not provide any support for this objection, because there is none.

To start, the fact that Plaintiffs are taking depositions of fact witnesses who may have personal knowledge of the topics does not render a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition duplicative, nor does it justify limiting Plaintiffs to one seven-hour deposition of DoD officials who are testifying in their individual capacity and are also designated as Rule 30(b)(6) corporate representatives. “A party is entitled to depose someone in both their individual and their corporate capacity.” YYGM S.A. v. Hanger 221 Santa Monica Inc., 2015 WL 12660401, at *1 (C.D. Cal. July 24, 2015). This is because a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition provides evidence unique from that gained via other forms of discovery. Unlike other depositions, a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition allows a party to obtain an “entity’s interpretation of events and documents” and provides that party with “binding testimony from the ... entity.” Id. Rule 30(b)(6) depositions also avoid the issue of multiple witnesses disclaiming knowledge on given topics: they curb the “bandying” by which officers [] of a corporation are deposed in turn but each disclaims knowledge of facts that are clearly known to persons in the organization.” FED. R. CIV. P. 30(b)(6) Advisory Committee’s Note; supra at 13.

Accordingly, courts have “rejected the argument that a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition is unnecessary or cumulative simply because individual deponents ... have already testified about the topics noticed in the Rule 30(b)(6) deposition notice.” La. Pac. Corp., 285 F.R.D. at 486–87; see also Appleton Papers Inc. v. George A. Whiting Paper Co., 2009 WL 2870622, at *2 (E.D. Wis. Sept. 2, 2009) (“Corporate designees are commonly produced, and no doubt some of their testimony may be a re-hash of what’s been covered elsewhere, but their testimony is the testimony of the corporation itself, and for that reason alone it may not be duplicative.”). Simply put, “any testimony provided by employees as individuals does not satisfy the need for Plaintiff

1 to obtain binding testimony from the corporate entity.” Kelly v. Provident Life & Acc. Ins. Co.,
2 No. 04cv807-AJB (BGS), 2011 WL 2448276, at *4 (S.D. Cal. June 20, 2011).

3 The Government likewise may not avoid producing a Rule 30(b)(6) witness because it
4 has produced documents that are relevant to the deposition topics. “Producing documents and 5 responding to written discovery is not a substitute for providing a thoroughly educated Rule
6 30(b)(6) deponent.” Great Am. Ins. Co. of N.Y. v. Vegas Constr. Co., 251 F.R.D. 534, 541 (D.
7 Nev. 2008). “[T]he two forms of discovery are not equivalent”; “depositions provide a more
8 complete means to obtain information and are, therefore, favored.” Id.; accord Kelly, 2011 WL 9 2448276, at *3 (similar); FDIC. v. 26 Flamingo, LLC, 2013 WL 3975006, at *5 (D. Nev. Aug.
10 1, 2013) (“[A] corporation may not take the position that its documents state the company’s 11 position.”). Indeed, one purpose of a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition is to secure the “entity’s 12 interpretation of ... documents”—which may not be apparent from the face of the documents
13 themselves. La. Pac. Corp., 285 F.R.D. at 486–87.

14 Finally, the same is true of interrogatory answers. Courts uniformly reject the 15 Government’s argument that parties may avoid Rule 30(b)(6) testimony “by providing written 16 answers” or “supply[ing] the answers in a written response to an interrogatory.” 26 Flamingo, 17 LLC, 2013 WL 3975006, at *5; Kelly, 2011 WL 2448276, at *3. That is particularly true where, 18 as here, many of the Government’s interrogatory responses are neither clear nor complete.
19 Moreover, with respect to information that is provided, Plaintiffs are not required to simply “take 20 Defendants’ word for it” and rely solely on interrogatory answers crafted by opposing counsel.
21 Plaintiffs have a right to test the accuracy and completeness of that information by questioning
22 witnesses with direct knowledge and the authority to speak on behalf of the Government. See 23 Kelly, 2011 WL 2448276, at *3 (finding that written answers to interrogatories cannot serve as 24 substitutes for Rule 30(b)(6) deposition testimony); La. Pac. Corp., 285 F.R.D. at 486–87 (same).

25 In short, the law is settled that other discovery is no substitute for, or basis for objecting
26 to, a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition. Under Rule 30(b)(6), Plaintiffs have a clear legal right to depose 27 knowledgeable witnesses designated by the Government and to obtain testimony from those 28 witnesses as representatives of, and that is binding on, the Defendants as entities.

C. Deliberative Process Privilege Is No Basis to Preclude Plaintiffs' Topics.

Finally, the Court should reject the Government's backstop claim that the deliberative process privilege allows it to refuse to produce a Rule 30(b)(6) witness for Topics 3, 4, 6, and 7. (The Government concedes its deliberative process arguments do not apply to the other five noticed topics, nor is there any basis to suggest otherwise. Supra at 14–15.)

First, the Ninth Circuit's administrative stay regarding the Government's mandamus petition does not require this Court to prohibit a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition. Both the Government's petition and the administrative stay relate only to this Court's orders that Plaintiffs overcame the deliberative process privilege for, and the Government must produce, documents responsive to two of Plaintiffs' document requests. They do not seek or purport to halt any other discovery.

Second, the Government's deliberative process argument fares no better on the merits. Its primary argument—that “mental impressions” of military decision-makers are categorically privileged—lacks any support. Indeed, none of the three cases it cites even mentions deliberative process privilege. Supra at 14. The one case that addresses “mental impressions” is addressing Rule 30(b)(6) topics that seek attorney work product. J.P. Morgan Chase Bank v. Liberty Mut. Ins. Co., 209 F.R.D. 361, 363 (S.D.N.Y. 2002). The others are even further afield. One discusses the proper scope of review in cases limited to an administrative record, a contention this Court has repeatedly rejected for this case. Dep't of Commerce v. N.Y., 139 S. Ct. 2551, 2573–74 (2019); see Dkt. 235, at 2; Karnoski, 926 F.3d at 1203, 1206–07. And the other is a concurrence in the D.C. Circuit's Doe decision, which is irreconcilable with the law of this case. See Doe 2 v. Shanahan, 917 F.3d 694, 737 (D.C. Cir. 2019) (Williams, J., concurring). There simply is no support for the Government's claim that “mental impressions” are off limits under Rule 30(b)(6), much less in a case that turns on the genuineness of the Government's proffered justifications for a discriminatory policy subject to heightened scrutiny. See Karnoski, 926 F.3d at 1206.

Third, even if the Government were correct that government witnesses' “mental impressions” are somehow privileged (and it is not), the Government's argument that “there can be no meaningful inquiry as to Topics 6 and 7” because those topics exclusively “seek the mental impressions of senior military decision-makers” is demonstrably wrong. See supra at 15. The

1 challenged topics seek far more than “mental impressions.” Topic 6, for example, seeks (among
2 other things) testimony about “the identity of any individuals who approved the [February 2018]
3 Report before it was submitted to Secretary Mattis and the role, if any, of Secretary Mattis in 4 drafting, preparing, reviewing, revising and/or finalizing the Report before it was presented to 5 him”—factual information that does not remotely implicate “opinions, recommendations, or 6 advice about agency policies.” Warner, 742 F.2d at 1161. So too Topic 7, which seeks (among 7 other things) testimony about “the principal author(s) of the [February 2018 Memorandum; the 8 identity of any individuals who were involved in drafting and preparing, reviewing and revising, 9 finalizing and/or approving the Memorandum before it was submitted to Secretary Mattis; the 10 role, if any, of Secretary Mattis in drafting, preparing, reviewing, revising and/or finalizing the 11 Memorandum,” and “the identity and role of any persons who were not current employees of the 12 Department of Defense or one of the branches of the military who were involved in any way in 13 drafting, reviewing, revising, finalizing and/or approving the Memorandum.” The Government’s 14 attempt to foreclose entire subjects wholesale is both legally baseless and factually wrong.

15 Finally, this Court has already instructed the Government on the proper procedure if it
16 wishes to raise a deliberative process objection to deposition testimony: “[I]f there is an objection
17 based upon deliberative process, the objection is made, then the question is answered, and you 18 seal the deposition. And if we have to, we will go over line-by-line as to what comes in and what 19 doesn’t in terms of public testimony.” (2/3/2020 Hr’g Tr. at 64:14–24.) This process is all the 20 protection the Government needs, ensuring no privileged information will be used, or even seen
21 by anyone beyond attorneys in this case, unless and until every objection is fully vetted and only 22 if the Court rejects the Government’s privilege claim. This process also addresses the 23 Government’s past argument with respect to protective orders—that they do not completely 24 eliminate the harm of disclosure because opposing counsel can still “use the [information] in 25 litigation.” (Dkt. 414-1 at 5.) Under the Court’s order, if the Government’s privilege claim is 26 sustained, the testimony in question may not be used by Plaintiffs or their counsel. In short, the 27 Government faces no conceivable harm from proceeding with a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition.

28 * * *

1 The Government has failed to show good cause for a protective order. Plaintiffs therefore 2 respectfully request the Court deny the motion and order the Government to promptly designate 3 a witness for each topic in Plaintiffs' Rule 30(b)(6) notice and produce them for deposition.

4 DEFENDANTS' REPLY

5 Apart from ignoring the unique aspects of litigating in the arena of military affairs, Defs.'
6 Statement 8–10, Plaintiffs fail to acknowledge that Rule 26 requires an inquiry beyond just 7 relevance. The Court, in addition to determining relevance, “must limit the frequency or extent
8 of discovery otherwise allowed” if, inter alia, such discovery is “unreasonably cumulative or 9 duplicative, or can be obtained from some other source that is more convenient, less burdensome,
10 and less expensive[.]” Rule 26(b)(2)(C). It is wholly unreasonable to have government officials
11 sit for multiple depositions on the same topics when one deposition would be sufficient, or to use
12 Rule 30(b)(6) depositions simply to seek the same information that Plaintiffs already have 13 obtained through other methods of discovery. Worse, a host of Plaintiffs' topics (3–4, 6–7) baldly 14 attempt to circumvent the Ninth Circuit's stay order by requesting the exact same information at 15 issue in the mandamus petition—made obvious by the fact that Plaintiffs recycle much of their 16 arguments from their responses to that petition. See Dkt. 459-1 at 15-18 (addressing Plaintiffs' 17 arguments). Defendants' motion for protective order should be granted.

18 CONCLUSION

19 For the foregoing reasons, Defendants respectfully move this Court for a protective order
20 limiting Plaintiffs' Rule 30(b)(6) topics to non-duplicative and non-privileged information
21 regarding DoD's reasons and justifications for the challenged policy. In the alternative,
22 Defendants seek a protective order (a) limiting Plaintiffs to one 7-hour deposition of DoD 23 officials (or former officials) currently scheduled for deposition where the Government has 24 indicated that they have sufficient knowledge to answer non-privileged questions regarding 25 Plaintiffs' proposed topics, and (b) deferring any Rule 30(b)(6) deposition as to Plaintiffs' topics
26 6 and 7 and the portions of topics 3 and 4 seeking deliberations of the Department of Defense's 27 Transgender Service Policy Working Group or the Department of Defense's Department of 28

Defense's Medical and Personnel Executive Steering Committee (MEDPERS) pending the adjudication of the Government's pending mandamus petition.

CASE NO. C17-1297

ORDER RE MOTION TO COMPEL THE GOVERNMENT’S
WITH THIRD PARTIES (DKT. NO.
440);

REQUIRING PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENTS AFTER IN CAMERA
REVIEW

This matter comes before the Court on Defendants’ submission of documents for in camera review pursuant to the Court’s Order on Plaintiffs’ Motion to Compel the Government’s Withheld Communications with Third Parties. (Dkt. Nos. 438, 454, 461, 462.) The Special Master, having reviewed the approximately 1,500 pages of documents the Government filed with the Court, and the Court having conferred with the Master, finds that the deliberative process privilege may only apply to one of the documents submitted for review: “Gender Dysphoria Medical Utilization Comparison Methodology With Summary of Results” (“PrivWithhold page

1 numbers 110-119 and its duplicate copies). Further, only the email chains attached as Exhibit 6
2 to the Carmichael Declaration (Dkt. No. 462) are protected by the attorney-client privilege
3 and/or attorney work product. No other privileges were properly asserted. Accordingly, the 4 Court ORDERS:

5 (1) Defendants to produce the documents bearing the Priv/Withhold page numbers of 6 1-109, 120-174, 185-357, 368-496, and 517-1414.

7 (2) Defendants will also produce the Easton Declaration (Dkt. No. 461) and the 8 Carmichael Declaration (Dkt. No. 462), except for the documents in Exhibit 6;

9 (3) Defendants are required to provide additional information about the document
10 entitled "Gender Dysphoria Medical Utilization Comparison Methodology with 11 Summary of Results" (Priv/Withhold 110-119; Duplicates at 175-84, 357-67, 507-12 16), as to why this document should be considered privileged under the deliberative 13 process privilege in a sealed pleading by May 20, 2020.

14 Background

15 This case involves challenges to the Trump Administration's decision to bar transgender 16 troops from serving or enlisting to serve in the United States Armed Forces ("Mattis policy"), 17 effectively reversing the policy adopted in 2016 ("Carter policy"). In February, upon suspicion 18 that the Government had erroneously asserted the deliberative process privilege and 19 attorney-client privilege over communications with third parties, Plaintiffs identified 487
20 custodians from Defendants' privilege logs who were potential third parties and asked the 21 Government to produce all communications with those third parties, as neither privilege would 22 apply to those communications. (Dkt. No. 438 at 7.) In the alternative, Plaintiffs moved to 23 compel the Government to revise its privilege logs to assert appropriate privileges over those 24

1 documents and provide sufficient information to allow Plaintiffs to assess the identities of the 2 487 custodians. (Id.) In response, the Government argued that its communications with those 3 third parties are shielded by the “consultant corollary” doctrine, which states that 4 communications with third parties solicited by the Government to aid in its decision-making 5 process are privileged. All. For the Wild Rockies v. Pena, 2017 WL 8778579, at *4-5 (E.D.
6 Wash. Dec. 12, 2017).

7 The Court granted Plaintiffs’ motion, and to the extent the Government claimed privilege, 8 ordered a privilege log be prepared, and privilege-claimed documents be submitted for in camera
9 review. Where the Defendants asserted the consultant corollary privilege, the Court ordered 10 Defendants to establish that (1) the third party was contacted to assist the agency in its 11 decision-making process; (2) “the consultant[] [was] hired or solicited by the agency to provide 12 neutral advice and did not . . . ‘represent . . . the interest of any other client, when it advise[d] the 13 agency that hire[d] it.’” Friends of the Earth v. United States Army Corps of Eng’rs, 374 F.
14 Supp. 3d 1045, 1054 (W.D. Wash. 2019) (quoting Department of Interior v. Klamath Water 15 Users Protective Ass’n, 532 U.S. 1, 11 (2001)); and (3) that any communications the 16 Government seeks to protect are indeed deliberative and pre-decisional. (Dkt. No. 454 at 5.)

17 The Government submitted approximately 1,500 pages of documents, representing 18 communications from only 14 of the the 487 persons identified by Plaintiffs. The submitted 19 documents fit into three categories: (1) The RAND Corporation (“RAND”) documents relating 20 to the preparation and release of the Carter policy and the RAND Report, both publicly released
21 on June 30, 2016, (Dkt. No. 505 at 6); (2) the Kennell documents from Kennell & Associates 22 (“Kennell”), a consulting group that assisted the DoD with the Carter policy and the subsequent 23 Mattis policy; and (3) email chains attached to the Carmichael declaration. (Dkt. No. 462.)
24

Each page, except for the email chains attached to the Carmichael Declaration, bears a separate page notation “PrivWithhold,” which the Court will use to identify specific documents in the analysis that follows.

A. Rand Documents

Defendants claim that there are 70 documents and communications between RAND and DoD officials to which the deliberative process privilege should attach. (Easton Decl., ¶ 13.) These documents bear the PrivWithhold page designations of 638-1414. Defendants twice asserted the deliberative process privilege applies to the actual RAND Report, although it was made available to the public. (Dkt. No. 505 at 5.) Indeed, one of the copies makes it clear that the RAND Report could be purchased for $22.50. (See PrivWithhold 1245.)

As noted above, the RAND Report was released publicly on June 30, 2016, the same date that the Carter policy was officially adopted. (Dkt. No. 505 at 7.) At some time during the process of preparing the Carter policy, the Government decided that the RAND Report was going to be made available to the public. The Government chose not to identify that date for the Court. However, there are at least some clues.

For instance, Agnes Schaefer, the lead contact for RAND, wrote her DoD counterpart:

I have begun to rework the transgender briefing per our discussion (please see attached file). I have reorganized the material into the new shell and I have begun to go through and eliminate the jargon, as well as boil down the findings so that they are less academic. Knowing that these slides may go to a broader audience, the flavor of this revised briefing feels much better to me. Look forward to talking with you in the morning.

(PrivWithhold 1106 (emphasis added).) A fair inference from this document is that at least as early as February 2016, the DoD and the consultants were aware that the ultimate audience would be greater than simply the DoD decision-makers. The document also suggests that as of this date public release of the work was expected by both parties.

1 When asked about this, the Government asserts that it “understand[s] that language to 2 refer to a broader audience within DoD, not a broader audience of the public.” (Dkt. No. 505 at 3 5.) The Court finds this unpersuasive because it fails to address Ms. Schaefer’s goal of 4 eliminating “the jargon”; a broader audience within the DoD would be familiar with military 5 jargon and abbreviations. The Government has offered nothing from either RAND (with whom 6 it continues to do business) nor from the DoD to support its assertion.

7 The Government also contends that “[r]egarding the final version of the RAND Report,
8 that final document was published on the same date that the Carter policy went into effect, June 9 30, 2016. See DTM 16-005, “Military Service of Transgender Serrvice Members” (June 30, 10 2016), Dkt. 21-8. Defendants thus disagree that the Report itself was intended to be made public 11 prior to the formal adoption of the Carter policy.” (Dkt. No. 505 at 7-8.)

12 The Government misses the point. Presumably at least by February 6, 2016, the 13 Government and RAND knew that the RAND Report was going to be made public, along with 14 the Carter policy. In fact, they were released the same day, a further indication that both 15 consultants and the government were aware of what the other was planning. Hence, the 16 underlying basis of the deliberative process privilege is not impacted by the release of any
17 RAND documents, at least those as early as February 2016.¹

18 In an appeal in this case, the Ninth Circuit discussed the status of the deliberative process 19 privilege.

20 The deliberative process privilege ... still commands judicial consideration. We 21 have held that “[a] litigant may obtain deliberative materials if his or her need for 22 the materials and the need for accurate fact-finding override the government’s interest in non-disclosure.” (citing Warner). As the district court here correctly

23 ¹ The February 2016 date is based upon the email referenced. If the Government has information that indicates an 24 earlier or later date was when the DoD and the RAND consultants knew these works were going to be submitted to the public, it should file this information by May 20, 2020.

1 recognized, we balance four factors in determining whether this exception to the 2 deliberative process privilege is met “1) the relevance of the evidence; 2) the 3 availability of other evidence; 3) the government’s role in the litigation; and 4) the 4 extent to which disclosure would hinder frank and independent discussion
5 regarding contemplated policies and decisions.”

6 Karnoski v. Trump, 926 F.3d 1180, 1206 (9th Cir. 2019). The Court held the first two factors
7 favored plaintiffs but directed further review by this Court on the first² and fourth factor. As to 8 the fourth factor, the Government has submitted only a boilerplate claim of harm:

9 The release of DoD’s communications with RAND and Kennell would have a 10 harmful chilling effect on the DoD’s future deliberations. The DoD
11 decision-making process apparatus relies on open and candid conversations 12 between DoD officials and nongovernmental consultants to address many of the 13 difficult and complicated decisions that DoD faces. If such deliberations were 14 disclosed, even pursuant to a protective order, DoD officials who interact with 15 retained consultants would be less willing to engage in full and frank discussions
16 about policy. Indeed, if DoD personnel knew that their thoughts, impressions, 17 and opinions conveyed to contractors like RAND and Kennell would be open to 18 scrutiny, they may hesitate to provide their true positions on potential sources of 19 action out of concern that these discussions could be revealed to wider 20 audiences. The absence of such essential input from DoD personnel would 21 degrade DoD’s decision-making process and could expose the nations to greater 22 overall risk.

23 (Easton Decl., ¶ 24.) This statement is the only “evidence” of harm submitted by the 24 Government regarding the fourth Warner factor. There are at least five problems with the Government’s position. First, it is so generic and non-specific as to be worthless. There is no attempt to relate these boilerplate assertions to this case. If this generic language and nothing more suffices, then under what circumstances could any claim of deliberative process privilege in any case be overcome?

² Plaintiffs have offered to withdraw their demands for the RAND documents if the Government enters into a stipulation regarding the Carter policy. (Dkt. No. 506 at 2.) If the Government accepts this stipulation, the issues regarding the RAND documents may become moot.

1 Second, the Government's claim of harm to the deliberative process is unsupported by 2 evidence from any consultant in this case. This specifically ties into the fact that the release of 3 the Carter policy and the RAND Report were being issued on the same date, with both sides
4 aware that there would be public dissemination of both. This raises the question – why would
5 RAND and the DoD be less than frank and candid with each other regarding the Carter policy
6 and the RAND Report if they both knew each document was going to be publicly disseminated
7 on the same day? Third, the government acknowledges that some policy briefings predating the 8 release of the Carter policy and the RAND Report have already been produced. While this may 9 not constitute a complete waiver, it highlights the expected public release of this information,
10 thus undercutting the fundamental purpose of the deliberative process privilege. Fourth, a quick 11 review of the earlier revisions of RAND drafts consist principally of editorial revisions. While 12 typos might embarrass the RAND consultant, release is not likely to prevent RAND from giving 13 the government its full frank and candid advice in the future. Finally, the copyright to the 14 RAND Report is owned by RAND. It and other documents filed with the Library of Congress
15 and that bear the Priv/Withhold number, identify RAND as the owner. As to these earlier 16 versions and documents, the Government has not demonstrated that it has the standing to protect 17 these from being disclosed.

18 In sum, because it was known by all that the RAND Report and the Carter policy would 19 be released publicly, the deliberative process privilege would not be harmed by the production of 20 the RAND Report and related documents, including drafts. The fourth Warner factor does not 21 prevent disclosure of these documents.

B. Kennell Documents

As discussed, Kennell is a consulting firm based in Falls Church, Virginia. It was asked to assist in cost analyses for the Carter policy. Later, it was asked to put together studies in a very short time frame to assist in the preparation of the Mattis policy. As part of its work on the Carter policy and RAND Report, Task Orders focused on cost issues were prepared both pre and post-dating the Carter policy and RAND Report. For the reasons set forth above, none of the documents created in furtherance of the Carter policy are properly withheld pursuant to the deliberative process privilege.

Kennell was also retained to assist the DoD in its work on the Mattis policy. The work appears to relate to the formulation of a statistically sound study, and assistance in the preparation of materials for a presentation to be made to DoD decision makers. Most of the email chains at issue involve questions regarding construction of a proper study, preliminary reports of data runs, and questions generated. None of these documents are privileged. First, most are not deliberative, but simply report information from the data runs. Second, they do not reach the level of high protection that the Court of Appeals addressed in this case, when it noted “[d]ocuments involving the most senior executives or branch officials, for example may require greater deference. (They may, of course, also be the most relevant.)” Karnoski, 926 F.3d at 1206. The email chains do not rise anywhere near this level. Third, to the extent that they simply report data run results, this is data and not deliberation.

The Government has suggested that some of these lower level documents may be protected by the Consultant’s Corollary Doctrine (“CCD”). The CCD would require Defendants to show that “(1) the third party was contacted by the agency to assist it in its decision-making process; (2) the consultant [] [was] hired or solicited by the agency to provide advice and did not

1 ... represent...the interest of any other client, when it advise[d] the agency that hire[d] it ...; and
2 (3) that any communications that the Government seeks to protect are indeed deliberative and 3 predecisional.” (footnote and citations omitted). The CCD does not shield these documents
4 from disclosure because while elements 1 and 2 may be established in the record, the documents
5 are not deliberative in any sense of the term. They report questions regarding limits and scope of 6 a study, preliminary results of the study, and data. They do not involve the process of 7 deliberation. They involve the process of data collection and reporting. Moreover, the CCD has 8 not been recognized by the Ninth Circuit. Rojas v. Fed. Aviation Admin., 948 F.3d 952 (9th Cir.
9 2020).

10 However, one document may rise to the level of deliberative process privilege. That is 11 the document entitled “Gender Dysphoria Medical Utilization Comparison Methodology with 12 Summary of Results.” (Priv/Withhold 110-119; Duplicates at 175-84, 357-67, 507-16.) While 13 Defendants are not required to produce this document at this time, Defendants must provide an 14 explanation for why the deliberative process privilege applies to this document in a sealed 15 pleading filed not later than May 20, 2020.

16 C. Carmichael Declaration Documents Attached as Exhibit 6

17 One of the 487 third party individuals identified by plaintiff was Amanda Samerson, who 18 appears on several email chains. Defendants have established that she was a contract legal 19 assistant providing support on discovery issues on behalf of the Department of Justice. Her
20 presence on the email chain does not destroy the attorney-client privilege or the work product
21 privilege associated with the email chain. The claim of privilege is sustained.

22 Conclusion

23 As directed by the Court of Appeals, the Court has applied a “granular” review of the 24 documents claimed as privileged under the deliberative process privilege. Each individual document has been reviewed. None of the documents so claimed fall within the confines of the deliberative process privilege, with the possible exception of the single document identified above. The Defendants will produce Priv/Withholding pages 1-109, 120-174, 185-357, 368-496, 517-1414 to plaintiffs not later than May 20, 2020. Defendants will provide further information on why Priv/Withhold document 110-119 should not be ordered produced not later than May 20, 2020. Defendants will produce copies of the Easton and Carmichael Declarations to plaintiffs (except Ex. 6 to Carmichael Declaration) not later than May 20,2020. Defendants claims of privilege relating to the email chain attached as Ex. 6 to the Carmichael Declaration are sustained.

The clerk is ordered to provide copies of this order to all counsel.

CASE NO. C17-1297 MJP

ORDER ON LCR 37 JOINT
SUBMISSION RE DEFENDANTS
DELIBERATIVE PROCESS PRIVILEGE CLAIMS (DKT. NO.
497)

The above-entitled Court, having received and reviewed the LCR 37 Joint Submission Regarding Defendants' Deliberative Process Privilege Claims (Dkt. No. 497), along with relevant portions of the record, ORDERS that Plaintiffs' motion to compel Defendants to produce a random sampling of 350 documents for in camera review is GRANTED as follows:

- (1) Defendants shall provide Plaintiffs with an updated master privilege log, reflecting an accurate list of withheld documents and privilege assertions by May 22, 2020;
- (2) From the updated master privilege log, Plaintiffs will provide Defendants with a randomized list of 350 documents that were withheld solely on the basis of the deliberative process privilege by May 26, 2020;

- 1 (3) After reviewing the list provided by Plaintiffs, if Defendants find a document that has
2 been withheld on the basis of more than the deliberative process privilege,
3 Defendants will remove that document from the sampling. The Plaintiffs may then 4 substitute another randomized selection for a total of 350;
- 5 (4) Defendants shall file the 350 documents for an in camera review with the Court by 6 May 29, 2020.

7 Discussion

8 Since May 2018, Plaintiffs have steadily attempted to compel or obtain further 9 information about the 35,000 to 50,000 documents Defendants have withheld on the basis of the 10 deliberative process privilege. (See e.g., Dkt. Nos. 245, 364, 398, 408, 440, 445, 469.) When 11 Defendants recently produced 300 of these previously withheld documents, Plaintiffs found that 12 for dozens of these documents “no colorable claim of privilege exists.” (Dkt. No. 497 at 2 13 (citing Dkt. No. 472)). Several of these documents were news reports and post-decisional 14 explanations of policies that are not subject to the deliberative process privilege. (Dkt. No. 497 15 at 5.) Other documents contained talking points drafted and disseminated by the Australian and 16 British Governments over which Defendants—various officials and agencies of the United States 17 Government—cannot assert the privilege. (Id. at 16.) Because of this and other similar 18 disclosures, Plaintiffs “have grown increasingly concerned that the Government has been broadly
19 misapplying the privilege.” (Dkt. No. 497 at 2.)

20 Plaintiffs therefore seek an Order requiring Defendants to submit 350 documents for an 21 in camera review by the Special Master, where the Master will determine whether Defendants
22 have appropriately asserted the privilege. (Id. at 5.) This random sampling will include 23 documents withheld solely on the basis of the deliberative process privilege, selected by a 24 randomization algorithm available through Plaintiffs' discovery review platform, Relativity.

(Id.)

Defendants argue that Plaintiffs have failed to make a showing that the deliberative process privilege has been misapplied because the privilege was in fact applied correctly over some of the documents recently released and even if it was not, those documents represent only a small fraction of the total documents Defendants have withheld in this case. (Id. at 6-13.) But as Plaintiffs note, the Government does not defend asserting the privilege over eight of the contested documents; applying even this conceded error rate to the 50,000 documents Defendants have withheld on the basis of the deliberative process privilege would suggest that Defendants have erroneously withheld 1,300 documents. (Id. at 16.)

Additionally, the Court recently found that Defendants had erroneously asserted the privilege over hundreds of pages of documents submitted to the Court for in camera review at a much higher error rate than conceded by the Government in the present Motion. (See Dkt. No. 509.) The Court therefore finds that Plaintiffs have raised significant and legitimate concerns that Defendants are improperly withholding documents where no colorable claim of privilege exists.

Defendants also argue that Plaintiffs' request would circumvent the Ninth Circuit's administrative stay pending a ruling on Defendants' current Petition for a Writ of Mandamus. (Id. at 13-15.) Defendants are concerned that if the Court were to review these documents to determine whether the privilege has been overcome pursuant to the Warner factors it would violate the Ninth Circuit's administrative stay because the question of whether the Warner factors permit such disclosure is now pending before the Ninth Circuit. (Dkt. No. 497 at 14.) But the documents have not been chosen, so the Court cannot determine at this juncture whether the sampling will include “‘deliberative documents’ from RFPs Nos. 15 and 29.” (Dkt. No. 497 at 14 (citing Dkt. No. 414-1 (Defendants’ pending Petition for a Writ of Mandamus).) Defendants’ argument is therefore premature. Further, where Defendants identify documents responsive to RFP Nos. 15 and 29 and implicated by the Ninth Circuit’s stay, Defendants may note the documents to Plaintiffs and provide a replacement document for the Court’s in camera review.

Conclusion

Finding that Plaintiffs have raised significant and legitimate concerns that Defendants are improperly withholding documents where no colorable claim of privilege exists, the Court GRANTS Plaintiffs’ Motion and ORDERS Defendants to produce the random sample of 350 documents to the Court for an in camera review by May 29, 2020. Further, Defendants must provide Plaintiffs with an accurate list of withheld documents and privilege assertions by May 22, 2020 and the Plaintiffs must provide Defendants with the randomized list of 350 documents by May 26, 2020.

The clerk is ordered to provide copies of this order to all counsel.

Dated May 14, 2020.

CASE NO. C17-1297 MJP

ORDER RE LCR 37 JOINT DISCOVERY SUBMISSION
REGARDING PLAINTIFFS' FRCP
30(B)(6) DEPOSITION TOPICS

The above-entitled Court, having received and reviewed the LCR 37 Joint Submission Regarding Plaintiffs' FRCP 30(b)(6) Deposition Topics (Dkt. No. 503), along with relevant portions of the record, rules as follows:

- (1) Plaintiffs' Rule 30(b)(6) deposition topics are within the scope of the litigation;
- (2) Plaintiffs are entitled to take seven-hour depositions for each designated witness, regardless of whether Plaintiffs have obtained previous discovery containing similar information and regardless of whether the witness has previously been deposed in their individual capacity;

(3) Defendants may instruct their witnesses not to answer questions related to Plaintiffs' deposition topic numbers three, four, six, and seven, where the answer is implicated by the Ninth Circuit's administrative stay (Dkt. No. 415), but Defendants must state the basis for their objection on the record in detail;

(4) If the Court rules that the Plaintiffs have overcome the deliberative process privilege or misapplied the privilege in any area where Defendants have objected, Defendants will be required to provide dates for their witnesses' availability within 10 days of any ruling and will bear the cost of these additional depositions, including travel costs and expenses for Plaintiffs' counsel.

Discussion

In this LCR 37 Joint Submission, Defendants seek a protective order limiting the nine topics Plaintiffs have identified for their 30(b)(6) depositions, or, in the alternative, limiting Plaintiffs to one seven-hour deposition of DoD officials (or former officials) and deferring any deposition topics that may be implicated by the Government's pending mandamus petition until after the Ninth Circuit has issued its ruling on the extent of the privilege. (Dkt. No. 503 at 2.) The Government makes three arguments in support of its Motion: (1) several of Plaintiffs' topics extend well beyond the scope of the litigation; (2) Plaintiffs' topics are duplicative of information they have obtained through other discovery methods; and (3) four of Plaintiffs' topics seek privileged deliberations that are currently at issue in the Government's pending mandamus petition. (Dkt. No. 503 at 9.) The Court addresses each argument in turn.

1. Deposition Topics are Proportional to the Needs of the Case

Defendants first argue that any Rule 30(b)(6) deposition should be limited to the DoD's reasons and justifications for the challenged policy because the Court "must apply appropriate

1 military deference to its evaluation of the 2018 policy.’” (Dkt. No. 503 (quoting Karnoski v.
2 Trump, 926 F.3d 1180, 1202 (9th Cir. 2019)).) Defendants therefore contend that any questions
3 beyond Defendants’ explanations of its reasons for the challenged policy are irrelevant and not
4 proportional to the needs of the case. (Id.) The Court finds Defendants’ argument unpersuasive.

5 First, even if Defendants’ position on the application of military deference in a case
6 requiring intermediate scrutiny were correct, Defendants have confused the evidentiary standard at 7 trial with the broader discovery standard, which allows parties to obtain discovery regarding any 8 nonprivileged matter that is relevant to any party’s claim or defense. (See Dkt. No. 486 at 3-4 (citing 9 Fed. R. Civ. P. 26).) Plaintiffs’ topics concern the process for drafting the meeting minutes of the 10 Panel of Experts (topic 2); discussions of DoD’s Medical and Personnel Executive Steering 11 Committee (topic 4); details about a particular meeting involving the Deputy Secretary of 12 Defense and Vice Chairman of the Joint Chiefs (topic 5); the process of drafting DoD’s Report
13 and Secretary Mattis’ Memorandum (topics 6 and 7), and Waiver and Exceptions to Policy
14 Requests extending after the formation of the challenged policy (topic 8). (Dkt. No. 503 at 10.)
15 Each of these topics are related to the challenged policy at the center of this lawsuit and seek 16 information “designed to define and clarify the issues.” Klopman-Baerselman v. Air & Liquid 17 Sys. Corp., No. 3:18-CV-05536-RJB, 2019 WL 5227332, at *2 (W.D. Wash. Oct. 16, 2019).

18 Second, while Defendants attack the relevance of the Plaintiffs’ deposition topics, they 19 fail to make any arguments about the factors the Court must weigh to determine whether the 20 topics are proportional to the needs of the case. These factors include: “the importance of the 21 issues at stake in the action, the amount in controversy, the parties’ relative access to relevant 22 information, the parties’ resources, the importance of the discovery in resolving the issues, and 23 whether the burden or expense of the proposed discovery outweighs its likely benefit.” Fed. R.
24 Civ. P. 26(b)(1). This case presents issues of national and constitutional importance and the Government has not put forth even the barest explanation of why preparing the deponents to answer the proposed deposition topics would be burdensome or expensive. The Defendants have therefore failed to meet their “heavy burden of showing why discovery should be denied.” Blankenship v. Hearst Corp., 519 F.2d 418, 429 (9th Cir. 1975).

2. Duplicative Topics

Defendants next argue that Plaintiffs may not conduct depositions where they have already obtained the information described in their deposition topics through other discovery methods. (Dkt. No. 503 at 11.) But Defendants have provided no support for their argument and, as Plaintiffs note, Courts “uniformly reject the Government’s argument that parties may avoid Rule 30(b)(6) testimony ‘by providing written answers’ or ‘supply[ing] the answers in a written response to an interrogatory.’” (Dkt. No. 503 (quoting F.D.I.C. v. 26 Flamingo, LLC, No. 2:11-CV-01936-JCM, 2013 WL 3975006, at *5 (D. Nev. Aug. 1, 2013); Kelly v. Provident Life & Acc. Ins. Co., No. 04CV807-AJB BGS, 2011 WL 2448276, at *3 (S.D. Cal. June 20, 2011)).) Even where Plaintiffs have previously received some of the information through discovery, they are entitled to question Defendants’ designated Rule 30(b)(6) witnesses about the nature of the documents or interrogatory answers under oath.

Defendants also object to providing the information through multiple depositions of the same witnesses, contemplating a situation where a witness is deposed in both an individual capacity for seven hours and then again as a 30(b)(6) witness for an additional seven hours on the same topic. (Dkt. No. 503 at 13.) But Defendants offer no support for this argument either. And “the fact that a party has already taken depositions of individuals does not insulate a corporation from producing the same individuals as corporate representatives to give Rule 30(b)(6) depositions on the same topics.” Landmark Screens, LLC v. Morgan, Lewis & Brokius

1 LLP, No. C08-02581 JF(HRL), 2010 WL 3221859, at *2 (N.D. Cal. Aug. 13, 2010). The Court
2 expects the Parties to cooperate in order to minimize the burden on deponents who testify in both
3 their individual and Rule 30(b)(6) capacities; Plaintiffs are entitled to seven hours for each of 4 these depositions but should hold these depositions on consecutive days or even a single day
5 where the two depositions together total no more than seven hours.

6 3. Topics Implicated by the Government's Pending Mandamus Petition

7 On February 11, 2020, Defendants filed a petition for a writ of mandamus, challenging
8 three of the Court's orders granting Plaintiffs' motions to compel responses to Plaintiffs' RFP
9 Nos. 15 and 29, and arguing that in each instance, the relevance of the information Plaintiffs seek 10 does not overcome the chilling effect of producing the information. (Dkt. No. 414, Ex. 1.) In 11 particular, Defendants challenged the Court's orders requiring production of DoD drafts of the 12 Report and Recommendations, documents and communications discussing issues related to the 13 policy but never produced to the Panel, and documents and communications related to the Carter
14 policy. (Id.)

15 On February 12, 2020 the Ninth Circuit granted Defendants' request for a temporary 16 administrative stay, writing: "The district court's December 18, 2019, February 3, 2020, and 17 February 7, 2020 orders challenged in this petition are temporarily stayed pending further court
18 order." (Dkt. No. 415.) While the Court only addressed depositions in the February 3, 2020
19 Order, (see Dkt. No. 412 at 64:16-20), Defendants now argue that topic numbers six and seven—20 which concern the processes used in drafting the DoD's Report and Recommendations on 21 Military Service by Transgender Persons and the February 22, 2018 Memorandum for the 22 President from Secretary Mattis—and portions of topic numbers three and four—requesting 23

1 information about the deliberative processes of two DoD working groups—seek privileged
2 information that is implicated in the Ninth Circuit’s stay. (Dkt. No. 503 at 15-17.)

3 Evaluating the scope of the Ninth Circuit’s broadly-worded stay with an abundance of 4 caution, the Court finds that the stay applies to information about drafts of the Report and 5 Recommendations, documents and communications discussing issues related to the policy but 6 never produced to the Panel, and documents and communications related to the Carter policy,
7 subjects raised by several of Plaintiffs’ topics. Defendants may therefore instruct their witnesses
8 not to answer where Defendants believe the response is implicated by the Ninth Circuit’s stay.
9 But the Court cautions that only some questions under these topics are implicated by the stay and 10 Defendants should proceed with precision. If the Court determines that the Plaintiffs have 11 overcome the deliberative process privilege in any area or the Defendants have asserted the 12 privilege inappropriately, Defendants will be required to provide dates for their witnesses’
13 availability within 10 days of the date of the Ninth Circuit’s ruling to provide the withheld 14 answers.

