Team,
60 Minutes is coming to town for a "fact finding" mission..... please do not respond or engage. Quena is helping me craft a response. I am not planning on doing any interviews. We have run the Bill, successfully passed the bill and overridden the Governor's veto. Game over!

I don't think it is wise at this time to put the Bill on trial in the court of media biased public opinion. Let's stay in touch and watch closely as this unfolds.

On a positive note, a New Hampshire and Ohio Representative just emailed this afternoon that they would like to talk about running the same Bill!

Dr. Roger Hiatt

Great news about New Hampshire and Ohio. This is truly the Achilles Heel of the transgender movement. Opponents will do anything to prevent momentum. I'm afraid Asa Hutchinson will give 60 Minutes exactly what they want. Is there a recall option in Arkansas? He is betraying the public interest for personal gain.

DH

There isn't a recall and session is out hopefully in 2 weeks !!! Or less

This is a very good article, sharing insights into the trans ideologies. Here is a snipping of the linked article.

"The Court examined the medical protocols applied to Keira Bell—protocols identical to the ones we have in the United States—and was horrified that a young girl had been allowed to consent to begin a process of eliminating her future fertility and sexual function at an age, 15, when she could not possibly have gauged that allowed to consent to begin a process of eliminating her future fertility and sexual function at an age, 15, when she could not possibly have gauged that loss.

Hailed as a "landmark case" by The Times of London, The Economist, and even The Guardian, Bell's victory was widely viewed as a serious condemnation of the effort to fast-track teen girls to gender transition. One of the appalling things the Court noted was that the national gender clinic had been unable to show any psychological improvement
