Text: If inserting foley for use with therapeutic hypothermia use with temperature probe as primary temp source.	Status: Discharge

Consider the use of external catheters as an alternative to indwelling urethral catheters in cooperative male patients without urinary retention or bladder outlet obstruction.

Intermittent catheterization is preferable to indwelling urethral or suprapubic catheters in patients with bladder emptying dysfunction.

Screening Results

Mrs. ██████████ is a 37 year old African American male to female transgender who appeared her stated age. She was pleasant and cooperative during the supportive counseling session. She displayed good eye contact and had no significant psychomotor agitation or retardation. She was in a clear state of distress. She appeared dysthymic and cried during the duration of the session. She hyperventilated as she spoke with the clinician. On a scale of 1-10, with 10 being the worst, Mrs. ██████████ reports her anxiety and depression to be a "10". Her attention and immediate memory appeared within normal limits. She denied current suicidal or homicidal ideation. She did not currently show active symptoms of psychosis or a thought disorder. Her judgment and insight were at least fair.

Mrs. ██████████ was recently placed in RH due to admitting she used K-2. However, during todays session, she repeatedly denies ever saying this. She reports the night she was transported to Central Harnett Hospital, she experienced a "stress" related seizure or "panic attack". She notes being under great stress lately due to family issues and dealing with her ongoing illness (██████). In the past, she reports expressing her concerns of potentially having a "mental breakdown" to both Ms. Laub and Dr. Hahn.

On the night of 3/2, Mrs. ██████████ reports excessively vomiting and screaming for officers to "PLEASE, GET SOME HELP! I FEEL LIKE IM DYING!" She reports her legs and arms were shaking uncontrollably and officers had to pin her down as a result. She notes in the process of being pinned down, her legs and arms hit the officers because she was unable to control her limbs. She notes during this time, officers questioned her whether or not she was "high". She notes she never agreed that she was. She reports a history of seizures and notes her last one occurred when she first came to Harnett. At the conclusion of the session, Mrs. ██████████ reports she will provide Sergeant Stopple with whatever information he wants in regards to other inmates if it gets her released from restrictive housing.

Per record review nursing staff indicate the inmate was brought to be screened and that she was "screaming, crying, and flailing" hysterically. She shouted on multiple occasions that "I don't want to die. I'm dying." There is nothing in her medical report to support she suffers from seizures nor that she was experiencing a seizure on 3/2/19. Her behavior, which is described in the PIR provided by custody, is much more in line with someone under the influence of illicit substances. These behaviors include: being found screaming on her bed, vomiting, refusing to submit to handcuffs but then complying when ordered by the OIC, sitting down while in route to medical stating she was dying and refusing to walk on her own, kicking staff, threatening the lives of staff members, demanding to speak with her lawyer, the ACLU, the LGBTQ community, and demanding to be shipped to a women's facility, etc.

Additionally, Mrs. ██████████ refused to receive treatment in medical and at the hospital. She, at no time, made mention that she was experiencing a seizure as she has indicated to MH staff today.

Medical documentation sites that she indicates she had been upset over having been informed by Ms. Laub that her transgender accommodation case would not be reviewed until May. Mrs. [REDACTED] was informed of the D-TARC's decision to approve female undergarments, female hygiene items, and transfer to Warren CI on Friday 3/1/19. She did inquire about being shipped to women's prison and was informed that the D-TARC in Raleigh had informed HCI staff that they would be reviewing her request for transgender reassignment surgery in May. No decision had been made in regards to her transfer to a women's prison.

MSE/Behavioral Observations

Ms. [REDACTED] presented as a polite 37 year old Black-American male to female transgender individual who appeared approximately her stated age. She was pleasant and cooperative during the therapy session. She displayed good eye contact and had no significant psychomotor agitation or retardation. Her speech was of normal rate, rhythm and volume. She was oriented to person, place, and time. Her attention and immediate memory appeared within normal limits. Her affect was extremely anxious. She denied current suicidal or homicidal ideation. She specifically stated "I'm not going to say I am going to hurt myself [she meant she was not at that point -- she did not mean she was just hiding it by not saying it]." She did not currently show active symptoms of psychosis or a thought disorder. Her judgment and insight were at least currently fair.