15 Finally, while the Court interprets the administrative stay broadly and will therefore 16 allow Defendants to instruct their witnesses not to answer certain deposition questions, the Court
17 notes that if Plaintiffs disagree, they may seek clarification from the Ninth Circuit regarding the 18 scope of its stay, especially where the order granting the stay totals two cursory sentences. (Dkt.
19 No. 415.) Further, Plaintiffs may bring to the Court’s attention at any time any objection they 20 believe has been inappropriately asserted.

21 Conclusion

22 The Court finds that Defendants may instruct their witnesses not to answer where the 23 answer is implicated by the Ninth Circuit’s administrative stay. But Defendants must proceed
24

1 with caution because Defendants will be required to produce the witness again at their own
2 expense should the Court rule against Defendants. The remainder of Defendants' arguments on 3 the scope and nature of Plaintiffs' topics are unconvincing. The Court therefore DENIES 4 Defendants' Motion for a Protective Order (Dkt. No. 503) but allows that Defendants may 5 instruct their designated Rule 30(b)(6) witnesses not to answer where necessary to assert the 6 deliberative process privilege over topics implicated by the Ninth Circuit's administrative stay.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
AT SEATTLE

RYAN KARNOSKI, et al.,

Plaintiffs,

v.

DONALD J TRUMP, et al.,

Defendants.

CASE NO. C17-1297 MJP

ORDER RE IN CAMERA REVIEW
OF DOCUMENTS SUBMITTED
PURSUANT TO THE COURT'S ORDER ON DOCUMENTS WITHHELD BY THE GOVERNMENT AS NON-RESPONSIVE (DKT. NOS.
455, 464)

This matter comes before the Court on Defendants' submission of documents for in camera review pursuant to the Court's Order on Plaintiffs' Motion to Compel Documents Withheld by the Government as Non-Responsive. (Dkt. Nos. 449, 455, 465.) Having conferred with the Special Master concerning the approximately 1,700 pages of documents the Government filed for in camera review, the Court has made the following privilege determinations on a document-by-document basis, as listed in the attachment to this Order¹:

- (1) The Government must produce all documents listed in the attached exhibit in which “N” has been marked in the column labelled “Privileged” not later than June 5, 2020;
- (2) Where the negative privilege decision is followed by an indication in the “Reasons” column that only a portion of the document needs to be produced, the balance of the document may be redacted;
- (3) Documents that are privileged have been labelled by “Y” in the “Privileged” column; where the column is blank, the Court has determined that the document is not relevant and need not be produced.

Background

On March 4, 2020, the Court granted Plaintiffs’ motion to compel documents which are part of an otherwise responsive “family group” of produced material but were withheld on the grounds of “non-responsiveness”; as an example, the Government withheld attachments to emails as “non-responsive” where the email itself was produced. (Dkt. No. 455.) While the Government had not asserted any privilege over these documents or listed them on a privilege log, shortly after the Court issued its Order, the Government submitted an agreed motion for clarification or reconsideration, informing the Court that “during the course of preparing these non-responsive family documents for production, Defendants [] discovered that a small subset of the documents are subject to privilege.” (Dkt. No. 463 at 2.) Defendants believed these documents were protected from disclosure by the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work product privilege, the deliberative process privilege, and the executive privilege. (Id.) The Court granted Defendants’ Motion for Clarification, ordering Defendants to submit the subset of documents that Defendants believed to be privileged to the Court for in camera review along with a privilege log. (Dkt. No. 464.)

Discussion

Each of the documents submitted for in camera review, covering PrivWithholding page numbers 1415 through 3180, have now been reviewed. For a sizeable number of these documents, Defendants’ privilege assertions were not justified. This blanket assertion of privilege without close analysis or articulated rationale must stop.

Defendants are reminded of the Ninth Circuit’s guidance concerning the deliberative process privilege:

The deliberative process privilege ... still commands judicial consideration. We have held that “[a] litigant may obtain deliberative materials if his or her need for the materials and the need for accurate fact-finding override the government’s interest in non-disclosure.” As the district court here correctly recognized, we balance four factors in determining whether this exception to the deliberative process privilege is met “1) the relevance of the evidence; 2) the availability of other evidence; 3) the government’s role in the litigation; and 4) the extent to which disclosure would hinder frank and independent discussion regarding contemplated policies and decisions. In balancing these factors, we note that the second and third favor plaintiffs.

Karnoski v. Trump, 926 F.3d 1180, 1206 (9th Cir 2019) (internal citation omitted). Here, because the Court has determined that the documents at issue are relevant (see Dkt. No. 455), the Government was required to establish that the “chilling effect” of disclosure outweighs the three other factors. This means, as a non-exhaustive list, that the following types of documents meant for public disclosure or describing public reports are not protected by the deliberative process privilege²:

1. Press Accounts. Many of the documents claimed privileged are summaries of press inquiries about transgender service policies and the responses to those inquiries. Obviously, these constitute reporting on who was asking questions, the answers provided to the press, and similar public issues. Similarly, “Close of Business” memos reporting on news reports summaries as a historical accounting of the week’s news events should not have been withheld pursuant to the deliberative process privilege.
2. Cards for prepared responses. These documents reported the use of certain “cards” by categories, including “Transgender.” Prepared responses to common or expected public questions are not deliberative.
3. Confirmation preparation. Questions and prepared responses to actual or potential confirmation, budget, or Congressional questions are not deliberative. Instead, they are designed for public consumption, the very antithesis of deliberate privilege.

As to claims involving the attorney-client privilege, not all documents that include the name of an attorney are subject to withholding pursuant to the privilege. Instead, the communication must seek or elicit legal advice or send information relevant to that end. See In re Grand Jury Investigation, 974 F.2d 1068, 1071 n.2 (9th Cir. 1992) (internal citation omitted) (“The attorney-client privilege may be divided into eight essential elements: (1) Where legal advice of any kind is sought (2) from a professional legal adviser in his capacity as such, (3) the communications relating to that purpose, (4) made in confidence (5) by the client, (6) are at his instance permanently protected (7) from disclosure by himself or by the legal adviser, (8) unless the protection be waived”).

Transmittal emails that do not otherwise contain privileged information are not

² In the attachment to this Order, the Court lists these documents as “not deliberative,” a shorthand for rejection of Defendants’ deliberative process privilege claims.

1 privileged, even if they are sent to attorneys, and even if the attachment would otherwise
2 be privileged.

3 The Court makes its privilege determinations in a document-by document basis in 4 the attachment to this Order, using the following demarcations. The “Privilege” column
5 indicates whether each document is privileged by “Y” (yes) or “N” (no) designations.
6 Where the privilege column is blank this indicates, per the “Reasons” column, that the 7 document is not relevant and need not be produced. Where the negative privilege
8 decision is followed by an indication in the “Reasons” column that only a portion of the 9 document need to be produced, meaning the balance of the document can be redacted if 10 the Government chooses to do so.

11 Conclusion

12 After close consultation with the Special Master following the review of each document 13 submitted by the Defendants, the Court finds that the Government has been overbroad in its 14 privilege assertions, straying far outside the bounds of the deliberative process privilege and 15 asserting the attorney-client privilege without care. The Government can and should do better.
16 The Court therefore ORDERS the Government to produce all documents listed in the attached 17 exhibit in which “N” has been marked in the column labelled “Privileged” (as modified by 18 permissible redactions set forth in the “Reasons” column) not later than June 5, 2020. The 19 Government need not produce documents that have been labelled by a “Y” or have no 20 designation in the “Privileged” column.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
AT SEATTLE

RYAN KARNOSKI, et al.,

Plaintiffs,

v.

DONALD J TRUMP, et al.,

Defendants.

CASE NO. C17-1297 MJP

ORDER RE JUNE 23, 2020
STATUS CONFERENCE;

JOINT SUBMISSION RE IN CAMERA REVIEW OF 350 DOCUMENT SAMPLING OF DEFENDANTS' DELIBERATIVE
PROCESS PRIVILEGE
ASSERTIONS (DKT. NOS. 497, 514)

THIS MATTER comes before the Court upon the Parties' Joint Submission Regarding Defendants' Deliberative Process Privilege Claims (Dkt. No. 497), and June Joint Status Report (Dkt. No. 534). Having reviewed the 350 documents submitted pursuant to the Court's Order on the Joint Submission, reviewed the Parties' Joint Status Report, and having heard from the Parties during the June 23, 2020 status conference (Dkt. No. 535), the Court rules as follows:

(1) Defendants are ORDERED to produce a randomized selection of 500 additional documents that were withheld solely on the basis of the deliberative process privilege by July 1, 2020. The Parties must meet and confer before selecting the 500 documents. If they cannot agree on mutual search terms, the Plaintiffs are to select random documents and the Parties are to follow the procedure outlined in the Court's Order on the Parties' Joint Submission re Defendants' Deliberative Process Privilege Claims. (Dkt. No. 514 at 1-2.)

(2) Also by July 1, 2020, the Parties are ORDERED to answer the Court's questions, infra, regarding the 350 documents previously submitted for in camera review and provide any additional information regarding the decisional timeline described in Karnoski v. Trump, 926 F.3d 1180, 1188-1198 (9th Cir. 2019), in order to aid the Court's analysis of whether Defendants have asserted the deliberative process privilege over documents that are predecisional; and

(3) The Court finds that its Order regarding the Joint Submission on Defendants' motion for a protective order regarding Plaintiffs' Rule 30(b)(6) deposition topics (Dkt. No. 519), applies to any assertion of the deliberative process privilege during a deposition. Defendants may instruct a witness not to answer where the testimony is protected by the privilege but must make a full explanation of the basis of their objection on the record. Should the Court find that Defendants' objection is unwarranted, Defendants will be required to produce the witness again at their own expense.

Discussion

A. Documents Submitted for in camera Review

On May 4, 2020, Plaintiffs moved to compel Defendants to produce one percent of the 35,000 documents Defendants are withholding solely on the basis of the deliberative process privilege for in camera review, arguing that Defendants had "misapplied the privilege in many instances.” (Dkt. No. 497 at 4.) On May 14, 2020, the Court granted the Plaintiffs’ motion and ordered Defendants to produce 350 documents randomly selected through the document review platform, Relativity, and a corresponding privilege log by May 26, 2020. (Dkt. No. 514.) On that date, Defendants produced only 196 documents, instead completing their production by June 5, 2020. (Dkt. Nos. 524, 529.) Defendants were then directed to file an amended privilege log that included the Government’s PrivWithhold page number range for each document, in line with Defendants’ previous privilege logs. (Dkt. No. 532.) Defendants filed an updated privilege log on June 18, 2020. (Dkt. No. 533.)

The Court has now reviewed the documents submitted for in camera review and finds that Defendants have inappropriately asserted the privilege over many of the submitted documents. For other documents, the Court is unable to ascertain whether the privilege was appropriately asserted without additional information. To assess the extent of Defendants’ assertion of the privilege and to provide guidance to Defendants on any patterns of erroneous assertion of the privilege, the Court ORDERS Defendants to produce an additional 500 randomly selected documents that were withheld solely on the basis of the deliberative process privilege for in camera review.

Further, the Parties shall (1) answer the following questions and (2) provide any additional information the Parties find necessary to supplement the decisional timeline listed below as it relates to whether the withheld documents are to be considered predecisional within the framework of the deliberative process privilege.

1. Questions regarding document designations

During the Court’s preliminary assessment of the 350 documents submitted for in camera review, it noted a number of documents stamped with “Draft Deliberative Document” or “Draft/Working Papers/Pre-Decisional/For Official Use.” It appears that this marking was done by the military. (See, e.g., document beginning at PrivWithhold 3186.) This is to be distinguished from the PrivWithhold marking on the documents.

Defendants:

Question 1: How did the markings get on the document?

Question 2: Who applied the markings and which standard was used by the entity doing the marking?

Question 3: Is there a formal military policy for applying such markings on documents? If so, attach a copy of that policy in your response to this Order.

Question 4: What inference, if any, should the Court take from the markings?

Question 5: What inference, if any, should the Court take from the absence of any such marking?

Plaintiffs: What are your views, if any, on these markings?

2. Policy timeline

In evaluating the Government’s assertion of the deliberative process privilege, the Court must determine whether each submitted document is predecisional, meaning that “it was generated before the adoption of an agency’s policy or decision.” F.T.C. v. Warner Commc’ns Inc., 742 F.2d 1156, 1161 (9th Cir. 1984). The following timeline was set forth by the Ninth Circuit in Karnoski, 926 at 1188-98.

- In 2015, then-Secretary of Defense Ashton Carter created a working group to study the implications of transgender service in the military. Id. at 1188.

- 1 • In June 2016 Secretary Carter ordered the armed forces to adopt a new policy

- 3 • On June 30, 2017 then-Secretary of Defense James Mattis deferred accessing

- 5 • On July 26, 2017, President Trump announced a ban on transgender service in the 6 military. Id.
- 7 • On August 25, 2017 President Trump followed his Twitter Announcement with a 8 Presidential Memorandum directing the Secretary of Defense, and the Secretary of 9 Homeland Security “to return to the longstanding policy and practice on military

11 the Secretary of Defense, in consultation with the Secretary of Homeland Security to 12 submit “a plan for implementing” the general policy and specific directives of the 13 Memorandum. Id. at 1189.
- 14 • On September 14, 2017 Secretary Mattis acknowledged receipt of the Presidential 15 Memorandum, issued “Interim Guidance” providing that the pre-2016 policies 16 prohibiting the accession of transgender individuals into the military would remain in 17 effect and no new sex reassignment surgical procedures for military personnel would 18 be permitted after March 22, 2018. Id. at 1190. Secretary Mattis also directed the 19 Deputy Secretary of Defense and the Vice Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff to

21 ¹ In its Order re the Government’s Withheld Communications With Third Parties, the Court wrote that based upon 22 emails reviewed in camera, the Government and RAND consultants knew by at least February 6, 2016 that the 23 RAND Report and Carter policy would be made public, but if the Government had information that indicated an 24 earlier or later date, it was to file the information by May 20, 2020. (Dkt. No. 509 n. 1.) To date, the Government has not filed any additional information.

- 3 • In February 2018 the DoD produced its Report and Recommendation based on the 4 Panel's work. Id. at 1191.
- 5 • On February 22, 2018 Secretary Mattis forwarded the Report to the President
6 accompanied by a memorandum that made several policy recommendations. Id.

8 revoked the 2017 Presidential Memorandum, and authorized the implementation of 9 "any appropriate policies concerning military service by transgender individuals." Id.
10 at 1192.

11 To aid the Court with its analysis, the Parties are directed to provide any necessary 12 supplemental information regarding this timeline, as well as their positions on the dates that the 13 Carter policy and Mattis policy should be considered adopted.² To highlight what the Court is 14 examining, for example, PrivWithhold document 3782 is an unclassified email chain dated 15 December 8-10, 2014. The Government has claimed it as privileged under the deliberative 16 process privilege, notwithstanding, as indicated above, that the Secretary of Defense did not 17 create a working group to study the implications of transgender service until much later in 18 2015. Why should this be considered predecisional for purposes of the privilege? Similarly, as 19 one of several examples, PrivWithhold document 4765-4769 is an email chain dated August 8, 20 2016, and then forwarded again on November 9, 2016. Why would this be considered

21
22 ² Earlier today, the Government provided the Court with a "Statement of Undisputed Material Facts" that was filed
23 in the related case, Doe v. Esper, 20-cv-10530 (D. Mass) (Dkt. No. 36-17). The Government may rely on this 24 statement to supplement the timeline reproduced above, but the Court still seeks the Government's position on the dates the Carter and Mattis policies should be considered adopted for purposes of analyzing what is predecisional as it relates to the deliberative process privilege.

predecisional, in light of the July 2016 Carter policy adoption, which preceded the Mattis policy group formation?

B. Privilege Assertions During Depositions

On May 8, 2020, Defendants moved for a protective order to limit Plaintiffs' Rule 30(b)(6) topics. The Court denied Defendants' motion for a protective order, finding that Plaintiffs' Rule 30(b)(6) deposition topics are within the scope of the litigation, but the Court held that Defendants are permitted to instruct their witnesses not to answer questions implicated by the Ninth Circuit's administrative stay covering Plaintiffs' Requests for Production Nos. 15 and 29. (Dkt. Nos. 415, 519.) Defendants now "seek clarification as to what procedures the Court intends for Defendants to follow when asserting the deliberative process privilege in a deposition when the topic does not fall under Plaintiffs' Requests for Production 15 or 29." (Dkt. No. 534 at 3.)

The Court finds that the same procedures outlined in its Order on Defendants' motion for a protective order (Dkt. No. 519), apply to all assertions of the deliberative process privilege. Defendants may instruct their witnesses not to answer questions that would elicit testimony protected by the privilege but must state the basis for their objection on the record in detail. If the Court rules that the Plaintiffs have overcome the deliberative process privilege or Defendants have misapplied the privilege, Defendants will be required to provide dates for their witnesses' availability within 10 days of any ruling and will bear the cost of these additional depositions, including travel costs and expenses for Plaintiffs' counsel.

Conclusion

In conclusion, in order to further the Court's analysis of the Government's deliberative process privilege assertions, by July 1, 2020:

(1) Defendants are ORDERED to produce for in camera review a randomized selection of 500 additional documents that were withheld solely on the basis of the deliberative process privilege;

(2) Both Parties are ORDERED to answer the Court's questions regarding the 350 documents previously submitted for in camera review and provide any necessary additional information regarding the decisional timeline provided.

Further, the Court finds that during depositions Defendants may instruct their witnesses not to answer where the testimony is protected by the deliberative process privilege but Defendants must state the basis for their objection on the record in detail. Should the Court find that Defendants' objection is unwarranted, Defendants will be required to produce the witness again at their own expense.

The clerk is ordered to provide copies of this order to all counsel.

Dated June 24, 2020.

Marsha J. Pechman
United States Senior District Judge

The Honorable Marsha J. Pechman

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON AT SEATTLE

RYAN KARNOSKI, et al.,

Plaintiffs,

v.

DONALD J. TRUMP, et al.,

Defendants.

No. 2:17-cv-1297-MJP

DEFENDANTS' NOTICE OF COMPLIANCE RE ECF NO. 536

Defendants respectfully give notice to the Court of completing their submission of 500 additional randomly selected documents withheld solely on the basis of the deliberative process privilege for in camera review pursuant to the Court's June 24, 2020 Order.¹ ECF No. 536. All documents subject to in camera review have been stamped "Confidential" and "PRIVILEGED — Produced for In Camera Review Only." Where relevant, parent and related documents have been produced for the limited purpose of providing context for the documents subject to in camera review. Paralegals will send via Federal Express three binders containing hard copies of Defendants' privilege log and the 500 randomly selected documents withheld solely on the basis of the deliberative process privilege to the Court.²

Defendants have attached to this Notice a privilege log for all documents within the sample set. See Exhibit A. The end of the privilege log consists of a list of the parent documents that were submitted to the Court to provide context for the documents subject to in camera review. See id. Defendants will provide the privilege log in Excel format via email to chambers.

Defendants' Answers to the Court's Questions of June 24, 2020

Further, Defendants provide the following response to the Court's questions issued on June 24, 2020. ECF No. 536 at 4.

Question 1: How did the markings get on the document?

Defendants' Answer: These documents were already marked with the cited language when collected in response to Plaintiffs' discovery requests. The attorneys who reviewed these ¹ Defendants reviewed, in order, 965 documents from the list Plaintiffs provided to reach this set of 500 documents. Of those 965 documents, Defendants removed 321 documents because they were subject to RFP Nos. 15 or 29; 30 documents because they were subject to other privileges (e.g., attorney client privilege, attorney work product); 6 documents because they were encrypted; 1 document that the document review platform could not load; 16 documents that were previously submitted for in camera review; and 90 documents for which Defendants have withdrawn their privilege assertion. Defendants have included the 90 documents for which Defendants have withdrawn their privilege assertion at the end of the documents submitted for in camera review and will produce those 90 documents to Plaintiffs in an upcoming production.

² Defendants have not included the 90 documents where the Government has withdrawn their privilege assertions in the three binders sent to the Court via Federal Express.

documents and determined whether they should be withheld under the deliberative process privilege or any other privilege (either from the Department of Justice, Department of Defense (“DoD”) Office of General Counsel, or Judge Advocate General (“JAG”) Officers from the Military Services), did not apply these markings. The markings were generated by an individual who created or revised the document (the “author”).

Question 2: Who applied the markings and which standard was used by the entity doing the marking?

Defendants’ Answer: Unless the text of an email indicates the author of the document with a marking, it is not possible to confirm the author of every document with such a marking without contacting every individual who distributed these documents. However, as indicated in the response to Question 1, these marking were not generated by the reviewing attorneys in connection to this litigation. Accordingly, these documents were to be marked in accordance with the standards set forth in DoD and Service-specific guidance that were applicable at the time the documents were marked. Although it is not possible to definitively ascertain who initially applied these markings or exactly what standard they used at that time, DoDM 5200.01, Vol 4 regulates the handling of information that is “For Official Use Only,” or FOUO. Information is FOUO when disclosure to the public would reasonably be expected to cause a foreseeable harm to an interest protected by one or more of FOIA Exemptions (2) through (9). DoDM 5400.07 provides guidance on these FOIA exemptions. FOIA exemption (5)—inter- or intra-agency memoranda or letters containing information considered privileged in civil litigation—includes documents protected by the deliberative process privilege. Under these regulations, the originator of a document is responsible for determining at origination whether to apply appropriate markings to the document. Competent authority, such as officials higher in the chain of command, may modify these markings. Thus, the document’s author (the originator or subsequent reviewer) was responsible for applying or maintaining markings such as “Draft Deliberative Document” or “Draft/Working Papers/Pre-Decision/For Official Use” if the author determined the document’s content included material protected by FOIA exemption (5).

Question 3: Is there a formal military policy for applying such markings on documents? If so, attach a copy of that policy in your response to this Order.

Defendants' Answer: The policies referenced above are published online and attached to this notice as Exhibits B and C. These policies provide official guidance to DoD and the Military Services regarding when such markings should be applied, by whom, and under what circumstances.

Question 4: What inference, if any, should the Court take from the markings?

Defendants' Answer: The Court should draw no inference from the presence of a marking, other than the author believed the document included protected information and was required to comply with the applicable guidance, and the reviewing Government attorney would consider that the document was marked "draft" in determining whether, in fact, the document was in draft form. However, the above regulations and guidance recognize that marking information does not automatically qualify documents for exemption from public release, and here, Government attorneys independently reviewed all withheld documents and determined whether any privileges applied based on the substance of the documents and the context in which they were created.

Question 5: What inference, if any, should the Court take from the absence of any such marking?

Defendants' Answer: The Court should draw no inference from the absence of a marking. Again, the above regulations recognize that the absence of markings does not automatically mean the information should be released. A document's substance and context, not markings applied by its author, determine whether the document is deliberative and pre-decisional. See Nat'l Wildlife Fed'n v. U.S. Forest Serv., 861 F.2d 1114, 1118–19 (9th Cir. 1988) (applying a "process-oriented" or "functional" test in assessing whether documents are "a part of the deliberative process" and thus covered by the privilege). The attorney reviewers understood that a document that contains predecisional, deliberative information may be privileged even if the document does not contain a marking. Conversely, the attorney reviewers also understood

1 that a marking alone does not render a document privileged if a privilege does not otherwise
2 apply.

3 4 Timeline of Relevant Events in Policy Development

5 The Defendants also provide the following timeline pertaining to DoD's policy regarding 6 military service by transgender individuals and individuals diagnosed with or having a history of 7 gender dysphoria.

8 1. In approximately March 2014, the DoD Office of the Under Secretary of Personnel and 9 Readiness ("USD (P&R)") began reviewing its policies for accession and retention of 10 transgender individuals and individuals diagnosed or having a history of gender dysphoria in 11 light of the 2013 updates to the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders (5th ed.)
12 ("DSM-5"). See Doe v. Esper, 20-cv-10530 (D. Mass), Statement of Undisputed Material Facts, 13 Dkt. No. 36-17, Ex. D ¶¶ 4-5; see, e.g., DoD00019052; DoD00005490.

14 2. In April 2015, DoD's Accessions Medical Standards Working Group (AMSWG), held 15 formal meetings to provide recommendations pertaining to the revision of the military entry 16 standards for individuals diagnosed with or having a history of gender dysphoria to USD (P&R).
17 See Ex. D ¶ 11.

18 3. In July 2015, then-Secretary of Defense Ashton Carter ordered the creation of a working 19 group "to study over the next six months the policy and readiness implications of welcoming 20 transgender persons to serve openly," and instructed it to "start with the presumption that 21 transgender persons can serve openly without adverse impact on military effectiveness and 22 readiness." Ex. D ¶ 13.

23 4. The Joint Chiefs of Staff contacted the Office of the Secretary of Defense after Secretary 24 Carter made the July 2015 announcement that ordered the creation of the working group. The 25 Joint Chiefs of Staff asked for a briefing on the forthcoming policy review. Ex. D ¶ 14; see, e.g., 26 DoD0004347 (briefing materials).

5. The Carter Transgender Service Review Working Group (“Carter TSRWG”) met at least 13 times between August 2015 and February 2016. See Doe v. Esper, 20-cv-10530 (D. Mass.), Declaration of Lernes Hebert (“Hebert Decl.”), Dkt. No. 36-9, Ex. E ¶ 7.

6. In September 2015, DoD commissioned the RAND National Defense Research Institute (“RAND”) to conduct a study to “(1) identify the health care needs of the transgender population, transgender service members’ potential health care utilization rates, and the costs associated with extending health care coverage for transition-related treatments; (2) assess the potential readiness impacts of allowing transgender service members to serve openly; and (3) review the experiences of foreign militaries that permit transgender service members to serve openly.” Ex. D ¶ 18.³

7. RAND provided at least three briefings to the Carter TSRWG in January, February, and March 2016. See, e.g., Ex. E ¶¶ 13-14.

8. RAND answered several follow up questions from DoD (including questions directly from then-Secretary Carter) between March 2016 and June 2016. See, e.g., DoD00003726.

9. Representatives from the Military Services and the Service Surgeon Generals provided multiple inputs and recommendations to the Carter TSRWG and to Secretary Carter between July 2015 and June 2016. Ex. D ¶¶ 21-22.

10. The Carter TSRWG provided inputs, draft policy language, and policy recommendation to USD (P&R) and to then-Secretary Carter between July 2015 and June 2016. See, e.g., Ex. E ¶ 7-11, 16-20.

³ At page 5 of its June 24 Order, the Court notes that the Government and RAND employees may have been aware by February 6, 2016 that the RAND Report and Carter Policy would ultimately be made public. Regardless of the accuracy of this date, there is no evidence that any of these employees or officials believed that pre-decisional drafts related to the RAND Report or Carter Policy would be made public at any time. The anticipated confidentiality of those predecisional documents, rather than the anticipated publication of a final product, is the relevant fact for purposes of the deliberative process privilege. Indeed, a rule that predecisional and deliberative documents are not privileged if they relate to a policy or document that will ultimately be published cannot be reconciled with Ninth Circuit precedent. See Nat’l Wildlife Fed’n v. U.S. Forest Serv., 861 F.2d 1114, 1120 (9th Cir. 1988) (affirming agency withholding of draft documents where documents “in final form” were made available to the public).

1 11. On June 30, 2016, Secretary Carter approved the publication of Directive-type 2 Memorandum (“DTM”) 16-005, entitled “Military Service of Transgender Service Members.”
3 DTM 16-005 (“the Carter policy”). Ex. D ¶ 23; see, e.g., DoD00003606, DoD00003589 (policy 4 drafts).

5 12. Between approximately February 2016 and July 2016, USD (P&R) drafted DoDI
6 1300.28 entitled In-Service Transition for Transgender Service Members. See
7 https://dod.defense.gov/Portals/1/features/2016/0616_policy/DoD-Instruction-1300.28.pdf; see,
8 e.g., DoD00003588 (draft of DoDI 1300.28).

9 13. Between approximately June 2016 and September 30, 2016, DoD worked on and 10 drafted Transgender Service in the U.S. Military: an Implementation Handbook. See 11 https://dod.defense.gov/Portals/1/features/2016/0616_policy/DoDTGHandbook_093016.pdf;
12 see, e.g., DoD00011999; DoD00013379; DoD00003328 (draft of the handbook with 13 comments).

14 14. Between approximately May 2016 and July 29, 2016, the Office of the Assistant
15 Secretary of Defense for Health Affairs drafted guidance for the treatment of gender dysphoria
16 for active and reserve component service members. See
17 https://dod.defense.gov/Portals/1/features/2016/0616_policy/Guidance_for_Treatment_of_Gen

19 draft document).

20 15. From approximately April 2016 until it was released on March 30, 2018, DoD and the 21 Military Services reviewed and revised multiple sections of its Medical Standards for 22 Appointment, Enlistment, or Induction into the Military Services (DoDI 6130.03). See

26 Army revisions and comments on those drafts).

27 16. Between July 2016 and April 2017, the Military Services developed Service specific 28 implementation guidance and Service specific force and unit training materials regarding the

1 Carter policy. See, e.g., https://health.mil/Reference-Center/Policies/2016/10/06/Air-Force-

8 training regarding the Carter policy).

9 17. Between January 2017 and May 2017 then-Secretary Mattis met with several of the 10 Military Service Chiefs regarding potential revisions to the Carter policy. April 26, 2018 Senate 11 Testimony of Secretary James N. Mattis, Ex. F at 6.

12 18. On May 8, 2017, then-Deputy Secretary of Defense Robert Work directed the Military 13 Services to assess the Department's readiness to begin accessing transgender applicants into 14 military service on July 1, 2017. Ex. E ¶ 22

15 19. In response to the request from then-Deputy Secretary of Defense Robert Work, each of 16 the Military Services formally recommended a delay of the Carter accessions standards
17 between May 2017 and June 2017. Ex. E ¶ 22; see, e.g., Army_10001449; Army_10010266; 18 Army_10010381; AF_CTRL_00000172; AF_00014734_AF2; AF_00014734_AF2; 19 AF_00014734_AF2.

20 20. On June 30, 2017, then-Secretary Mattis, approved the Services' recommendation to 21 delay the implementation of the Carter accessions standards. Ex. E ¶ 23.

22 21. Also on June 30, 2017, then-Secretary Mattis established a study group that included the 23 representatives of the Service Secretaries and senior military officers, many with combat 24 experience, to conduct a six-month review of the impact of the Carter accessions standards on 25 military readiness and lethality. Ex. E ¶ 23; see, e.g., Army_10001243.0001; Army_10010529.

26 22. While that review was ongoing, the President stated on Twitter on July 26, 2017 that "the 27 United States Government will not accept or allow transgender individuals to serve in any 28 capacity in the U.S. Military." Ex. D ¶ 38.

23. Between July 26, 2017 and August 25, 2017, DoD and the Military Services deliberated regarding how the President's statements on Twitter would affect military policy. See, e.g., AF_00025946_AF2, AF_CTRL_00000014.

24. On August 25, 2017, the President issued a memorandum calling for "further study" into the risks of maintaining the Carter policy and adherence to current accession standards while that review was ongoing. Ex. D ¶¶ 39-40.

25. Between August 25, 2017 and September 14, 2017, DoD and the Military Services drafted Interim Guidance as part of its response to the President's memorandum. Ex. D ¶ 41; see, e.g., Army_10004330.0001; Army_10003796.0001.

26. On September 14, 2017, then-Secretary Mattis established a Panel of Experts ("Panel") to "conduct an independent multi-disciplinary review and study of relevant data and information pertaining to transgender Service members." Ex. D ¶ 41.

27. In 13 separate meetings over the span of 90 days, the Panel met with military and civilian medical professionals, military and civilian personnel experts, commanders of transgender service members, and transgender service members themselves. Ex. D ¶ 44.

28. Once the Panel finalized its recommendations, then-Under Secretary of Defense, Robert Wilkie, Mr. Kurta, and Mr. Hebert presented those recommendations to the Deputy Secretary of Defense and the Vice Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and to then-Secretary Mattis. Ex. E ¶ 31.

29. Between October 30, 2017 and January 1, 2018, DoD and the Military Services reviewed their ability to implement the Carter accessions standards as required by multiple Court orders. See, e.g., ECF No. 103.

30. After considering the Panel's recommendations, along with additional information, then-Secretary Mattis, with the agreement of the Secretary of Homeland Security, sent the President a memorandum on February 22, 2018 proposing a new policy consistent with the Panel's conclusions. Ex. D. ¶ 51.

31. The Mattis Memorandum was accompanied by a 44-page report setting forth in detail the bases for the DoD's recommended new policy. Ex. D. ¶ 52.

32. On March 23, 2018, the President accepted then-Secretary Mattis's recommendation and withdrew his August 25, 2017 Memorandum. Ex. E. ¶ 31.

33. Between January 22, 2019 and March 12, 2019, DoD and the Military services drafted the standards to implement Secretary Mattis's February 2018 Memorandum and the accompanying DoD Report. Ex. D. ¶ 67.

34. On March 12, 2019, DoD issued DTM 19-004 which implements Secretary Mattis's February 2018 Memorandum and the accompanying DoD Report. Ex. D. ¶ 67; see <https://www.esd.whs.mil/Portals/54/Documents/DD/issuances/dtm/DTM%2019-004.PDF?ver=2020-03-17-140438-090>.

35. On March 19, 2019, the Navy issued Service specific guidance regarding DTM 19-004. Ex. D. ¶ 71.

36. On August 15, 2019, the Air Force issued Service specific guidance regarding DTM 19-004 entitled AFPM2019-36-02, Air Force Policy Memorandum Military Service by Transgender Persons and Person's with Gender Dysphoria.

37. On March 17, 2020, DoD issued a revised version of DTM 19-004. See <https://www.esd.whs.mil/Portals/54/Documents/DD/issuances/dtm/DTM%2019-004.PDF?ver=2020-03-17-140438-090>

38. Further, as the military's transgender and gender dysphoria policies developed, DoD and the Military Services engaged in deliberations regarding the application of then-current policy to specific situations and individuals, often discussing creating and revising Service specific guidance on the application of DoD policy for their respective Military Service. See e.g., DoD00126805, DoD00126821 (emails seeking and receiving comments on draft implementation papers); DoD00129712 (deliberations regarding the creation of briefing materials to updated then-Secretary Carter and USD (P&R) on implementation of the Carter policy); Army_10003651& 10003652 (deliberations regarding possible change to Army policy based on a change to DOJ policy); Army_10010283.0001 (draft US Military Academy ("USMA") transgender accession policy talking points and deliberations discussing the effect of the Army's transgender accessions policy on USMA policy); Army_10010287 (deliberations regarding the

1 application of transgender policy on USMA accessions); AF_00014681_AF2 (draft Air Force
2 guidance regarding then-Secretary Carter's July 2015 announcement regarding military service
3 by transgender individuals); AF_00024136_AF2 (draft Air Force implementing guidance
4 regarding the Carter policy); AF_00018214_AF2 (draft transgender awareness training for the 5 Air Force); AF_00035845_AF2 (draft talking points regarding implementation of the Mattis 6 policy).

EXHIBIT B

Department of Defense MANUAL

NUMBER 5200.01, Volume 4
February 24, 2012

USD(I)

SUBJECT: DoD Information Security Program: Controlled Unclassified Information (CUI)

References: See Enclosure 1

1. PURPOSE

a. Manual. This Manual is composed of several volumes, each containing its own purpose. The purpose of the overall Manual, as authorized by DoD Directive (DoDD) 5143.01 (Reference (a)) and DoD Instruction (DoDI) 5200.01 (Reference (b)), is to reissue DoD 5200.1-R (Reference (c)) as a DoD Manual to implement policy, assign responsibilities, and provide procedures for the designation, marking, protection, and dissemination of CUI and classified information, including information categorized as collateral, sensitive compartmented information (SCI), and Special Access Program. This guidance is developed in accordance with Reference (b), Executive Order (E.O.) 13526 and E.O. 13556, and part 2001 of title 32, Code of Federal Regulations (References (d), (e), and (f)). This combined guidance is known as the DoD Information Security Program.

b. Volume. This Volume provides guidance for the identification and protection of CUI.

2. APPLICABILITY. This Volume:

a. Applies to OSD, the Military Departments, the Office of the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the Joint Staff, the Combatant Commands, the Office of the Inspector General of the Department of Defense, the Defense Agencies, the DoD Field Activities, and all other organizational entities within the Department of Defense (hereinafter referred to collectively as the "DoD Components").

b. Does not alter existing authorities and responsibilities of the Director of National Intelligence (DNI) or of the heads of elements of the Intelligence Community pursuant to policies issued by the DNI.

c. Does NOT implement the new CUI program established by Reference (e). This Volume implements current DoD CUI policy according to Reference (b). The CUI program required by

DoDM 5200.01-V4, February 24, 2012

Reference (e) will be implemented by a change to this Volume after the Federal policy is finalized.

3. DEFINITIONS. See Glossary.

4. POLICY. It is DoD policy, in accordance with Reference (b), to:

a. Identify and protect national security information and CUI in accordance with national level policy issuances.

b. Promote information sharing, facilitate judicious use of resources, and simplify management through implementation of uniform and standardized processes.

c. Protect CUI from unauthorized disclosure by appropriately marking, safeguarding, disseminating, and destroying such information.

5. RESPONSIBILITIES. See Enclosure 2.

6. PROCEDURES. See Enclosure 3.

7. RELEASABILITY. UNLIMITED. This Volume is approved for public release and is available on the Internet from the DoD Issuances Website at <http://www.dtic.mil/whs/directives>.

8. EFFECTIVE DATE. This Volume is effective upon its publication to the DoD Issuances Website.

Michael G. Vickers
Under Secretary of Defense for Intelligence

ENCLOSURE 2

RESPONSIBILITIES

1. UNDER SECRETARY OF DEFENSE FOR INTELLIGENCE (USD(I)). The USD(I) shall:

a. Direct, administer, and oversee the DoD Information Security Program for the Department of Defense.

b. Develop and issue guidance as required for the implementation of Reference (e) and its implementing directives.

c. As required by Reference (e), submit to the National Archives and Records Administration, in its role as CUI Executive Agent, a catalogue of proposed categories and subcategories of CUI, with proposed associated markings, and a plan for compliance with the requirements of Reference (e).

d. Establish requirements for collecting and reporting data as necessary to support fulfilling the requirements of Reference (e) and other national level policy issuances.

2. UNDER SECRETARY OF DEFENSE FOR POLICY (USD(P)). The USD(P) shall, in accordance with DoDD 5111.1 (Reference (g)), establish policies and procedures for disclosing DoD CUI to foreign governments and international organizations.

3. HEADS OF THE DoD COMPONENTS. The Heads of the DoD Components, in addition to the responsibilities in Volume 1 of this Manual, shall:

a. Identify, program for, and commit necessary resources to effectively implement the requirements for the protection of CUI as part of the Component's information security program.

b. Ensure that Component personnel are provided CUI education and training in accordance with Enclosure 4 of this Volume.

4. SENIOR AGENCY OFFICIALS. The senior agency officials, under the authority, direction and control of the Heads of the DoD Components, appointed in accordance with Enclosure 2 of Volume 1 of this Manual shall, in addition to the responsibilities in Volume 1:

a. Direct the head of each activity within the DoD Component that creates, handles, or stores CUI to appoint, in writing, an official to manage and oversee the CUI portion of the activity's information security program. If the activity also creates, handles, or stores classified information, the security manager appointed pursuant to paragraph 7.c of Enclosure 2 of Volume 1 may also be assigned this responsibility. Persons appointed to these positions shall be provided:

DoDM 5200.01-V4, February 24, 2012

- (1) The necessary authority to ensure personnel adhere to CUI requirements.
 - (2) Direct access to activity leadership.
 - (3) Organizational alignment that will ensure prompt and appropriate attention to CUI requirements.
 - (4) The training required by Enclosure 4.
- b. Establish procedures to prevent unauthorized persons from accessing CUI.
 - c. Promptly address unauthorized disclosure of CUI, improper designation of CUI, and violations of the provisions of this Volume.
 - d. Direct, administer, and oversee an ongoing oversight program to evaluate and assess the effectiveness and efficiency of the DoD Component's implementation of that portion of the information security program pertaining to CUI.
 - (1) Evaluation criteria shall consider, at a minimum, CUI designation, safeguarding, education and training, and management and oversight.
 - (2) The oversight program shall include periodic review and assessment of the DoD Component's CUI information to ensure that such information is being properly marked and handled.
 - (3) DoD Component CUI education and training should be evaluated during oversight activities.
 - e. Direct, administer, and oversee CUI education and training as required by Enclosure 4, and ensure that DoD Component personnel receive education and training appropriate to their assigned duties.

ENCLOSURE 3

IDENTIFICATION AND PROTECTION OF CUI

1. GENERAL. In addition to classified information, certain types of unclassified information also require application of access and distribution controls and protective measures for a variety of reasons. In accordance with Reference (e), such information is referred to collectively as CUI. This enclosure identifies the controls and protective measures developed for DoD CUI (i.e., For Official Use Only (FOUO), Law Enforcement Sensitive (LES), DoD Unclassified Controlled Nuclear Information (DoD UCNI), and LIMITED DISTRIBUTION) as well as some of those developed by other Executive Branch agencies. This enclosure also addresses handling of certain foreign government information and the use of distribution statements on unclassified technical documents as a means to facilitate control, distribution, and release of such documents.

a. In accordance with Reference (b), information may not be designated CUI to:

- (1) Conceal violations of law, inefficiency, or administrative error;
- (2) Prevent embarrassment to a person, organization, or agency;
- (3) Restrain competition; or
- (4) Prevent or delay the release of information that does not require protection under statute or regulation.

b. Information shall not be designated CUI:

- (1) To prevent or avoid its proper classification in accordance with the requirements of Reference (d) and Volume 1 of this Manual; or
- (2) If there is significant doubt concerning the need for such designation in accordance with section 3.b of Reference (e).

c. Information that has been disclosed to the public under proper authority may not be subsequently designated or redesignated CUI.

d. The originator of a document is responsible for determining at origination whether the information may qualify for CUI status, and if so, for applying the appropriate CUI markings. However, this responsibility does not preclude competent authority (e.g., officials higher in chain of command; functional experts) from modifying the marking(s) applied or originally applying additional markings. In such cases, the originator shall be notified of the changes. Additionally, Freedom of Information Act Officers (individuals expert in section 552 of title 5, United States Code (U.S.C.) (also known as “The Freedom of Information Act” and hereinafter referred to as “FOIA” (Reference (h))) can be consulted for advice or training on the proper application of FOIA exemptions.

e. When CUI is to be provided to or generated by DoD contractors, the controls and protective measures to be applied shall be described in the pertinent contract documents (e.g., contract clause; statement of work; or DD Form 254, "Department of Defense Contract Security Classification Specification"). Solicitations and contracts shall use a non-disclosure of information clause that prohibits release of unclassified information to the public without approval of the contracting activity (e.g., clause 252.204-7000 of the Defense Federal Acquisition Regulation Supplement (Reference (i))). The clause shall also be made applicable to subcontractors.

f. ALL DoD unclassified information MUST BE REVIEWED AND APPROVED FOR RELEASE through standard DoD Component processes before it is provided to the public (including via posting to publicly accessible websites) in accordance with DoDD 5230.09 (Reference (j)), Deputy Secretary of Defense Memorandum (Reference (k)), and other applicable regulations. Unclassified information previously approved for release to the public may be shared with any foreign government or organization.

g. Release or disclosure of CUI to foreign governments or international organizations shall be in accordance with DoDD 5230.20 (Reference (l)) and other policy and procedures that may be established by the USD(P).

h. Some CUI is export-controlled information which may additionally be protected by law, Executive order, regulation, or contract. DoD officials must pay particular attention to export control regulations and to access restrictions on each type of CUI to ensure compliance with export requirements, especially when non-U.S. citizens are assigned to or visit their organizations.

i. Release or disclosure of CUI to non-U.S. citizens employed by the Department of Defense is permitted, provided access is within the scope of their assigned duties; access would further the execution of a lawful and authorized DoD mission or purpose and would not be detrimental to the interests of the Department of Defense or the U.S. Government; there are no contract restrictions prohibiting access; and the access complies with the requirements of DoDD 8500.01E (Reference (m)), DoD 5200.2-R (Reference (n)), and export control regulations, as applicable. In such cases, the non-U.S. citizen shall execute a nondisclosure agreement approved by appropriate DoD Component authorities.

j. CUI may be identified in security classification guides to ensure the information receives appropriate protection. If the security classification guide is subsequently cancelled, a separate memorandum or other guidance document may be issued to identify the declassified information, if any, that qualifies as CUI as well as any CUI previously cited in the guide.

k. For unauthorized disclosures of CUI, no formal security inquiry or investigation is required. However, appropriate management action shall be taken to fix responsibility for unauthorized disclosure of CUI whenever feasible or required by other guidance, and appropriate disciplinary action shall be taken against those responsible (see section 17 of Enclosure 3 of Volume 1 for sanctions). Unauthorized disclosure of some CUI (e.g., information protected by section 552a of Reference (h) (also known and hereinafter referred to as "The Privacy Act of 1974, as amended”) or export-controlled technical data) may also result in civil and criminal sanctions against responsible persons. The DoD Component that originated the CUI shall be informed of its unauthorized disclosure.

l. Controlled unclassified documents and material that constitute permanently valuable records of the Government shall be maintained and disposed of according to DoDD 5015.2 (Reference (o)). Other controlled unclassified material shall be destroyed as specified in this Volume.

m. Exceptions to the guidance provided in this Volume must be approved by the USD(I). Requests shall be sent to the Deputy Under Secretary of Defense for Intelligence and Security through command channels.

2. FOUO INFORMATION

a. Description. FOUO is a dissemination control applied by the Department of Defense to unclassified information when disclosure to the public of that particular record, or portion thereof, would reasonably be expected to cause a foreseeable harm to an interest protected by one or more of FOIA Exemptions 2 through 9. The FOIA specifies nine exemptions:

(1) Exemption 1. Information that is currently and properly classified.

(2) Exemption 2. Information that pertains solely to the internal rules and practices of the agency that, if released, would allow circumvention of an agency rule, policy, or statute, thereby impeding the agency in the conduct of its mission.

(3) Exemption 3. Information specifically exempted by a statute establishing particular criteria for withholding. The language of the statute must clearly state that the information will not be disclosed.

(4) Exemption 4. Information such as trade secrets and commercial or financial information obtained from a company on a privileged or confidential basis that, if released, would result in competitive harm to the company, impair the Government’s ability to obtain like information in the future, or impair the Government’s interest in compliance with program effectiveness.

(5) Exemption 5. Inter- or intra-agency memorandums or letters containing information considered privileged in civil litigation. The most common privilege is the deliberative process privilege, which concerns documents that are part of the decision-making process and contain subjective evaluations, opinions, and recommendations. Other common privileges are the attorney-client and attorney work product privileges.

(6) Exemption 6. Information, the release of which would reasonably be expected to constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of the personal privacy of individuals.

DoDM 5200.01-V4, February 24, 2012

- (7) Exemption 7. Records or information compiled for law enforcement purposes that:
- (a) Could reasonably be expected to interfere with law enforcement proceedings.
 - (b) Would deprive a person of a right to a fair trial or impartial adjudication.
 - (c) Could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of the personal privacy of others.
 - (d) Disclose the identity of a confidential source.
 - (e) Disclose investigative techniques and procedures.
 - (f) Could reasonably be expected to endanger the life or physical safety of any individual.
- (8) Exemption 8. Certain records of agencies responsible for supervision of financial institutions.
- (9) Exemption 9. Geological and geophysical information (including maps) concerning wells.

b. Application

- (1) It is the responsibility of the document's originator to determine at origination whether the information may qualify for FOUO status and to ensure markings are applied as required. Further details on the types of information that may qualify for the specified exemptions and FOUO status can be found in Chapter 3 of DoD 5400.7-R (Reference (p)).
- (2) Information that is currently and properly classified shall be withheld from mandatory release in accordance with FOIA Exemption 1. The marking "FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY" is applied to information that can reasonably be expected to qualify for exemption under one or more of FOIA Exemptions 2 through 9. By definition, information must be unclassified in order to be designated FOUO. This means that:
- (a) Information cannot be marked as classified and FOUO at the same time, because no individual element of information can be simultaneously classified and FOUO. Therefore, classified documents containing FOUO information cannot bear an overall document marking of FOUO. However, portions or pages of a classified document that contain only FOUO information will be marked in a manner that identifies the FOUO content.
 - (b) Information that is declassified may be designated and marked as FOUO only when disclosure to the public of that particular record, or portion thereof, would reasonably be expected to cause a foreseeable harm to an interest protected by one or more of FOIA Exemptions 2 through 9.

(c) FOUO is not authorized as a means of protecting information that otherwise does not merit protection as classified for national security reasons.

c. Markings

(1) Information that has been determined to qualify for FOUO status shall be indicated by markings. Markings are to be applied at the time documents are created to properly protect the information. When a classified document or portion thereof is declassified, FOUO markings may be applied, if applicable, to protect the information.

(2) Marking information FOUO does not automatically qualify it for exemption from public release pursuant to the FOIA. If a request for a record is received, the information shall be reviewed in accordance with the procedures of Reference (p) to determine if it truly qualifies for exemption. Similarly, the absence of the FOUO marking does not automatically mean the information shall be released. Some types of records (e.g., personnel records) are not normally marked FOUO, but may still qualify for withholding in accordance with the FOIA. Information marked FOUO shall not specify, or have annotated, a FOIA exemption number.

(3) Unclassified documents and material, including information in electronic form, containing FOUO information shall be marked as follows:

(a) Each document determined to contain FOUO information shall identify the originating agency or office. This information shall be clear and complete enough to allow someone receiving the document to contact the office if questions or problems about the designation or markings arise.

(b) Documents shall be marked "FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY" at the bottom of the outside of the front cover (if there is one), the title page, the first page, and the outside of the back cover (if there is one). Optionally, for consistency with classified systems, the document may be marked "UNCLASSIFIED//FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY."

(c) Internal pages of the document that contain FOUO information shall be marked "FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY" at the bottom. Optionally, for consistency with classified systems, internal pages may be marked "UNCLASSIFIED//FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY" or "UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO"; in such case internal pages shall be marked at both the top and bottom.

(d) Subjects, titles, and each section, part, paragraph, or similar portion of an FOUO document shall be marked to show that they contain information requiring protection. Use the parenthetical notation "(FOUO)" (or optionally "(U//FOUO)") to identify information as FOUO for this purpose. Place this notation immediately before the text.

(e) Each part of electronically transmitted messages, including e-mail, containing FOUO information shall be marked as required by paragraph 2.c of this enclosure. Unclassified messages containing FOUO information shall be marked "FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY" (optionally "UNCLASSIFIED//FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY" or "UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO") before the beginning of the text and shall contain the parenthetical portion marking “(FOUO)” (optionally “(U//FOUO)”) at the beginning of each portion containing FOUO information.

(f) Transmittal documents that have FOUO attachments, but no classified material attached, shall be marked with the following statement or a similar one: “FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY ATTACHMENT.”

(g) When FOUO information is contained in media or material (including hardware and equipment) not commonly thought of as documents (e.g., computer files and other electronic media, audiovisual media, chart, maps, films, sound recordings), the requirement remains to identify, as clearly as possible, the information that requires protection. The main concern is that holders and users of the material are clearly notified of the presence of FOUO information. The markings required by this enclosure shall be applied either on the item or the documentation that accompanies it. Particular requirements and exceptions are noted in the following subparagraphs.

1. Information Technology and Other Electronic Media. Conspicuously mark removable storage media used with computers, information technology systems, and other electronic devices and any other device on which data is stored and which normally is removable from the system by the user or operator. (Examples of such media include, but are not limited to, compact discs (CDs), digital video discs (DVDs), removable hard disks, flash or “thumb” drives, magnetic tape reels, disk packs, floppy disks and diskettes, disk cartridges, optical discs, paper tape, magnetic cards, memory chips, tape cassettes, and micro-cassettes.) Internal media identification will include FOUO markings in a form suitable for the media. Where size permits, all such devices bearing FOUO information must be conspicuously marked on the device or a label affixed thereto. Where size or technology preclude marking or affixing a label to the removable device itself (e.g., compact disc-read only memory (CD-ROM), memory chips), the label may be affixed to the container in which the device is stored.

2. Blueprints, Engineering Drawings, Charts, and Maps. Mark blueprints, engineering drawings, charts, maps, and similar items not contained within another document, with the FOUO designation when applicable. The marking shall be unabbreviated, conspicuous, and applied top and bottom, if possible, in such a manner as to ensure reproduction on any copies. The legend or title shall also be marked. The parenthetical marking “(FOUO)” or “(U//FOUO)” following the legend or title may be used. If the blueprints, maps, and other items are large enough that they are likely to be rolled or folded, additional FOUO markings shall be placed to be visible when the item is rolled or folded.

3. Photographic Media

a. Mark photographs and negatives “FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY” (optionally “UNCLASSIFIED//FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY” or “UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO”). Mark photographs on the face, if possible. Where this cannot be done, the marking may be placed on the reverse side. Digital photographs may be edited to place the markings on the face of the photograph.

DoDM 5200.01-V4, February 24, 2012

b. Mark roll negatives and positives, and other film containing FOUO either on the film itself or on the canister, if one is used. If placed on the film itself, the marking shall be placed at the beginning and end of the roll.

c. Mark slides and transparencies on the image area of the item and also on the border, holder, or frame, if any. Information on the image area of each slide or transparency shall be portion marked in accordance with subparagraph 2.c.(3)(d) of this enclosure.

d. Mark DVDs, video tapes, and motion picture films at the beginning and end of the presentation (i.e., the played or projected portion). Discs, reels, and cassettes shall be marked and, when stored in a container, the container shall also be marked.

4. Sound Recordings. Place an audible statement of the designation of FOUO at the beginning and end of sound recordings. Reels or cassettes shall be marked as required, and when stored in a container, the container shall be marked.

5. Microfilm, Microfiche, and Similar Microform Media. Mark microfilm, microfiche, and similar microform media "FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY" (optionally "UNCLASSIFIED//FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY" or "UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO") in the image area that can be read or copied. Such media also shall have this marking applied so it is visible to the unaided eye. Any containers shall contain the required markings, except no markings are required if the container is transparent and the marking on the media itself is clearly visible.

(4) Classified documents and material, including those in electronic form, that also contain FOUO information shall be marked in accordance with Volume 2 of this Manual, with FOUO information identified as follows:

(a) Overall markings on the document shall follow the guidance in Volume 2 of this Manual. No additional special markings are required on the face of the document because it contains FOUO information.

(b) Pages of the document that contain classified information shall be marked in accordance with Volume 2 of this Manual. Pages that contain FOUO information but no classified information shall be marked "UNCLASSIFIED//FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY" or "UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO" at the top and bottom if the overall document classification is not used as the page marking.

(c) Portions of the document shall be marked with their classification in accordance with Volume 2 of this Manual. If there are unclassified portions that contain FOUO information, use the parenthetical notation "(U//FOUO)" at the beginning of the portion. If a portion of a classified document contains both classified and FOUO information, the appropriate classification designation is sufficient to protect the information, and no additional marking shall be used to designate the FOUO content.

(d) Each portion of electronically transmitted classified messages, including e-mail, containing FOUO information shall be marked appropriately.

DoDM 5200.01-V4, February 24, 2012

(5) FOUO information disseminated outside the Department of Defense shall also bear a marking on the outside of the front cover, first page, or at the beginning of the text that states that the information may be exempt from mandatory disclosure in accordance with the FOIA. A statement similar to that shown in Figure 1 is sufficient. A FOIA exemption number shall NOT be applied.

This document contains information that may be exempt from mandatory disclosure under the Freedom of Information Act.

(6) Technical documents that require a distribution statement restricting disclosure and/or an export control warning notice pursuant to DoDD 5230.24 (Reference (q)) and section 8 of this enclosure should be marked as FOUO when appropriate, in addition to the required distribution statement.

d. Access to FOUO Information

(1) No person may have access to information designated as FOUO unless that person has been determined to have a valid need for such access in connection with the accomplishment of a lawful and authorized Government purpose.

(2) The final responsibility for determining whether an individual has a valid need for access to information designated as FOUO rests with the individual who has authorized possession, knowledge, or control of the information, not with the prospective recipient.

(3) Information designated as FOUO may be disseminated within the DoD Components and between officials of DoD Components and DoD contractors, consultants, and grantees to conduct official business for the Department of Defense, provided that dissemination is consistent with any further controls imposed by a distribution statement. (See section 8 of this enclosure for information on distribution statements.)

(4) Information designated as FOUO may be disseminated to representatives of foreign governments and international organizations to the extent that disclosure would further the execution of a lawful and authorized mission or purpose. Such dissemination shall be in compliance with Reference (l) and other applicable statutes, regulations, and policies. (See paragraphs 1.g and 1.h of this enclosure for general disclosure guidance.)

(5) DoD holders of information designated as FOUO are authorized to disseminate such information to officials in other departments and agencies of the Executive and Judicial Branches to fulfill a Government function provided such dissemination is consistent with any further controls imposed by distribution statements or other regulations. If the information is covered by the Privacy Act of 1974, as amended, disclosure is authorized only if the requirements of DoD 5400.11-R (Reference (r)) are also satisfied. Records thus transmitted shall be marked as required by paragraph 2.c of this enclosure, and the recipient shall be advised that the information may qualify for exemption from public disclosure, pursuant to the FOIA, and that special handling instructions do or do not apply. Release of official information in litigation and testimony by DoD personnel as witnesses shall be in accordance with DoDD 5405.2 (Reference (s)).

(6) Release of FOUO information to Congress shall be in accordance with DoDI 5400.04 (Reference (t)). If the information is covered by the Privacy Act of 1974, as amended, disclosure is authorized only if the requirements of Reference (r) are also satisfied.

(7) DoDI 7650.01 (Reference (u)) governs release of FOUO information to the Government Accountability Office (GAO). If the information is covered by the Privacy Act of 1974, as amended, disclosure is authorized only if the requirements of Reference (r) are also satisfied.

(8) Records released outside of the Department of Defense, including to the Congress or GAO, should be reviewed to determine whether the information warrants FOUO status. If it does not, any prior FOUO markings shall be removed by lining-through or other appropriate means. If withholding criteria are met, the records shall be marked FOUO and the recipient provided an explanation for the marking.

(9) FOUO information may be shared with State, local, or tribal government officials, provided a specific need to know has been established and the information is shared in furtherance of an official governmental purpose. In all cases, the recipient must agree to the stipulation that the information shall be withheld by the recipient from public release. Records thus shared shall be marked in accordance with paragraph 2.c of this enclosure, and the recipient shall be advised whether special handling instructions do or do not apply.

e. Protection of FOUO Information

(1) During working hours, reasonable steps shall be taken to minimize the risk of access by unauthorized personnel (e.g., not reading, discussing, or leaving FOUO information unattended where unauthorized personnel are present). After working hours, FOUO information may be stored in unlocked containers, desks, or cabinets if Government or Government-contract building security is provided. If such building security is not provided or is deemed inadequate, the information shall be stored in locked desks, file cabinets, bookcases, locked rooms, etc.

(2) FOUO information and material may be transmitted via first class mail, parcel post, or, for bulk shipments, via fourth class mail. Whenever practical, electronic transmission of FOUO information (e.g., data, website, or e-mail) shall be by approved secure communications systems or systems utilizing other protective measures such as Public Key Infrastructure (PKI) or transport layer security (e.g., https). Use of wireless telephones should be avoided when other options are available. Transmission of FOUO by facsimile machine (fax) is permitted; the sender is responsible for determining that appropriate protection will be available at the receiving location prior to transmission (e.g., machine attended by a person authorized to receive FOUO; fax located in a controlled government environment).

(3) FOUO information may only be posted to DoD websites consistent with security and access requirements specified in Reference (k).

(4) Additional guidance regarding FOUO information that may also require protection pursuant to the Privacy Act of 1974, as amended, may be found in Reference (r).

(5) Record copies of FOUO documents shall be disposed of according to provisions of chapter 33 of title 44, U.S.C. (Reference (v)) and the DoD Component records management directives. Non-record FOUO documents may be destroyed by any of the means approved for the destruction of classified information or by any other means that would make it difficult to recognize or reconstruct the information.

(6) The originator or other competent authority (e.g., initial FOIA denial and appellate authorities) shall terminate the FOUO status of specific information when circumstances indicate that the information no longer requires protection from public disclosure. When the FOUO status of information is terminated in this manner, all known holders shall be notified, to the extent practical. Upon notification, holders shall efface or remove the FOUO markings, but records in file or storage need not be retrieved solely for that purpose. Information whose FOUO status has been terminated shall not be released to the public without the review and approval required by paragraph 1.f of this enclosure.

3. LES INFORMATION

a. Description. “Law Enforcement Sensitive” is a marking sometimes applied, in addition to the marking “FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY,” by the Department of Justice and other activities in the law enforcement community, including those within the Department of Defense. It denotes that the information was compiled for law enforcement purposes and should be afforded security in order to protect certain legitimate Government interests, including the protection of:

(1) Enforcement proceedings.

(2) The right of a person to a fair trial or an impartial adjudication; grand jury information.

(3) Personal privacy, including records about individuals requiring protection in accordance with the Privacy Act of 1974, as amended.

(4) The identity of a confidential source, including a State, local, or foreign agency or authority or any private institution that furnished information on a confidential basis.

(5) Information furnished by a confidential source.

DoDM 5200.01-V4, February 24, 2012

(6) Proprietary information.

(7) Techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions; guidelines for law enforcement investigations when disclosure of such guidelines could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law, or jeopardize the life or physical safety of any individual, including the lives and safety of law enforcement personnel.

b. Markings

(1) In unclassified documents containing LES information, the phrase “Law Enforcement Sensitive” shall accompany the phrase “FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY” at the bottom of the outside of the front cover (if there is one), the title page (if there is one), and the outside of the back cover (if there is one). Each page containing FOUO-LES information shall be marked “FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY Law Enforcement Sensitive” at the bottom.

(2) Classified documents containing such information shall be marked in accordance with Volume 2 of this Manual, except that pages containing LES information but no classified information shall be marked “FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY Law Enforcement Sensitive” on the top and bottom. Use separate portions for LES information; do not commingle LES information with classified information in the same portion.

(3) Portions of DoD unclassified documents that contain FOUO-LES information shall be marked with the parenthetical notation “(FOUO-LES)” at the beginning of the portion. If an unclassified portion of a classified document contains FOUO-LES information, the portion marking (U//FOUO-LES) shall be used. If a portion of a classified document contains both classified and FOUO-LES information, the appropriate classification designation is sufficient to protect the information and no additional marking shall be used to designate the LES content.

LAW ENFORCEMENT SENSITIVE: The information in this document marked FOUO-LES is the property of (insert organization) and may be distributed within the Federal Government (and its contractors) to law enforcement, public safety and protection, and intelligence officials and individuals with a need to know. Distribution to other entities without prior (insert organization) authorization is prohibited. Precautions shall be taken to ensure this information is stored and destroyed in a manner that precludes unauthorized access. Information bearing the FOUO-LES marking may not be used in legal proceedings without prior authorization from the originator. Recipients are prohibited from posting information marked FOUO-LES on a website or unclassified network.

DoDM 5200.01-V4, February 24, 2012

c. Access. The criteria for allowing access to FOUO-LES information are the same as those used for FOUO information.

d. Protection. Within the Department of Defense, FOUO-LES information shall be safeguarded and destroyed as required for FOUO information.

4. DoD UCNI

a. Description. DoD UCNI is unclassified information on security measures (including security plans, procedures, and equipment) for the physical protection of DoD Special Nuclear Material (SNM), SNM equipment, SNM facilities, or nuclear weapons in DoD custody. Information is designated DoD UCNI in accordance with DoDD 5210.83 (Reference (w)) only when it is determined that its unauthorized disclosure could reasonably be expected to have a significant adverse effect on the health and safety of the public or the common defense and security by increasing significantly the likelihood of the illegal production of nuclear weapons or the theft, diversion, or sabotage of DoD SNM, SNM equipment, SNM facilities, or nuclear weapons in DoD custody.

b. Application. Information may be designated DoD UCNI by the Heads of the DoD Components and individuals delegated authority in accordance with Reference (w).

c. Markings

(1) Unclassified documents and material, including those in electronic form, containing DoD UCNI shall be marked as follows:

(a) Documents shall be marked with the phrase “DOD UNCLASSIFIED CONTROLLED NUCLEAR INFORMATION” (or alternately “DOD UCNI”) at the bottom on the outside of the front cover, if any; the outside of the back cover, if any; the first page; and each individual page containing DoD UCNI.

(b) Portions of the document that contain DoD UCNI shall be marked with the parenthetical notation “(DCNI)” at the beginning of the portion.

(2) Classified documents and material containing DoD UCNI shall be marked in accordance with Volume 2 of this Manual.

(a) Pages with no classified information but containing DoD UCNI shall be marked “UNCLASSIFIED//DOD UNCLASSIFIED CONTROLLED NUCLEAR INFORMATION” or “UNCLASSIFIED//DOD UCNI” at the top and bottom, unless the page is marked with the overall classification of the document.

(b) Portions of the document that contain DoD UCNI, but no classified information, shall be marked with the parenthetical notation “(U//DCNI)” at the beginning of the portion.

DoDM 5200.01-V4, February 24, 2012

Portions containing both DoD UCNI and classified information shall be marked “DCNI” in addition to the required classification marking (e.g., “(S//DCNI)”).

(3) Material in other formats (e.g., slides, computer media, films) shall bear conspicuous markings that alert the holder or viewer that the material contains DoD UCNI. See subparagraph 2.c.(3)(g) of this enclosure for guidance on marking such material.

(4) Transmittal documents shall call attention to the presence of DoD UCNI attachments by using a statement in the text or marking at the bottom of the transmittal document. A statement such as “The attached document contains DoD Unclassified Controlled Nuclear Information (DoD UCNI)” is sufficient.

(5) Documents and material containing DoD UCNI and transmitted outside the Department of Defense shall bear an expanded marking on the face of the document so that non-DoD holders understand that DoD UCNI is exempt from mandatory public disclosure under the FOIA. A statement similar to the one shown in Figure 3 shall be used:

Outside of the Department of Defense

Department of Defense
Unclassified Controlled Nuclear Information Exempt from mandatory disclosure under 5 U.S.C. 552(b)(3), as authorized by 10 U.S.C. 128 Unauthorized dissemination subject to civil and criminal sanctions under Section 148 of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (42 U.S.C. 2168).

d. Access. Access to DoD UCNI shall be granted only to persons who have a valid need to know the information and are specifically eligible for access in accordance with the provisions of Reference (w).

(1) Recipients shall be made aware of the status of such information, and transmission shall be by means that preclude unauthorized disclosure or dissemination.

(2) DoD holders of DoD UCNI are authorized to convey such information to officials in other U.S. departments or agencies on a need-to-know basis to fulfill a Government function.

e. Protection

(1) When not commingled with classified information, DoD UCNI may be sent by first-class mail in a single, opaque envelope or wrapping.

(2) Except in emergencies, transmission of DoD UCNI, to include voice, facsimile, and e-mail, shall be via approved secure communications circuits and equipment only.

DoDM 5200.01-V4, February 24, 2012

(3) During working hours, reasonable measures shall be taken to minimize the risk of access by unauthorized personnel (e.g., not reading, discussing, or leaving DoD UCNI unattended where unauthorized personnel are present). After working hours, DoD UCNI may be stored in unlocked containers, desks, or cabinets if Government or Government-contract building security is provided. If such building security is not provided or is deemed inadequate, DoD UCNI shall be stored in locked buildings, rooms, desks, file cabinets, bookcases, or similar items.

(4) Record copies of DoD UCNI documents shall be disposed of in accordance with chapter 33 of Reference (v) and the DoD Component records management directives. Non-record DoD UCNI documents may be destroyed by shredding or burning or by any of the means approved for the destruction of classified information.

(5) DoD UCNI is exempt from mandatory public disclosure under Exemption 3 of the FOIA.

5. LIMITED DISTRIBUTION INFORMATION

a. Description. “LIMITED DISTRIBUTION” is a caveat used by the National Geospatial-Intelligence Agency (NGA) to identify a select group of sensitive, unclassified imagery or geospatial information and data created or distributed by NGA or information, data, and products derived from such information. DoDI 5030.59 (Reference (x)) contains details of policies and procedures regarding use of the LIMITED DISTRIBUTION caveat. These policies and procedures are summarized in this section and in Enclosure 4 of Volume 2 of this Manual.

b. Application

(1) Information that qualifies for withholding from public release pursuant to section 455 of title 10, U.S.C. (Reference (y)) may be designated as LIMITED DISTRIBUTION in accordance with Reference (x).

(2) The marking indicates distribution of certain unclassified geospatial intelligence is limited to the Department of Defense and authorized DoD contractors. Other dissemination requests or requirements shall be referred to NGA for approval.

c. Marking. Information or material designated as LIMITED DISTRIBUTION, or derived from such information or material, shall, unless otherwise approved by the Director, NGA, be marked “LIMITED DISTRIBUTION” and shall carry the notice shown in Figure 4 on the front page. Portions of the document that contain LIMITED DISTRIBUTION information shall be marked at the beginning of the portion with the parenthetical notation “(DS)” for an unclassified document or “(U//DS)” for a classified document.

Removal of this caveat is prohibited.

d. Access

(1) Information bearing the LIMITED DISTRIBUTION caveat shall be disseminated by NGA to Military Departments or other DoD Components, to DoD contractors, and to authorized grantees for the conduct of official DoD business.

(2) DoD civilian, military, and contractor personnel of a recipient Military Department, other DoD Component, contractor, or grantee may be granted access to information bearing the LIMITED DISTRIBUTION caveat provided they have been determined to have a valid need to know such information in connection with the accomplishment of official business for the Department of Defense. Recipients shall be made aware of the status of such information, and transmission shall be by means to preclude unauthorized disclosure or release. Further dissemination of information bearing the LIMITED DISTRIBUTION caveat by receiving contractors or grantees to another Military Department, other DoD Component, contractor, or grantee, or dissemination by any recipient Military Service, DoD Component, contractor, or grantee to any person, agency, or activity outside the Department of Defense, requires the express written approval of the Director, NGA.

(3) Information bearing the LIMITED DISTRIBUTION caveat, or information derived therefrom, shall not be released, made accessible, or sold to foreign governments or international organizations, without the express written approval of the Director, NGA. This requirement includes Foreign Security Assistance transactions or arrangements, transfer or loan of any weapon or weapon system that uses such information, intended use in mission planning systems, and/or sale through the Foreign Military Sales process.

(4) All FOIA requests for information bearing the LIMITED DISTRIBUTION caveat, or derived therefrom, shall be referred to NGA consistent with Reference (x).

e. Protection

(1) LIMITED DISTRIBUTION information shall be stored in the same manner approved for FOUO information.

DoDM 5200.01-V4, February 24, 2012

(2) Information bearing the LIMITED DISTRIBUTION caveat, or derivative information, shall not be stored on systems accessible by contractors or other individuals who are not directly working on a DoD contract and who do not require such access in the conduct of official DoD business.

(3) Transmission of LIMITED DISTRIBUTION information and materials shall be by means that preclude unauthorized disclosure or release. LIMITED DISTRIBUTION information cannot be processed on or transmitted via unencrypted or unsecured systems accessible by the public. Electronic transmission of such information (e.g., voice, data, or facsimile) shall be by approved secure communications systems or systems utilizing protective measures such as PKI.

(4) LIMITED DISTRIBUTION information, or derivative information, may be posted to DoD websites only in accordance with security and access requirements specified in Reference (k). Publicly-accessible websites shall not contain LIMITED DISTRIBUTION information.

(5) When no longer required, all LIMITED DISTRIBUTION information and copies shall be returned to NGA or destroyed in a manner sufficient to prevent its reconstruction.

6. OTHER AUTHORIZED DESIGNATIONS

a. Department of State (DoS) Sensitive But Unclassified (SBU) Information

(1) Description. DoS SBU information is information originated within the DoS which that agency believes warrants a degree of protection and administrative control and meets the criteria for exemption from mandatory public disclosure in accordance with the provisions of the FOIA.

(2) Markings

(a) Unclassified documents containing DoS SBU information shall be marked "SENSITIVE BUT UNCLASSIFIED" at the bottom of the outside of the front cover (if there is one), the title page (if there is one), the first page, and the outside of the back cover (if there is one). Each page containing DoS SBU information shall be marked "SENSITIVE BUT UNCLASSIFIED" at the bottom. Portions of the document that contain DoS SBU shall be marked with the parenthetical notation "(SBU)" at the beginning of the portion.

(b) When DoS information carries the additional dissemination restriction NOFORN (i.e., the document is marked "SBU NOFORN" or "SENSITIVE BUT UNCLASSIFIED NOFORN"), the NOFORN restriction shall be carried forward in the markings at the bottom of the cover pages, the title page, and each internal page and in the portion marking of portions containing such information. Portions of the document that contain information not releasable to foreign nationals (i.e., NOFORN information) shall be marked with the parenthetical notation "(SBU-NF)" at the beginning of the portion.

(c) When a document contains both DoS SBU and FOUO portions, the SBU markings supersede FOUO in the markings at the bottom of the cover and title pages and at the bottom of internal document pages.

(d) No requirement exists to re-mark existing material containing DoS SBU information.

(e) See Volume 2 of this Manual for guidance on marking classified documents containing DoS SBU information.

(3) Access. Within the Department of Defense, the criteria for allowing access to DoS SBU information are the same as those used for FOUO information, EXCEPT that information marked “SBU NOFORN” (or portion marked “(SBU-NF)”) shall not be provided to any person who is not a U.S. citizen without the approval of the DoS activity that originated the information.

(4) Protection of DoS SBU Information. Within the Department of Defense, DoS SBU information shall be protected as required for FOUO information.

b. Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) Sensitive Information

(1) Description. DEA Sensitive information is unclassified information that the DEA originates and that requires protection against unauthorized disclosure to protect sources and methods of investigative activity, evidence, and the integrity of pretrial investigative reports. The Administrator and certain other officials of the DEA have been authorized to designate information as DEA Sensitive; the Department of Defense agreed to implement protective measures for DEA Sensitive information in its possession. Types of information to be protected include:

- (a) Information and material that is investigative in nature.
- (b) Information and material to which access is restricted by law.
- (c) Information and material that is critical to the operation and mission of the DEA.
- (d) Information and material the disclosure of which would violate a privileged relationship.

(2) Markings

(b) Classified documents containing DEA Sensitive information shall be marked in accordance with Volume 2 of this Manual. Pages containing DEA Sensitive information but no classified information may be marked “UNCLASSIFIED//DEA SENSITIVE” top and bottom. If a portion of a classified document contains DEA Sensitive information, include the “DSEN” marking after the parenthetical classification marking (e.g., (U//DSEN)). Classified and DEA Sensitive portions should be kept separate.

(3) Access. Access to DEA Sensitive information shall be granted only to persons who have a valid need to know the information. A security clearance is not required for access to unclassified DEA Sensitive information. DEA Sensitive information in the possession of the Department of Defense may not be released outside the Department without DEA authorization.

(4) Protection

(a) DEA Sensitive material may be transmitted within the continental United States (CONUS) by first class mail. Transmission outside CONUS shall be by a means approved for transmission of Secret material (see Enclosure 4 of Volume 3 for transmission guidance). Non-government package delivery and courier services may not be used. Enclose the material in two opaque envelopes or containers, the inner one marked “DEA SENSITIVE” on both sides.

(b) Electronic transmission of DEA Sensitive information within CONUS shall be over secure (i.e., encrypted) communications circuits whenever possible; electronic transmission outside CONUS must be over secure communications circuits.

(c) Reproduction of DEA Sensitive information and material shall be limited to that required for operational needs.

(d) DEA Sensitive material shall be destroyed by a means approved for destruction of material classified Confidential.

7. FOREIGN GOVERNMENT INFORMATION

a. In order to ensure the protection of foreign government information that is provided to a DoD Component marked “RESTRICTED” or on the condition that it will be treated “in confidence,” such information shall be marked in accordance with Volume 2 of this Manual and handled in accordance with Enclosure 2 of Volume 3 of this Manual.

b. A revision to the U.S./United Kingdom (UK) Security Implementing Arrangement (Reference (z)) that deals with industrial operations specifies that DoD contactors operating under COMMERCIAL contracts with the UK are allowed to treat documents received from the UK bearing the marking “UK RESTRICTED” in a manner similar to FOUO. Pursuant to Reference (z), the UK must include its requirements for the marking and handling of “UK RESTRICTED” information in the applicable contract. The agreement does NOT apply to, nor permit, such handling of “UK RESTRICTED” information by DoD Components or by contractors when performing on DoD contracts and the provisions of paragraph 7.a of this enclosure apply.

8. DISTRIBUTION STATEMENTS ON TECHNICAL DOCUMENTS

a. Description. Reference (q) requires distribution statements to be placed on classified and unclassified scientific and technical documents created under the DoD Scientific and Technical Information Program (see DoDD 3200.12 (Reference (aa))). These statements are intended to facilitate control, secondary distribution, and release of these documents without the need to repeatedly obtain approval or authorization from the controlling DoD office.

(1) Distribution statements are to be applied to all newly created technical documents generated by DoD-funded research, development, test, and evaluation programs and to newly created technical documents and other technical information (e.g., test plans, computer software) that can be used or adapted for use in development, manufacture, or operation of any military or space equipment or related technology. They are not intended for use on program documentation such as administrative documents, contracting documents, and general correspondence, etc., unless these documents also contain technical information.

(2) The wording of the distribution statements specified by Reference (q) may not be modified to specify additional distribution, such as distribution to foreign governments. However, where other markings are authorized and used in accordance with statute, regulation, or other policy (e.g., North Atlantic Treaty Organization markings, REL TO), those markings may be used to further inform distribution decisions.

b. Application. DoD Components generating or responsible for technical documents shall determine if one or more of the reasons for controlled dissemination as specified in Reference (q) apply and mark the documents appropriately before initial distribution. Refer to Reference (q) for details on use of the markings and allowable reasons for controlling distribution.

(1) Unclassified DoD technical documents shall bear one of the distribution statements specified in Reference (q) and shown in the Table. Documents recommended for public release (i.e., marked with Distribution Statement A) must also be reviewed in accordance with Reference (j).

(2) Classified technical documents shall be assigned Distribution Statements B, C, D, E, or F. The distribution statement assigned to a classified document shall be retained on the document after its declassification or until specifically changed or removed by the controlling DoD office. Technical documents that are declassified and have no distribution statement assigned shall be handled in accordance with Distribution Statement F until changed by the controlling DoD office.

(3) Documents containing export-controlled technical data shall be marked with the applicable export-control statement, as specified by paragraph E3.1.1.8 of Reference (q), and assigned Distribution Statement B, C, D, E, F, or X. Export-controlled information may NOT be posted to publicly-accessible websites.