Progress Towards Goal(s)

Ms. [REDACTED] was seen because the week before last she was concerned she was having a nervous breakdown (but had stated she was better when she was seen last week) but during the weekend "I broke down all the way." From information provided by custody, Ms. [REDACTED] had allegedly used K2 and admitted it and then had medical issues. Today, Ms. [REDACTED] adamantly denied using K2 or any substance. She also denied other allegations such as trying to assault officers and stating she wanted to kill Ms. Black, Nursing Supervisor. Ms. [REDACTED] explained she was upset when Ms. Laub told her the dTARC might not make a decision about her reassignment to a female camp until May and she worried and threw up several times. She said she was not wanting to eat and the walls felt as though they were closing in on her. She said she then felt like she was dying and began to call for help. She said the officers called a "Code 4" for a disturbance rather than calling medical. She indicated she then started shaking like the beginning of a seizure and eventually medical was called and she was taken to the hospital. She described herself as incoherent but did indicate she had never said she wanted to kill Ms. Black, who she stressed was not even working on Saturday or involved in the medical incident.

Ms. [REDACTED] indicated she was taken to the hospital and given a shot (rather roughly) to get her to calm down. She said they then tried to put a catheter on her but she told them about the delicate state of her penis. She indicated they then became more understanding and were nicer to her but nevertheless, she asked to be returned to Harnett.

Ms. [REDACTED] stated the custody officer lied about the incident and that she never said she used any drugs. She stated "if I would tell anybody I would tell you [if she had really smoked anything]." She further stated "a person can only be strong for so long." Ms. [REDACTED] asked whether she could be moved to another camp and placed back on RPOP. The undersigned indicated it was a custody decision and usually if there was a mental health issue an individual might be moved to CPMH but still be on restrictive housing. CPMH was discussed as a possible option if she worsened considerably (see below for consultation with CPMH). Ms. [REDACTED] raised the possibility that she had a major anxiety/panic attack rather than a seizure.

Plan/Diagnostic Changes

Ms. [REDACTED] was told people in Raleigh were meeting about her situation so her issue was getting consideration and she was agreeable to try to just stay calm and quiet during the weekend since Friday is not a good day to make any changes and she currently appeared to be stable and not in major distress. She was told that if this changed significantly for her she could try to get custody to contact mental health.

Later in the afternoon the undersigned contacted CPMH to inform them of the situation (in case something were to happen over the weekend) and to consult with them about the possibility of CPMH taking Ms. ██████████ if she becomes worse. Dr. Brumbaugh, Dr. Diket, and Mr. Rohda were present for the telephone conversation. They indicated they did not think Ms. ██████████ met the criteria for admission even if she had another major panic attack. They made the suggestion that perhaps she could be moved to Warren (due to her concerns about custody and retaliation) or that since she did respond to being seen, perhaps she could be seen daily. Harnett staff expressed the concern (during a subsequent phone call) that seeing Ms. ██████████ daily would not be fair to other inmates in RH and they did not have time to see everyone daily. Harnett staff also agreed Ms. ██████████ did not seem to meet the criteria for inpatient admission. While the undersigned agreed Ms. ██████████ currently did not meet criteria, the undersigned is worried about Ms. ██████████ given her significant stressors. The situation will be re-evaluated next week, and Dr. Junker will be consulted if needed. Dr. Diket, who knows the current situation, is the person on-call this weekend.

Follow-up/Next Appointment

Ms. ██████████ will be seen during weekly rounds by Harnett staff and will be seen if she submits a referral. If she is still at Harnett, the undersigned will see her the next time she returns to Harnett (which will likely be March 29).

However, SIRA was performed on 02/16/21.

Pt reports one suicide attempt in 2019 by OD "to get away from men prison."
She was admitted to inpatient NCCIW in December 2020 due to self harming thoughts.

Subjective

This is the 2nd incarceration for this 40 y.o. offender who was admitted to prison on 10/10/2017 on a primary charge of HABITUAL FELON with a project release date in 2024.

Pt was born biologically as a male but she identifies herself as female and going through transition of being female. She goes by Miss. Brown.

Pt was last seen by Dr. Younus in August, at that visit Zoloft dose was increased. Pt was seen today, she reports feeling stressed and overwhelmed. "I was told to lose weight then I can get my surgery but they denied it." She reports not able to focus as she is thinking about her surgery. She also feels that she is not getting the therapy which she needs. She wants "therapist who has knowledge about transgender." She reports recently "I walked out of the office " during her therapy session. She feels Zoloft is helping her. She denies depression. She feels she is not getting adequate therapy. She sleeps good. She has lost weight.
She reports sometimes she thinks she may need to do "self mutilating" behavior to get help. She is upset that her surgery was denied.

No SI, HI, AVH or manic symptoms.

She is taking two classes.

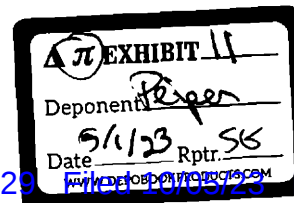

She is married and her husband is supportive.

She has an adult son and she talks to him regularly. She has a grand child.

Pt has tried only Zoloft.