Table. Text of Distribution Statements

Distribution A	Approved for public release, distribution is unlimited.
Distribution B	Distribution authorized to U.S. Government Agencies only; (reason); (date). Other requests for this document shall be referred to (controlling DoD office)
Distribution C	Distribution authorized to U.S. Government agencies And their contractors; (reason); (date) Other requests for this document shall be referred to (controlling DoD office).
Distribution D	Distribution authorized to the DoD and U.S. DoD contractors only; (reason); (date). Other requests for this document shall be referred to (controlling DoD office).
Distribution E	Distribution authorized to DoD Components only; (reason); (date); Other requests for this document shall be referred to (controlling DoD office).
Distribution F	Further distribution only as directed by (controlling DoD office) or higher DoD authority; (date).
Distribution X	Distribution authorized to U. S. Government agencies and private individuals or enterprises eligible to obtain export-controlled technical data in accordance with DoD Directive 5230.25; (date). Controlling DoD office is (controlling DoD office).

(4) The existence of a distribution statement on a document does not automatically qualify the document for, nor is it a basis for, exempting the document from release under the FOIA. A FOIA exemption must apply in order to preclude disclosure in accordance with the FOIA. Paragraph 2.a of this enclosure and Chapter 3 of Reference (p) provide additional information on FOIA exemptions. When appropriate, technical documents qualifying for FOIA exemptions should be marked as FOUO in addition to the required distribution statement.

(5) The distribution statement shall be displayed conspicuously so as to be recognized readily by recipients. For standard written or printed material, the distribution statement shall appear on the front page of the document (i.e., the first page or cover page). If the information is not prepared in the form of an ordinary document and does not have a cover or title page (such as forms and charts), the applicable distribution statement shall be stamped, printed, written, or affixed by other means in a conspicuous position.

(6) When possible, parts that contain information creating the requirement for a distribution statement shall be prepared as an appendix to permit broader distribution of the basic document.

ENCLOSURE 4

CUI EDUCATION AND TRAINING

1. REQUIREMENTS. The Heads of the DoD Components shall ensure that their personnel receive CUI education and training that:

a. Provides necessary knowledge and information to enable quality performance of CUI designation, marking, and protection functions.

b. Promotes understanding of the DoD Information Security Program policies and requirements and their importance to the national interests.

c. Instills and maintains continuing awareness of security requirements.

d. Assists in promoting a high degree of motivation to support program goals.

2. CUI EDUCATION AND TRAINING RESOURCES

a. CUI education and training may be accomplished by establishing programs within the DoD Component, using external resources such as the Defense Security Service Academy, or a combination of the two.

b. DoD Components may, if desired, combine into one overall program the education and training requirements of this enclosure and those for classified information specified in Volume 3 of this Manual.

3. INITIAL ORIENTATION. All personnel in the organization, including DoD civilians, military members and on-site support contractors, shall receive an initial orientation to the DoD Information Security Program.

a. This initial orientation is intended to:

(1) Define classified information and CUI and explain the importance of protecting such information.

(2) Produce a basic understanding of security policies and principles.

(3) Notify personnel of their responsibilities within the security program, and inform them of the administrative, civil, or criminal sanctions that can be applied when appropriate.

(4) Provide individuals enough information to ensure the proper protection of classified and controlled unclassified information in their possession, including actions to be taken if such information is discovered unsecured, a security vulnerability is noted, or the individual believes a person has been seeking unauthorized access to such information.

(5) Inform personnel of the need for review of ALL unclassified DoD information prior to its release to the public.

b. Security educators shall also consider including in the initial orientation identification of the senior agency official and activity security management personnel, a description of their responsibilities, and whether they are involved in the protection of classified or controlled unclassified information. If not included in the initial orientation, such information must be included in the training required by paragraph 3.c. of this enclosure.

c. In addition to the requirements in paragraphs 3.a. and 3.b. of this enclosure, upon initial entry into a position that requires CUI access, all personnel shall receive training on CUI policies, principles, and practices, including:

- (1) The responsibilities of agency personnel who create or handle CUI.
- (2) The characteristics that qualify information for designation as CUI and the importance of properly applying CUI markings.
- (3) The fact that CUI encompasses multiple different types of information and that each type may have differing marking and protection requirements.
- (4) The major categories of CUI used within the Department of Defense.
- (5) The marking and protection requirements for FOUO information and other categories of CUI routinely used by the organization.
- (6) Where to find detailed guidance on marking, handling, storing, transmitting, sharing, and destroying the various types of CUI.
- (7) What constitutes an unauthorized disclosure of CUI and the criminal, civil, and administrative sanctions that may be taken against an individual who fails to protect CUI.
- (8) The steps an individual shall take when he or she believes CUI has not been, or is not being, properly protected.
- (9) The use of information systems to create, process, store, or transmit CUI. Where appropriate, this training may be combined with the information assurance training required by DoDD 8570.01 (Reference (ab)). Marking requirements for information (e.g., documents, e-mail, briefings, databases, web-based information, spreadsheets) in electronic format and application of CUI requirements to electronic storage media should specifically be addressed.
- (10) The requirement for DoD personnel, while acting in an official capacity, to have information prepared for public release approved in accordance with Reference (j) and DoDI

5230.29 (Reference (ac)) and, while acting in a private capacity and not in connection with their official duties, to have information prepared for public release through non-DoD forums or media reviewed for clearance if it meets the criteria in Reference (ac).

(11) The precautions that should be taken before attendance at professional meetings or conferences where foreign participation is likely and/or travel to foreign countries where special concerns about possible exploitation exist, when appropriate for the activity's mission or functions.

4. REQUIREMENTS FOR INFORMATION SECURITY PROGRAM PERSONNEL.

Individuals with specified duties in the information security program shall be provided security education and training that is commensurate with job responsibilities and sufficient to permit effective performance of those duties. The education and training may be provided before or concurrent with assuming those duties.

5. ADDITIONAL TRAINING REQUIREMENTS. Additional CUI education and training may be required for personnel or organizations that:

- a. Review and approve information for release to the public, including through the use of websites.
- b. Are involved with acquisition programs subject to DoDD 5000.01 (Reference (ad)).
- c. Are involved with international programs (see Glossary for definition).
- d. Share CUI with State, local, tribal, and private sector officials and/or with foreign government representatives.

6. ANNUAL REFRESHER TRAINING. At a minimum, DoD civilians, military members, and on-site support contractors with access to CUI shall receive annual refresher training that reinforces the policies, principles, and procedures covered in their initial and specialized CUI training. Such training may be integrated with the annual security refresher required by section 7 of Enclosure 6 of Volume 3 or the annual information assurance awareness refresher, as required by Reference (ab), as appropriate. Refresher training shall also address the threat and the techniques foreign intelligence activities use while attempting to obtain DoD CUI and advise personnel of penalties for unauthorized disclosures. The importance of unclassified information, its potential sensitivity, and the requirement to have all information reviewed and approved for release prior to public disclosure or Web posting shall be reiterated. Refresher training shall also address relevant changes in CUI policy or procedures and issues or concerns identified during DoD Component oversight reviews.

DoDM 5200.01-V4, February 24, 2012

7. CONTINUING CUI EDUCATION AND TRAINING. CUI education shall be a continuous process. Periodic briefings, training sessions, and other formal presentations shall be supplemented with other information and promotional efforts to ensure that continuous awareness and performance quality is maintained. The use of job performance aids and other substitutes for formal training is encouraged when they are determined to be the most effective means of achieving program goals. The circulation of directives or similar material on a “read-and-initial” basis shall not be considered as the sole means of fulfilling any of the specific requirements of this enclosure.

8. OUT-PROCESSING. The DoD Components shall establish procedures to ensure that employees with access to CUI who leave the organization are advised during their out-processing of:

- a. Their continued responsibility to protect the CUI to which they have had access.
- b. The process for reporting any unauthorized attempt to gain access to such information.
- c. The prohibitions against retaining CUI material when leaving the organization.
- d. The potential civil and criminal penalties for failure to fulfill their continuing responsibilities.
- e. The requirement that retired personnel, former DoD employees, and non-active duty members of the Reserve Components use the DoD security review process specified by Reference (j).

9. MANAGEMENT AND OVERSIGHT TRAINING. Individuals designated as security managers and other personnel whose duties significantly involve managing and overseeing CUI shall receive training that addresses:

- a. The designation process and the standards applicable to each designation.
- b. The authorities and processes for terminating CUI status.
- c. The requirements for reporting unauthorized disclosures, including when in electronic form, and the penalties that may be associated with violating established protection requirements.
- d. The requirements for oversight as part of the information security program.
- e. Details of the marking, dissemination, and safeguarding specifications for each type of CUI routinely used by the Department of Defense, to include:

- (1) Designation standards.

DoDM 5200.01-V4, February 24, 2012

(2) Use, storage, reproduction, transmission, dissemination, and destruction requirements and limitations.

(3) Access restrictions.

10. PROGRAM OVERSIGHT. The Heads of the DoD Components shall ensure that CUI education and training are appropriately evaluated during oversight activities. This evaluation shall include assessing the quality and effectiveness of the efforts, as well as ensuring appropriate coverage of the target populations. The Heads of the DoD Components shall require maintaining records of education and training offered and employee participation as they deem necessary to permit effective oversight.

PART II. DEFINITIONS

Unless otherwise noted, these terms and their definitions are for the purpose of this Manual.

access. The ability or opportunity to obtain knowledge of classified or controlled unclassified information.

activity security manger. The individual specifically designated in writing and responsible for the activity's information security program, which ensures that classified and controlled unclassified information is properly handled during its entire life cycle. This includes ensuring it is appropriately identified, marked, stored, disseminated, disposed of, and accounted for, as well as providing guidance on the handling of security incidents to minimize adverse effects and ensure that appropriate corrective action is taken. The security manager may be assigned responsibilities in other security disciplines such as personnel and physical security, etc.

controlling DoD office. The DoD activity that sponsored the work that generated the technical data or received the technical data on behalf of the Department of Defense and, therefore, has the responsibility for determining the distribution of a document containing such technical data. For joint sponsorship, the controlling office is determined by advance agreement and may be a party, group, or committee representing the interested activities or the DoD Components.

CONUS. U.S. territory, including adjacent territorial waters, located within the North American continent between Canada and Mexico.

CUI. Unclassified information that requires safeguarding or dissemination controls, pursuant to and consistent with applicable law, regulations, and Government-wide policies.

DEA Sensitive information. Unclassified information that the DEA originates and that requires protection against unauthorized disclosure to protect sources and methods of investigative activity, evidence, and the integrity of pretrial investigative reports.

declassification. The authorized change in the status of information from classified information to unclassified information.

distribution statement. A statement used on a technical document to denote the extent of its availability for secondary distribution, release, and disclosure without additional approvals or authorizations. A distribution statement marking is distinct from and in addition to a security classification marking. A distribution statement is also required on security classification guides submitted to the Defense Technical Information Center.

document. Any recorded information, regardless of the nature of the medium or the method or circumstances of recording. This includes any physical medium in or on which information is recorded or stored, to include written or printed matter, audiovisual materials, and electromagnetic storage media.

DoDM 5200.01-V4, February 24, 2012

DoD UCNI. Unclassified information on security measures (including security plans, procedures, and equipment) for the physical protection of DoD SNM, SNM equipment, SNM facilities, or nuclear weapons in DoD custody, designated and controlled pursuant to the provisions of Reference (w).

DoS SBU. Information originated within the DoS which that agency believes warrants a degree of protection and administrative control and meets the criteria for exemption from mandatory public disclosure in accordance with provisions of the FOIA.

exemption. The basis for withholding information from public release pursuant to the provisions of the FOIA.

FOUO. A protective marking to be applied to unclassified information when disclosure to the public of that particular record, or portion thereof, would reasonably be expected to cause a foreseeable harm to an interest protected by one or more provisions of the FOIA. This includes information that qualifies for protection pursuant to the provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974, as amended. See Reference (p) for detailed information on categories of information that may qualify for exemption from public release.

information. Any knowledge that can be communicated or documentary material, regardless of its physical form or characteristics, that is owned by, produced by or for, or is under the control of the U.S. Government.

information security. The system of policies, procedures, and requirements established in accordance with Reference (d) to protect information that, if subjected to unauthorized disclosure, could reasonably be expected to cause damage to the national security. The term also applies to policies, procedures, and requirements established to protect CUI, which may be withheld from release to the public in accordance with statute, regulation, or policy.

integrity. The state that exists when information is unchanged from its source and has not been accidentally or intentionally modified, altered, or destroyed.

Intelligence Community. An element or agency of the U.S. Government identified in or designated pursuant to section 403 of title 50, U.S.C., or section 3.5(h) of Executive Order 12333 (References (ae) and (af)).

international program. Any program, project, contract, operation, exercise, training, experiment, or other initiative that involves a DoD Component or a DoD contractor and a foreign government, international organization, or corporation that is located and incorporated to do business in a foreign country.

LES. A marking sometimes applied, in addition to or in conjunction with the marking “FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY,” by the Department of Justice and other activities in the law enforcement community to denote that the information was compiled for law enforcement purposes and should be afforded appropriate security in order to protect certain legitimate government interests.

LIMITED DISTRIBUTION. A caveat used by the NGA to identify a select group of sensitive, unclassified imagery or geospatial information and data created or distributed by NGA or information, data, and products derived from such information.

material. Any product or substance on or in which information is embodied.

national security. The national defense or foreign relations of the United States. National security includes defense against transnational terrorism.

need to know. A determination that a prospective recipient requires access to specific information in order to perform or assist in a lawful and authorized governmental function.

network. A system of two or more computers that can exchange data or information.

permanently valuable records. Records having sufficient value to warrant being maintained and preserved permanently.

records. The records of an agency and Presidential papers or Presidential records, as those terms are defined in chapters 22 and 33 of Reference (v), including those created or maintained by a U.S. Government contractor, licensee, certificate holder, or grantee that are subject to the sponsoring agency's control under the terms of the contract, license, certificate, or grant.

records management. The planning, controlling, directing, organizing, training, promoting, and other managerial activities involved with respect to records creation, records maintenance and use, and records disposition in order to achieve adequate and proper documentation of the policies and transactions of the Federal Government and effective and economical management of agency operations. Within the Department of Defense, records management is implemented by Reference (o).

safeguarding. Measures and controls that are prescribed to protect classified and controlled unclassified information.

SCI. Classified information concerning or derived from intelligence sources, methods, or analytical processes that is required to be handled within formal access control systems established by the DNI.

security clearance. A determination that a person is eligible in accordance with the standards of Reference (n) for access to classified information.

senior agency official. An official appointed by the head of a DoD Component to be responsible for direction, administration, and oversight of the DoD Component's information security program, to include classification, declassification, safeguarding, and security education and training programs, and for the efficient and effective implementation of References (b), (d), (e) and (f) and the guidance in this Manual. Where used in reference to authorities under section 5.4(d) of Reference (d), this term applies only to the senior agency officials of the Military Departments and of the Department of Defense.

unauthorized disclosure. Communication or physical transfer of classified or controlled unclassified information to an unauthorized recipient.

DoD MANUAL 5400.07

DoD FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT (FOIA) PROGRAM

Originating Component: Office of the Deputy Chief Management Officer of the Department of Defense

Effective: January 25, 2017

Releasability: Cleared for public release. Available on the DoD Issuances Website at <http://www.dtic.mil/whs/directives>.

Incorporates and Cancels: DoD 5400.7-R, "DoD Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) Program," September 4, 1998

Approved by: David Tillotson III, Assistant Deputy Chief Management Officer

Purpose: This issuance:

- Implements the DoD FOIA Program pursuant to DoD Directive (DoDD) 5400.07, in accordance with the authority in DoDD 5105.53, DoDD 5105.82, and the July 11, 2014, Deputy Secretary of Defense Memorandum.
- Supplements Part 286 of Title 32, Code of Federal Regulations (CFR).
- Incorporates the provisions of the OPEN Government Act of 2007 and the FOIA Improvement Act of 2016.
- Promotes uniformity in the DoD FOIA Program by taking precedence over all DoD Component issuances that supplement and implement the DoD FOIA Program.

SECTION 1: GENERAL ISSUANCE INFORMATION

1.1. APPLICABILITY. This issuance applies to OSD, the Military Departments, the Office of the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the Joint Staff, the Combatant Commands, the Office of the Inspector General of the Department of Defense, the Defense Agencies, the DoD Field Activities, and all other organizational entities within the DoD (referred to collectively in this issuance as the “DoD Components”).

1.2. INFORMATION COLLECTIONS. The DoD Annual FOIA Report to the U.S. Attorney General, referred to in Paragraphs 3.13., 6.2.a.(1)(b), and 6.3.b., has been assigned report control symbol DD-DCMO(A)1365 in accordance with the procedures in Volume 1 of DoD Manual (DoDM) 8910.01.

DoDM 5400.07, January 25, 2017

SECTION 2: RESPONSIBILITIES

The DoD Component heads implement the procedures prescribed in this issuance and ensure that any supplemental guidance and procedures are in accordance with Part 286 of Title 32, CFR, and DoDD 5400.07.

DoDM 5400.07, January 25, 2017

SECTION 3: GENERAL PROVISIONS

3.1. PUBLIC ACCESS TO DOD INFORMATION.

a. Pursuant to the FOIA, the public has the right to access agency records concerning U.S. Government activities. An agency record requested by a member of the public in accordance with Part 286 of Title 32, CFR, and this issuance must not be withheld in whole or in part unless the FOIA exempts the record, or parts of it, from disclosure.

b. The Directorate for Oversight and Compliance (DO&C), Office of the Deputy Chief Management Officer, maintains a DoD FOIA Handbook for the public to use in obtaining information from the DoD, as required by the FOIA. This handbook is a short, simple explanation of the FOIA and how the public can use it to access agency records. This handbook is posted on the FOIA section of the DoD Open Government Website at <http://open.defense.gov/Transparency/FOIA/FOIAHandbook.aspx>.

c. Individuals seeking DoD records should address their FOIA requests to a FOIA Requester Service Center (RSC) listed in Paragraph 3.2.a. or 3.2.b.. Addresses and contact information for the FOIA RSCs are available at the FOIA.gov Website, <http://www.foia.gov/report-makerequest.html>.

3.2. DOD COMPONENTS. The DoD Components listed in Paragraph 3.2.a. and 3.2.b. are referred to in this issuance as “DoD FOIA Program Components.”

a. The following DoD Components have their own FOIA programs, including a FOIA appellate authority.

- (1) Office of the Secretary of Defense/Joint Staff (OSD/JS).
- (2) Department of the Army.
- (3) Department of the Navy.
- (4) Department of the Air Force.
- (5) Defense Commissary Agency.
- (6) Defense Contract Audit Agency.
- (7) Defense Contract Management Agency.
- (8) Defense Finance and Accounting Service.
- (9) Defense Health Agency.
- (10) Defense Information Systems Agency.

DoDM 5400.07, January 25, 2017

- (11) Defense Intelligence Agency.
- (12) Defense Logistics Agency.
- (13) Defense Security Service.
- (14) Defense Threat Reduction Agency.
- (15) DoD Education Activity.
- (16) National Geospatial-Intelligence Agency.
- (17) National Reconnaissance Office.
- (18) National Security Agency/Central Security Service.
- (19) Office of the Inspector General of the Department of Defense.

b. The following DoD Components have their own FOIA programs; however, their FOIA appellate authority is the FOIA appellate authority for the OSD/JS as assigned in DoDD 5400.07.

- (1) Armed Services Board of Contract Appeals.
- (2) Defense Technical Information Center.
- (3) Joint Personnel Recovery Agency.
- (4) National Guard Bureau.
- (5) United States Africa Command.
- (6) United States European Command.
- (7) United States Central Command.
- (8) United States Northern Command.
- (9) United States Pacific Command.
- (10) United States Special Operations Command.
- (11) United States Southern Command.
- (12) United States Strategic Command.
- (13) United States Transportation Command.

c. The OSD/JS FOIA RSC processes requests for the following DoD Components:

- (1) Defense Acquisition University.

DoDM 5400.07, January 25, 2017

- (2) Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency.
- (3) Defense Equal Opportunity Management Institute.
- (4) Defense Legal Services Agency.
- (5) Defense Microelectronics Activity.
- (6) Defense Media Activity.
- (7) Defense POW/MIA Accounting Agency.
- (8) Defense Security Cooperation Agency.
- (9) Defense Technology Security Administration.
- (10) Defense Travel Management Office.
- (11) DoD Human Resources Activity.
- (12) DoD Test Resource Management Center.
- (13) Joint Improvised-Threat Defeat Agency.
- (14) Missile Defense Agency.
- (15) National Defense University.
- (16) Office of Economic Adjustment.
- (17) Office of Military Commissions.
- (18) Pentagon Force Protection Agency.
- (19) Uniform Services University of the Health Sciences.
- (20) Washington Headquarters Services.
- (21) White House Military Office.

3.3. FOIA RSCS.

a. Each DoD FOIA Program Component listed in Paragraphs 3.2.a. and 3.2.b. of this issuance must establish one or more FOIA RSCs.

b. Each FOIA RSC will have a website that serves to educate the public on the FOIA process. These websites will comply with DoD Instruction (DoDI) 8550.01. At a minimum, each website will provide:

DoDM 5400.07, January 25, 2017

(1) The address, telephone number, facsimile number, and organizational e-mail address to which the public can send FOIA requests.

(2) Name of the DoD FOIA Program Component's FOIA point of contact.

(3) A link to the DoD FOIA Handbook.

(4) A description of the types of records that can be requested from the DoD FOIA Program Component.

(5) The name and contact information for each of the DoD FOIA Program Component's FOIA Public Liaisons.

(6) Information on how a FOIA requester can obtain the status of their FOIA request (either by telephone or through the FOIA RSC website).

(7) A FOIA library as described in Section 4 or a link to the DoD FOIA Program Component's FOIA library, if the library is centralized.

c. The websites of DoD FOIA Program Component headquarters FOIA RSCs will link to the websites of the other FOIA RSCs within their Components.

d. The Internet home page of every DoD Component will link to the FOIA RSC for that DoD Component.

3.4. FOIA PUBLIC LIAISONS. The DoD Components listed in Paragraph 3.2.a. will submit to the DO&C the names of personnel to serve as FOIA Public Liaisons. Each DoD FOIA Program Component will have at least one FOIA Public Liaison.

a. The FOIA Public Liaisons will:

(1) Ensure that the FOIA RSCs' websites comply with the requirements in Paragraph 3.3.b.

(2) Assist in the reduction of any delays in responding to requests.

(3) Increase transparency and understanding of request statuses.

(4) Assist in dispute resolution.

b. The FOIA Public Liaison for the DoD Components listed in Paragraph 3.2.b., the OSD/JS, and the Armed Services Board of Contract Appeals is in the DO&C.

3.5. UNOFFICIAL RELEASE OF DOD RECORDS. Records are considered part of the public domain when released to the public in response to a FOIA request or under circumstances in which a DoD official with the appropriate authority has authorized their release (e.g., a release under the DoD Mandatory Declassification Review Program, pursuant to DoD 5230.30-M). The disclosure of exempt records, without authorization by an appropriate DoD official, is not an official release of information. Such a release does not waive the authority of the DoD to assert FOIA exemptions to withhold the same records in response to a FOIA request.

3.6. DESCRIPTION OF REQUESTED RECORD. The requester is responsible for providing a reasonable description of the desired record that will enable the DoD Component to locate the record with a reasonable amount of effort.

a. A reasonable description contains sufficient information to permit an organized, non-random search for the record based on the DoD Component's filing arrangements and existing retrieval systems. If filing arrangement details are unknown, then the requester should provide sufficient event-related details, to include the circumstances that resulted in the record being created or the date and circumstances surrounding the event the record covers, to permit a person familiar with the DoD Component's filing arrangements to reasonably identify where such records would be located. The DoD Component's decision on the reasonableness of the description must be based on knowledge of its files, not on the potential volume of records that may be located and the concurrent review effort to determine releasability.

b. The fact that a FOIA request appears broad or burdensome (e.g., contains a large volume of potentially responsive information) does not, by itself, entitle the DoD Component to deny the FOIA request on the grounds that it does not reasonably describe the record sought.

3.7. COMBATANT COMMANDS. The Combatant Commands' FOIA programs are placed under OSD jurisdiction instead of the administering Military Department or the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. This is an exception to DoDD 5100.03 in that it authorizes and requires the Combatant Commands to process FOIA requests in accordance with Part 286 of Title 32, CFR, and this issuance.

a. Documents originated by the Military Service components of the Combatant Commands while acting in a headquarters capacity for joint exercises or operations under Combatant Command authority are joint in nature and are under the cognizance of the Combatant Commands.

b. Documents created for a Combatant Command, yet located within a Defense Criminal Investigative Organization or Military Department Counterintelligence Organization or accident investigation file at the Military Service component, are Military Service records and the release, initial denial, and appellate authorities remain with the Military Service. However, the Military Service component will consult with the responsible Combatant Command during the review process.

c. Documents created by the Military Service components of the Combatant Commands below the headquarters level are considered Military Service records. Examples would include base support, personnel, and logistical records.

DoDM 5400.07, January 25, 2017

3.8. SECURITY CLEARANCES AND ACCESS. Due to the nature of their duties and responsibilities, FOIA personnel require access to all records requested through their respective activities, regardless of the sensitivity or classification of the information. The DoD Components must ensure that FOIA personnel have the appropriate clearances and access to perform their duties and are provided the appropriate electronic equipment to process and transmit classified records.

3.9. RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN THE FOIA AND THE PRIVACY ACT.

a. Requesters seeking records about themselves contained only in a Privacy Act system of records will have their requests processed pursuant to Section 552a of Title 5, U.S.C. (also known as the “Privacy Act of 1974,” as amended, and referred to as the “Privacy Act” in this issuance) and implemented within the DoD by DoD 5400.11-R.

(1) If the Privacy Act system of records is exempt from the access provisions of Section (d)(1) of the Privacy Act, and if the records or any portion thereof are exempt pursuant to FOIA, the DoD Component will advise of the appropriate Privacy Act and FOIA exemption(s) in its response. Appeals must be processed pursuant to both the FOIA and the Privacy Act.

(2) If the Privacy Act system of records is not exempt from the access provisions of Section (d)(1) of the Privacy Act, a DoD Component cannot claim a FOIA exemption on the information and must release all information to the first-party requester. However, the DoD Component may withhold from such requester privacy-related information about another individual within the requester’s Privacy Act file. When this is the case, the DoD Component will advise the first-party requester that information was withheld because “a portion of the record you requested contains privacy-related information about a party other than yourself.”

b. Requesters seeking records about themselves not in a Privacy Act system of records who cite or imply the Privacy Act will have their requests processed pursuant to the FOIA, since the Privacy Act does not apply to these records. Appeals must be processed pursuant to the FOIA.

c. Requesters seeking records about themselves in a Privacy Act system of records and outside a Privacy Act system of records will have their requests processed pursuant to both the Privacy Act and the FOIA.

d. DoD Components will advise first-party requesters in the final response letter which Privacy Act and FOIA statutory authorities were used, inclusive of appeal rights.

3.10. USE OF CONTRACTORS IN FOIA ADMINISTRATION. Pursuant to DoDI 1100.22, Office of Management and Budget Circular No. A-76, and Office of Federal Procurement Policy Letter 11-01, DoD Components may not use contract support for certain functions known as “inherently governmental activities” (e.g., “governmental FOIA functions”).

a. Inherently governmental FOIA functions include:

(1) Formulating or approving FOIA policies and procedures.

DoDM 5400.07, January 25, 2017

(2) Making final determinations regarding whether to treat an incoming correspondence as a FOIA or Privacy Act request.

(3) Making denial or release determinations of information requested pursuant to the FOIA.

(4) Deciding any issues regarding the scope or interpretation of a FOIA request.

(5) Determining the appropriateness of claimed exemptions.

(6) Approving the approach taken in negotiations or discussions with the FOIA requester.

(7) Deciding administrative appeals.

(8) Conducting a final review of all outgoing final determination correspondence, memoranda, and release packages.

(9) Making final determinations on requests for expedited processing, fee category, and fee waivers.

(10) Executing documents for filing in litigation pursuant to the FOIA if the documents assert an official position of the DoD, any DoD Components, or any other federal agencies. Contractors may prepare and execute documents describing their own actions while processing FOIA requests.

b. Office of Federal Procurement Policy Letter 11-01 identifies the preparation of responses to FOIA requests as a function closely associated with inherently governmental functions. Examples of FOIA functions and duties that contractors may perform in the preparation of responses to FOIA requests include, but are not limited to:

(1) Making redactions to documents under the direction of an initial denial authority (IDA).

(2) Preparing correspondence for signature by a U.S. Government official.

(3) Communicating with a FOIA requester concerning the status of the FOIA request.

(4) Recommending information to be denied.

(5) Entering relevant information into the DoD Component's FOIA tracking system.

3.11. NON-RESPONSIVE INFORMATION. It is not uncommon for a DoD Component, when processing records in response to a FOIA request, to locate records that deal with multiple subjects, and only one of these subjects pertain to the FOIA request. In most of these cases the DoD Components should release non-responsive information that is not exempt from the FOIA. However, if it is determined that processing the non-responsive information may cause a burden to the DoD Component or is not in the best interests of the FOIA requester, the DoD Component will consult with the FOIA requester and seek their concurrence to the redaction of the non-responsive information without a FOIA exemption. If the FOIA requester agrees, the responsive record will contain the annotation “non-responsive” at this redaction, and this concurrence will be documented in the response letter. For further information, consult the Department of Justice guidance on this topic at <https://www.justice.gov/oip/blog/foia-update-oip-guidance-determining-scope-foia-request>

3.12. HONORING FORM OR FORMAT REQUESTS.

a. The DoD Components will make reasonable efforts to:

(1) Provide the record in any form or format requested if the record is readily reproducible in that form or format in the Component’s automated system.

(2) Provide records in a form that is reasonably usable.

(3) Maintain records in forms and formats that are reproducible.

b. A record is not considered readily reproducible if the DoD Component does not have the reproduction capability or if significant resources must be expended to reproduce it into the requested format. In responding to FOIA requests for records, the DoD Components will make reasonable efforts to search for records in electronic form or format if maintained in automated systems, except when such efforts would significantly interfere with the operation of the automated systems. The DoD Components will make such determinations on a case-by-case basis.

3.13. FOIA ANNUAL REPORT. The DoD FOIA Annual Report to the United States Attorney General and the Director of Office of Government Information Services is mandated by Section (e)(1) of the FOIA and completed on a fiscal-year basis. Due to the magnitude of the requested statistics and the need for accuracy, the DoD FOIA Program Components will track the annual report data as FOIA requests are processed. This facilitates accurate compilation of the statistics in completing the report. Each September, the DO&C provides instructions to the DoD FOIA Program Components concerning Component input for the annual report. Using the current edition of DD Form 2564, “Annual Freedom of Information Act Report,” the DoD Components will forward their reports to the DO&C no later than October 31. In turn, the DO&C submits a consolidated report to the Attorney General by February 1 of each year, and places a copy of this report in the FOIA section of the DoD Open Government Website.

3.14. SIGNIFICANT FOIA REQUESTS. DoD FOIA Program Components receiving a FOIA request for records, the release of which may be of interest to DoD leadership, will contact DO&C for further guidance. DO&C will coordinate expeditiously the responses with DoD leadership; however, it will not act as the IDA for any denial of information.

DoDM 5400.07, January 25, 2017

SECTION 4: FOIA LIBRARIES

4.1. REQUIREMENTS.

a. General. The FOIA requires agency records described in Section (a)(2) of the FOIA and created on or after November 1, 1996, to be available for public inspection in an electronic format. To meet this requirement, each DoD FOIA Program Component will maintain an online FOIA library. In addition to these records, the DoD FOIA Program Components may elect to place other agency records of public interest in their FOIA libraries.

b. DoD FOIA Program Component FOIA Libraries. Each DoD Component will establish one or more FOIA libraries. The DoD Components that have only one FOIA RSC will meet this requirement by having a FOIA library on its FOIA website. The DoD Components with more than one FOIA RSC will meet this requirement by either having one FOIA library on its primary FOIA website or having a FOIA library on each FOIA RSC website.

(1) Final Opinions. Section (a)(2)(A) of the FOIA requires agencies to make final opinions available to the public. This requirement can be met by the public availability of DoD Component websites such as the Defense Office of Hearings and Appeals and Armed Services Board of Contract Appeals. DoD FOIA Program Components are not required to also post or link to these otherwise publically available documents in their FOIA libraries.

(2) Statements of Policy. Section (a)(2)(B) of the FOIA requires agencies to make statements of policy and interpretations that have been adopted by the agencies and are not published in the Federal Register available to the public. This requirement can be met by the publication of DoD issuances on the DoD Issuances Website. DoD FOIA Program Components are not required to post or link to these documents in their FOIA libraries.

(3) Administrative Staff Manuals or Instructions. Section (a)(2)(C) of the FOIA requires agencies to make administrative staff manuals and instructions that establish policy or interpretations that affect the public available to the public. Each DoD FOIA Program Component FOIA library must link to its respective Component's publicly available issuance publication web page. For example, the Air Force FOIA Website will link to the Air Force e-Publishing Website, and the OSD/Joint Staff FOIA RSC will link to the DoD Issuances Website.

(4) Frequently Requested Records.

(a) Each FOIA Program DoD Component FOIA library must meet the requirements of Section (a)(2)(D) of the FOIA by making available to the public records that:

1. Have been released under the FOIA; and
2. Are or are likely to become the subject of subsequent FOIA requests; or
3. Have been requested three or more times.

(b) These types of documents will not be posted in FOIA Libraries.

DoDM 5400.07, January 25, 2017

1. Documents requested by a person that would be exempt from release to any other requester pursuant to Exemptions 6 or 7(C) because they contain personally identifiable information about the requester. This commonly occurs when a requester makes a first party request for their own information; however, it could arise in other situations.

2. Documents requested by a commercial entity that would be exempt from release to any other requester pursuant to Exemption 4 because they contain trade secrets or commercial or financial information concerning the requester.

(5) Index. Section (a)(2)(E) of the FOIA requires the libraries to provide an index of the documents posted in accordance with Section (a)(2)(D). DoD FOIA Program Components can meet this requirement by arranging these documents in their FOIA libraries by topical or descriptive words, rather than by case name or numbering system, so that the public can readily locate material. Case name and numbering arrangements may also be included for DoD FOIA Program Component convenience.

(6) Proactive Releases. DoD FOIA Program Components may post other documents in their FOIA libraries, such as proactive releases, documents released in accordance with the Mandatory Declassification Review program, and other documents released in accordance with the FOIA. This section also may contain links to other DoD FOIA Program Component offices proactively releasing documents. DoD Components must not proactively release documents that are contained within a Privacy Act system of records unless the published system of records notice specifically allows for proactive releases in the routine uses section.

c. Exemptions. DoD FOIA Program Components will redact from all records in FOIA libraries all information that qualifies for withholding pursuant to one or more of the FOIA exemptions described in Section 5.

4.2. RECORD AVAILABILITY. The DoD FOIA Program Components should consider enhancing their FOIA libraries with search engines and document categories to provide the public easier access.

4.3. INDEXES. Sections (g)(1) and (2) of the FOIA require agencies to make available for public inspection in an electronic format an index of all major information systems and a description of major information and record locator systems publicly available.

a. Major Information System. The FOIA section of the DoD Open Government Website satisfies this requirement for the DoD. The DoD FOIA Program Components are not required to post or link to this index in their FOIA libraries.

b. Record Locator System. The FOIA section of the DoD Open Government Website satisfies this requirement for the DoD. The FOIA Program DoD Components are not required to post or link to this index in their FOIA libraries.

DoDM 5400.07, January 25, 2017

4.4. FOIA SECTION (A)(1) RECORDS.

a. Although FOIA Section (a)(1) records need not be made available in response to FOIA requests or in FOIA libraries, they must be made publicly available. Examples of (a)(1) records include:

(1) Descriptions of an agency's central and field organization and, to the extent they affect the public, rules of procedure.

(2) Descriptions of forms available.

(3) Instructions as to the scope and contents of papers, reports, or examinations.

(4) Any amendments, revisions, or reports of the aforementioned records.

b. In accordance with Section (a)(1) of the FOIA, each DoD Component will disclose, through publication in the Federal Register, information describing its organization, functions, procedures, substantive rules, and statements of general policy.

DoDM 5400.07, January 25, 2017

SECTION 5: EXEMPTIONS

5.1. GENERAL PROVISIONS.

a. This section is not a thorough or exhaustive explanation of the applicability of the FOIA exemptions. For more detailed explanations, the DoD Components may consult the Department of Justice Guide to the Freedom of Information Act (available at <http://www.usdoj.gov/oip/foia-guide.html>).

b. Information responsive to a FOIA request will be withheld only if the DoD Component reasonably foresees that disclosure would harm an interest protected by one or more of the FOIA exemptions, or disclosure is prohibited by law. Under this standard, the content of a particular record should be reviewed and a determination made as to whether the DoD Component reasonably foresees that disclosing it, given its age, content, and character, would harm an interest protected by the applicable exemption. Mere speculative or abstract fears, or fear of embarrassment, are an insufficient basis for withholding information.

c. As described in this section, nine types of exempt information in records may be withheld, in whole or in part, from public disclosure unless otherwise prescribed by law. In general, a release of a record to one FOIA requester prevents the withholding of the same record pursuant to a FOIA exemption if the record is later requested by someone else.

d. In applying exemptions, the identity of the FOIA requester and the purpose for the FOIA request are irrelevant; however, an exemption may not be invoked when the particular interest to be protected is the FOIA requester's interest. For example, privacy information concerning an individual would not be withheld from that individual if they were to request it under the FOIA unless another FOIA exemption applies.

e. When a DoD Component determines that information contained within a record is exempt from release, it will consider whether a partial release of the record is possible by taking reasonable steps to conduct a line-by-line review to segregate and release nonexempt information contained within the record.

f. If admitting the fact of the existence or nonexistence of a record responsive to a FOIA request would itself reveal information protected from release by one of the nine exemptions, the DoD Components must neither confirm nor deny the existence or nonexistence of the requested record.

(1) This is commonly called a "Glomar" response (for detailed guidance on using this type of response, see the Department of Justice Guide to the Freedom of Information Act), and the appropriate exemption must be cited by the DoD Component in the response. This situation most commonly arises with Exemptions 1, 6, and 7(C); however, it could arise with other exemptions.

(2) A "refusal to confirm or deny" response must be used consistently by the DoD Components, not only when a record exists, but also when a record does not exist. If not used consistently, the pattern of a “no record” response when a record does not exist, and a “refusal to confirm or deny” when a record does exist, risks disclosing exempt information.

5.2. APPLYING THE FOIA EXEMPTIONS. This paragraph describes the nine types of exempt information in records and the procedures for applying them.

a. Exemption 1. Pursuant to section (b)(1) of the FOIA, records properly and currently classified in the interest of national defense or foreign policy, pursuant to an existing Executive order, are exempt from disclosure. If the responsive information is not marked as classified when the FOIA request is submitted, the DoD Component may undertake a classification review in accordance with Volume 1 of DoDM 5200.01 to determine whether the information should be classified. The FOIA requester will be advised as to which sections of an Executive order apply in determining that the information is classified. Exemption 1 also is invoked when:

(1) Individual items of unclassified information, when compiled, reveal additional associations or relationships that meet the standard for classification pursuant to an existing Executive order and Volume 1 of DoDM 5200.01, and are not otherwise revealed in the individual items of information. This is known as the “mosaic” or “compilation” approach.

(2) The fact of the existence or nonexistence of a responsive record would itself reveal information containing classified information. In this situation, the DoD Components must provide a Glomar response and cite Exemption 1.

b. Exemption 2. Pursuant to section (b)(2) of the FOIA, records related solely to the internal personnel rules and practices of the DoD or any of the DoD Components are exempt from disclosure.

c. Exemption 3. Pursuant to section (b)(3) of the FOIA, records concerning matters that another statute specifically establishes criteria for withholding are exempt from disclosure.

(1) This exemption allows for the withholding of information because its release is prohibited by another statute only if one of two disjunctive requirements concerning the statute is met:

(a) The statute requires that the information be withheld from the public in such a manner as to leave no discretion on the issue; or

(b) The statute establishes particular criteria for withholding or refers to particular types of matters to be withheld.

(2) For any statute enacted after October 28, 2009, in order to qualify as an Exemption 3 statute under this paragraph, it must cite to section (b)(3) of the FOIA. The DO&C maintains a list of Exemption 3 information and statutes used within the DoD on the FOIA section of the DoD Open Government Website, including, but not limited to:

(a) Personally Identifying Information of DoD Personnel. Section 130b of Title 10, U.S.C., authorizes the withholding of names, ranks, duty addresses, official titles, and pay information of DoD personnel (civilian and military) in overseas, sensitive, or routinely deployable units when this information is requested pursuant to the FOIA. The United States Special Operations Command and the United States Cyber Command and their components qualify as sensitive units pursuant to Section 130b of Title 10, U.S.C. Information withheld pursuant to Exemption 3 and this statute also should be withheld pursuant to Exemption 6.

1. The DoD Components may make discretionary releases of names and duty information of personnel in overseas, sensitive, or routinely deployable units who, by the nature of their position and duties, frequently interact with the public. Officials whose identities may be released include general and flag officers, public affairs officers, other personnel designated as official command spokespersons, and other senior officials whose identities are known to the public through the performance of their duties.

2. The provision in Paragraph 5.2.c.(2)(a), does not change DoD issuances for public affairs officers and the rules used by public affairs offices to release information to the general public and the media. Public affairs offices should continue to release information in accordance with current DoD issuances, Privacy Act restrictions, and security classifications.

(b) Sensitive Information of Foreign Governments and International Organizations. Section 130c of Title 10, U.S.C., authorizes the withholding of unclassified sensitive information of a foreign government or international organization (e.g., the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, the United Nations, the North American Aerospace Defense Command, the Inter-American Defense Board, or the International Committee of the Red Cross). DoD Component IDAs must withhold this information pursuant to Exemption 3 (for procedural instructions, see Paragraph 6.2.f.(2)) when they make all three of these determinations concerning the requested information:

1. The information was provided to the DoD by (or produced in cooperation with) a foreign government or international organization.

2. The information is withheld from public disclosure by the foreign government or international organization and the foreign government or international organization has made this representation in writing.

3. Any of these three conditions are met:

a. The foreign government or international organization requests, in writing, that the information be withheld.

b. The foreign government or international organization provides the information to the U.S. Government on the condition that it is not released to the public.

c. DoD regulations specify the release of the requested information would have an adverse effect on the ability of the U.S. Government to obtain the same or similar information in the future.

(c) Critical Infrastructure Security Information (CISI). In accordance with Section 130e of Title 10, U.S.C., the Secretary of Defense and the Director of Administration (DA),

DoDM 5400.07, January 25, 2017

Office of the Deputy Chief Management Officer, may exempt CISI from release under the FOIA. The IDAs asserting the exemption must obtain a written determination from the DA in accordance with the procedures in Paragraph 6.2.j. before withholding CISI from a FOIA requester. If the IDA asserting the exemption is from a consulted DoD Component, that DoD Component must obtain the written DA determination before responding to an closing the consultation.

(d) Military Flight Operations Quality Assurance (MFOQA) System Data File. In accordance with Section 2254a of Title 10, U.S.C., the Secretary of Defense and the DA may exempt MFOQA system data files from release under the FOIA. The IDAs asserting the exemption must obtain a written determination from the DA in accordance with the procedures in Paragraph 6.2.j. before withholding MFOQA system data file information from a FOIA requester.

d. Exemption 4. Pursuant to Section (b)(4) of the FOIA, certain non-government financial information is exempt from disclosure.

(1) This exemption protects:

(a) Trade secrets; or

(b) Information that is:

1. Commercial or financial;

2. Obtained from a person or entity outside of the U.S. Government; and

3. Privileged or confidential.

(2) Commercial or financial information that is voluntarily submitted to the U.S. Government, absent any exercised authority prescribing criteria for submission, may be categorically protected, provided it is not customarily disclosed to the public by the submitter. Examples of exercised authorities prescribing criteria for submission include statutes, Executive orders, regulations, invitations for bids, requests for proposals, and contracts. DoD Components should analyze submission of information pursuant to these authorities in accordance with Part 286 of Title 32, CFR.

(3) Commercial or financial information that is not voluntarily provided to the U.S. Government is considered “confidential” for Exemption 4 if its disclosure is likely to:

(a) Impair the U.S. Government’s ability to obtain necessary information in the future (known as the “impairment prong”);

(b) Harm an identifiable private or governmental interest; or

(c) Cause substantial harm to the competitive position of the person providing the information.

DoDM 5400.07, January 25, 2017

(4) Examples of information that may be protected by Exemption 4 include:

(a) Commercial or financial information received in connection with loans, bids, contracts, or proposals.

(b) Statistical data and commercial or financial information concerning contract performance, income, profits, losses, and expenditures.

(c) Personal statements given during inspections, investigations, or audits.

(d) Financial data provided by private employers in connection with locality wage surveys that are used to fix and adjust pay schedules applicable to the prevailing wage rate of DoD employees.

(e) Scientific and manufacturing processes or developments concerning technical or scientific data or other information submitted with applications for research grants or with a report while research is in progress.

(f) Technical or scientific data developed by a contractor or subcontractor exclusively at private expense, or developed in part with federal funds and in part at private expense. The contractor or subcontractor must retain legitimate proprietary interests in such data, in accordance with Sections 2320 and 2321 of Title 10, U.S.C., and Parts 227.71 and 227.72 of Title 48, CFR. Technical data developed exclusively with federal funds may be withheld pursuant to Exemption 3 if it meets the criteria of Section 130 of Title 10, U.S.C., and Parts 227.71 and 227.72 of Title 48, CFR.

(g) Information copyrighted pursuant to Section 106 of Title 17, U.S.C., if release of copyrighted material otherwise meets the standards of Exemption 4.

(5) When the DoD Components receive FOIA requests for information that could be protected by this exemption, they will notify the submitter of the information in accordance with the procedures in Subpart 286.10 of Title 32, CFR.

e. Exemption 5. Pursuant to Section (b)(5) of the FOIA, inter- or intra-agency memoranda or letters containing information considered privileged in civil litigation are exempt from disclosure. Merely being an internal record is an insufficient basis for withholding pursuant to this exemption. To qualify as exempt pursuant to Exemption 5, the document must meet a particular threshold and must be privileged in the civil discovery context.

(1) Threshold. A document must meet the threshold requirement of being an inter- or intra-agency document before the proper privilege can be identified in any given case. Because the U.S. Government may seek expert advice from external entities (or consultants) in many instances, it is possible that an external entity may qualify as an “agency” for this exemption. See the Department of Justice Guide to the Freedom of Information Act for further discussion on this subject.

(2) Privileges. The privileges and types of information protected by Exemption 5 include, but are not limited to:

DoDM 5400.07, January 25, 2017

(a) Deliberative Process Privilege.

1. To qualify for this privilege, the information must be deliberative and pre-decisional. DoD Components cannot withhold factual information from a FOIA requester pursuant to this privilege, except when:

a. The author of a document deliberately selects specific facts out of a larger group of facts and uses only this subset of facts to make a decision, thereby revealing the author's internal thought processes; or

b. The factual information is so inextricably connected to the deliberative material that its disclosure would expose or cause harm to the agency's deliberations.

2. A direction or order from a superior to a subordinate usually does not qualify as a deliberative process document if it constitutes guidance on a departmental policy or a decision. However, correspondence from a superior to a subordinate may qualify if it discusses preliminary matters or requests information or advice relied upon in the decision-making process.

3. An agency's final decision and post-decisional documents related to the decision cannot be withheld pursuant to the deliberative process privilege.

4. Examples of deliberative process documents include:

a. Staff papers, including after-action reports, inspection reports, lessons learned, and situation reports containing staff evaluations, advice, opinions, or suggestions.

b. Advice, suggestions, or evaluations prepared on behalf of the DoD by individual consultants or by internal boards, committees, councils, groups, panels, conferences, commissions, task forces, or other similar groups that are formed for obtaining advice and recommendations.

c. Drafts of final records.

d. Information of a speculative, tentative, or evaluative nature, or such matters as proposed plans to procure, lease, or otherwise acquire and dispose of materials, real estate, facilities, or functions, when such information would provide undue or unfair competitive advantage to private personal interests or would impede legitimate U.S. Government functions.

e. Agency documents underlying the President's budget decisions, as described in Office of Management and Budget Circular No. A-11. This includes planning, programming, and budgetary information that is involved in the defense planning and resource allocation process and out-year discretionary data.

5. The deliberative process privilege does not apply to records created 25 years or more prior to the date of the FOIA request.

DoDM 5400.07, January 25, 2017

(b) Attorney-Client Privilege. This privilege protects confidential communications between an attorney and a client (or multiple clients that share a common interest) relating to legal matters for which the client has sought professional advice. The information that the client supplies to the attorney, the legal advice that the attorney gives to the client in return, and communications between attorneys that involve client-supplied information are protected by this privilege. Unlike the deliberative process privilege, the attorney-client privilege mandates the withholding of all the information, including the facts, unless the client waives the privilege.

(c) Attorney Work Product Privilege. This privilege protects documents prepared by an attorney or at an attorney's direction in reasonable anticipation of litigation. Unlike the deliberative process privilege, the attorney work product privilege mandates the withholding of all the information, including the facts. This privilege still can be used after the litigation is complete.

(d) Government Trade Secret Privilege. This privilege protects trade secrets or other confidential research, development, or commercial information owned by the U.S. Government, premature release of which is likely to affect the U.S. Government's negotiating position or other commercial interest.

(e) Safety Investigation Privilege. This privilege protects privileged safety information, as defined in DoDI 6055.07.

(f) Presidential Communications Privilege. This privilege protects communications among the President and Presidential advisors created to assist the President in the exercise of non-delegable constitutional duties.

f. Exemption 6. Pursuant to Section (b)(6) of the FOIA, information in personnel and medical files and similar files, the disclosure of which would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy, is exempt from disclosure. If the information qualifies as Exemption 6 information, there is no discretion in its release.

(1) When considering applying this exemption, the DoD Component must balance the public interest in disclosure against the individual's privacy interest. When there is no public interest in the requested information, the DoD Component may withhold the information even if there is only a negligible privacy interest. In determining the public interest, the DoD Component should only consider whether the information sheds light on the operations or activities of the U.S. Government. The FOIA requester has the burden of showing a public interest in disclosure.

(2) A privacy interest may exist in personal information even though the information was previously disclosed but may no longer be in the public's eye and has faded from memory. This is known as the concept of "practical obscurity." In this case, the privacy interest in this type of situation may have increased over time and the public interest may have decreased over time; therefore, the DoD Component should now withhold the once-public information, if the balance of interests has shifted in favor of privacy.

(3) This exemption usually protects home addresses, telephone numbers, and private e-mail addresses. This includes home addresses and military quarters addresses not associated with the occupants' names.

(4) This exemption must not be used in an attempt to protect the privacy of a deceased person. It may be used to protect the privacy of the deceased person's surviving family members if disclosure would rekindle grief, anguish, pain, embarrassment, or result in a disruption of their peace of mind.

(5) This exemption also applies when the fact of the existence or nonexistence of a responsive record would itself reveal information containing a privacy interest, and the public interest in disclosure does not outweigh the privacy interest. In this situation, the DoD Components must provide a Glomar response and cite Exemption 6.

(6) If a FOIA requester requests information that is about that FOIA requester, Exemption 6 may not be used to deny privacy information about that individual. However, if another FOIA requester requests the same information, it should be denied under Exemption 6.

g. Exemption 7. Pursuant to Section (b)(7) of the FOIA, records or information compiled for law enforcement purposes are exempt from disclosure upon the identification of one of the six conditions delineated in this paragraph. Law enforcement purposes include civil, criminal, military, and regulatory/administrative purposes, including the implementation of Executive orders or regulations issued pursuant to law. A DoD Component may invoke this exemption to prevent disclosure of documents not originally created, but later gathered, for law enforcement purposes.

(1) Conditions Where Exemption 7 Applies.

(a) Exemption 7(A). Section (b)(7)(A) of the FOIA applies to records compiled for law enforcement purposes when disclosure could reasonably be expected to interfere with enforcement proceedings. Determining the applicability of Exemption 7(A) requires a two-step analysis.

1. DoD Components must identify an ongoing, pending, or prospective law enforcement proceeding. This would include any subsequent or pending proceedings resulting from the original proceeding. This exemption cannot be used if an investigation is terminated or complete.

2. DoD Components must determine whether release of the information could cause some articulable harm to the law enforcement proceeding. In order to satisfy the "articulable harm" requirement of Exemption 7(A), there must be some distinct harm that could reasonably be expected to result if the record or information requested were disclosed.

(b) Exemption 7(B). Section (b)(7)(B) of the FOIA applies to records compiled for law enforcement purposes when disclosure would deprive a person of the right to a fair trial or to an impartial adjudication.

DoDM 5400.07, January 25, 2017

(c) Exemption 7(C). Section (b)(7)(C) of the FOIA applies to records compiled for law enforcement purposes when disclosure could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of the personal privacy of a living person, including surviving family members of an individual identified in such a record. This exemption also applies when the fact of the existence or nonexistence of a responsive record would itself reveal information containing a privacy interest, and the public interest in disclosure does not outweigh the privacy interest. In this situation, the DoD Components must provide a Glomar response and cite Exemption 6.

(d) Exemption 7(D). Section (b)(7)(D) of the FOIA applies to records compiled for law enforcement purposes when disclosure could reasonably be expected to disclose:

1. The identity of a confidential source, including:
 - a. A source within the DoD;
 - b. A State, local, or foreign agency or authority; or
 - c. Any private institution that furnishes the information on a confidential basis.
2. Information furnished from a confidential source and obtained by a criminal law enforcement authority in a criminal investigation or by an agency conducting a lawful national security intelligence investigation.

(e) Exemption 7(E). Section (b)(7)(E) of the FOIA applies to records compiled for law enforcement purposes when disclosure would reveal:

1. Non-obvious techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions; or
2. Guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law.

(f) Exemption 7(F). Section (b)(7)(F) of the FOIA applies to records compiled for law enforcement purposes when disclosure could reasonably be expected to endanger the life or physical safety of any individual.

(2) Examples of Exemption 7 Applications.

(a) Statements of witnesses and other material developed during the course of an investigation and all materials prepared in connection with related government litigation or adjudicative proceedings may be exempt from disclosure pursuant to Exemptions 7(A), 7(C), and 7(D).

(b) The identity of firms or individuals being investigated for alleged irregularities in contracting with the DoD, when the United States has obtained no indictment or filed any civil action against them, may be exempt from disclosure pursuant to Exemptions 7(A) and 7(C).

(c) Information obtained in confidence, expressed or implied, during a criminal investigation by a criminal law enforcement activity or a lawful national security intelligence investigation may be exempt from disclosure pursuant to Exemptions 7(A), 7(C), and 7(D). National security intelligence investigations include background security investigations and those investigations conducted to obtain affirmative or counterintelligence information.

(d) Emergency action plans, guidelines for response to terrorist attacks, analyses of security procedures, and other sensitive information that could prove deadly if obtained by those seeking to do harm to the public on a large scale may be exempt from disclosure pursuant to Exemptions 7(E) and 7(F).

h. Exemption 8. Pursuant to Section (b)(8) of the FOIA, records in or related to examination, operation, or condition reports prepared by, on behalf of, or for the use of any agency responsible for the regulation or supervision of financial institutions are exempt from disclosure.

i. Exemption 9. Pursuant to Section (b)(9) of the FOIA, records containing geological and geophysical information and data (including maps) concerning wells are exempt from disclosure.

DoDM 5400.07, January 25, 2017

SECTION 6: FOIA REQUEST PROCESSING

6.1. GENERAL PROVISIONS.

a. Requests From Private Parties. A FOIA request may be made by any person. It may not be used by federal agencies seeking official information.

b. Requests From Local or State Government Officials, Congress, and Foreign Governments.

(1) Local or State government officials, foreign officials requesting on behalf of their governments, foreign individuals, or foreign organizations requesting DoD Component records pursuant to the FOIA are treated the same as any other FOIA requester.

(2) The FOIA does not apply to the records of a DoD Component that is an element of the intelligence community, as defined in Section 401a(4) of Title 50, U.S.C., if the FOIA request is from an entity or representative of a foreign government.

(3) Requests from members of Congress who are not seeking records on behalf of a congressional committee or subcommittee, or on behalf of the House of Representatives or the Senate sitting as a whole, are not FOIA requests and should not be processed through FOIA channels. However, any release of information will be consistent with a release to any individual pursuant to the FOIA and its withholding exemptions. In these cases, the member will not be provided with FOIA appeal rights.

(4) Requests submitted by members of Congress on behalf of a congressional committee or subcommittee, or on behalf of the House of Representatives or the Senate sitting as a whole, that are received by a FOIA RSC are referred to the appropriate office that handles legislative inquiries for processing pursuant to DoDI 5400.04 or supplementing DoD Component issuances. Such requests are not processed pursuant to the FOIA and withholding exemptions may not apply.

(5) If a member of Congress chooses to request records pursuant to the FOIA, then the provisions of Part 286 of Title 32, CFR, and this issuance apply.

(6) Constituent requests for records that are forwarded by members of Congress are processed as FOIA or Privacy Act requests, as applicable. The member forwarding the request will be advised of these circumstances.

(7) Requests from officials of foreign governments that do not invoke the FOIA are referred by the FOIA RSC to the appropriate office authorized to disclose official DoD information to foreign governments, and the requester is so notified.

6.2. PROCESSING PROCEDURES.

a. Receipt and Control.

DoDM 5400.07, January 25, 2017

(1) When a FOIA RSC receives a FOIA request, it must open a file in a formal control system. The formal control system:

- (a) Must be designed for accountability and compliance with the FOIA.
- (b) Should include the data elements necessary to compile the statistics required by the annual report.

(2) Each request must be assigned a unique tracking number, which will be included in all correspondence with the requester.

b. Prompt Action on FOIA Requests.

(1) When unusual or exceptional circumstances prevent a FOIA RSC from making a final response determination within the statutory time period, it will advise the FOIA requester in writing and provide the requester an opportunity to narrow the scope of the request. FOIA RSCs will be available, as a matter of good practice, to assist requesters in the formulating of requests.

(a) The FOIA describes unusual circumstances as:

1. The need to search for and collect the requested records responsive from field offices or other establishments that are separate from the office processing the FOIA request.

2. The need to search for, collect, and appropriately examine a voluminous amount of separate and distinct records.

3. The need for consultation, which will be conducted with all practicable speed, with another agency having a substantial interest in the determination of the request or among two or more DoD Components having substantial subject-matter interest in the records.

(b) The FOIA does not affirmatively explain “exceptional circumstances;” however, exceptional circumstances do not include a delay that results from predictable component backlogs, unless the DoD FOIA Program Component demonstrates reasonable progress in reducing its backlog.

(2) DoD Components receiving a misdirected FOIA request will follow the procedures in Subpart 286.7 of Title 32, CFR.

(3) DoD FOIA Program Components will provide interim responses when they are unable to make a final determination within the statutory 20 working days, and should communicate with the FOIA requester before the final response, if appropriate. These communications may include acknowledging receipt of the FOIA request and negotiating with the FOIA requester concerning the scope of the FOIA request, the response timeframe, and the fee agreement. However, such communications do not constitute a final response determination. The initial interim response will include, at a minimum:

(a) The date the 20-working-day statutory time period started for the FOIA request.

DoDM 5400.07, January 25, 2017

(b) The tracking number for the FOIA request.

(c) Contact information concerning how the FOIA requester can obtain information about the processing of the FOIA request.

(4) The statutory time period to make a release determination on a FOIA request usually begins on the date when the FOIA RSC responsible for the requested records receives the FOIA request. However, if the FOIA request was originally misdirected to another FOIA RSC, the timing provisions of Subpart 286.6 of Title 32, CFR, for misdirected requests apply.

(5) The 20-working-day statutory period for responding to a FOIA request begins only when a perfected FOIA request is received. After this time, a FOIA RSC may toll the statutory time period for only two reasons. In both situations, the FOIA requester's response to the DoD Component's request ends the tolling period.

(a) The time period may be tolled one time when the FOIA RSC goes back to the FOIA requester and reasonably asks for additional information (not connected to the assessment of fees).

(b) The time period may be tolled if it is necessary for the FOIA RSC to clarify issues regarding fee assessment with the FOIA requester. There is no limit to the number of times a DoD Component may go back to a FOIA requester to clarify fee assessment issues, which sometimes may be done in stages as the records are located and processed.

c. Estimated Completion Date. See Subpart 286.9 of Title 32, CFR.

d. Multi-Track Processing. See Subpart 286.8 of Title 32, CFR.

e. Expedited Processing. See Subpart 286.8 of Title 32, CFR.

f. Responsive Documents Originated by a Non-government Source.

(1) Commercial or Financial Information. See Subpart 286.10 of Title 32, CFR.

(2) Foreign Government or International Organization Information. The coordination provisions of this paragraph apply to the release of responsive information received from foreign governments or international organizations.

(a) DoD Components should coordinate directly with their foreign government counterparts when processing foreign government information responsive to a FOIA request. Coordination also may be made through the Department of State or the specific foreign embassy.

(b) When the DoD Components locate North American Aerospace Defense Command documents in their files responsive to a FOIA request, they will refer the documents to the United States Northern Command FOIA RSC, which will consult with the North American Aerospace Defense Command.

DoDM 5400.07, January 25, 2017

(c) Coordination with most international organizations may be made directly with those organizations.

(d) When a foreign government or international organization asks the DoD to withhold classified information originating with that foreign government or international organization, it is withheld pursuant to Exemption 1 of the FOIA.

(e) If the DoD Component is asked to withhold sensitive unclassified information originated by an international organization or foreign government, then the DoD Component withholds it pursuant to Exemption 3 and references the relevant statute as Section 130c of Title 10, U.S.C. To qualify for withholding, the information must meet these criteria:

1. If the information came into the DoD's possession or control prior to October 30, 2000, and more than 25 years prior to receipt of the FOIA request, the DoD Component notifies the foreign government or international organization of the request for disclosure. The information then qualifies for withholding only if the foreign government or international organization requests in writing that the information not be disclosed for a specific period of time. This date can be extended with a later request by the foreign government or international organization.

2. If the information came into possession or control of the DoD on or after October 30, 2000, the information cannot be withheld after the release date specified by the foreign government or international organization. When one or more foreign governments or international organizations provided the information, the latest date specified by any of them will be used. If no release date was specified, and the information came into the possession of the DoD Component more than 10 years prior to receipt of the FOIA request, the procedures set forth in Paragraph 6.2.f.(2)(e)1. apply.

g. Processing the Receipt of FOIA Fees. The Treasurer of the United States has established an account for FOIA receipts, Receipt Account 3210. When depositing the receipts, the appropriate disbursing office 2-digit prefix must precede the account number. This account will be used for depositing all FOIA receipts except for those of working capital and non-appropriated funded activities. Those activities must establish their own procedures for depositing FOIA receipts to the applicable fund. All checks or money orders remitting FOIA fees should be made payable to the U.S. Treasurer.

h. Creating a Record. To be subject to the FOIA, a record must exist and be in DoD possession and control when the DoD Component searches for it. The DoD Components are not obligated to create, compile, or answer questions to satisfy a FOIA request.

(1) However, in order to provide quality customer service, the DoD Components may compile a new record when doing so would result in a more useful response to the FOIA requester and would be less burdensome to the DoD Component than providing existing records. This could be the case when a FOIA requester wants, for example, a list of all travel locations for a single senior official. Instead of processing the large number of travel documents, the DoD Component may wish to compile a list of travel locations extracted from the documents.

DoDM 5400.07, January 25, 2017

(2) Prior to the creation of the document, any such compilation should be coordinated with and approved by the FOIA requester. The cost of creating or compiling such a record may not be charged to the FOIA requester unless the fee for creating the record is equal to or less than the fee that would be charged for providing the existing record. Fee assessments must be in accordance with Subparts 286.12 and 286.13 of Title 32, CFR.

i. Electronic Records and Searches.

(1) Significant Interference. Section (a)(3)(C) of the FOIA requires DoD Components to make reasonable efforts to conduct electronic searches for responsive documents, except when the searches would cause significant interference with the operation of the DoD Components' automated information systems.

(a) If extensive monetary or personnel resources are needed to conduct an electronic search, DoD Components should take this into account when determining whether they are making reasonable efforts to search for electronic records.

(b) Creating a computer program that produces specific requested fields or records contained within a well-defined database structure usually constitutes a "reasonable effort." However, creating a computer program to merge files with disparate data formats and extract specific elements from the resultant file is considered a special service rather than a reasonable effort.

(2) Data Links. The DoD Components are not required to expend DoD funds to establish data links that provide real-time or near-real-time data to a FOIA requester.

j. CISI and MFOQA Data Files. IDAs may deny CISI and MFOQA system data files from release under Exemption 3 of the FOIA after the DA has made a written determination that the information is exempt.

(1) When DoD Components have reason to believe that information responsive to a FOIA request is CISI or MFOQA system data file information, they will submit a package to the DA, through the DO&C, recommending exemption of the requested information. If the information believed to be CISI or MFOQA is the subject of a consultation, and the consulted DoD Component wishes to assert the exemption, the consulted component will submit the package for approval before responding to the consultation. The package will contain, at a minimum:

- (a) A cover memorandum from a DoD Component official.
- (b) A copy of the initial FOIA request.
- (c) A copy of the documents in electronic format, with only the CISI or MFOQA system data file information marked. Do not indicate information that will be denied under any other exemption.
- (d) Details on how the information recommended for exemption meets the threshold of qualifying as CISI or MFOQA system data file.

DoDM 5400.07, January 25, 2017

(e) A thorough explanation of the harm that could reasonably be expected to result if the information is released. This explanation must be as specific as possible to allow the DA to make a fully informed determination; however, it should contain only publicly releasable information since the DA's determination, accompanied by a statement of the basis for determination, will be made available on the FOIA section of the DoD Open Government Website.

(f) Any documentation of the public interest in the release of the information. This could be provided to the DoD Component by the FOIA requester or other interested parties supporting the FOIA request.

(g) A draft of the DA determination and statement of the basis for determination.

(2) The DO&C will provide the DA determination and the statement of the basis for the determination and post it in the FOIA section of the DoD Open Government Website.

(3) The DoD Component IDA will deny the exempt information and provide a copy of the determination to the FOIA requester. If the DoD Component denying the information is a consulted component, the DoD Component that received and is processing the request will make all necessary notifications to the requester. The FOIA requester will be advised of the right to appeal to the DoD Component's appellate authority.

6.3. INITIAL DETERMINATIONS.

a. Denials of Information.

(1) An IDA must make a determination of whether to withhold information responsive to a FOIA request. The IDA will review the withheld information to determine whether it meets the criteria for withholding pursuant to one or more of the FOIA exemptions. This determination may be made upon the recommendation of a review official.

(2) IDAs and review officials will not use the existence of classification markings or distribution limiting statements, such as "For Official Use Only" markings, as justification to withhold information. Information so marked must be reviewed after the receipt of a FOIA request to determine if a FOIA exemption allows the withholding of the information.

(3) To deny information in a requested record that is in the possession and control of the DoD Component, the IDA must determine that one or more of the FOIA exemptions justify withholding all or part of the record.

(4) A Glomar response constitutes a total denial.

b. Reasons for Denying a FOIA Request Other than Exemptions. The following are reasons, other than using one or more exemptions, for denying a FOIA request. The DoD FOIA Program Components will track each reason in its control system database for ease of retrieval and for its input to the annual report.

DoDM 5400.07, January 25, 2017

(1) No Records. A reasonable search of files failed to identify responsive records, or no search was undertaken because the DoD Component determined that it would not locate records responsive to the request.

(2) Referral. The DoD Component has transferred all responsive records to another DoD Component or federal agency.

(3) Request Withdrawn. The FOIA requester withdraws the FOIA request. Additionally, when a FOIA RSC sends a communication to ask if a requester still has interest in the request and the requester does not respond, the FOIA RSC will consider the request as withdrawn.

(4) Fee-related Reason. The FOIA requester is unwilling to pay fees associated with a FOIA request; the FOIA requester is past due in the payment of fees from a previous FOIA request; or the FOIA requester disagrees with the fee estimate.

(5) Records not Reasonably Described. A record has not been described with sufficient particularity to enable the DoD Component to locate it by conducting a reasonable search.

(6) Not a Proper FOIA Request for Some Other Reason. The FOIA requester has failed unreasonably to comply with procedural requirements, other than fee-related requirements, imposed by this issuance.

(7) Not an Agency Record. The information requested is not a record within the meaning of the FOIA.

(8) Duplicate Request. A duplicate request occurs when the FOIA requester asks for the same information requested in a prior request. If a search for documents responsive to the new request finds documents created since the search was accomplished for the previous request, then it is not considered duplicative. This includes identical requests received from the same requester for the same information through different means (e.g., e-mail, facsimile, mail, courier) at the same or different times.

(9) Other. The DoD Components may use the following additional reasons for denying FOIA requests:

(a) Directed Requester to Another Agency. The FOIA request is for another federal agency's records (e.g., the Department of State), and the FOIA RSC directs the requester to send a FOIA request to the appropriate agency. This would include a request for another agency's records that are already publicly available.

(b) Litigation. The FOIA request is administratively closed because the FOIA requester has filed a complaint in federal court. In this case, the FOIA RSC should consult legal counsel to determine whether to continue processing the FOIA request.

(c) Misdirected Request. A misdirected request will not be counted as a request received or processed for annual report purposes.

DoDM 5400.07, January 25, 2017

(d) Unable to Contact Requester. The FOIA RSC is unable to contact the FOIA requester after several attempts.

c. Responding to FOIA Requesters. All correspondence with FOIA requesters must include the FOIA request tracking number and the date of the FOIA request.

(1) Grant. When a DoD Component decides to release a record, the FOIA RSC should make a copy available promptly to the FOIA requester. Directing a FOIA requester on how to electronically obtain a publicly available DoD record (e.g., a record released under the FOIA and available in a DoD FOIA Program Component's FOIA Library) is considered a grant.

(2) Adverse Determination. When a DoD Component provides an adverse determination in response to a FOIA request, the official designated to respond will comply with the procedures in Subpart 286.9 of Title 32, CFR.

d. Providing Documents to FOIA Requesters. See Subpart 286.9 of Title 32, CFR.

e. Commercial Delivery Services. A FOIA RSC may use a commercial delivery service to deliver the requested information in a timelier manner if the FOIA requester asks for the service and pays directly for the service.

6.4. CONSULTATIONS, REFERRALS, AND COORDINATIONS.

a. General Provisions. See Subpart 286.7 of Title 32, CFR.

b. White House Information. DoD FOIA Program Components locating records originating with or containing White House equities, to include the National Security Council Staff, will forward the records as a consultation to the Office of Freedom of Information, which is the FOIA RSC for the OSD/JS. The Office of Freedom of Information will coordinate with the National Security Council Staff and then return the records to the DoD Component for response to the FOIA requester.

c. Government Accountability Office (GAO) Information. The GAO is outside the Executive Branch and not subject to the FOIA. FOIA requests for GAO documents within DoD files will be processed pursuant to the FOIA. If necessary, the DoD Components will consult with the GAO on the releasability of the requested information. The DoD Component will make the final response.

6.5. APPEALS. See Subpart 286.11 of Title 32, CFR.

6.6. FEE SCHEDULE. See Subparts 286.12 and 286.13 of Title 32, CFR.

DoDM 5400.07, January 25, 2017

6.7. FOIA LITIGATION.

a. FOIA requesters may seek an order from a U.S. District Court to compel release of information after administrative remedies have been exhausted (e.g., when the FOIA requester has filed an administrative appeal of an adverse action or when the DoD FOIA Program Component has failed to respond within the time limits prescribed by the FOIA). The Department of Justice “Freedom of Information Act Guide” provides more detailed guidance on FOIA litigation.

b. If a DoD Component is served with a complaint concerning a FOIA request that is still open, it will administratively close the FOIA request after consultation with legal counsel.

c. FOIA officers should confer with legal counsel or Department of Justice attorneys on whether administrative processing should continue and whether it is appropriate to communicate directly with the FOIA requester or requester’s counsel.

DoDM 5400.07, January 25, 2017

SECTION 7: EDUCATION AND TRAINING

7.1. GENERAL. In accordance with Section (j)(2)(F) of the FOIA, the purpose of the DoD FOIA educational and training programs is to provide DoD personnel who have FOIA responsibilities as one of their primary duties, and DoD attorneys, with the knowledge and skills necessary to ensure compliance with the FOIA. Fulfilling this purpose will improve customer service to members of the public and improve the public trust in the DoD.

7.2. PROCEDURES.

a. The DO&C establishes a DoD FOIA educational and training program to provide personnel involved in the day-to-day processing of FOIA requests with a thorough understanding of the provisions and requirements of Part 286 of Title 32, CFR, the FOIA, and this issuance.

b. Each DoD FOIA Program Component designs its FOIA educational and training programs to fit the particular requirements of its personnel, dependent upon their degrees of involvement in implementing the FOIA. These programs will service two target audiences.

(1) Personnel who are involved in the day-to-day processing of FOIA requests.

(2) Staff personnel who provide search or review staff-support to the DoD FOIA Program Component FOIA process.

7.3. SCOPE AND PRINCIPLES.

The programs will:

a. Familiarize personnel with the requirements of the FOIA and its implementation by Part 286 of Title 32, this issuance, and respective DoD FOIA Program Component issuances.

b. Instruct personnel who act in FOIA matters on the provisions of Part 286 of Title 32 and this issuance, and advise them of the legal hazards involved in and the strict prohibition against arbitrary and capricious withholding of information.

c. Provide procedural and legal guidance and instruction to initial denial and appellate authorities concerning the discharge of their responsibilities.

7.4. IMPLEMENTATION. To ensure uniformity of interpretation, the DoD FOIA Program Components will coordinate their educational and training programs with the DO&C.

G.2. DEFINITIONS. Unless otherwise noted, these terms and their definitions are for the purpose of this issuance.

administrative appeal. A request by a member of the public, made pursuant to the FOIA, asking the appellate authority of a DoD Component to reverse, modify, or reconsider any adverse determination.

adverse determination. Defined in Subpart 286.9 of Title 32, CFR.

agency record. Includes all documents or records created or obtained by a U.S. Government agency that are in the agency's possession and control at the time a FOIA request is received. Four factors determine an agency's control:

The intent of the creator of the document to retain control over the record.

The ability of the agency to use and dispose of the record as it sees fit.

The extent to which agency personnel have read or relied upon the document.

DoDM 5400.07, January 25, 2017

The degree to which the document was integrated into the agency's record systems or files. Records maintained by a government contractor for records management purposes are considered in the DoD Component's possession. Records created by an agency employee during employment, including e-mails, may be either agency records or personal files.

Examples of agency records include:

Research data produced during the performance of a federal grant used by the U.S. Government in developing an agency action that has the force and effect of law, in accordance with Office of Management and Budget Circular No. A-110.

All recorded information, regardless of form or characteristics. "Form or characteristics" refers to physical media type or transmission mode desired by the FOIA requester (e.g., computer disk, computer tape, file transfer protocol, photographs, videotape, and microfiche).

Examples of agency records do not include:

Objects or articles such as structures, furniture, vehicles, and equipment, whatever their historical value or value as evidence.

Anything that is not a tangible or documentary record, such as an individual's memory or oral communication.

Personal files.

The definition of an agency record under the FOIA is more expansive than the definition of a federal record. For example, documents such as drafts and working files are not considered official records, but are still agency records responsive to FOIA requests.

appellate authority. The DoD FOIA Program Component head, or designee, having jurisdiction to review and possibly reverse, remand, or amend any adverse determination.

CISI. Defined in Section 130e(c) of Title 10, U.S.C.

consultation. The process whereby, in certain situations, a federal agency transfers a FOIA responsive document to another federal agency or non-government entity to obtain recommendations on the releasability of the document. After review, the document is returned to the original agency for response to the FOIA requester or further review.

Defense Criminal Investigative Organization. A DoD Component that conducts criminal investigations. These are the U.S. Army Criminal Investigation Command, Naval Criminal Investigative Service, Air Force Office of Special Investigations, and Defense Criminal Investigative Service.

deliberative. Having the function of deliberating.

electronic records. Records (including e-mail) created, stored, and retrievable by electronic means.

DoDM 5400.07, January 25, 2017

federal agency. Defined in Section 552(f)(1) of Title 5, U.S.C.

first-party requester. A FOIA requester that is requesting information that is about themselves.

FOIA Public Liaison. A supervisory official to whom a FOIA requester can raise concerns about the service the FOIA requester receives from a FOIA RSC and who is responsible for assisting in reducing delays, increasing transparency and understanding of the status of requests, and assisting in the resolution of disputes.

FOIA request. A written request for agency records that reasonably describes the records sought, enabling a DoD Component employee familiar with the files to locate the records with a reasonable amount of effort.

FOIA requester. Any person, including a partnership, corporation, association, State or State agency, foreign government, foreign national, or a lawyer or other representative acting on behalf of any person who submits a FOIA request. This definition specifically excludes agencies within the Executive Branch of the U.S. Government.

FOIA RSC. A DoD Component office that receives FOIA requests from and responds directly to the public on the status of their request.

form. The storage media that hold content in digital form on which responsive information is provided to FOIA requesters. Examples are electronic documents, audiovisual material on tape, and all storage media that hold content in digital form and that are written and read by a laser (e.g., all the various compact disk and digital video disk variations).

format. A layout for data.

Glomar response. A response to a FOIA request where the DoD Component neither confirms nor denies the existence or nonexistence of records responsive to the FOIA request.

IDA. An official who has been granted authority by a DoD Component head to withhold information requested pursuant to the FOIA for one or more of the nine categories of records exempt from mandatory disclosure, as described in Section 5.

inherently governmental activity. A function that is so intimately related to the public interest as to require performance by U.S. Government personnel because it requires the exercise of discretion in applying government authority or the making of value judgments in making decisions for the U.S. Government.

international organization. Defined in Section 130c(h)(3) of Title 5, U.S.C.

MFOQA system data file. Defined in Section 2254(a)(2) of Title 10, U.S.C.

Military Department counterintelligence organization. An element within a Military Department that is authorized to conduct counterintelligence investigations. They are Army Counterintelligence, Naval Criminal Investigative Service, and the Air Force Office of Special Investigations.

DoDM 5400.07, January 25, 2017

misdirected FOIA request. A FOIA request for DoD records that is addressed to FOIA RSC that is not itself the FOIA RSC to process the request. For example, a FOIA requester sends a request for an Air Force contract to the Navy.

neutral. An individual who, with respect to an issue in controversy, functions specifically to aid the parties in resolving the controversy.

non-responsive. Information or records not requested by a FOIA requester.

perfected FOIA request. A FOIA request that arrives at the FOIA RSC of the DoD Component in possession of the records. The statutory time limit for responding to a FOIA request does not begin until it is perfected.

person. Defined in Section 551(2) of Title 5, U.S.C.

personal file. Documents unrelated to the conduct of agency business or indirectly related to agency business but outside the scope of agency records. A personal file is not subject to the FOIA. FOIA case law predominantly refers to personal files as personal records. Examples include:

Business or professional files created before entering U.S. Government service; files created during or relating to previously held positions, political materials, and reference files.

Private files brought into, created, or received in the office; family and personal correspondence; and materials documenting professional activities and outside business or political pursuits, including manuscripts and drafts for articles and books and volunteer and community service records that are considered personal, even if created or received while in office, because they do not relate to agency business.

Work-related personal files, including e-mails, diaries, journals, notes, and personal calendars and appointment schedules. Though work-related, these files may be personal if they are used only as reminders and personal observations on work-related topics and not for the transaction of government business.

pre-decisional information. Information created before the decision maker reached a final decision.

Privacy Act request. Defined in DoD 5400.11-R.

Privacy Act system of records. Defined in DoD 5400.11-R.

referral. The process whereby a DoD FOIA Program Component receiving a FOIA request locates documents originating with another DoD Component or federal agency. Accordingly, the FOIA request and documents are transferred to the originating DoD Component or federal agency for response directly to the FOIA requester.

responsive. Information or agency records requested by a FOIA requester.

Plaintiff,

MARK T. ESPER, et al.,

Defendants.

CIVIL ACTION NO. 1:20-cv-10530-FDS

DEFENDANTS' STATEMENT OF UNDISPUTED MATERIAL FACTS IN SUPPORT OF THEIR MOTION FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT

I. Department of Defense Policy Prior to 2015

1. For decades, military standards presumptively barred the accession and retention of transgender individuals. Department of Defense Report and Recommendations on Military Service by Transgender Persons at 7 (Feb. 2018), Dkt. 12-3 (hereinafter, "DoD Report").

2. The third edition of the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders (DSM), published by the American Psychiatric Association (APA), treated "transsexualism" as a disorder. See DoD Report at 10 (citing American Psychiatric Association, Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders, at 261–64 (3d ed. 1980)).

3. The military's retention standards prior to 2015 generally permitted the discharge of service members with "transsexualism" or "sexual gender and identity disorders." DoD Report at 11 (citing Department of Defense Instruction (DoDI) 1332.38, Physical Disability Evaluation (Nov. 14, 1996) cancelled by DoDI 1332.18, Disability Evaluation System (Aug. 4, 2014)).

4. In 2013, the APA published the fifth edition of the DSM, which replaced the term “gender identity disorder” (itself a replacement for “transsexualism” in the fourth edition) with “gender dysphoria.” Ex. 2 (Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders (5th ed.) (hereinafter, “DSM-5”) at 451; see also DoD Report at 10, 12.

5. The DSM-5 defines the mental condition of “gender dysphoria” as a “marked incongruence between one’s experience/expressed gender and assigned gender, of at least 6 months duration,” that is “associated with clinically significant distress or impairment in social, occupational, or other important areas of functioning.” Ex. 2 (DSM-5) at 452–53; see also DoD Report at 12–13, 20.

6. Treatment for gender dysphoria often involves psychotherapy and, in some cases, may include gender transition through cross-sex hormone therapy, sex-reassignment surgery, or living and working in one’s preferred gender. Ex. 2 (DSM-5) at 451; see also DoD Report at 22; RAND Corp., Assessing the Implications of Allowing Transgender Personnel to Serve Openly (2016) (hereinafter, “RAND Report”) at 6–7, 21, 79–81, Dkt. 32-2 at 54–165.

7. The DSM-5 states that “[c]linically referred adults with gender dysphoria may have coexisting mental health problems, most commonly anxiety and depressive disorders.” Ex. 2 (DSM-5) at 459.

8. The DSM-5 states that “[a]fter gender reassignment, adjustment may vary, and suicide risk may persist.” Ex. 2 (DSM-5) at 454.

9. The APA has stated that, by itself, identification with a gender different from one’s biological sex—i.e., transgender status—was not a mental disorder because “not all transgender people suffer from gender dysphoria.” Am. Psychiatric Ass’n, “Expert Q & A: Gender Dysphoria,” available at <https://www.psychiatry.org/patients-families/gender-dysphoria/expert-q-and-a> (last visited May 18, 2020); see also DoD Report at 20.

10. Many mental and behavioral health conditions in the DSM-5 are presumptively disqualifying when applying the medical standards for appointment, enlistment, or induction into the military. See Ex. 6 (Department of Defense Instruction 6130.03, “Medical Standards for Appointment, Enlistment, or Induction into the Military Services” (May 6, 2018)) at 11, 44–46 (listing “learning, psychiatric, and behavioral disorders” that are presumptively disqualifying for military service); Hebert Decl. ¶ 9.

II. DoD’s Review by Medical and Professional Experts in 2015

11. In April 2015, the Department of Defense’s Accessions Medical Standards Working Group (AMSWG) began a review of military entry standards for individuals diagnosed with or a history of gender dysphoria in light of recent updates to the DSM-5. Declaration of Lernes Hebert (“Hebert Decl.”) (May 18, 2020), Ex. D (Meeting Minutes, Accessions Medical Standards Working Group (Apr. 7–9, 2015)) at 7.

12. The AMSWG recommended an accessions standard where a current diagnosis or history of gender dysphoria would disqualify an individual from military service unless the individual was 1) “[s]table without psychotropic medications or mental health treatment for 36 months[;]” 2) “[o]utpatient mental healthcare for the resolution of gender dysphoria [had not been] required for greater than 24 cumulative months” (except where therapy was more supportive in nature); and 3) the individual “did not require inpatient mental health treatment in hospital or residential facility.” Hebert Decl. Ex. D (Meeting Minutes, Accessions Medical Standards Working Group (Apr. 7–9, 2015)) at 7.

III. Development of the Carter Policy

13. In July 2015, then-Secretary of Defense Ashton Carter ordered the creation of a working group “to study over the next six months the policy and readiness implications of welcoming transgender persons to serve openly,” and instructed it to “start with the presumption that transgender persons can serve openly without adverse impact on military effectiveness and readiness.”

Memorandum from Secretary Carter (July 28, 2015), Dkt. 12-4; Statement by Secretary of Defense Ash Carter on DOD Transgender Policy, Release No. NR-272-15 (July 13, 2015), available at <https://www.defense.gov/Newsroom/Releases/Release/Article/612778/> (last visited May 18, 2020); see also DoD Report at 13; Hebert Decl. ¶ 5.

14. The Joint Chiefs of Staff contacted the Office of the Secretary of Defense after Secretary Carter made the July 2015 announcement that ordered the creation of the working group. The Joint Chiefs of Staff asked for a briefing on the forthcoming policy review. Hebert Decl. ¶ 6.

15. Some of the Service Chiefs expressed concern that the review may not be objective and that the presumption appeared to mandate a pre-determined outcome. A similar concern was expressed to DoD in a letter from the then-Chairman of the House Committee on Armed Services. Hebert Decl. ¶ 6.

16. The working group noted that several studies suggested that individuals diagnosed with gender dysphoria have higher than normal associated rates of depression and suicide. See Hebert Decl. Ex. A (Transgender Service Review Work Group Out) at 8; Hebert Decl. ¶ 10.

17. The working group heard from a civilian endocrinologist and a civilian plastic surgeon who spoke about care for transgender individuals, but the working group did not hear from any doctor who had treated gender dysphoria (or its comorbidities) from a psychiatric or psychological perspective. Hebert Decl. ¶ 11, Ex. A at 28–43 (showing agendas and speakers at meetings).

18. The Department of Defense commissioned the RAND National Defense Research Institute (RAND) to conduct a study to “(1) identify the health care needs of the transgender population, transgender service members’ potential health care utilization rates, and the costs associated with extending health care coverage for transition-related treatments; (2) assess the potential readiness impacts of allowing transgender service members to serve openly; and (3) review the experiences of foreign militaries that permit transgender service members to serve openly.” RAND National Defense

Research Institute, Assessing the Implications of Allowing Transgender Personnel to Serve Openly, at 1 (2016) (hereinafter, “RAND Report”), Dkt. 12-5.

19. In its final report, RAND included a discrete section of “limitations and caveats” in which it recommended caution in interpreting its study results because of “the lack of rigorous epidemiological studies of the size or health care needs of either the U.S. transgender population or the transgender population serving in the military” and “no definitive data” on these populations. RAND Report at 3–4.

20. The RAND Report concluded that allowing transgender service members to serve in their preferred gender would limit deployability, impede readiness, and impose costs on the military, but also stated that those impacts were “negligible,” “marginal,” or “minimal.” RAND Report at xii, 39–42, 46–47, 69–70.

21. Some of the Service Surgeons General recommended a stability period between 24 and 36 months, after which waiver would be permitted for accession into the military. Hebert Decl. ¶ 19.

22. Those Service Surgeons General who recommended a stability period between 24 and 36 months, after which waiver would be permitted for accession into the military, did so to more closely align the military accession standards for gender dysphoria with anxiety disorder and major depressive disorder. Hebert Decl. ¶ 19.

23. On June 30, 2016, Secretary Carter approved the publication of Directive-type Memorandum (DTM) 16-005, entitled “Military Service of Transgender Service Members.” DTM 16-005, Dkt. 12-6.

24. In DTM 16-005, Secretary Carter directed the Department of Defense to revise its accession standards by July 1, 2017. Under these revised accession standards, a history of “gender dysphoria,” “medical treatment associated with gender transition,” or “sex reassignment or genital reconstruction surgery” would remain disqualifying unless an applicant provided a certificate from a licensed medical provider that the applicant had been stable or free from associated complications for 18 months. DTM 16-005 at Attachment, ¶ 2.

25. DTM 16-005 states that effective June 30, 2016, current service members could not be discharged “solely on the basis of their gender identity” or their “expressed intent to transition genders.” DTM 16-005 at Attachment, ¶ 1.

26. On June 30, 2016, Secretary Carter approved the publication of Department of Defense Instruction (DoDI) 1300.28, entitled “In-service Transition for Service Members Identifying as Transgender.” DoDI 1300.28, Dkt. 12-8.

27. DoDI 1300.28 allowed for a service member who was diagnosed with gender dysphoria to transition genders. DoDI 1300.28, ¶ 3.1.b.

28. Under DoDI 1300.28, transgender service members must receive a diagnosis from a military medical provider for which gender transition is medically necessary in order to change the service member’s gender marker in DEERS and be subject to standards and requirements consistent with that gender marker. DoDI 1300.28 ¶ 3.3(a)(3); see also DoD Report at 15.

29. Consistent with these directives, the Navy issued guidance to commands regarding this policy. See generally Ex. 1 (U.S. Navy Transgender and Gender Transition Commanding Officer’s Toolkit).

30. Under this guidance, sailors were required to obtain a waiver if their transition could not be completed in 18 months. See Ex. 1 (U.S. Navy Transgender and Gender Transition Commanding Officer’s Toolkit) at 3.

IV. Secretary Mattis's Decision to Delay Accession of Individuals with Gender Dysphoria Under Carter Policy

31. On May 8, 2017, then-Deputy Secretary of Defense Robert Work directed the Military Services to assess the Department's readiness to begin accessing transgender applicants into military service on July 1, 2017. Hebert Decl. ¶ 22.

32. The Army requested "a delay in implementing the draft accessions policy until July 1, 2019, to allow for a meaningful analysis and determination regarding the impact of transgender accessions on the Army's readiness," and noted that "some transgender Soldiers experience extensive medical non-deployability both before and after transition[.]" Hebert Decl. ¶ 22.

33. The Air Force recommended a 12 to 36 month delay of the Carter accessions policy, and noted that "information received from Combatant Commands (CCMDs) raises significant concerns about the potential availability, readiness, and deployability of potential transgender accessions that warrants more study." Hebert Decl. ¶ 22.

34. The Navy stated that it was ready to access new accessions but was willing to support the delay requested by the other Services. Hebert Decl. ¶ 22.

35. The Marine Corps requested a 24-month delay of the new accessions policy. Hebert Decl. ¶ 22.

36. On June 30, 2017, Secretary Mattis, approved the Services' recommendation to delay the implementation of the Carter accessions standards. Hebert Decl. ¶ 23.

37. Also on June 30, 2017, Secretary Mattis established a study group that included the representatives of the Service Secretaries and senior military officers, many with combat experience, to conduct a six-month review of the impact of the Carter accessions standards on military readiness and lethality. Hebert Decl. ¶ 23.

V. Presidential Statements on Twitter and Presidential Memorandum

38. While that review was ongoing, the President stated on Twitter on July 26, 2017 that “the United States Government will not accept or allow transgender individuals to serve in any capacity in the U.S. Military.” Twitter Statements, Dkt. 12-12.

39. On August 25, 2017, the President issued a memorandum stating that former Secretary Carter had “failed to identify a sufficient basis to conclude that terminating the Departments’ longstanding policy”—which generally disqualified transgender individuals from service—“would not hinder military effectiveness and lethality, disrupt unit cohesion, or tax military resources.” Military Service by Transgender Individuals, 82 Fed. Reg. 41319 (Aug. 25, 2017) §§ 1(a), 2(a), Dkt. 12-15.

40. The President’s memorandum also ordered “further study” into the risks of maintaining the Carter policy and adherence to current accession standards while that review was ongoing. Military Service by Transgender Individuals, 82 Fed. Reg. 41319 (Aug. 25, 2017) §§ 1(a), 2(a), Dkt. 12-15.

VI. The Department’s Development of the 2018 Policy

41. On September 14, 2017, Secretary Mattis established a Panel of Experts (Panel) to “conduct an independent multi-disciplinary review and study of relevant data and information pertaining to transgender Service members.” Memorandum from James N. Mattis, Secretary of Defense, “Terms of Reference—Implementation of Presidential Memorandum on Military Service by Transgender Individuals, at 1–2 (Sept. 14, 2017), Dkt. 12-16; see also Military Service by Transgender Individuals – Interim Guidance (Sept. 14, 2017), Dkt. 12-17; DoD Report at 17; Hebert Decl. ¶ 25.

42. The Panel consisted of the members of senior military leadership who had “the statutory responsibility to organize, train, and equip military forces and are uniquely qualified to evaluate the impact of policy changes on the combat effectiveness and lethality of the force.” DoD Report at 18; Hebert Decl. ¶ 25.

43. Unlike the working group that led to the creation of the Carter policy, the Panel was not required to apply a presumption that transgender persons, including transgender individuals diagnosed with gender dysphoria, were generally qualified for military service. Hebert Decl. ¶ 29.

44. In 13 separate meetings over the span of 90 days, the Panel met with military and civilian medical professionals, military and civilian personnel experts, commanders of transgender service members, and transgender service members themselves. DoD Report at 18; Hebert Decl. ¶ 26.

45. The Panel reviewed information regarding gender dysphoria, its treatment, and its impact on military effectiveness, unit cohesion, and military resources. DoD Report at 18; Hebert Decl. ¶ 28.

46. The Panel received briefing from three separate working groups or committees dedicated to issues involving personnel, medical treatment, and military lethality. DoD Report at 18; Hebert Decl. ¶ 25.

47. The Panel considered the military's experience with the Carter policy to date and considered evidence supporting and cutting against its recommendations. DoD Report at 18; Hebert Decl. ¶ 28.

48. As part of its review, the Panel examined data related to current service members diagnosed with gender dysphoria. DoD Report at 21–22; Hebert Decl. ¶ 28; see Ex. 5 (Health Data on Active Duty Service Members with Gender Dysphoria) (Dec. 13, 2017), at ADMINISTRATIVE_RECORD_003011–42.

49. This same data was not available to RAND nor the Carter Transgender Service Review Working Group in 2016. DoD Report at 21–22; Hebert Decl. ¶ 28.

50. The Panel provided Secretary Mattis with a set of recommendations. DoD Report at 18–19.

51. After considering the Panel's recommendations, along with additional information, Secretary Mattis, with the agreement of the Secretary of Homeland Security, sent the President a memorandum in February 2018 proposing a new policy consistent with the Panel's conclusions. Memorandum for the President Regarding Military Service by Transgender Individuals (Feb. 22, 2018), Dkt. 12-2 (hereinafter, "Mattis Memorandum"); Hebert Decl. ¶ 31.

52. The Mattis Memorandum was accompanied by a 44-page report setting forth in detail the bases for the Department of Defense’s recommended new policy. Mattis Memorandum at 3; see DoD Report.

53. The Mattis Memorandum states, “Based on the work of the Panel and the Department’s best military judgment,” the Department of Defense had concluded “that there are substantial risks associated with allowing the accession and retention of individuals with a history or diagnosis of gender dysphoria and require, or have already undertaken, a course of treatment to change their gender.” Mattis Memorandum at 2.

54. The Mattis Memorandum states that the Department of Defense had found “that exempting such persons from well-established mental health, physical health, and sex-based standards, which apply to all Service members, including transgender Service members without gender dysphoria, could undermine readiness, disrupt unit cohesion, and impose an unreasonable burden on the military that is not conducive to military effectiveness and lethality.” Mattis Memorandum at 2.

55. The Mattis Memorandum states that the RAND Report “contained significant shortcomings” because, inter alia, it relied on “limited and heavily caveated data to support its conclusions, glossed over the impacts of healthcare costs, readiness, and unit cohesion, and erroneously relied on the selective experiences of foreign militaries with different operational requirements than our own.” Mattis Memorandum at 2.

56. The Mattis Memorandum states, “In short, this policy issue has proven more complex than the prior administration or RAND assumed.” Mattis Memorandum at 2.

57. Secretary Mattis proposed a policy that continued some aspects of the Carter policy and departed from others. Compare Mattis Memorandum at 2–3, and DoD Report at 4–6, 33–43, with DTM 16-005.

58. Under the 2018 policy, as under the Carter policy, individuals who “identify as a gender other than their biological sex” but who do not suffer clinically significant “distress or impairment of functioning in meeting the standards associated with their biological sex”—and therefore have no history or diagnosis of gender dysphoria—may serve if “they, like all other persons, satisfy all standards and are capable of adhering to the standards associated with their biological sex.” DoD Report at 4.

59. Under the 2018 policy, individuals who both are “diagnosed with gender dysphoria, either before or after entry into service,” and “require transition-related treatment, or have already transitioned to their preferred gender,” are presumptively “ineligible for service.” DoD Report at 5.

60. This presumptive disqualification for individuals who both are “diagnosed with gender dysphoria, either before or after entry into service,” and “require transition-related treatment, or have already transitioned to their preferred gender,” is subject to both individualized “waivers or exceptions” as well as a categorical reliance exception for service members who took advantage of the Carter policy. DoD Report at 5; see Department of Defense DTM 19-004 at 2, Attach. 2 at 5, Attach. 3 at 10, Dkt. 12-19.

61. Service members “who were diagnosed with gender dysphoria by a military medical provider after the effective date of the Carter policy, but before the effective date of any new policy,” including those who entered the military “after January 1, 2018,” “may continue to receive all medically necessary care, to change their gender marker in the Defense Enrollment Eligibility Reporting System (DEERS), and to serve in their preferred gender, even after the new policy commences.” DoD Report at 5.

62. Under the new policy, individuals who “are diagnosed with, or have a history of, gender dysphoria” but who neither require nor have undergone gender transition are likewise “generally disqualified from accession or retention.” DoD Report at 5.

63. This presumptive disqualification for individuals who “are diagnosed with, or have a history of, gender dysphoria” but who neither require nor have undergone gender transition is subject to both subjecting an individual to adverse action or mistreatment on the basis of gender identity. DTM 19-004 at 2.

69. Pursuant to DTM 19-004, service members who are not exempt from the policy “may consult with a military medical provider, receive a diagnosis of gender dysphoria, and receive mental health counseling, but may not obtain a gender marker change in DEERS or serve in their preferred gender.” DTM 19-004 at 9.

70. Service members who are not exempt “[m]ay not be separated solely based on a diagnosis of gender dysphoria without first being medically evaluated for possible referral to the Disability Evaluation System (DES) pursuant to DoDI 1332.18 or the USCG Physical Disability Evaluation System (PDES), pursuant to Commandant Instruction (COMDTINST) M1850.2 (series).” DTM 19-004 at 9.

71. On March 19, 2019, the Navy issued further guidance regarding DTM 19-004. See ALNAV 022/19, Dkt. 12-20; NAVADMIN 070/19, Dkt. 12-21.

72. NAVADMIN 070/19 describes DTM 19-004 and provides guidance on the procedure for requesting an Exception to Policy (“ETP” or “waiver”). See NAVADMIN 070/19 § 4.b.

VIII. The Navy Grants Lieutenant Jane Doe’s Waiver Request

73. Plaintiff Lieutenant (LT) Jane Doe sought treatment for depression and anxiety in the spring of 2019. Compl. ¶ 76.

74. In June 2019, a military medical provider diagnosed LT Doe with gender dysphoria, but did not make a finding that transition treatment was medically necessary. Compl. ¶¶ 77, 85.

75. Because LT Doe received the gender dysphoria diagnosis after the effective date of DTM 19-004, she submitted a request to waive the standards of the new policy and serve under the standards of the prior policy. Compl. ¶ 80.

76. To support her waiver request, LT Doe attached three letters of recommendation from her current and former supervisors, who all recommended that the Navy approve her waiver request. See Ex. 4 (Letters from Commanders (Aug. 13, 2019, Sept. 20, 2019, Oct. 4, 2019)).

77. In the letters of recommendation supporting her waiver request, LT Doe's current and former supervisors praised her work performance, education, and character. See Ex. 4 (Letters from Commanders (Aug. 13, 2019, Sept. 20, 2019, Oct. 4, 2019)).

78. In one of the letters of recommendation supporting her waiver request, a commander stated that officers in LT Doe's position "rarely deploy," and "[a]s such [she] is ideally situated to transition at the right time for [her] regardless of where [she] is serving in the community." See Ex. 4 (Letter from Commander (Sept. 20, 2019)).

79. While LT Doe's waiver request was pending, the Naval Medical Forces Atlantic Transgender Care Team reviewed LT Doe's medical records, agreed with the diagnosis of gender dysphoria, and determined that gender transition is medically necessary. Compl. ¶ 85.

80. LT Doe's waiver request was fully approved on May 13, 2020. Ex. 3 (Letter from Acting Secretary James E. McPherson).

81. Because her waiver request was approved, LT Doe is designated as a member of the exempt population and thus may begin her transition and receive all medically necessary care as directed by DoD Instruction 1300.28. See DTM 19-004 at 8; Ex. 3 (Letter from Acting Secretary James E. McPherson).

82. Pursuant to DoD Instruction 1300.28, which governs in-service transition for transgender service members, once a military medical provider determines that her medical treatment plan is complete, LT Doe will be able to serve in her preferred gender and obtain a gender marker change in DEERS. See DoDI 1300.28 at 7; see also DTM 19-004 at 8; Ex. 1 (Navy Commanding Officer's Toolkit) at 5, 19.

Counsel for Defendants

EXHIBIT E

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE DISTRICT OF MASSACHUSETTS
BOSTON DIVISION

LT JANE DOE,

Plaintiff,

v.

MARK T. ESPER, et al.,

Defendants.

CIVIL ACTION NO. 1:20-cv-10530-FDS

DECLARATION OF LERNES J. HEBERT

I, Lernes J. Hebert, do hereby declare as follows:

1. I am currently the Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense for Military Personnel Policy, in the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness. I have held this position in either an acting or appointed capacity since January 2017. As the Deputy Assistant Secretary, I am responsible for overseeing the full spectrum of human resource policies, including accessions, compensation, development, separations, and recognition programs for over two million active duty, Guard, and Reserve military personnel serving in the Department of Defense (“DoD” or “the Department”). I am also directly responsible for policies to sustain the all-volunteer force.

2. Between September 2012 and January 2017, I served as Principal Director, Military Personnel Policy in the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness and have served in Military Personnel Policy since August 2003. During that time, I have led the Department through a number of major personnel initiatives and policy changes including initiatives to restructure career longevity provisions, joint officer management, and general and flag officer management.

3. Prior to my retirement from the United States Air Force in the rank of Colonel after 24 years of active service, I served at every level of the field of personnel management to include key assignments in the Office of the Secretary of Defense, the Air Staff, at the Air Force Personnel Center, and with Air Combat Command. I hold a Master of Science degree in National Security Strategy from the National War College, a Masters of Arts degree in Management and Computer Resource Management from Webster University, and a Bachelor of Science degree in Management from the University of Louisiana.

4. In the exercise of my official duties, I have been made aware of the above-captioned lawsuit, as well as four additional suits by transgender individuals pending in other jurisdictions. I submit this declaration in support of Defendants' Consolidated Opposition to Plaintiff's Motion for a Preliminary Injunction and Motion to Dismiss Plaintiff's Complaint, or, in the Alternative, Motion for Summary Judgment. The statements made herein are based on my personal knowledge and information available to me in the course of my official duties.

Secretary Carter Initiates a Policy Review

5. On July 28, 2015, then-Secretary of Defense Ashton Carter issued a memorandum to the Secretaries of the Military Departments announcing that effective July 13, 2015, the authority to approve any involuntary separation or denial of reenlistment based on gender identity was elevated and required the personal approval of the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness. This memorandum also created the Transgender Service Review Working Group (“TSRWG”), which was chartered to formulate policy options for DoD regarding the military service of transgender service members and provide the Secretary with recommendations within 180 days. The memorandum specifically directed the TSRWG to presume that transgender persons can serve openly without adverse impact to military effectiveness and readiness, unless objective, practical impediments are identified.

6. Shortly after Secretary Carter made this announcement, the Office of the Secretary of Defense (“OSD”) was contacted by the Joint Chiefs of Staff who asked for a briefing on the forthcoming policy review. Some of the Service Chiefs expressed concern that the review may not be objective and that the presumption appeared to mandate a pre-determined outcome. A similar concern was expressed to DoD in a letter from the then-Chairman of the House Committee on Armed Services.

Formation of the TSRWG

7. The TSRWG was chaired by then-Acting Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness Brad Carson and was composed of senior civilians and military personnel representing the Services' personnel offices, the Surgeons General from the Services and Joint Staff, representatives from the U.S. Coast Guard, as well as senior OSD staff from Personnel and Readiness, Health Affairs, Legislative Affairs, Public Affairs, and the Office of the General Counsel. At the time, I served as the Principal Director for Military Personnel Policy. Mr. Anthony Kurta, who at the time was serving as the Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense for Military Personnel Policy, and I were key representatives of the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness at TSRWG meetings. I personally attended and participated in 11 of the 13 TSRWG bi-weekly meetings held between August 15, 2015 and January 19, 2016. I also participated in a debrief of the results of the TSRWG's various lines of effort and products that was given to Mr. Carson on February 17, 2016.

8. At the beginning of the TSRWG process, there was some degree of disparity in the level of familiarity and expertise among working group members regarding transgender issues, including the medical needs of transgender service members. Portions of some of the earliest meetings were devoted to getting all TSRWG members to a base level of understanding. For example, some TSRWG members initially did not fully appreciate that gender dysphoria is a separate behavioral health condition affecting only a portion of transgender individuals. As we learned, the Fifth edition of the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders published by the American Psychiatric Association (“DSM-5”) states that individuals with gender dysphoria are a subset of transgender individuals who experience “significant distress or problems functioning” as a result of an incongruence between their expressed gender and/or secondary sex characteristics.

Challenges Faced by the TSRWG

9. In my experience, it was unusual that a medical condition, such as gender dysphoria, should carry with it a presumption of fitness for military service, as directed by Secretary Carter, and particularly unusual for a mental or behavioral health condition in the DSM-5 to carry such a presumption. I am unaware of any other medical condition or any other mental or behavioral health condition where such a presumption of fitness for military service is applied. Indeed, as outlined in Department of Defense Instruction 6130.03, many mental and behavioral health conditions in the DSM-5 are presumptively disqualifying when applying the medical standards for appointment, enlistment, or induction into the military.

10. The TSRWG attempted to come to grips with several other thorny issues, some of which are addressed in the TSRWG's written "Report Out," which was briefed to Mr. Carson on February 17, 2016. A copy of the Report Out is attached as Exhibit A. For example, one challenge was a lack of information regarding the efficacy of transition treatment to relieve the “significant distress” associated with gender dysphoria. The TSRWG was presented with the results of several studies suggesting that individuals diagnosed with gender dysphoria have higher than normal associated rates of depression and suicide, as well as medical research that indicated important short-term medical and psychiatric benefits from gender reassignment treatment in some individuals. But, there was limited data on the rates of improvement or the continued level of improvement during transition or post-transition. This made crafting a policy that would account for a stability period after which a transitioning service member would again be worldwide deployable or a transitioned applicant for military service would be able to complete basic training extremely challenging. This challenge was exacerbated by the fact that a number of studies and experts in the field of transgender care often seemed to blur the lines between scientific research and advocacy. In fact, some of the advocacy groups that the TSRWG consulted consistently advocated for no stability period beyond the standard recovery periods associated with surgical procedures. Those groups opined that any post-transition distress was purely due to the social stigma and not due to gender dysphoria which they claim transition entirely resolved. Yet, the TSRWG could not identify any empirical data which supported these theories.

11. In a related matter, a senior military member of the TSRWG who represented the Office of the Surgeon General for one of the Services complained about an apparent outsized role that advocacy groups had in shaping the TSRWG's medical analysis and recommended that the TSRWG also hear from a medical professional, Dr. Paul R. McHugh, who was known to have differing views. While the TSRWG did invite a distinguished plastic surgeon and distinguished endocrinologist to speak on transgender care in the civilian community, the working group never heard from Dr. McHugh or any doctor who had treated gender dysphoria (or its comorbidities) from a psychiatric or psychological perspective.

RAND Study and Report

12. To assist the TSRWG, DoD also contracted the services of the RAND National Defense Research Institute. RAND was to complete its study and provide its recommendations within the 180-day window Secretary Carter had allotted to the TSRWG to complete its review. The RAND study encountered some challenges similar to those faced by the TSRWG because of gaps in reliable data. Indeed, in its final report, RAND included a discrete section of “limitations and caveats” in which it recommended caution in interpreting its study results because of “the lack of rigorous epidemiological studies of the size or health care needs of either the U.S. transgender population or the transgender population serving in the military” and “no definitive data” on these populations.

13. In the course of assisting the TSRWG, RAND researchers gave several presentations to DoD in which these and additional challenges were highlighted. For example, in one presentation given in January 2016, attached as Exhibit B, RAND specifically noted that “[u]ncertainty remains regarding the long term efficacy of G[ender] R[eassignment] T[reatment], though existing data suggests potentially important short term medical and psychiatric benefits[.]” In that same presentation, RAND opined on the impact to unit cohesion and noted that there was “[n]o direct evidence, applicable surveys, or systematic information to determine attitudes on transgender individuals among military members[.]” Although RAND further stated that “evidence from previous integration efforts (e.g., gays, lesbians, and women) indicates that such integration had minimal impact on unit cohesion and readiness,” both the TSRWG and the later Panel of Experts found that such prior examples of integration had little applicability to the unique concerns at issue in its review of military service by individuals diagnosed with gender dysphoria because those integration efforts did not involve potential lost deployment time due to a medical condition.

14. Other assumptions made by RAND to support some of their conclusions, subsequently turned out to be simply wrong. For example, in February 2016, RAND again briefed members of the TSRWG. That presentation is attached as Exhibit C. In that presentation, RAND estimated the maximum total non-deployable days for certain medical treatments for gender dysphoria. Although RAND identified cross-sex hormone treatments as the largest percentage of treatments, and noted that deployment limitations may apply based on such treatments, it accounted for zero non-deployability days based on “pending accommodations[.]” In its final report, RAND explained that it based its estimate of zero non-deployability days for cross-sex hormone treatments on an assumption that DoD would either depart from Endocrine Clinical Practice Guidelines for the Treatment of Gender-Dysphoric / Gender-Incongruent Persons or deploy independent medical personnel to supervise hormone treatments administered to individuals diagnosed with gender dysphoria in a deployed environment. Ultimately, however, as the Panel of Experts discovered during its subsequent policy review, several of the Military Services and at least one Combatant Command¹ (i.e., MOD 13 to USCENTCOM Individual Protection and Individual/Unit Deployment Policy) determined that administering hormone treatments in a forward deployed environment or declining to apply established medical guidelines, were not feasible accommodations.

¹ A Combatant Command is a military command which has broad, continuing missions. See 10 U.S.C. § 161. These commands are established to provide effective command and control of U.S. military forces, regardless of branch of service, in peace and war. They are organized either on a geographical basis or on a functional basis. U.S. Central Command is the geographical command responsible for responding to crises, deterring and defeating threats, and increasing regional stability throughout the Middle East.

Input from Military Medical Professionals

17. As reflected in the minutes of their April 2015 meetings, attached as Exhibit D, MSWG recommended that a current diagnosis or history of gender dysphoria be qualifying for accession unless: (1) the applicant was stable without psychotropic medications or mental health treatment for 36 months; (2) outpatient mental healthcare for the resolution of gender dysphoria was not required for greater than 24 cumulative months. (If therapy is more supportive in nature, e.g., through the transition process, the same provision would not apply); and (3) the applicant did not require inpatient mental health treatment in hospital or residential facility.

Input from the Military Services and Decision

18. As part of the TSRWG process, input was sought from personnel experts from the Military Services on a new accessions standard for transgender individuals and individuals diagnosed with gender dysphoria. The positions of the Military Services were collected and assembled into a matrix which was presented to Mr. Carson in February 2016. The matrix is attached as Exhibit E. As reflected in the matrix, there were several disagreements between the Military Services regarding accessions standards, including whether DoD should require potential service members' biological sex to correspond with their gender identity, the length of any period of stability required before an individual could access into the military, and whether or not service members should be allowed to transition within their first term of service. The Army and Marine Corps recommended a more conservative approach, similar to the policy that was recommended by the Panel of Experts to Secretary Mattis in 2018. The Navy and the Air Force recommended a policy that would allow for service in one's preferred gender, with the Navy recommending a stability period prior to accession in the military of 12 months and the Air Force recommending a 24-month stability period.

19. Although not captured in this particular matrix, some of the Service Surgeons General advocated for a stability period between 24 and 36 months, after which waiver would be permitted, to more closely align with the comorbidities of gender dysphoria—anxiety disorder and major depressive disorder.

20. Ultimately, then-Secretary Carter adopted the views favoring service consistent with one's gender identity and set the stability period for accessions at 18 months, as announced on June 30, 2016, as DTM 16-005, Military Service of Transgender Service Members. Secretary Carter also directed that these accessions standards be reviewed within two years and be maintained or changed consistent with applicable medical standards and clinical practice guidelines in order to ensure military readiness and promote effectiveness in recruiting and retention.

The New Administration

21. Following the start of the Trump Administration, some of the Services sought to have then-Secretary Mattis reconsider the Carter policy, based in part on recent challenges encountered while implementing the 2016 policy. Further, the Service Surgeons General formally recommended extending the 18-month Carter policy accessions stability period to at least 24 months, noting that "currently accepted clinical practice guidelines and our experience in DoD demonstrate that successful gender transition is a protracted process, often requiring several years to reach clinical stability." This memorandum is attached as Exhibit F.

22. In response to these concerns, on May 8, 2017, then-Deputy Secretary of Defense Robert Work directed the Military Services to assess the Department's readiness to begin accessing transgender applicants into military service on July 1, 2017, as directed under the Carter policy. Each of the Service Secretaries formally responded to the Deputy Secretary, and each one of them recommended a delay of the Carter accessions policy. The Services' responses are attached as Exhibit G. The Army requested "a delay in implementing the draft accessions policy until July 1, 2019, to allow for a meaningful analysis and determination regarding the impact of transgender accessions on the Army's readiness," noting that "some transgender Soldiers experience extensive medical non-deployability both before and after transition[.]” The Air Force recommended a 12- to 36-month delay of the Carter accessions policy, noting that “information received from Combatant Commands (CCMDs) raises significant concerns about the potential availability, readiness, and deployability of potential transgender accessions that warrants more study.” The Navy stated that it was ready to access new accessions but was willing to support the delay requested by the other Services. And, the Marine Corps requested a 24-month delay of the Carter accessions policy.

23. On June 30, 2017, before the Carter accessions standards were set to take effect, Secretary Mattis approved the Services’ recommendation to delay the implementation of those standards for an additional six months to evaluate more carefully their impact on military readiness and lethality. Secretary Mattis also established a study group that included the representatives of the Service Secretaries and senior military officers, many with combat experience, to conduct this six-month review.

24. On August 25, 2017, while this review was ongoing, the President sent the Secretaries of Defense and Homeland Security a memorandum expressing his concern that the Carter policy “failed to identify a sufficient basis” for changing longstanding policy and that “further study is needed to ensure that continued implementation of last year’s policy change would not have ... negative effects.” The President then directed DoD and the Department of Homeland Security (“DHS”) to reinstate the preexisting policy concerning accession of transgender individuals “until such time as a sufficient basis exists upon which to conclude that terminating that policy” would not “hinder military effectiveness and lethality, disrupt unit cohesion, or tax military resources.” The President’s Memorandum also made clear, however, could advise the President that a change in policy was warranted, the Panel was free to consider a full range of policy options. The Panel members agreed that this was the correct interpretation of the President's Memorandum and Secretary Mattis's direction to the Panel. Additionally, the members of the Panel agreed that their recommendations should be free of political considerations.

27. To fulfill its mandate, the Panel addressed three primary questions:

- Should the Department of Defense access transgender individuals?
- Should the Department allow transgender individuals to transition gender while serving, and if so, what treatment should be authorized?
- How should the Department address transgender individuals who are currently serving?

28. In order to provide evidence-based recommendations regarding these questions, the Panel met with and received input from transgender Service members, commanders of transgender Service members, military medical professionals, and civilian medical professionals with experience in the care and treatment of individuals with gender dysphoria. The Panel also reviewed information and analyses about gender dysphoria, the treatment of gender dysphoria, and the effects of currently serving individuals with gender dysphoria on military effectiveness, unit cohesion, and resources. The Panel's analysis was also informed by the Department's own data and experience obtained since the Carter policy took effect, e.g., Health Data on Active Duty Service Members with Gender Dysphoria, December 13, 2017. This data was not available to RAND or the TSRWG in 2016.

29. Unlike the TSRWG, the Panel was not required to apply a presumption that transgender persons, including transgender individuals diagnosed with gender dysphoria, were generally qualified for military service; the Panel made no assumptions but instead attempted to apply the relevant standards applicable to every service member to determine the extent to which transgender persons, including transgender individuals diagnosed with gender dysphoria, are qualified for military duty. Further, while the RAND report analyzed the factors of military readiness, deployability, unit cohesion, and cost on a force-wide or macro level, the Panel also looked at impacts at the unit or micro level, including the impact that high numbers of non-deployable military personnel place on families whose service members deploy more often to backfill or compensate for non-deployable persons.

30. After extensive review and deliberation, which included evidence in support of and against the Panel's recommendations, the Panel concluded that there are substantial risks associated with allowing the accession and retention of individuals with a history or diagnosis of gender dysphoria and who require, or have already undertaken, a course of treatment to change their gender. Furthermore, the Panel found that exempting such persons from well-established mental health, physical health, and sex-based standards, which apply to all service members, including transgender service members without gender dysphoria, could undermine readiness, disrupt unit cohesion, and impose an unreasonable burden on the military that is not conducive to military effectiveness and lethality. The Panel did recommend, however, that individuals who relied on the Carter policy be allowed to continue serving in their preferred gender.

Adoption of Panel Recommendations

31. Once the Panel finalized its recommendations, the then-Under Secretary of Defense, Robert Wilkie, Mr. Kurta, and I presented those recommendations to the Deputy Secretary of Defense and the Vice Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and then to Secretary Mattis. Secretary Mattis made his decision to accept the recommendations of the Panel and directed a formal report to be created. That report, titled Department of Defense Report and Recommendations on Military Service by Transgender Persons, was created under the authority of Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness and submitted to then-Secretary Mattis, who in turn submitted it to the President, along with a three-page cover memo on February 22, 2018. On March 23, 2018, the President accepted then-Secretary Mattis's recommendation and withdrew his August 25, 2017 Memorandum.

Conclusion

32. Having participated in both the review by the TSRWG convened by then-Secretary Carter and the Panel of Experts convened by former Secretary Mattis, it is my view that the work of both groups reflected thoughtful, considered processes that incorporated the experience and expertise of dedicated military and civilian officials to address difficult, complex, and controversial issues. In my opinion, the most substantial factors that account for the different outcomes in these reviews are: (1) the general presumption of fitness for military service that was applied by the TSRWG but not the Panel of Experts; (2) additional knowledge DoD and the Military Services gained from their experience under the Carter policy; (3) the additional data available to the Panel of Experts to review regarding impacts under the Carter policy; (4) the fact that the Panel of Experts' review included more analysis of unit-level implications than during the TSRWG review; and (5) that Secretary Mattis was less willing than Secretary Carter to assume risk in the absence of clear data regarding impacts on military readiness and deployability.

Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746(2), I declare under the penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

1 look at what they are doing with their support for terrorism
2 from Bahrain to Yemen, from Syria to Lebanon and elsewhere, 3 their maritime threat, their cyber threat. We have got to 4 look at all these things, sir, as a whole, but at the same
5 time focus on this imperfect arms control agreement and 6 determine if that is in our best interest.

7 Senator Sullivan: Trust factor?

8 Secretary Mattis: I think trust but verify would be an 9 exaggeration. I think it is distrust and verify.

10 Senator Sullivan: Thank you.

11 Senator Inhofe: Thank you, Senator Sullivan.

12 Senator Gillibrand: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

13 General Dunford, your fellow chiefs have told me that 14 they are not aware of any instances of issues with unit
15 cohesion, morale, and discipline as a result of open 16 transgender service. Have you heard of any such incidents?

17 General Dunford: Senator, thanks. I would not 18 typically hear of individual cases of cohesion or discipline 19 issues.

20 And maybe just a comment on transgender. For me, the 21 issue with transgender has never been about cohesion or 22 discipline anyway. It was just about any individual, 23 regardless of circumstances, being able to meet the physical 24 and mental qualifications of being worldwide deployable. So
25 if an individual is serving without accommodation, then I do

1 not think I would expect to see discipline or cohesion
2 issues in that unit.

3 Senator Gillibrand: During our last discussion on this
4 topic, you said that you would treat all service members,
5 including transgender service members, with dignity and 6 respect.

7 The recommendations on transgender service and the 8 accompanying panel report were released as part of the DOJ's 9 filing on Friday night. Service members found out in the 10 news that the Department had submitted a report that cast 11 dispersions on their fitness to serve, implied they could 12 harm the lethality of the force, and left their futures in 13 the military up in the air.

14 Do you think this rollout accords transgender service
15 members with the dignity and respect they deserve?

16 General Dunford: Senator, one thing we have tried to 17 clarify for our men and women that are current serving is 18 that -- and I cannot talk about any changes in the policy.
19 But one thing that did not change was the status of the men 20 and women that are currently serving.

21 Senator Gillibrand: That is not the impression the 22 report leaves.

23 Do you know whether this has created anxiety among 24 these troops? Have you met with any transgender troops
25 given this report?

1 General Dunford: I have not since the report was 2 released, Senator.

3 Senator Gillibrand: I recommend that you do so so you
4 are more informed.

5 Secretary Mattis, one of the things that struck me
6 about your panel's report was its claim that, quote, unlike 7 past reviews, the panel's analysis was informed by the 8 Department's own data and experience obtained since the 9 Carter policy took effect. That is why I have been asking 10 the chiefs about unit cohesion. In fact, General Milley put 11 it with regard to the Army as precisely zero instances of 12 units with less unit cohesion, morale, and discipline.

13 I am very concerned about this report because it says 14 that there is, quote, scientific uncertainty surrounding the 15 efficacy of transition-related treatments for gender 16 dysphoria. Yet, the American Medical, Psychological, and 17 Psychiatric Associations have all said the report
18 misrepresents what is the scientific consensus when it comes 19 to gender dysphoria and transition. In fact, despite the 20 report's stated concerns about deployability of transgender 21 service members because of gender dysphoria or associated 22 medical care, a report being issued today by the Palm Center
23 here, which I am going to give to you so you can read in 24 full, says that, quote, out of 994 service members diagnosed
25 with gender dysphoria in 2016 and the first half of 2017, 40

1 percent deployed in support of Operation Enduring Freedom,
2 Operation Iraqi Freedom, or Operation New Dawn, and only one
3 had an issue during that deployment.

4 It appears that this report that your Department has 5 issued is not based on the Department's data or science but 6 rather, quote, potential risks that the authors cannot back
7 up. And in fact, this seems to me to be the same uninformed
8 and unfounded concerns that led to the opposition of 9 repealing don't ask/don't tell, integrating women into the 10 military, integrating African Americans into the military.
11 And I think you need to do a lot more work on this topic to 12 inform yourselves.

13 What is so different about transgender service that 14 makes you think that though the data and medical science do
15 not justify it, transgender service will harm the readiness
16 and lethality of our force?

17 Secretary Mattis: Well, Senator, I regret the way you 18 characterize it. I would remind you that when I came into 19 this job, I said I do not come in with a preordained or 20 agenda to change something. I am in to carry three lines of 21 effort forward. One of them was to create a more lethal
22 military. And I believe that service in the military is a 23 touchstone for patriotic Americans. The military protects 24 all Americans' freedom and liberty to live as they choose,
25 and we are proud of that.

1 71 percent of 18 to 24-year-old men and women in this
2 country do not qualify for medical, legal, behavioral,
3 intellectual reasons to enlist as a private in the U.S.
4 Army. 71 percent.

5 In this case, I was meeting with the service chiefs and 6 the Chairman -- not the Joint Chiefs, the service chiefs -- 7 last spring, and they were asking me questions because we 8 were coming up on the advent of the induction of 9 transgender. And they wanted to know how they were going to 10 deal with certain issues about basic training, about 11 deployability. I said, did you not get all of this when the 12 policy came out? The Carter policy we call it. They said 13 no. And I said, well, did you have input? They said no, 14 they did not.

15 So I convened that panel. That panel was made up of 16 combat veterans, the vice chiefs of the services, and the 17 under secretaries. And they called together transgender 18 troops. They brought in commanders of transgender troops, 19 and they brought in and listened to civilian and military 20 medical experts who have provided care for transgenders both 21 in the military and outside. And I gave my 44-page advice.
22 I would like to have it entered, Chairman, for the record.

23 [The information referred to follows:]

24 [COMMITTEE INSERT]

25

1 Senator Gillibrand: And a list of all experts you
2 consulted, please.

3 Secretary Mattis: Pardon?

4 Senator Gillibrand: I would like a list of all the 5 experts, medical experts, that were consulted for that 6 report, please.

7 Secretary Mattis: Right now, this is under litigation.
8 I will see what I can provide or when I can provide it. I
9 will do that, Senator.

10 But at the same time, basically my responsibility is to 11 give the best advice I can for making a lethal force. And I
12 think that right now the Carter policy is still in effect, 13 and we have the four cases being litigated.

14 Why these issues like this would not come to the 15 service chief level during this was a very, very, I would 16 call it, newsworthy situation. And the reason is that under 17 the Carter policy, the reporting is opaque. We cannot 18 report that a problem emanated from a transgender. We 19 cannot under the Carter policy do that. So the question you 20 have asked the service chiefs and the Chairman are ones that 21 right now the Carter policy prohibited that very information 22 from coming up because it is private information. And it is 23 specifically called out in his policy statement. So it is 24 impossible for them to have responded to you.

25 And I would just say that right now we look at medical

1 conditions. If gender dysphoria has anxiety or it has some 2 kind of depression, we do not allow anyone in with that. I
3 would have to make a special category that said you can have 4 these disqualifying factors only if you are transgender, and 5 then we can bring you in. I think you understand why we 6 have not chosen to do that.

7 Senator Inhofe: Thank you.

8 Senator Fischer?

9 Senator Fischer: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

10 Secretary Mattis, in last year's NDAA, Congress
11 required the Department to evaluate whether existing cruise
12 missile systems could be converted into a ground-launched 13 version as part of our response to Russia's violation to the 14 INF Treaty. The Department's response, which was a letter
15 from Under Secretary Lord, was sent to the committee 2 weeks 16 ago. And it states that DOD is in the early stages of 17 identifying the system requirements and is therefore unable 18 to conduct an assessment at this time.

19 I know the Department is moving forward on a broader 20 effort beyond just a ground-launched cruise missile, but I 21 am concerned about the urgency of our response because, as 22 we both know, we can spend the next 3 years defining 23 requirements and analyzing alternatives and not conduct any 24 actual research and development.

25 So I would just ask, what is your expected timeline for

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
AT SEATTLE

RYAN KARNOSKI, et al.,

Plaintiffs,

v.

DONALD J TRUMP, et al.,

Defendants.

CASE NO. C17-1297 MJP

ORDER RE (DKT. NOS. 497, 514, 536, 540-42);

ESTABLISHING A TIMEFRAME FOR ASSERTION OF THE DELIBERATIVE PROCESS
PRIVILEGE;

REQUIRING DEFENDANTS TO REVIEW THEIR DELIBERATIVE
PROCESS PRIVILEGE CLAIMS AND PRODUCE THOSE THAT ARE NOT PREDECISIONAL OR DELIBERATIVE

This matter comes before the Court upon the Parties' Joint Submission Regarding Defendants' Deliberative Process Privilege Claims (Dkt. No. 497). Having reviewed the 850 documents submitted pursuant to the Court's Orders on the Joint Submission (Dkt. No. 514, 536), the Parties' responses to the questions posed by the Court (Dkt. Nos. 540-42), and two earlier in camera document reviews, the Court finds and ORDERS:

- (1) Defendants must produce all documents where the privilege category is designated with “N” in the spreadsheets attached to this Order by July 22, 2020. As to those documents where the privilege category is marked “Y”, the Court is satisfied that a prima facie case of deliberative process privilege (“DPP”) privilege has been established, subject to a possible further review under the balancing test set out in FTC v. Warner Commc’ns Inc., 742 F.2d 1156, 1161 (9th Cir. 1984);
- (2) Defendants will review their list of approximately 35,000 documents withheld solely on the basis of DPP and apply the temporal filter of July 13, 2015 through June 30, 2016 (Carter policy) and September 14, 2017 through January 11, 2018 (Mattis policy). All documents falling outside of these two timeframes and withheld solely pursuant to the a DPP claim will be produced by July 29, 2020. The only exception shall be any documents specifically subject to the pending appeal to the Ninth Circuit. The temporal time filter will also apply to the documents withheld on the basis of other privileges in addition to a DPP claim, and the Defendants shall delete DPP as a claim for withholding the documents that fall outside of this time frame.
- (3) Not later than July 29, 2020, the Defendants will filter the remaining documents withheld solely under a DPP claim, and file a privilege log of documents relating to those documents that fall within the designated time frames.
- (4) Not later than July 22, 2020, the Defendants will produce paper copies of 500 documents submitted for in camera review that are not considered privileged as indicated in Attachment 2 to this Order, so the Court can review these documents to satisfy the “deliberative” test. The documents will each bear the “PrivWithhold” number on the bottom of the document corresponding to the “PrivWithhold” designation in the privilege log submitted to the Court.

Background

In this ongoing discovery dispute, the Government has withheld approximately 50,000 documents from production claiming they are exempt from disclosure, at least in part, pursuant to the deliberative process privilege (“DPP”). Within these 50,000 documents, a subset of approximately 35,000 has been withheld solely on the basis of a DPP claim. To test whether the Government has been properly asserting the DPP privilege, the Parties and the Court devised a process where 1% (350) of the documents withheld solely on a DPP claim were randomly selected and sent to the Court for an in camera review. (See Dkt. Nos. 497, 514.) After reviewing the first submission of 350 documents, and due to a problem of overreach in the claim of DPP privilege, the Court ordered the Government to submit another batch of 500 randomly selected documents for in camera review, in order to test the extent of Defendants’ assertion of the privilege. (Dkt. No. 536.)

The Court has had difficulty with the Government’s over-assertion of the DPP in the past. On two prior occasions, the Court has reviewed, with the assistance of the Special Master, more than 3,500 pages of documents, withheld for privilege claims, including the DPP. In very few instances was the Government’s assertion of the DPP sustained.

In light of the enormous task remaining before the Parties and the Court on this issue of privilege, the Court is setting out discovery standards to be followed relating to the remaining approximately 48,000 documents to which a DPP claim has been asserted. This Order will describe the boundaries for documents that are presumptively not entitled to DPP protection. The Order will deal specifically with the 850 random DPP-claimed documents submitted for in

1 camera review. Finally, the Government will be directed to review its DPP claims for the 2 remaining approximately 48,000 documents, and remove its claim of DPP protection from those 3 documents that do not reach the prima facie threshold described in this Order, and to produce the 4 documents not reaching this threshold to the Plaintiffs.

5 Discussion

6 The DPP applies to protect the decision-making process. To qualify, “a document ‘must 7 be both (1) ‘predecisional’ or ‘antecedent to the adoption of agency policy’ and (2)
8 ‘deliberative,’ meaning ‘it must actually be related to the process by which policies are 9 formulated.’” National Wildlife Federation v. U.S. Forest Service, 861 F. 2d 1114, 1117 (9th
10 Cir. 1988) (citation omitted, emphasis in original). For the reasons that follow, the Court finds 11 that the Government has asserted the DPP over many documents that do not meet this definition.

12 A. Predecisional

13 Before a document can be withheld pursuant to the DPP, it must be predecisional. See 14 NLRB v. Sears, Roebuck & Co., 421 U.S. 132, 151-52 (1975) (explaining the privilege applies 15 “prior to the time the decision is made” and not to “communications made after the decision and 16 designed to explain it”); Lahr v. NTSB, 569 F.3d 964, 981 (9th Cir. 2009) (noting “we have 17 rejected the argument that a continuing process of agency self-examination is enough to render a
18 document ‘predecisional,’” instead, “[t]he documents must be prepared to assist an agency
19 decision-maker in arriving at a future particular decision”) (internal quotations and citations 20 omitted); Fishermen’s Finest, Inc. v. Gutierrez, No. C07-1574MJP, 2008 WL 2782909, at *2 21 (W.D. Wash. July 15, 2008) (“A document that was prepared to support a decision already made 22 is not predecisional.”). But, what, then, is predecisional in this case?

1 The Government appears to make the claim that because certain individuals began to 2 consider transgender policies in March 2014, and because policies continue to change even 3 today, the predecisional date begins in March of 2014, and everything since that date to the 4 present remains predecisional. The Court rejects this reasoning, because the analysis fails to 5 focus on the specific policies at issue in this litigation. The Government's position reads the 6 DPP "predecisional" requirement out of existence.

7 There are two policies at issue in this case: (1) The Carter policy which permitted
8 transgender service members to enlist and serve in the U.S. Military; and (2) the Mattis policy
9 which reversed the Carter policy. While these two decisions resulted in a number of spin-off
10 plans designed to execute and implement the two underlying policies, the fundamental issue
11 being challenged by Plaintiffs is the reversal of the Carter policy in favor of the Mattis policy.
12 The implementation and execution plans are simply secondary to the policy switch. As a result, 13 for purposes of determining the "predecisional" and "post-decisional" timeframes for prima facie
14 applicability of DPP, the timeframe around these two policy decisions is paramount.

15 For discovery purposes, documents outside the predecisional timeframe for these 16 decisions are presumptively not subject to the DPP. In National Wildlife, supra, the court 17 recognized that there may be instances in which production of documents after the policy might 18 provide a roadmap as to the actual decision-making process, which could otherwise protect those 19 documents. This is because the focus of the DPP is to protect the decision-making process. In 20 reviewing the 850 documents submitted for DPP examination, the Court could identify but a 21 handful of documents as to which this could be seriously asserted. However, as explained 22 below, the handful of these documents will continue to be protected under protective order with 23 claw back provisions in the process described.

1 The Court is exercising its discretion to manage discovery in this manner, for several
2 reasons. First, this is consistent with the pleadings in this case, and as analyzed by the Ninth
3 Circuit in the previous appeal. Second, based upon the Court's examination of four batches of 4 documents submitted for in camera review (approximately 8,813 pages of documents), the Court
5 finds that the Government has consistently been overbroad in asserting the DPP.

6 Third, the Government fails to segregate portions of documents which may be partially 7 protected by the DPP from those that are not, despite its obligation to do so. See Karnoski v.
8 Trump, 926 F.3d 1180, 1204 (9th Cir. 2019) (quoting Army Times Publ'g Co. v. Dep't of Air
9 Force, 998 F.2d 1067, 1071 (D.C. Cir. 1993)) ("Unlike the presidential communications 10 privilege, the deliberative process privilege does not protect documents in their entirety; if the 11 government can segregate disclosed non-privileged factual information within a document, it 12 must."). Thus far, the Government has not performed any segregation, instead simply tossing 13 this responsibility to the Court.

14 Fourth, the Government claims that 50,000 documents are covered by the DPP and other 15 privileges, and of that quantity, 35,000 are subject to the DPP and no other privilege. Yet after 16 making a random selection of 500 documents for in camera inspection, the Government
17 acknowledged that 90 of the randomly selected documents (or 18% of the total) were not subject 18 to a proper DPP claim. (Dkt. No. 542 n. 1.) The Government produced these 90 documents to 19 Plaintiffs and then chose an additional 90 documents to submit to the Court for review. This 20 does not give the Court much, if any, confidence that the Government is properly asserting the 21 DPP privilege, a concern that is amplified by the earlier poor showing on its DPP claims.

22 Finally, the Court opts for this arrangement because all documents produced will still be 23 subject to the protective order in place, and if it turns out that some documents falling outside the 24

1 predecisional and post-decisional date ranges are properly the subject of the DPP, specific
2 documents can be brought to the Court's attention on subsequent motion. The Order includes a
3 claw-back provision for documents produced erroneously. This decision is made for discovery
4 rather than for trial purposes. Accordingly, as a discovery management tool, the Court sets the 5 following pre and post-decisional dates to establish a framework for evaluating the 6 Government's DPP assertions.

7 1. Carter Policy

8 As to the Carter policy, on July 13, 2015, then-Secretary Carter announced the military 9 would begin to study the implications of allowing transgender troops to serve in the military.
10 (Dkt. No. 540, Ex. 14). A working group was formed on July 28, 2015 to formulate a policy 11 decision on use of transgender troops. (Dkt. No. 540, Ex. 15.) The work of the committee was 12 completed and on June 30, 2016, Secretary of Defense Carter formally announced the new 13 policy. (Dkt. No. 540, Ex. 12; Dkt. No. 542 at 7; Dkt. No. 505 at 7.) This Court previously 14 ordered production of certain earlier Carter-policy documents on the grounds that it appeared
15 that the Department of Defense ("DOD") and RAND contemplated that the underlying RAND 16 studies would be published contemporaneously with the announcement of the Carter policy.
17 (Dkt. No. 540, Ex. 12; Dkt. No. 542 at 7; Dkt. No. 505 at 7.) The Court found that the policy
18 was in effect before the public announcement, based on emails from February of that year
19 between the lead contact for RAND and her DoD counterpart discussing the public
20 announcement of the new policy. (Dkt. No. 509 at 4 (citing PrivWithhold 1106).) The practical 21 effect of this is to back up the post-decisional date of the Carter policy to February 6, 2016.
22 However, for purposes of this discovery management tool, the Court will use the announcement
23

1 date of the Carter policy – June 30, 2016 – to define the end of the predecisional time frame
2 relating to the Carter policy.

3 Thus, only documents within the date range July 13, 2015 through June 30, 2016 are 4 presumptively predecisional, and therefore subject to a proper DPP claim regarding the Carter
5 policy. As a result, documents created prior to July 13, 2015 are presumptively not considered
6 pre-decisional regarding the Carter policy. Documents created after June 30, 2016 are 7 presumptively considered post-decisional. Just as the Court previously concluded, the end date
8 of the “predecisional” time frame may ultimately be backed up by applying the fourth factor of 9 the Warner test – an issue to be resolved at a later point.

10 2. Mattis Policy

11 Secretary Mattis formed his working panel to consider the issues surrounding use of 12 transgender troops on September 14, 2017. (Dkt. No. 542 at 8.) And the Government has long 13 taken the position that the Panel’s recommendations, issued on January 11, 2018, “were adopted 14 in their entirety by then-Secretary of Defense James Mattis.” (Dkt. No. 414-1, Pet. for 15 Mandamus at 8.) When the Court asked the Government whether “the decision had been made”
16 once the Panel sent over its recommendations to the Office of the Secretary of Defense, the 17 Government responded that yes, at that point, “the final decision was made.” (Dkt. No. 402, Tr.
18 28:16-17, 19.) As a result, documents created before September 14, 2017 are presumptively not 19 predecisional, and documents created after January 11, 2018 are presumptively post-decisional.

20 Although Plaintiffs have argued that the Government adopted the challenged policy no
21 later than August 25, 2017, when the President issued a memorandum that formalized his July 22 26, 2017 Tweets banning transgender military service and ordered the military to implement that 23 policy (Dkt. No. 540 at 6), because the President’s March 23, 2018 Presidential Memorandum
24

1 revoked his 2017 Memorandum and because the Ninth Circuit determined that “the 2018 Policy
2 is a significant change from the 2017 Memorandum” Karnoski v. Trump, 926 F.3d 1180,
3 1189-92, 1202 (9th Cir. 2019), the Court’s focus here is on the adoption of the Mattis policy.

4 Therefore, in the Government’s privilege log, only documents that fall within the date
5 ranges of July 13, 2015 to June 30, 2016 (Carter policy) and September 14, 2017 to January 11, 6 2018 (Mattis policy) are presumptively predecisional and entitled to possible DPP protection.

7 B. Deliberative

8 In the Ninth Circuit, the DPP applies “whenever the unveiling of factual materials would 9 be tantamount to the ‘publication of the evaluation and analysis of the multitudinous facts’
10 conducted by the agency.” Nat’l Wildlife, 861 F.2d at 1119 (citations omitted). In National 11 Wildlife, the court confronted the issue of whether a document was deliberative or merely 12 factual. The plaintiff argued that because certain information in an Environmental Impact 13 Statement (“EIS”) was factual, rather than opinion, the document was not subject to a proper 14 DPP claim. The Ninth Circuit held this distinction was too narrow. Instead, the court held that 15 the analysis of whether a document was protected or not from disclosure should focus on the 16 “deliberative process.” Id. at 1118 (emphasis in original). Under this approach, nonbinding 17 recommendations on law or policy would be exempt from disclosure. Factual material would be 18 exempt from disclosure to the extent that it revealed the mental processes of decisionmakers.
19 Ultimately, the court held that draft Environmental Impact Statements and “previews” were 20 subject to the DPP and concluded they were “predecisional” because they were drafts, subject to 21 change, and that disclosure would reveal the deliberative process of the Forest Service.

22 In this case, many of the documents submitted by the Government for in camera review
23 contain no deliberative process thoughts or opinions. Instead, many fall into the “factual” arena.

Moreover, these “factual” documents do not amount to “previews” of the policies or otherwise reveal the deliberative thought process of the Department of Defense. Even if the documents could be at least partially so classified, the Government has not sought to segregate any portions of the documents which express an opinion (potentially protectible) from the facts portion of the documents (generally not protectible, unless revealing thought processes), as required. In the attached analysis of DPP-claimed documents, those which fall into this “factual” arena, or which are not otherwise substantive and thus not subject to DPP protection, are labelled “not deliberative,” and the privilege category is marked with “N” in the attachment to this Order.¹

In the second batch of 500 documents submitted to the Court for in camera review, the paper documents sent to the Court lacked corresponding identifying Bates numbers corresponding to the privilege log. The Special Master spent several hours attempting to use or find certain identifying characteristics on the documents to match up with the privilege log. Ultimately, the Special Master concluded that the second batch should simply be filtered on the basis of disqualifying dates as set forth above. For documents falling outside the date range as described on the privilege log, the document was denied DPP status as being “Not predecisional.” The Special Master could not conduct a “deliberative” process review. For all documents that fell within the time frame that defines the DPP in this case, no determination of privilege could be made. This does not require that all documents be sent to the Court with appropriate PrivWithhold Bates numbers. It does, however, require that the Government submit properly labelled copies of the documents with appropriate Bates labels for those documents as to which no ruling is reflected on Attachment 2.

Conclusion

After conducting an in camera review of the randomly selected sample of documents the Government has withheld solely on the basis of the DPP, the Court finds that Defendants have broadly over-asserted the privilege. The Court therefore ORDERS Defendants to produce documents, as indicated in the attachment to this Order. As to those documents where the privilege category is designated with “N”, the Government is required to produce these documents not later than July 22, 2020. As to those documents where the privilege category is marked “Y”, the Court is satisfied that a prima facie case of DPP privilege has been established. Further, Defendants must produce all documents that fall outside the date ranges of July 13, 2015 to June 30, 2016 (Carter policy) and September 14, 2017 to January 11, 2018 (Mattis policy) and all documents or portions of documents that are purely factual by July 29, 2020.

This Order does not reach the issue of whether Plaintiffs can overcome Defendants’ privilege assertions under the factors described in Warner, 742 F.2d at 1161, but the Court will entertain future briefing from the Parties as to specific documents the Government continues to withhold after complying with this Order. The Court will also review additional documents in camera if necessary to determine the accuracy of the Government’s privilege claims.

The clerk is ordered to provide copies of this order to all counsel.

Dated July 15, 2020.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
AT SEATTLE

RYAN KARNOSKI, et al.,
Plaintiffs,

v.

DONALD J TRUMP, et al.,
Defendants.

CASE NO. C17-1297 MJP

ORDER RE: JULY 21, 2020
STATUS CONFERENCE;

HOLDING DEADLINES IN ABEYANCE (DKT. NO. 545);

PROVIDING NEW TRIAL DATE

THIS MATTER comes before the Court upon the Parties' Joint Status Report (Dkt. No. 546), Defendants' Motion to Stay (Dkt. No. 547), and upon issues raised by the Parties during the Court's July 21, 2020 Status Conference (Dkt. No. 548). Having reviewed the Joint Status Report, the Motion to Stay, and having heard from the Parties, the Court HOLDS IN ABEYANCE the deadlines in its July 15, 2020 Order (Dkt. No. 545), GRANTS Plaintiffs' request to postpone setting a new discovery deadline and sets a new trial date of April 26, 2021.

1 1. Defendants’ Motion to Stay

2 On July 15, 2020 the Court issued an Order requiring the Government to review its 3 deliberative process privilege (“DPP”) claims and produce those documents that are not
4 predecisional or deliberative. See National Wildlife Federation v. U.S. Forest Service, 861 F. 2d
5 1114, 1117 (9th Cir. 1988) (requiring a document to be “both (1) ‘predecisional’ or ‘antecedent
6 to the adoption of agency policy’ and (2) ‘deliberative,’ meaning ‘it must actually be related to 7 the process by which policies are formulated.’”) (citation omitted, emphasis in original). The 8 Order followed the Court’s assessment of the 850 documents the Government submitted for in 9 camera review and its finding that the Government had erroneously asserted the privilege over 10 many of these documents. Indeed, for hundreds of the submitted documents, the Court could 11 find no plausible basis for the Government’s privilege claims at all.

12 Noting the enormous task remaining before the Parties and the Court of evaluating the 13 Government’s assertion of the DPP over approximately 48,000¹ documents, as a discovery
14 management tool the Court outlined a timeframe for documents that are presumptively not 15 entitled to DPP protection because they do not fall within the decision period for the Carter and 16 Mattis policies. Defendants were ordered to produce documents that were reviewed in camera
17 and not entitled to DPP protection by July 22, 2020 and to produce all documents that fall
18 outside the date ranges of July 13, 2015 to June 30, 2016 (Carter policy) and September 14, 2017
19 to January 11, 2018 (Mattis policy) and all documents or portions of documents that are purely 20 factual by July 29, 2020. The Court explicitly excepted from this production any documents

¹ The Government claims this figure is now approximately 40,000 documents and the number of documents
23 withheld solely on the basis of the DPP is now 25,000, down from the original 35,000 documents the Government 24 withheld. (Dkt. No. 547 at 2 n.1.) The Government provides no explanation for why it has disclosed 10,000 documents it vigorously defended as privileged for nearly three years, documents that were the subject of two petitions for writs of mandamus to the Ninth Circuit.

1 implicated by the Government's pending Petition for a Writ of Mandamus with the Ninth
2 Circuit. (See Dkt. Nos. 414-16.)

3 On the evening of July 20, 2020, Defendants filed a motion to stay the Court's July 15, 4 2020 Order until the pending mandamus petition is resolved. (Dkt. No. 545.) Defendants
5 informed the Court that if it did not grant Defendants' motion for a stay within 24 hours,
6 Defendants would file an emergency motion in the Ninth Circuit requesting a stay of this Court's 7 July 15, 2020 Order. (Dkt. No. 547 at 3.) Because the 24-hour timeline Defendants propose
8 does not allow for a response from Plaintiffs, and because the Court will not issue a ruling on 9 Defendants' Motion to Stay until it is fully briefed, the Court HOLDS IN ABEYANCE the 10 production deadlines in its July 15, 2020 Order (Dkt. No. 545) until it issues a ruling on 11 Defendants' Motion to Stay (Dkt. No. 547).

12 2. Trial Date and Discovery Deadline

13 In the Parties' July 17, 2020 Joint Status Report, Plaintiffs requested that the Court
14 postpone setting a new discovery cutoff and noted that this will likely delay trial beyond the 15 current, October 22, 2020 trial date. (Dkt. No. 546 at 6.) Among other things, Plaintiffs noted 16 Defendants' pending mandamus petition and stalled productions have impacted Plaintiffs' ability 17 to depose witnesses. (Id. at 4.) While Defendants objected to Plaintiffs' request to vacate the 18 trial date "and indefinitely extend discovery" in the Joint Status report, two days later they filed
19 their Motion to Stay, threatening to file another petition for a writ of mandamus with the Ninth
20 Circuit if the Court did not stay Defendants' current production deadlines. (Dkt. No. 547.)
21 Given the enormous number of relevant documents that remain contested in this matter, the 22 Court will postpone setting a new discovery cutoff and will set a new trial date of April 26, 2021.

1 Plaintiffs may wait to take depositions until after Defendants have produced documents in line
2 with the Court's rulings and relevant to the particular witness being deposed.

3 Conclusion

4 In summary, the production deadlines in the Court's July 15, 2020 Order (Dkt. No. 545)
5 are HELD IN ABEYANCE until the Court issues a written order on Defendants' Motion to Stay
6 (Dkt. No. 547). Further, the Court sets a new trial date of April 26, 2021 and will not set a new 7 discovery cutoff deadline at this time.

8 Dated July 23, 2020.

CASE NO. C17-1297 MJP

ORDER RE: IN CAMERA REVIEW
OF DOCUMENTS SUBMITTED
BY DEFENDANTS IN RESPONSE
TO JULY 15, 2020 ORDER

THIS MATTER comes before the Court upon the Parties' Joint Submission Regarding Defendants' Deliberative Process Privilege Claims (Dkt. No. 497), and upon subsequent in camera filings from the Defendants in response to Court Orders (see Dkt. Nos. 497, 514, 536, 540-42, 545, 549).

In its July 15, 2020 Order, among other things, the Court directed Defendants to submit copies of the withheld 500 documents falling inside the designated date ranges for "predecisional" documents. (Dkt. 545.) The copies supplied to the Court failed to include appropriate Bates numbers to permit the Court to ensure it was examining documents identified on the privilege log. The Defendants corrected this error, and the Court has had an opportunity

1 to review these selected documents. A revised privilege analysis, now covering all 500
2 documents submitted for in camera review has now been completed and is attached as 3 Attachment 1 to this Order. As indicated in Attachment 1, Defendants must produce all
4 documents where the privilege category is designated with “N” in accordance with the Court’s 5 recent Order holding Defendants’ production deadlines in abeyance until the Court issues its 6 ruling on Defendants’ pending Motion to Stay. (Dkt. Nos. 547, 550.)

7
8 The clerk is ordered to provide copies of this order to all counsel.

9 Dated July 28, 2020.

EXHIBIT ASUBJECTS OF EXAMINATION

1. The Panel of Experts, including: its formation; its mission, purpose, assignment(s), and deliverables; the potential courses of action and/or policy options it considered; the issues it addressed; the information it requested and/or considered; its deliberations, conclusions, and recommendations, including to whom those recommendations were made; and the Panel's Final Report and Recommendation.

2. The preparation, review, and approval of Panel meeting minutes, including: the identity of any individuals who were responsible for documenting Panel meetings and drafting, reviewing, finalizing and approving minutes before they were submitted to the Panel; the process(es) these individuals followed for documenting Panel meetings; why minutes were prepared for some, but not all, Panel meetings, including the Panel's last four meetings; and the identity of any individuals who decided whether minutes would or would not be prepared and the reasons why minutes were or were not prepared.

3. The "Transgender Service Policy Working Group" or "Transgender Personnel Policy Working Group," including: the identity of any individuals who served as chairperson, members, or presented at or participated in the Group's meetings; the Group's mission, purpose, and assignment(s); the potential courses of action the Group considered; the issues addressed by the Group; any information the Group requested and/or considered; the Group's deliberations, conclusions, and recommendations; any reports, presentations, recommendations, or other communications the Group had or shared with the Panel; and any records or other documents that reflect the Group's work, deliberations, conclusions, and/or recommendations.

4. Any discussion, consideration, conclusions or recommendations relating to gender dysphoria, gender transition or accession into the military or military service by transgender persons by the Department of Defense's Medical and Personnel Executive Steering Committee (MEDPERS) during the period July 1, 2015 to the present.

5. The meeting on or around December 15, 2017 at which the Panel presented its recommendations to the Deputy Secretary of Defense ("DSD") and the Vice Chair of the Joint

1 Chiefs of Staff (“VCJCS”), including: the identity of all individuals present at the meeting; the
2 content of all presentations or written materials provided at the meeting; the reactions and/or
3 response(s) of the DSD and the VCJCS to the Panel’s recommendations; any directions by or
4 requests from the DSD and the VCJCS as to additional or further work the Panel should perform;
5 any documents that reflect what was said, presented, discussed, or decided at the meeting; any
6 follow-up or further work performed by the Panel or others in response to any concerns,
7 reactions or other views or directions of the DSD and/or the VCJCS or as a result of the meeting;
8 and any subsequent meetings or communications with or between the Panel and the DSD and/or 9 VCJCS.

10 6. The February 2018 Department of Defense “Report and Recommendations on 11 Military Service by Transgender Persons” (the “Report”), including the identity of any 12 individuals who approved the Report before it was submitted to Secretary Mattis; the role, if any,
13 of Secretary Mattis in drafting, preparing, reviewing, revising and/or finalizing the Report before 14 it was presented to him; the process that was followed and the information and alternatives that 15 were considered in drafting, revising, finalizing, and approving the Report; the identity and role 16 of any persons who were not current employees of the Department of Defense or one of the 17 branches of the military who were involved in any way in providing information that was 18 considered or used in preparing the Report or in drafting, reviewing, revising, finalizing and 19 approving the Report.

20 7. The February 22, 2018 Memorandum for the President from Secretary Mattis
21 concerning Military Service by Transgender Individuals (“Memorandum”), including: the 22 principal author(s) of the Memorandum; the identity of any individuals who were involved in
23 drafting and preparing, reviewing and revising, finalizing and/or approving the Memorandum
24 before it was submitted to Secretary Mattis; the role, if any, of Secretary Mattis in drafting,
25 preparing, reviewing, revising and/or finalizing the Memorandum; the process that was followed 26 and the information and alternatives that were considered in drafting, revising, finalizing, and 27 approving the Memorandum; and the identity and role of any persons who were not current 28 employees of the Department of Defense or one of the branches of the military who were involved in any way in drafting, reviewing, revising, finalizing and/or approving the Memorandum.

8. Any requests for waivers, exceptions and/or Exceptions to Policy (ETPs) (a) between January 1, 2016 and April 11, 2019 and (b) since April 12, 2019 with respect to military accession or service by transgender persons, persons who have been diagnosed with or have gender dysphoria, and/or persons who have transitioned or need or seek to transition to a gender other than their birth-assigned gender, including: the number of such requests; the stated reasons for and in support of, and the facts and circumstances concerning, each such request; and the disposition of each such request, including whether it was granted or denied and the reasons provided for each such disposition.

9. The statement, at page 33 of the Report, that “currently available in-service data already show that, cumulatively, transitioning Service members in the Army and Air Force have averaged 167 and 159 days of limited duty, respectively, over a one-year period,” including: any data or other information on which this statement was based; how these averages were calculated and by whom; how “limited duty” was defined and determined for purposes of these calculations; and why such calculations were provided with respect to the Army and Air Force, but not the Navy and the Marine Corps.

DEFINITIONS AND INSTRUCTIONS

1. The “Department of Defense,” “You,” “your,” and “yours,” whether or not capitalized, shall mean the Department of Defense and all officers and employees thereof, including, but not limited to, the Secretary of Defense, the Deputy Secretary of Defense, any Undersecretary of Defense, any Assistant Secretary of Defense, any Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense, the Chairman and Vice Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and all employees and officers of the Office of the Secretary of Defense, the Department of the Navy, the Department of the Army, and Department of the Air Force.

2. The “Report” shall refer to the February 2018 Department of Defense “Report and Recommendations on Military Service by Transgender Persons,” which was provided to Secretary Mattis on February 22, 2018.

1 3. The “Panel’s Final Report and Recommendation” shall refer to the Final Report and 2 Recommendations of the Transgender Panel dated October 13 - December 13, 2017 that was Re: Plaintiffs' Rule 30(b)(6) Deposition Notice to the United States Department of Defense of March 9, 2020 in Karnoski v. Trump, No. 17-1297

Counsel,

I write concerning Plaintiffs' Rule 30(b)(6) Deposition Notice to the United States Department of Defense ("DoD") of March 9, 2020. Of the nine subjects of examination you have identified in Exhibit A to your notice, at least six of those subjects implicate the deliberative process privilege issues currently pending before the Ninth Circuit (Subjects 2–7). As you are aware, there is currently an administrative stay in place regarding these issues and therefore Plaintiffs may not inquire into these areas nor may the DoD provide responses until or unless that stay is lifted.

Of the remaining three subjects of examination (Subjects 1, 8, and 9) it is likely, given the differing nature of the subjects, that a separate individual will need to be designated to respond to each subject of inquiry.

However, Plaintiffs have previously indicated that they plan to depose several of the individuals whom DoD would likely designate to respond to these lines of inquiry, and DoD has provided dates for those depositions. Accordingly, we suggest that DoD go through Plaintiffs' present list of individuals they intend to depose and where that same individual can answer a subject of inquiry in Exhibit A to Plaintiffs Rule 30(b)(6) Notice, Defendants will so indicate. Defendants then propose that the indicated Rule 30(b)(6) line of inquiry (if permissible pursuant to any forthcoming Ninth Circuit order) be pursued during the deposition previously scheduled for that individual.

In any event, because DoD requires additional time to determine whom to designate to answer the lines of inquiry in Plaintiffs' Rule 30(b)(6) Deposition Notice and to prepare that person to answer those questions, the Government proposes that March 24, 2020 be used for the deposition of Mr. Thomas Dee in Washington, D.C. (as Defendants have previously indicated that Mr. Dee is available on that date) and the Rule 30(b)(6) Deposition be scheduled for a later date that the parties can mutually agree upon. Please notify Defendants by March 16, 2020, if Plaintiffs agree to this proposal and if they intent to go forward with the deposition of Mr. Dee on March 24, 2020.

Sincerely,

/s/

Re: FRCP 30(b)(6) Deposition in Karnoski v. Trump, No. 17-1297

Dear Jordan,

I write in furtherance of our discussions regarding Plaintiffs' proposed Rule 30(b)(6) deposition. As an initial matter, the Government maintains its position that any Rule 30(b)(6) deposition is inappropriate in this litigation. As the Ninth Circuit has previously ruled in this case, the district court must decide in the first instance if the Department of Defense ("DoD") "reasonably determined [its] policy 'significantly furthers' the government's important interests," Karnoski v. Trump, 926 F.3d 1180, 1202 (9th Cir. 2019), and that determination should be made on the Administrative Record providing DoD's justifications for the policy. See also id. at 1206 n.22 (noting that in Trump v. Hawaii, 138 S. Ct. 2392 (2018), a 12-page Proclamation was sufficient for judicial review). "In short the district court must apply appropriate military deference to its evaluation of the 2018 policy." Id.

Without waiving this objection, Defendants would be willing to designate a witness to answer Plaintiffs' proposed topics of inquiry as far as they seek relevant and non-duplicative factual information regarding the challenged policy.

However, many of Plaintiffs' areas of inquiry specifically seek the mental impressions of senior military decision-makers, including then-Secretary of Defense Mattis himself. Such areas of inquiry are properly subject to the deliberative process privilege and Plaintiffs may not use a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition to delve into such matters under any view of the law. See Doe v. Shanahan, 917 F.3d 694, 737 (D.C. Cir. 2019) (Williams, J., concurring) (“[J]udicial inquiries...into executive motivation represent a substantial intrusion into the workings of [a coordinate] branch [] of government.”) (quoting Vill. Of Arlington Heights v. Metro. Housing Dev. Corp., 429 U.S. 252, 268 (1977)); see also J.P. Morgan Chase Bank v. Liberty Mut. Ins. Co., 209 F.R.D. 361, 363 (S.D.N.Y. 2002) (disallowing 30(b)(6) deposition topic that, “[u]nder the guise of requesting ‘facts,’” in fact sought “defendants’ mental impressions, conclusions, opinions, and legal theory”).

Moreover, as I previously noted in my letter of March 12, 2020, several of Plaintiffs’ topics (subjects 3–7)¹ specifically seek, through testimony, the same or similar deliberative information as is encompassed in the deliberative documents at issue in the Government’s mandamus petition currently pending before the Ninth Circuit. Accordingly, any attempt to inquire into these areas would be an impermissible circumvention of the Ninth Circuit’s administrative stay. Indeed, Plaintiffs served their Rule 30(b)(6) deposition notice only after the Ninth Circuit issued its administrative stay, and never mentioned the possibility of such a deposition prior to the notice being served. If a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition were to proceed on topics 3 through 7 while the Ninth Circuit’s administrative stay is pending, which also stays Judge Pechman’s order regarding depositions issued at the February 3, 2020 hearing, the Government expects to instruct its witness not to answer such questions pursuant to the deliberative process privilege (except where noted in Defendants’ scope of response to each topic below). See Dkt. 415 (staying “[t]he district court’s December 18, 2019, February 3, 2020, and February 7, 2020 orders challenged in [the mandamus] petition”); see also Rule 30(c)(2) (“A person may instruct a deponent not to answer . . . when necessary to preserve a privilege”); SEC v. Nacchio, Civil Action No. 05-cv-00480-MSK-CBS, 2009 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 8365, at *8–9 (D. Colo. Jan. 29, 2009) (denying motion to compel Government Rule 30(b)(6) witness to answer questions the witness was instructed not to answer on the grounds of deliberative process privilege).

Further, several of Plaintiffs' proposed topics of inquiry are duplicative of information previously provided in discovery. Under Rule 26(b)(2)(C), the Court "must limit the frequency or extent of discovery otherwise allowed" if, inter alia, such discovery is "unreasonably cumulative or duplicative, or can be obtained from some other source that is more convenient, less burdensome, and less expensive," or "the burden or expense of the proposed discovery outweighs its likely benefit, considering the needs of the case." Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(b)(2)(C)(i), (iii). Here, because in many instances Plaintiffs have the exact same information they currently request through a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition in the form of documents and interrogatory responses, preparing an individual to provide the same information Plaintiffs would be inefficient, a waste of resources, and an unreasonable burden on Defendants.

Below please find Defendants' specific objections to Plaintiffs' definitions and topics.

Definitions. Defendants object to Plaintiffs' definition "You," "your," and "yours" as substantially overbroad, ambiguous, and disproportionate to the needs of the case. Plaintiffs have defined "You," "your," and "yours" to encompass "all officers and employees thereof, including, but not limited to, the Secretary of Defense, the Deputy Secretary of Defense, any Undersecretary of Defense, any Assistant Secretary of Defense, any Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense, the Chairman and Vice Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and all employees and officers of the Office of the Secretary of Defense, the Department of the Navy, the Department of the Army, and Department of the Air Force[,]" thus covering more than a million people.

Defendants object to Plaintiffs' definition of the "Panel's Final Report and Recommendation" as "the Final Report and Recommendations of the Transgender Panel dated October 13 - December 13, 2017" as this was not the Final Report and Recommendations of the Panel of Experts but rather a draft product that does not constitute the Department of Defense's final report and justifications for its policies.

Topic 1. This topic seeks information regarding the Department of Defense's "Panel of Experts, including: its formation; its mission, purpose, assignment(s), and deliverables; the potential courses of action and/or policy options it considered; the issues it addressed; the information it requested and/or considered; its deliberations, conclusions, and recommendations, including to whom those recommendations were made; and the Panel's Final Report and Recommendation."

Defendants' Objection. Defendants object to Plaintiffs' request for testimony regarding the Panel of Experts as unduly burdensome and disproportionate to the needs of the case because it is entirely duplicative of the thousands of pages of material previously sought and provided through document productions and interrogatory responses that answer these same questions.

"A party who notices a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition should apply fairness and reasonableness to the scope of the matters that the witness is required to testify about." Madrigal v. Allstate Indem. Co., No. 14-4242, 2015 WL 12746225, at *5 (C.D. Cal. Apr. 22, 2015). The task of making "a good faith effort to prepare . . . [one or more] 30(b)(6) witness[es] to 'fully and unevasively answer questions about the designated [topics] . . . becomes less realistic and increasingly impossible as the number and breadth of noticed subject areas expand.'" Id. (citations omitted); see also 8A Charles Alan Wright et. al., Federal Practice and Procedure § 2103 (3d ed.) ("[T]he burdens faced by the responding party [served with a 30(b)(6) notice] are considerably more challenging than with an ordinary deposition.").

Here, the Terms of Reference contained in the Administrative Record at 000330–000331 describe the formation, mission, purpose, assignment, deliverables and to whom the recommendations of the Panel of Experts would be made. The Panel's unredacted meeting minutes provided to Plaintiffs on November 1, 2019 provide the potential courses of action and policy options it considered, as well as the issues it addressed and its deliberations. The 3,075-page Administrative Record provides the materials the Panel considered. The Administrative Record also contains the Panel's conclusions and recommendations. See AR 3059–3067. DoD has also provided all deliberative communications of Panel members regarding their work on the Panel from their time on the Panel. Moreover, in its answer to Interrogatory 18, DoD described in detail the information, statements, advice, opinions, or other inputs each current DoD employee who attended Panel meetings provided to the Panel. To obtain this information, DoD interviewed all current employees who attended Panel meetings including several very senior military officials (e.g., the current Chief of Staff of the Army, the Army's highest ranking military official). If Defendants were required to prepare Rule 30(b)(6) witness(es) to address topic 1, they would rely on these exact same documents and interrogatory responses. Simply put, through other discovery tools, Plaintiffs have already obtained the most fulsome answer to this topic that DoD can provide and any further testimony would be entirely duplicative and therefore an unnecessary and undue burden on Defendants. See E.E.O.C. v. Boeing Co., 2007 WL 1146446, at *3 (D. Ariz. Apr. 18, 2007) (finding topic duplicative where it requested information already provided).

Scope of those Responding. Notwithstanding the above objections, the Department of Defense will identify an individual to answer any technical questions such as the meaning of acronyms, military phrases, and jargon that appear in the Administrative Record and the Panel's meeting minutes that may not be readily understandable by individuals without a military background.

Topic 2. This topic seeks information regarding “the preparation, review, and approval of Panel meeting minutes, including: the identity of any individuals who were responsible for documenting Panel meetings and drafting, reviewing, finalizing and approving minutes before they were submitted to the Panel; the process(es) these individuals followed for documenting Panel meetings; why minutes were prepared for some, but not all, Panel meetings, including the Panel's last four meetings; and the identity of any individuals who decided whether minutes would or would not be prepared and the reasons why minutes were or were not prepared.”

Defendants’ Objection. Defendants objects to a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition on this topic because it is not relevant to any party’s claim or defense. See E.E.O.C. v. Boeing Co., 2007 WL 1146446, at *2 (D. Ariz. Apr. 18, 2007) (denying motion to compel discovery related to defendant’s efforts to locate documents on ground of irrelevance). As the Ninth Circuit has previously ruled in this case, the district court must determine in the first instance if DoD “reasonably determined [its] policy ‘significantly furthers’ the government’s important interests,” Karnoski v. Trump, 926 F.3d 1180, 1202 (9th Cir. 2019), and the method of preparation, review, and approval of Panel meeting minutes, as well as the identity of individuals who assisted in the preparation of those meeting minutes are entirely irrelevant to the Court’s inquiry into this question. The Department of Defense has provided its justifications for the challenged policies in the form of its 44-page report and its 3,075-page Administrative Record. These justifications either pass constitutional muster or they do not. A fishing expedition into the preparation of meeting minutes and the deliberative process used in the creation of the Panel’s meeting minutes is an impermissible use of Rule 30(b)(6). Heller v. HRB Tax Grp., Inc., 287 F.R.D. 483, 485 (E.D. Mo. 2012) (“[A]though the standard of relevance in the context of discovery may be broader than in the context of admissibility, ‘this often intoned legal tenet should not be misapplied so as to allow fishing expeditions in discovery.’”) (quoting Hofer v. Mack Trucks, Inc., 981 F.2d 377, 380 (8th Cir. 1993)).

Further, much of Plaintiffs’ proposed topic of examination is duplicative of information Plaintiffs have sought and received through other discovery tools. For example, DoD’s response to Plaintiffs’ Interrogatory 18 provides the answer to many, if not all, of Plaintiffs’ inquiries regarding the identity of individuals responsible for documenting Panel meeting minutes, as well as the drafting, reviewing, finalizing and approving such minutes. For example, DoD’s response to Interrogatory 18 already identified Major Matt Hoffman as one of the primary individuals responsible for drafting the Panel’s meeting minutes and Mr. Lernes Hebert as one of the individuals responsible for reviewing, finalizing, and approving such minutes. Further, in DoD’s response to Plaintiffs’ Interrogatory 18, several other members of the Panel discussed their ability to review and provide edits to meeting minutes before they were finalized. Accordingly, designating a 30(b)(6) witness to review these materials and provide the same information to Plaintiffs would be wasteful and an undue burden.

Further, Plaintiffs have already sought the deposition of Mr. Hebert, and Defendants are in the process of providing Mr. Hebert's availability for that deposition. There is no reason why Plaintiffs cannot ask these same questions of Mr. Hebert during that deposition. As explained by the Advisory Committee Notes, Rule 30(b)(6) has three purposes: "reducing the difficulties . . . encountered in determining, prior to the deposition, whether a particular employee or agent is a 'managing agent'. . . . ; curbing the 'bandying by which officers or managing agents of a corporation are deposed in turn but each disclaims knowledge of facts that are clearly known to persons in the organization ; [and] assisting organizations which find that an unnecessarily large number of their officers and agents are being deposed by a party uncertain of who in the organization has knowledge." See also Cates v. LTV Aerospace Corp., 480 F.2d 620, 623 (5th Cir. 1973) (citing Advisory Committee Notes); Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. v. Butcher, 116 F.R.D. 196, 199 (E.D. Tenn. 1986) (Murrian, Mag. J.) (Rule 30(b)(6) intended "to curb any temptation a [litigant] might have to shunt a discovering party from 'pillar to post.'"), aff'd, 116 F.R.D. 203, 205 (E.D. Tenn. 1987). Here, Plaintiffs' proposed 30(b)(6) topics appear only to serve the purpose of obtaining an additional deposition on the same topics that Mr. Hebert would be able to speak to in his own deposition. Accordingly, a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition on this topic would not only be wasteful and an undue burden, it would work against the purpose of the rule itself. Moreover, much of Plaintiffs' topic 2 requests information protected by the deliberative process privilege. Specifically, inquiry pertaining to the processes followed for documenting Panel meetings, why minutes were prepared for some, but not all, Panel meetings, and the reasons why minutes were or were not prepared seeks information protected by the deliberative process privilege. Accordingly, the Government expects to instruct any witness not to answer questions that would reveal privileged information within this topic. Further, as explained above, because there is currently an administrative stay over the district court's order to produce all deliberative documents "related" to the Department's February 2018 Report and Recommendations and this topic involves an inquiry into deliberations related to that Report because multiple Panel meeting minutes were cited in the Report itself, any line of inquiry on this topic risks circumvention of the Ninth Circuit's administrative stay order.

Scope of those Responding. Notwithstanding the above objections, the Department of Defense will identify an individual to answer questions regarding the identity of any individuals who were responsible for documenting Panel meetings and the drafting, reviewing, finalizing and approving minutes before they were submitted to the Panel, the identity of any individuals who decided whether minutes would or would not be prepared for a particular meeting, and the process undertaken to prepare Panel meeting minutes.

Topic 3. This topic seeks information pertaining to “‘Transgender Service Policy Working Group’ or ‘Transgender Personnel Policy Working Group,’ including: the identity of any individuals who served as chairperson, members, or presented at or participated in the Group’s meetings; the Group’s mission, purpose, and assignment(s); the potential courses of action the Group considered; the issues addressed by the Group; any information the Group requested and/or considered; the Group’s deliberations, conclusions, and recommendations; any reports, presentations, recommendations, or other communications the Group had or shared with the Panel; and any records or other documents that reflect the Group’s work, deliberations, conclusions, and/or recommendations.”

Defendants’ Objection. Defendants object to Plaintiffs’ request for testimony regarding the Transgender Personnel Policy Working Group because it is unduly burdensome and disproportionate to the needs of the case as it is largely duplicative of discovery previously sought and provided through document productions and interrogatory responses that answer these same questions. Plaintiffs previously sought the identities of individuals on this working group through their Interrogatory 19 and Defendants answered that interrogatory in full. Accordingly, having an official from DoD review and provide the same information to Plaintiffs in a deposition would be entirely wasteful and an undue burden.

Moreover, “any reports, presentations, recommendations, or other communications the Group had or shared with the Panel” were previously provided to Plaintiffs as a result of the Doe Court’s deliberative process privilege ruling and seeking the same information again through testimony is likewise wasteful and an undue burden.

Further, in my November 15, 2019 letter to Plaintiffs, I identified the Chair of the Transgender Service Policy Working Group as Ms. Stephanie Miller. Plaintiffs have already requested to depose Ms. Miller, and Defendants have provided dates for her deposition. Therefore, Ms. Miller is already available to answer questions regarding “the Group’s mission, purpose, and assignment(s)” along with any factual questions pertaining to “the issues addressed by the Group” and “any information the Group requested and/or considered[.]” As explained by the Advisory Committee Notes, Rule 30(b)(6) has three purposes: “reducing the difficulties . . . encountered in determining, prior to the deposition, whether a particular employee or agent is a ‘managing agent’. . . . ; curbing the ‘bandying by which officers or managing agents of a corporation are deposed in turn but each disclaims knowledge of facts that are clearly known to persons in the organization ; [and] assisting organizations which find that an unnecessarily large number of their officers and agents are being deposed by a party uncertain of who in the organization has knowledge.” See also Cates v. LTV Aerospace Corp., 480 F.2d 620, 623 (5th Cir. 1973) (citing Advisory Committee Notes); Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. v. Butcher, 116 F.R.D. 196, 199 (E.D. Tenn. 1986) (Murrian, Mag. J.) (Rule 30(b)(6) intended “to curb any temptation a [litigant] might have to shunt a discovering party from ‘pillar to post.’”), aff’d, 116 F.R.D. 203, 205 (E.D. Tenn. 1987). Here, Plaintiffs’ proposed 30(b)(6) topics appear only to serve the purpose of obtaining an additional deposition on the same topics that Ms. Miller would be able to speak to in her own deposition. Accordingly, a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition on this topic would not only be wasteful and an undue burden, it would work against the purpose of the rule itself.

Finally, as to the deliberations of the Transgender Personnel Policy Working Group itself, such deliberations are protected by the deliberative process privilege and are squarely encompassed within the Ninth Circuit’s administrative stay. Accordingly, Plaintiffs may not inquire into such deliberations. If a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition were to proceed on this topic while the Ninth Circuit's administrative stay is pending, which also stays Judge Pechman's order regarding depositions issued at the February 3, 2020 hearing, the Government expects to instruct its witness not to answer questions where the information sought would be protected by the deliberative process privilege. See Dkt. 415 (staying "[t]he district court's December 18, 2019, February 3, 2020, and February 7, 2020 orders challenged in [the mandamus] petition"); see also Rule 30(c)(2) ("A person may instruct a deponent not to answer . . . when necessary to preserve a privilege"); SEC v. Nacchio, Civil Action No. 05-cv-00480-MSK-CBS, 2009 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 8365, at *8–9 (D. Colo. Jan. 29, 2009) (denying motion to compel Government Rule 30(b)(6) witness to answer questions the witness was instructed not to answer on the grounds of deliberative process privilege).

Scope of those Responding. Notwithstanding the above objections, Defendants will make a witness available to answer questions pertaining to "the Group's mission, purpose, and assignment(s)" along with any factual questions pertaining to "the issues addressed by the Group."

Topic 4. This topic seeks information pertaining to "[a]ny discussion, consideration, conclusions or recommendations relating to gender dysphoria, gender transition or accession into the military or military service by transgender persons by the Department of Defense's Medical and Personnel Executive Steering Committee (MEDPERS) during the period July 1, 2015 to the present."

Defendants' Objection. Defendants object to Plaintiffs' request for testimony regarding MEDPERS because it is unduly burdensome and disproportionate to the needs of the case. Specifically, the majority of the temporal scope of the topic is outside of the scope of this litigation, and the remaining portion of the topic is duplicative of materials previously provided in discovery. As an initial matter, the temporal scope of Plaintiffs' topic is well beyond the scope of the lawsuit as it extends more than two years before and two years after the relevant time period of the formation of the challenged policy. See Karnoski v. Trump, 926 F.3d at 1202 (questioning the relevance of the Presidential Memorandum because it was issued prior to the formation of the Panel of Experts); see Banks v. Office of Senate Sergeant-at-Arms, 222 F.R.D. 7, 18 (D.D.C. 2004) (ordering parties to redefine “absurdly overbroad” topics that were ill-suited to a deposition).

Moreover, any deliberative materials MEDPERS provided to the Panel of Experts was previously provided to Plaintiffs as a result of the Doe Court’s deliberative process privilege ruling. Seeking the same information again through testimony is therefore wasteful and an undue burden.

Finally, as to deliberations of MEDPERS that were not shared with the Panel, such deliberations are protected by the deliberative process privilege and are squarely encompassed within the Ninth Circuit’s administrative stay. Accordingly, Plaintiffs may not inquire into such deliberations. If a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition were to proceed on this topic while the Ninth Circuit’s administrative stay is pending, which also stays Judge Pechman’s order regarding depositions issued at the February 3, 2020 hearing, the Government expects to instruct its witness not to answer questions where the information sought would be protected by the deliberative process privilege. See Dkt. 415 (staying “[t]he district court’s December 18, 2019, February 3, 2020, and February 7, 2020 orders challenged in [the mandamus] petition”); see also Rule 30(c)(2) (“A person may instruct a deponent not to answer . . . when necessary to preserve a privilege”); SEC v. Nacchio, Civil Action No. 05-cv-00480-MSK-CBS, 2009 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 8365, at *8–9 (D. Colo. Jan. 29, 2009) (denying motion to compel Government Rule 30(b)(6) witness to answer questions the witness was instructed not to answer on the grounds of deliberative process privilege).

Scope of those Responding. Notwithstanding the above objections, Defendants will make a witness available to explain the function and operation of MEDPERS generally and to answer technical questions such as the meaning of acronyms, military phrases, and jargon that appear in MEDPERS documents that may not be readily understandable by individuals without a military background.

Topic 5. This topic seeks information pertaining to “[t]he meeting on or around December 15, 2017 at which the Panel presented its recommendations to the Deputy Secretary of Defense (“DSD”) and the Vice Chair of the Joint Chiefs of Staff (“VCJCS”), including: the identity of all individuals present at the meeting; the content of all presentations or written materials provided at the meeting; the reactions and/or response(s) of the DSD and the VCJCS to the Panel’s recommendations; any directions by or requests from the DSD and the VCJCS as to additional or further work the Panel should perform; any documents that reflect what was said, presented, discussed, or decided at the meeting; any follow-up or further work performed by the Panel or others in response to any concerns, reactions or other views or directions of the DSD and/or the VCJCS or as a result of the meeting; and any subsequent meetings or communications with or between the Panel and the DSD and/or VCJCS.”

Defendants’ Objection. Defendants object to Plaintiffs’ request for testimony regarding the content of all presentations or written materials provided at the meeting December 15, 2017 at which the Panel presented its recommendations to the DSD and VCJCS, documents that reflect what was said or presented at the meeting, and follow-up work provided by the Panel as it is largely duplicative of discovery previously sought and provided through documents produced that answer these same questions. For, example Defendants previously provided Plaintiffs with the presentation the Panel provided to the DSD and VCJCS, see USDOE00088635_0001, along with emails identifying the briefer (Mr. Tony Kurta), the individual in direct support of the briefer (Mr. Lernes Hebert), the agenda from the meeting and Panel materials from before, during, and after the meeting as a result of the Doe Court’s deliberative process privilege ruling. See Def.’s Production 38 and 39. Accordingly, having the Department designate a 30(b)(6) witness to review these materials and read them back to Plaintiffs would be wasteful and an undue burden.

Further, Plaintiffs have already sought the deposition of both Mr. Kurta and Mr. Hebert, and Defendants are in the process of providing Mr. Kurta’s and Mr. Hebert’s availability for that deposition. Plaintiffs can ask these same questions of either Mr. Kurta or Mr. Hebert during that deposition. As explained by the Advisory Committee Notes, Rule 30(b)(6) has three purposes: “reducing the difficulties . . . encountered in determining, prior to the deposition, whether a particular employee or agent is a ‘managing agent’. . . .; curbing the ‘bandying by which officers or managing agents of a corporation are deposed in turn but each disclaims knowledge of facts that are clearly known to persons in the organization; [and] assisting organizations which find that an unnecessarily large number of their officers and agents are being deposed by a party uncertain of who in the organization has knowledge.” See also Cates v. LTV Aerospace Corp., 480 F.2d 620, 623 (5th Cir. 1973) (citing Advisory Committee Notes); Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. v. Butcher, 116 F.R.D. 196, 199 (E.D. Tenn. 1986) (Murrian, Mag. J.) (Rule 30(b)(6) intended “to curb any temptation a [litigant] might have to shunt a discovering party from ‘pillar to post.’”), aff’d, 116 F.R.D. 203, 205 (E.D. Tenn. 1987). Here, Plaintiffs’ proposed 30(b)(6) topics appear only to serve the purpose of obtaining an additional deposition on the same topics that both Mr. Kurta and Mr. Hebert would be able to speak to in their own depositions. Accordingly, a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition on this topic would not only be wasteful and an undue burden, it would work against the purpose of the rule itself.

Defendants also object to a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition as far as it seeks any “reactions and/or response(s) of the DSD and the VCJCS to the Panel’s recommendations” because this area of inquiry specifically seeks the mental impressions of senior military decisions-makers. Such areas of inquiry are properly subject to the deliberative process privilege and Plaintiffs may not use a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition to delve into such matters under any view of the law. Doe v. Shanahan, 917 F.3d 694, 737 (D.C. Cir. 2019) (Williams, J., concurring) (“[J]udicial inquires...into executive motivation represent a substantial intrusion into the workings of [a coordinate] branch [] of government.”) (quoting Vill. Of Arlington Heights v. Metro. Housing Dev. Corp., 429 U.S. 252, 268 (1977)); see also J.P. Morgan Chase Bank v. Liberty Mut. Ins. Co., 209 F.R.D. 361, 363 (S.D.N.Y. 2002) (disallowing 30(b)(6) deposition topic that, “[u]nder the guise of requesting ‘facts,’” in fact sought “defendants’ mental impressions, conclusions, opinions, and legal theory). And, as far the “reactions and/or response(s) of the DSD and the VCJCS to the Panel’s recommendations” were not conveyed to the Panel, they are squarely encompassed within the Ninth Circuit’s administrative stay. Accordingly, Plaintiffs may not inquire into such deliberations. If a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition were to proceed on this topic while the Ninth Circuit's administrative stay is pending, which also stays Judge Pechman's order regarding depositions issued at the February 3, 2020 hearing, the Government expects to instruct its witness not to answer questions where the information sought would be protected by the deliberative process privilege. See Dkt. 415 (staying "[t]he district court's December 18, 2019, February 3, 2020, and February 7, 2020 orders challenged in [the mandamus] petition"); see also Rule 30(c)(2) ("A person may instruct a deponent not to answer . . . when necessary to preserve a privilege . . ."); SEC v. Nacchio, Civil Action No. 05-cv-00480-MSK-CBS, 2009 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 8365, at *8–9 (D. Colo. Jan. 29, 2009) (denying motion to compel Government Rule 30(b)(6) witness to answer questions the witness was instructed not to answer on the grounds of deliberative process privilege).

Further, Defendants object to a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition as far as it seeks any "reactions and/or response(s) of the DSD and the VCJCS to the Panel's recommendations" because it is not relevant to any party's claim or defense. See E.E.O.C. v. Boeing Co., 2007 WL 1146446, at *2 (D. Ariz. Apr. 18, 2007) (denying motion to compel discovery related to defendant's efforts to locate documents on ground of irrelevance). As the Ninth Circuit has previously ruled in this case, the district court must determine in the first instance if DoD "reasonably determined [its] policy 'significantly furthers' the government's important interests," Karnoski v. Trump, 926 F.3d 1180, 1202 (9th Cir. 2019), and the reaction and or response by the DSD and VCJCS to the Panel's recommendations is entirely irrelevant to the Court's inquiry into this question. The Department of Defense has provided its justifications for the challenged policies in the form of its 44-page report and its 3,075-page Administrative Record; these justifications either pass constitutional muster or they do not. A fishing expedition into the "reactions and / or response of the DSD and the VCJCS to the Panel's recommendations" is an impermissible use of Rule 30(b)(6) particularly because the "reaction" of a particular individual is entirely subjective and not something the Department can testify to as a definitive fact. Heller v. HRB Tax Grp., Inc., 287 F.R.D. 483, 485 (E.D. Mo. 2012) ("[A]lthough the standard of relevance in the context of discovery may be broader than in the context of admissibility, 'this often intoned legal tenet should not be misapplied so as to allow fishing expeditions in discovery.”) (quoting Hofer v. Mack Trucks, Inc., 981 F.2d 377, 380 (8th Cir. 1993)).

Scope of those Responding. Notwithstanding the above objections, the Department of Defense will identify an individual to answer questions regarding the identity of any individuals who were at the December 15, 2017 meeting, at which the Panel presented its recommendations to the DSD and the VCJCS, generally what occurred at that meeting and any subsequent meetings between the DSD/VCJCS and the Panel, any direction DSD/VCJCS gave the Panel regarding any follow-up work, and to answer any technical questions such as the meaning of acronyms, military phrases, and jargon that appear in the Panel’s presentation to the DSD/VCJCS that may not be readily understandable by individuals without a military background.

Topic 6. This topic seeking information pertaining to “[t]he February 2018 Department of Defense “Report and Recommendations on Military Service by Transgender Persons” (the “Report”), including the identity of any individuals who approved the Report before it was submitted to Secretary Mattis; the role, if any, of Secretary Mattis in drafting, preparing, reviewing, revising and/or finalizing the Report before it was presented to him; the process that was followed and the information and alternatives that were considered in drafting, revising, finalizing, and approving the Report; the identity and role of any persons who were not current employees of the Department of Defense or one of the branches of the military who were involved in any way in providing information that was considered or used in preparing the Report or in drafting, reviewing, revising, finalizing and approving the Report.”

Defendants’ Objections: Defendants object to this topic of inquiry as it specifically seeks the mental impressions of senior military decisions-makers, including then-Secretary of Defense Mattis himself. Such areas of inquiry are properly subject to the deliberative process privilege and Plaintiffs may not use a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition to delve into such matters under any view of the law. Doe v. Shanahan, 917 F.3d 694, 737 (D.C. Cir. 2019) (Williams, J., concurring) (“[J]udicial inquires...into executive motivation represent a substantial intrusion into the workings of [a coordinate] branch [] of government.”) (quoting Vill. Of Arlington Heights v. Metro. Housing Dev. Corp., 429 U.S. 252, 268 (1977)); see also J.P. Morgan Chase Bank v. Liberty Mut. Ins. Co., 209 F.R.D. 361, 363 (S.D.N.Y. 2002) (disallowing 30(b)(6) deposition topic that, “[u]nder the guise of requesting ‘facts,’” in fact sought “defendants’ mental impressions, conclusions, opinions, and legal theory”). Moreover, this topic specifically seeks the same or similar deliberative information through testimony that is encompassed in the deliberative documents at issue in the Government’s mandamus petition currently pending before the Ninth Circuit. Accordingly, any attempt to inquire into these areas would be an impermissible circumvention of the Ninth Circuit’s administrative stay. Indeed, Plaintiffs served their Rule 30(b)(6) deposition notice only after the Ninth Circuit issued its administrative stay and never mentioned the possibility of such a deposition prior to the notice being served. If a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition were to proceed on this topic while the Ninth Circuit’s administrative stay is pending, which also stays Judge Pechman’s order regarding depositions issued at the February 3, 2020 hearing, the Government expects to instruct its witness not to answer questions where the information sought would be protected by the deliberative process privilege. See Dkt. 415 (staying “[t]he district court’s December 18, 2019, February 3, 2020, and February 7, 2020 orders challenged in [the mandamus] petition”); see also Rule 30(c)(2) (“A person may instruct a deponent not to answer . . . when necessary to preserve a privilege”); SEC v. Nacchio, Civil Action No. 05-cv-00480-MSK-CBS, 2009 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 8365, at *8–9 (D. Colo. Jan. 29, 2009) (denying motion to compel Government Rule 30(b)(6) witness to answer questions the witness was instructed not to answer on the grounds of deliberative process privilege).

Further, Defendants object to a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition on this topic because it is not relevant to any party’s claim or defense. See E.E.O.C. v. Boeing Co., 2007 WL 1146446, at *2 (D. Ariz. Apr. 18, 2007) (denying motion to compel discovery related to defendant’s efforts to locate documents on ground of irrelevance). As the Ninth Circuit has previously ruled in this case, the district court must determine in the first instance if DoD “reasonably determined [its] policy ‘significantly furthers’ the government’s important interests,” Karnoski v. Trump, 926

F.3d 1180, 1202 (9th Cir. 2019), and the method of preparation, review, and approval, of the Department's Report is entirely irrelevant to the Court's inquiry into this question. The Report itself provides the justifications for the challenged policies along with the accompanying 3,075-page Administrative Record. These justifications either pass constitutional muster or they do not. A fishing expedition into the creation of the Department's Report and the deliberative process used in the preparation of the Report is an impermissible use of Rule 30(b)(6). Heller v. HRB Tax Grp., Inc., 287 F.R.D. 483, 485 (E.D. Mo. 2012) (“[A]though the standard of relevance in the context of discovery may be broader than in the context of admissibility, ‘this often intoned legal tenet should not be misapplied so as to allow fishing expeditions in discovery.’”) (quoting Hofer v. Mack Trucks, Inc., 981 F.2d 377, 380 (8th Cir. 1993)).

Moreover, much of Plaintiffs' topic 6 requests information that is duplicative of information Plaintiffs have sought and received through other discovery tools. In particular, the identity of individuals who reviewed or commented on the Report, the primary staff members assigned to draft the Report, and the ultimate approver of the Report were previously provided to Plaintiffs in DoD's response to Interrogatory 16. Accordingly, having DoD designate a 30(b)(6) witness to review that interrogatory response and provide the same information to Plaintiffs would be wasteful and an undue burden.

Scope of those Responding. Notwithstanding the above objections the Department of Defense will identify an individual to be deposed to answer any technical questions such as to the meaning of acronyms, military phrases, and jargon that appear in the Report that may not be readily understandable by individuals without a military background.

Topic 7. This topic seeks information pertaining to “[t]he February 22, 2018 Memorandum for the President from Secretary Mattis concerning Military Service by Transgender Individuals (“Memorandum”), including: the principal author(s) of the Memorandum; the identity of any individuals who were involved in drafting and preparing, reviewing and revising, finalizing and/or approving the Memorandum before it was submitted to Secretary Mattis; the role, if any, of Secretary Mattis in drafting, preparing, reviewing, revising and/or finalizing the Memorandum; the process that was followed and the information and alternatives that were considered in drafting, revising, finalizing, and approving the Memorandum; and the identity and role of any persons who were not current employees of the Department of Defense or one of the branches of the military who were involved in any way in drafting, reviewing, revising, finalizing and/or approving the Memorandum.”

Defendants’ Objections: Defendants object to this topic of inquiry as it specifically seeks the mental impressions of senior military decisions-makers, including then-Secretary of Defense Mattis himself. Such areas of inquiry are properly subject to the deliberative process privilege and Plaintiffs may not use a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition to delve into such matters under any view of the law. *Doe v. also Rule 30(c)(2) (“A person may instruct a deponent not to answer . . . when necessary to preserve a privilege . . .”); SEC v. Nacchio, Civil Action No. 05-cv-00480-MSK-CBS, 2009 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 8365, at *8–9 (D. Colo. Jan. 29, 2009) (denying motion to compel Government Rule 30(b)(6) witness to answer questions the witness was instructed not to answer on the grounds of deliberative process privilege).

Further, Defendants object to a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition on this topic because it is not relevant to any party’s claim or defense. See E.E.O.C. v. Boeing Co., 2007 WL 1146446, at *2 (D. Ariz. As the Ninth Circuit has previously ruled in this case, the district court must determine in the first instance if DoD “reasonably determined [its] policy ‘significantly furthers’ the government’s important interests,” Karnoski v. Trump, 926 F.3d 1180, 1202 (9th Cir. 2019), and the method of preparation, review, approval, of then-Secretary Mattis’ Memorandum is entirely irrelevant to the Court’s inquiry into this question. Mack Trucks, Inc.*, 981 F.2d 377, 380 (8th Cir. 1993)).

Moreover, much of Plaintiffs’ topic 7 requests information that is duplicative of information Plaintiffs have sought and received through other discovery tools. In particular, the identity of individuals who reviewed or commented on the Memorandum, the primary staffmembers assigned to draft the Memorandum and the ultimate approver of the Memorandum were previously provided to Plaintiffs in DoD’s response to Interrogatory 17. Accordingly, having the Department designate a 30(b)(6) witness to review that interrogatory response and provide the same information to Plaintiffs would be wasteful and an undue burden.

Scope of those Responding. Notwithstanding the above objections the Department of Defense will identify an individual to be deposed to answer any technical questions such as to the meaning of acronyms, military phrases, and jargon that appear in the Memorandum that may not be readily understandable by individuals without a military background.

Topic 8. This topic seeks information pertaining to “[a]ny requests for waivers, exceptions and/or Exceptions to Policy (ETPs) (a) between January 1, 2016 and April 11, 2019 and (b) since April 12, 2019 with respect to military accession or service by transgender persons, persons who have been diagnosed with or have gender dysphoria, and/or persons who have transitioned or need or seek to transition to a gender other than their birth-assigned gender, including: the number of such requests; the stated reasons for and in support of, and the facts and circumstances concerning, each such request; and the disposition of each such request, including whether it was granted or denied and the reasons provided for each such disposition.”

Defendants’ Objections: Defendants object to this topic of inquiry because Plaintiffs’ request for testimony regarding the “waivers, exceptions and/or Exceptions to Policy (ETPs) (a) between January 1, 2016 and April 11, 2019 and (b) since April 12, 2019” is unduly burdensome and disproportionate to the needs of the case as it is entirely duplicative of material previously sought and provided (or that Defendants are in the process of providing) through document productions. Here, Defendants have specifically searched for, located, and either have provided (or will provide) the actual ETP requests and action on those requests in the course of document discovery. Simply put, Plaintiffs have already obtained through other discovery tools the most fulsome answer to this topic that the Department of Defense can provide and any further testimony would be entirely duplicative and therefore an unnecessary and undue burden to Defendants. See E.E.O.C. v. Boeing Co., 2007 WL 1146446, at *3 (D.

Ariz. Apr. 18, 2007) (finding topic duplicative where it requested information already provided).

Scope of those Responding. Notwithstanding the above objections the Department of Defense will identify an individual to answer any technical questions regarding ETPs under its current policy such as the meaning of acronyms, military phrases, and jargon that appear in the ETPs themselves and action on those ETPs that may not be readily understandable by individuals without a military background.

Topics 9. This topic seeks information pertaining to “[t]he statement, at page 33 of the Report, that “currently available in-service data already show that, cumulatively, transitioning Service members in the Army and Air Force have averaged 167 and 159 days of limited duty, respectively, over a one-year period,” including: any data or other information on which this statement was based; how these averages were calculated and by whom; how “limited duty” was defined and determined for purposes of these calculations; and why such calculations were provided with respect to the Army and Air Force, but not the Navy and the Marine Corps.”

Defendants’ Objection. Defendants object to this topic because it requests testimony that is largely duplicative of discovery previously sought and provided through documents and therefore is unduly burdensome and disproportionate to the needs of the case. The majority of the information sought through this topic is in the Administrative Record itself. Further, as far as that information was not already contained in the Administrative Record, Plaintiffs previously sought and Defendants provided in its December 20, 2019 production, the underlying information supporting this statement in DoD’s Report. Accordingly, having an officer from DoD review these documents and provide the same information to Plaintiffs in a deposition would be entirely wasteful and an undue burden.

Scope of those Responding. Notwithstanding the above objections Defendants will make a witness available to answer questions pertaining to the meaning of the statement, how the averages were calculated and by whom, how limited duty was defined and determined for purposes of the calculations and why the calculations were provided with respect to the Army and Air Force, but not the Navy and the Marine Corps.

Please let me know if you would like to meet and confer further on this issue.

/s/

Counsel -

Plaintiffs intend to file a motion with the Ninth Circuit seeking to clarify that the current administrative stay is limited to the three discovery orders that are the subject of the Government's pending petition for mandamus, and does not prohibit other discovery, including for example (1) the District Court's threshold determination as to whether the deliberative process privilege applies in the first place, (2) the District Court's in camera review of individual documents to determine if the privilege has been overcome under Warner, and (3) examination of witnesses at depositions concerning the subject areas addressed in the Government's mandamus petition.

Given the Government's prior statements, we assume the Government opposes this relief, but please confirm by 10AM CT tomorrow morning.

Regards,

Jordan

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
AT SEATTLE

RYAN KARNOSKI, et al.,

Plaintiffs,

v.

DONALD J TRUMP, et al.,

Defendants.

CASE NO. C17-1297 MJP

ORDER AMENDING JULY 15,
2020 ORDER (DKT. NO. 545)

THIS MATTER comes before the Court sua sponte upon the Court's determination that Attachment 1 to its July 15, 2020 Order contained an error (Dkt. No. 545). As announced during the Status Conference on July 21, 2021, some documents in the first 350 documents sent to the Court for in camera review were erroneously marked "not predecisional" in this Attachment.

In its Order the Court adopted July 13, 2015 through June 30, 2016 as the relevant time frame for considering the Carter policy decisional time-period for purposes of the deliberative process privilege ("DPP"). June 30, 2016 was the date the Carter policy was adopted, and the policy and accompanying RAND Report were released to the public. However, in Attachment 1 of that Order, dates earlier than the June 30, 2016 date were applied, resulting in several documents erroneously marked as “not predecisional.” The Court has reviewed the Attachment and all documents that were erroneously marked, which are dated on the privilege log with a date after July 13, 2015 and before June 30, 2016, and has adjusted the ruling on the following documents as further reflected on the Amended Attachment 1.

Priv/Withhold No.	Amended Ruling

The clerk is ordered to provide copies of this order to all counsel.
